Pheasants welcomed to new Thumb home!

GAGETOWN -- It seemed that the Department of Natural Resources, hunters, farmers and business people were asking a lot of a small pickup load of pheasants.

Two-hundred crossbred pheasants -- a strain of Sichuan and Michigan Ringneck birds -- were released last Tuesday in mini-game areas near Owendale and Gagetown. To the cheers of newsmen, photographers and TV cameramen (and probably with the prayers of DNR personnel), the 200 birds went thundering off into harvested cornfields and cutover brushlands in two separate pheasant releases.

In a strong south wind, the crossbred birds took off, some sailing high with the wind while others flew straight as an arrow, only a few feet above the ground, just as pheasants used to do 30 or 40 years ago, when pheasants were kings of the hunting season.

Now this handful of birds, which arrived in about two dozen crates from their hatching site at the DNR Mason State Game Farm, was expected to turn the whole deteriorated pheasant picture around and return those glorious hunting seasons of the 1940s and '50s.

The 200 pheasants are going to be given every opportunity to return to those earlier days, including:

■ They're expected to be given protection against hunting for several years, in surrounding townships at least, if not in the entire counties of Huron and Tuscola;

■ They're going to be monitored daily, as about one-third of them are outfitted with radio transmitters, and DNR specialists have moved into the area to "watch" them every day, via a "beep-beep" signal from the transmitter-knapsacks they'll wear until the end of their careers. With these transmitters, the birds will be "telling" the specialists where they are -- and the signals will even report whether the pheasants are alive or dead.

■ The pheasants' new habitat is land that's suited ideally for their habits and characteristics. The land has plenty of food and good cover, too, so they can feed and breed under near-ideal conditions. Besides, there'll be plenty of good neighbors, hunters and others who'll have a weather-eye open for poachers and predators.

■ One of the best factors going for the new pheasants is the fact that they are crossbred birds, half Sichuan and half ringnecks, with genes and characteristics that are almost blueprints of what the area can provide. For instance, the Sichuan parentage "tells" the birds that they should roost in trees, that they can eat tree buds, and that they can endure conditions that did not permit the Michigan ringnecks to survive;

■ The 200 crossbreds are not the only pheasants released in Michigan this spring. On March 12, 100 brothers and sisters of the Thumb releases were given their freedom in Ottawa County, near Borculo, west of Grand Rapids. If those two groups of birds multiply, as they are supposed to do, it's possible that one day, maybe 10 years from now, an offspring from the Thumb group may meet a descendant of the Ottawa group with the words, "A Sichuan relative, I presume?"

If these birds can do what pheasants did 70 years ago, it may all happen again. In 1917, the Department of Conservation -- now the DNR -- established its game farm to rear and release pheasants.

The colorful birds took to Southern Michigan from the start. They adapted quickly to the climate and land use practices of the region, thriving in the then-existing pattern of farm fields, swales, swamps and small woodlots that offered food, protection from severe weather and guard from many predators.

Pheasants increased so quickly that by 1925 the first hunting season was allowed, which developed into one of Michigan's greatest fall attractions, providing sport and tourist dollars to the pheasant lands, of which the Thumb offered the best anywhere.

That's what is hoped will happen to that pickup truckload, with its two dozen crates carrying 200 birds into this region last Tuesday.

It's a big order, but, as one DNR game biologist remarked, "Think of the consequences! It's a real mind-boggler."

AWAY WE GO! Glenn Belyea, DNR resident biologist, and Martin Pollok, director of the Mason State Game Farm, smile as they watch one of the crossbred Sichuan-Ringneck Pheasant cocks take off for the wild blue yonder last Tuesday, between Owendale and Gagetown.

end of the month. He views the new breeding program as a fitting end to his career.

He's been in the Thumb Area many times.

Kidnap attempt in Elkton

An attempted kidnapping of a 10-year-old Elkton girl was reported Friday on McKinley Street.

Huron County Sheriff's Deputies say the youngster was riding her bike near apartments on McKinley after 11 a.m., when a man approached her and offered her candy. She fled and the man drove away in a new model auto, as she told her family about the encounter.

Deputies say the man is described in his mid-20s, with black hair.

Police are uncertain if this is related to a similar attempted kidnapping on M-25 near Harbor Beach, when an eight-year-old girl was approached later that day.

NOW OPEN: Pigeon's newest business is Country Corner Videos, located on Main Street next to the Pigeon District Library.

The new business rents VHS video tapes, and also has video cassette recorders, cameras and supplies for sale or rent.

Residents invited to 'Step Back in Time' At organ recital, display

Funds to raise money for Pigeon Historical Society project

Area musical enthusiasts and history buffs will not want to miss Sunday, April 20 - the date of "A Step Back in Time With the Reed Organ."

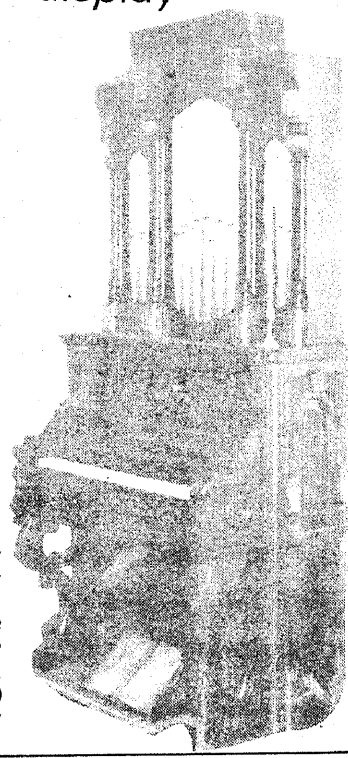

The reed organ display and recital is the first fund-raising project of the Pigeon Historical Society in its quest to restore the Pigeon train depot as a museum and society headquarters.

Featured organist will be Dana Hull of Ann Arbor, who is a restorer of historic tracher organs and president of the Organ Historical Society. She has a degree in organ performance from Bowling Green University, Ohio and is currently organist at Zion Lutheran Church, Detroit. Her concert is set at 2 p.m. in the Laker High School auditorium.

Flutist of the day will be Laura Witezak, music teacher in the Laker School District. Soloist will be Maria Schumacher, a junior at Laker High School.

On display will be eight reed organs dating from approximately 1840 to 1905, including what is probably Michigan's oldest reed organ. This event is being called "the first event of this kind in the Mid-west," according to the Historical Society.

Tickets are now available from the Pigeon Village Clerk's office, McIntyre Insurance Agency or from the Pigeon Historical Society, 7045 E. Michigan Ave., Pigeon, MI 48755, phone 453-3500 or 453-3864. Only 500 tickets will be available for sale, and they may or may not be on sale at the door.

Laker High School musicians scored top ratings in six of 10 of their events last Saturday, competing in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at the University of Michigan, Flint.

Four other events scored second division ratings.

Senior Terry Kauffman led with a score of 96 (of a possible 100) in flute proficiency 3 for a I rating. In flute proficiency 1 examinations, Carleen Kauffman scored 97, while Beth Ann Henry had an 89. Both received first division ratings, as scores of 85 and better received a I rating.

Carleen Kauffman scored again in piano proficiency I with a 93 score. Mary Kay Smith and Julee Leipprand also garnered first division ratings in ninth grade piano solo competition.

In proficiency 2, percussionist Clark Harner scored 75 for a II rating and Phil Schadd had a 78 for a II in Trumpet.

The Laker bass sextet made up of Rod Wertz, Phil Schadd, Steve Frazho, Dan Soper, Bryan Wertz and Dave Ross received a II rating.

All events had to qualify for state competition by getting I ratings earlier in the year at district competition. The festival was sponsored and run by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

Chrysler to speak at county dinner

Dick Chrysler, candidate for Governor, will speak at the Huron County Republican Kick-off Reception on Wednesday, April 2 (tonight) at 7:30 p.m. at the Franklin Inn, Bad Axe.

Chrysler, 43, is the chairman and founder of Cars & Concepts, the national leader in the production of specialty vehicles for the American automobile market. He began his career on the assembly line with the Chevrolet division of General Motors and later swept floors at Hurst Performance for $1.50 an hour. Gradually he rose through the ranks and eventually bought the entire company. In 1976 he founded Cars & Concepts, the largest employer in Livingston County, offering design and engineering services and processing 95,000 cars annually for GM, Ford and Chrysler.

FSC names honorees

Nine students from the Western Thumb Area have been honored by Ferris State College, Big Rapids, for academic achievement with placement on the Dean's List for winter quarter, 1985-86. To be eligible, Ferris students must compile a 3.5 grade point average in at least 12 quarter hours (full-time) of work. In all, 1074 students were so honored, including 135 who earned 4.0-point (all-A) grades.

Local students are: All A's: Rex Crawford, Bay Port, and Cheryl Katzinger, Unionville.

3.5 and above: Gary Miller of Caseville, Robert Ross of Pigeon, Lisa Layher of Sebewaing, Laurie Peyok of Kinde, Sheryl Evans of Gageton, and Joyce Murray and Brian Peruski, both of Ubyly.

Edison spends $500,000 in Pigeon

A $500,000 Detroit Edison project should improve electrical service to Pigeon.

Additional transmission lines and a second transformer at the Pigeon substation should ensure that power outages for the entire village will probably not occur, says Edison Industrial Marketing Engineer Joe Bauerschmidt. The new system will also provide separate circuits to industrial customers and another to businesses and residents in Pigeon.

Bauerschmidt says growth in the Pigeon area is responsible for the present substation to be nearing its capacity to handle additional electrical demands.

"There should be fewer outages with the improved system in Pigeon. We hope we don't have any complete outages in the Pigeon area in the future," says Bauerschmidt.

MORE POWER TO YOU: Detroit Edison workers add more transmission lines in the Pigeon area to keep up with a growing demand for electricity by residents and industry.

Caseville Perch Festival 17 days away

The 1986 Caseville Perch Festival is fast approaching, and promises to bring fishermen and fun-lovers to town Friday, April 18 through Sunday, April 21 all over the shoreline community.

Highlights now being planned by the Caseville Chamber of Commerce include fishing contests throughout the 10-day event.

crowning of Miss Caseville, a pancake breakfast, pool tournaments, parade and three new events - a fish casting contest for children, a Perch recipe contest and a Caseville Craft Show.

PARADE: The Grand Parade is planned Saturday, April 19 at 2 p.m., through town, featuring all candidates from the Caseville High Junior Class contending for the 1986 Miss Caseville Title.

This year, the Caseville Retirement Club is coordinating the parade. Tony Zacheretti is heading up the project, and more floats are needed.

More than 22 floats and groups are planning to participate, including Caseville High's Band and the North Huron High School Band.

NEW: That Saturday promises to be busy, as two new events are presented.

First, a Caseville Craft Show will be presented in the New Century Bank basement. It will feature homemade items for sale and display. Mrs. Frank LaFontaine is coordinator, and has more information at 856-3029.

Then, Caseville Worthy Study Club is sponsoring its "first annual Perch Cooking Contest" that day, featuring dishes made from Perch. They'll be on display at the Village Township Hall. Mrs. Fred Watterworth has details at 856-2675.

The third new event is a Kiddies' Casting Contest, planned at 1 p.m. on Saturday, April 26 at Lakeside Marina. George Bednerek has more information on age levels, prizes and other items, at 856-2274.

QUEEN'S NIGHT: The Queen's Ball is planned at the Eagles Aerie Hall at 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 19, when Miss Caseville will be chosen and crowned.

Shelley Lisowski is handling the dinner dance arrangements. To make reservations, call her at 856-4398.

OTHER EVENTS: Perch Festival Buttons and Drawing Tickets are now on sale. Anyone wearing a 1986 blue button is eligible to win gifts to be presented by the "Mystery Person" walking around town.

A large assortment of fishing accessories and sporting goods is offered through the Drawing Tickets on sale at all local Chamber of Commerce member stores, according to Ann Simet of Caseville True Value Hardware. Drawing will be made April 27.

A Caseville Kiwanis Club Pancake & Sausage Breakfast is planned Sunday, April 27 and other events are planned.

Fishing continues through April 27, with prizes again offered by the Chamber of Commerce for longest and heaviest Perch caught locally during the festival.

Watch for details in upcoming issues of The Progress-Advance.

Come to Caseville for the fun of it during this year's Perch Festival and anytime, the Chamber of Commerce invites!

Thumb Weekly News Round-Up

NO SCHOOL AGREEMENT

School Boards from Owendale, Gageton and Cass City Public Schools met last Monday in an attempt to settle the districts' unresolved joint property boundaries, but reached no agreements.

Sources at the meetings reported the two sides were "hopelessly deadlocked," and Cass City ruled out future sessions soon. Owen-Gage officials expressed their disappointment, but said they'd like to meet again.

At issue is which district will have final claim to about 7000 acres of land in the so-called "Goslin" and "Belk" parcels, which were transferred from Owen-Gage to Cass City in the mid-1970s. The properties total about one-fourth of the Owen-Gage taxing district, and would bring in about $300,000 to that district.

Due to Cass City's lower millage rate now, Cass City gets about $180,000 from the Goslin parcel. Court rulings preventing final transfer of the Belk properties to Cass City mean Owen-Gage receives about $40,000 annually from that land.

Owen-Gage has been seeking return of about 3600 acres of non-resident property on both parcels. Cass City has refused to return any of the disputed land, saying residents prefer to stay with Cass City.

PHEASANT MEETING TUESDAY

The initial public hearing to discuss the proposed three-year ban on pheasant hunting in Huron and Tuscola Counties is planned for next Tuesday, April 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Huron Community Fair Arena Building in Bad Axe.

The state Department of Natural Resources has scheduled the exploratory session, for public comment on new techniques such as release of 100 "crossbreed" Sichuan pheasants near Gageton last week.

A second hearing will be scheduled in Caro in coming weeks, DNR officials say.

NEW TUSCOLA PROSECUTOR

William Bond, 31 of Monroe, has been appointed Tuscola County Prosecuting Attorney effective next Monday, replacing G. Scott Siermer who resigned earlier this year to go into private practice.

Bond was picked from among 15 candidates for the $40,000 job, and will head three other attorneys in the nine-person office. He must be elected this November to retain the position. A Michigan State University and University of Toledo Law College graduate, Bond has worked for UAW Legal Services in Monroe and was an assistant Monroe County prosecutor. He is married and has two children.

NEW SANILAC JAIL DRIVE?

A special jail task force is being reactivated in Sanilac County, to reconsider plans to construct a $2 million Sanilac County Jail.

Board of Commissioners Chairman Edward Jarosz last week said the group will update information, work up architectural plans and explore funding options. He says a new jail is a certainty somehow - either voluntarily or through state court demands.

The present jail does not meet state minimum standards, and a new 50-bed facility would offer better security and safety, Jarosz says.

COKE CHANGES ARE MADE

Eleven workers were laid off this week from the 91-year-old Coca-Cola Bottling Company plant of Port Huron, which is being closed after the business was purchased by Coca-Cola U.S.A. last year.

The plant, which served all of Huron County and the Thumb Area, was sold by William Kreger in July, 1985 for an undisclosed amount. Newer plants can handle local bottling needs more efficiently, Coca-Cola officials say.

The branch will still serve as a local distribution center, with about 13 remaining employees.

WALBRO OFFERS $9 MILLION

A total of 450,000 shares of Walbro Corporation common stock will be offered for public sale, in plans to raise about $9 million for the Cass City-based small engine part and carburetor manufacturer.

Walbro plans to use the funding to reduce long-term bank

Rural ROUND-UP

BUYOUTS: About one-third of the 153 Huron County farmers who submitted bids in the federal dairy herd buyout program have had their bids accepted, following last Friday's deadline for government notification.

Huron County ASCS Director Jimmy LaVoie says 48 farmers will be accepted into the program, based on the price of $22.50 per hundredweight (cwt.) or less was accepted. The herds are small in size, ranging from 12 milking cows to about 190. That means about 33.8 million pounds of milk will be taken out of production from this area alone.

IMPACT: A farmer who bid the $22.50 cwt. and has 100 milking cows, averaging 14,000 pounds of milk annually per cow, would produce 14,000 cwt. per year in total. Multiplying that figure times the $22.50 buyout price means the farmer will be paid $315,000 in stages over the next five years by the government, as he leaves dairy farming.

Farmers have until April 15 to dispose of their cows by slaughtering or exporting them, and keeps the income from that sale, expected to be depressed due to the high number of cows going to market.

OVERALL: Experts say the program, while well-intended, probably will only reduce the surplus production aspect of milk marketing now. That means production will almost match present demand, which may cause consumer milk prices to rise in the near future.

Huron County had 153 herds in the bidding, with prices ranging from $8 per cwt. to $195, with the average about $30. Although 31% of present farmers participated, their bids only represent 5% of Huron County cows — and only 4% of milk production.

The $1.8 billion national program had hoped to dry up about one-fourth of national milk production. It will probably reduce by about 9% overall output, experts say, reducing last year's 144 billion pound production level by about 12.3 billion pounds. Consumers used about 131 billion pounds of milk last year.

In Tuscola County, 53 bids were submitted, ranging from $4 to $500, while statewide, 846 bids were accepted, 1945 submitted. Michigan has 6300 dairy herds in all.

HONORED: Michigan Milk Producers' Association President Elwood Kirkpatrick, left, was named Dairy Farmer of the Year during the dairy awards luncheon on March 17 at MSU. The award was presented by MSU Animal Science Department Chairman Maynard Hogberg.

The recognition was part of MSU's Agriculture and Natural Resources Week, Mar. 17-22.

Kirkpatrick, with his family, operates a 1,600-acre dairy farm near Bad Axe. The award winner works with numerous state and local civic and agricultural organizations including the American and Michigan Dairy Council. PHOTO SUPPLIED

STATE RUNNER-UP: Laker freshman Eric Buschlen received this trophy as the runner-up in Greenhand Public Speaking at state Future Farmers of America competition at Michigan State University on Mar. 20.

Other Laker FFA entries in the state leadership contest included: Neil Nuncio, fourth in Extemporaneous Speaking, and sixth place each for Farm Forum and Parliamentary Procedure Teams.

The Laker Chapter Advisor is Don Wheeler.

TORNADO

Keep Your Eye on the Sky!

Most tornadoes occur in the months of April, May, June and July in the late afternoon and evening hours, usually between 3 and 7 p.m.

Call 269-6435

Huron County Emergency Service to report any unusual weather conditions.

Michael Gage, director

WHEN A TORNADO THREATENS

- Stay away from windows, doors, and outside walls. Protect your head.

YOU HAVE NO SECONDS TO SPARE --

YOU MUST BE PREPARED!

- In homes and small buildings, go to the basement or to an interior part on the lowest level. Get under something sturdy.

- In schools, hospitals, and public places, move to pre-designated shelter areas. Interior hallways on lowest floors are best.

- In mobile homes or vehicles, leave them and go to more substantial shelter.

- If outdoors, with no shelter available, lie flat in nearby ditch, and shield head with arms.

This page is presented as a Public Service by the following area businesses:

Knowing the difference between a WATCH (Weather conditions are favorable for a tornado or severe storm.) and Tornado WARNING (A tornado has been detected either by radar or visible sighting and one should prepare to take cover.) May Save Your Life!

Couple makes wedding plans

Kersten-Bush

KILMANAGH -- The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Kersten of Kilmanagh announce the engagement of their daughter, Sondra Marie, to Brad Michael Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bush of Unionville.

Sondra is a senior at Laker High School and will attend Taylor University in Upland, Ind. in the fall. Her fiancé is a graduate of USA High School and is a cadet at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

Thanks A Million

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I need to ask for your help. I've lost all help elsewhere. I'm asking you to buy a gift for my wonderful wife, Patty.

You see, Mr. Ross, I've been out of work since January '85. My benefits of $139 for 26 weeks have long since been exhausted. I had to choose but to go on welfare. I'm not ashamed of this, nor do I want you to feel sorry for me. My misfortune was not due to anything I've done. Not a day goes by that I don't look for work. I can't tell you how supportive and wonderful Patty has been. She's always encouraging me. She gives me love and support to carry me through each long day. Please understand that there's no worse feeling in the world than when a man can't support his family. Without Patty I think I would have gone crazy long ago. She wipes my tears and gives me the hope that someday things will get better. I also have two sons who are the best kids a man could want.

I'm not asking for anything myself. I feel God has already given me the best I could ask for -- my family.

There is one thing that would really make me happy -- a wedding ring for my wife. We had no money to buy our own when we were married three years ago. For once I'd like to be able to show people that "yes" -- we are married. -- D. P., Uniontown, Pa.

By PERCY ROSS

You may write to Percy Ross in care of The Progress-Advance, P.O. Box 589, Pigeon, Mich., 48755. We forward all his letters to him, unopened. Include a telephone number, if you wish.

Because of the heavy volume of mail, only a limited number of requests can be answered in each week's column, although others may be acknowledged privately.

$5,200. My insurance company doesn't cover in vitro fertilization. This is the only way for me to have a baby. It's the most important thing in my life.

If you would help us with the $5,200 we would pay you back on a monthly basis with interest. I'm due to start my menstrual cycle and that's when they have to start the procedures. So please give this your immediate attention and response. -- Mrs. S.R., Jacksonville, Fla.

DEAR MRS. R.:

I don't want to appear insensitive, but I come from a different school of thought. As long as there are so many children without homes in this country, that's where I must place my priorities. -----

MR. ROSS:

You know the boy who you sent $100 so he could buy a good pair of shoes for his dad's aching feet?

How come he wasn't told to buy two dishpans? All his dad would have to do is fill one with hot water and espom salts and the other with ice cubes. Then he should proceed to dip his feet back and forth hurriedly to get the circulation going. It toughens up the feet and takes away pain. Then he could have gone to a thrift store to buy a pair of shoes. Mrs. P.S., Santa Ana, Calif.

DEAR MRS. S.:

Have you ever tried to walk in another person's shoes? -----

RUSH LAKE FARM BUREAU

A potluck supper preceded the meeting of the Rush Lake Farm Bureau group in the home of Roy and Opal Dufty Wednesday evening at the March 19 meeting. Eight members were present.

Mrs. Fred McBride presided at the business meeting and talked on "Insurance." Mrs. William McBride reminded ladies of the District Six Womens' Spring Rally April 2 at the Colony House.

Elaine Bickel, an elementary school teacher in Millington, will be the afternoon speaker with the topic "Together We Win."

Another speaker will be Tuscola County Home Economist Betty Patullo, who will speak on "Stress on the Family Cat."

Mrs. Roy Dufty led discussion on "And If I Am Elected" and the 1985 Farm

Bill. She was also in charge of the Fun Sheet. The William Ballaghs will host the April meeting.

Service news

Navy Firearm Recruit Brian P. Gembariski, son of Connie Gembariski of Caseville, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego, Calif.

During Gembariski's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Gembariski's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

A 1984 graduate of Caseville High School, he joined the Navy in December 1985.

Pigeon District LIBRARY

ARTS AND CRAFTS SHOW

Come on in and see the Arts and Crafts Show at the Pigeon District Library during National Library Week, April 7-12.

You are invited to view the show during library hours open to the public between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, also 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

In addition to Arts and Crafts items on display, there will be a demonstration of various hobbies and crafts during the week.

AMNESTY WEEK

Don't forget Amnesty Week during National Library Week, April 6-12, when no overdue fines will be charged on books at the library. Video materials are excluded from the amnesty.

PROFILE

Each week we will have a profile on a different staff person so you can get to know the library employees better. This week's Profile is on Sue Geiger, the newest staff person.

Mrs. Geiger lives in Pigeon and has worked in the library since March. She is married to Dave Geiger and they have two daughters and a son. She was co-owner of The Shoe Cobbler in Pigeon, prior to her library position.

Her jobs at the library include newspaper clipping, circulation, shelving and dusting. Her hobbies include counted cross-stitch and collecting anything "old."

Stop in at the Pigeon

District Library and say hello to Sue!

HALLEY'S COMET

Don't forget that Halley's Comet makes its closest approach to earth on April 11 and is best viewed with the unaided eye. Last seen in 1910, it won't be seen again after this year until the summer of 2061.

The library has four books on the subject for interested patrons: "Comets" by Ruth Radlauer, "Halley's Comet Finder" by Ben Mayer, "Halley's Comet" by Francis Reddy and "Comets" by Carl Sagan and Ann Dryan.

If you spot Halley's Comet the library would be glad to hear about the sightings.

SENIOR CITIZENS FILM FESTIVAL

The following movies for April 17 will be "Discover the U.S.A.," a 29-minute film about the sights and sounds of America, from New York to the Grand Canyons of Arizona; "The Grizzly Bears -- A Case Study," a 50-minute color film on one of the most dangerous mammals of North America; "Brats," a 19-minute black and white film about Stan and Ollie as babysitters for Stan Jr. and Ollie Jr.

The Pigeon District Library is most grateful for seniors' support of the movie program in the past few months. The library plans another series beginning in October.

Her jobs at the library include newspaper clipping, circulation, shelving and dusting. Her hobbies include counted cross-stitch and collecting anything "old."

Stop in at the Pigeon

Preschool Story Hour will be "Dogs," with the stories "The Diggingest Dog," "How Fletcher Was Hatched" and "Who Said Meow?"

The children will play musical instruments, exercises, fingerplays, songs and a flannelgraph.

Children from age three to five are invited. Annual registration is required.

Named to Achievement Academy

Philip Schember, a student at Laker High School, has been named a National Award Winner in the area of Mathematics, according to the U.S. Achievement Academy.

Schember, the son of Duane and Marie Schember, was nominated for the award by algebra teacher Mrs. Roth.

It's a girl!

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rathke of Sterling Heights announce the birth of their daughter, Kristine Lois, on Thursday, March 27.

The newborn weighed 9 lbs. 14 oz. and measured 23 inches long at birth. She joins "big sister" Pamela, age three, at home.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reilly of Madison Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rathke of Pigeon. Virgil Chandler of Royal Oak is Kristine's great-grandfather.

Caseville School in the News

By Vicki Goslee and Gail Gembariski

SENIOR TRIP: Seniors will leave Wednesday, April 9 for Metro Airport in Detroit, where they will catch a plane for Washington, D.C. During their three-day stay in the capital, the students will view the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the Smithsonian Museum. Among other activities, they will also take a night tour of the city and attend a theater to see a play.

On April 11, the seniors will take a train to New York City, where they will stay until April 13. The class is planning to view upper and lower Manhattan, the United Nations Building and Rockefeller Center during their stay. The students will also attend another play and plan many other activities.

OUR PATIENTS BENEFIT

High-Tech Equipment PLUS Old-Fashioned Caring

The Scelfo-Chelenyak Life Centers provide a combination all too rare in health-care clinics today, the most sophisticated, up-to-the-minute diagnostic equipment, as well as the personal, one-on-one doctor-patient relationship that we consider essential to successful treatment.

This clinic is proud of the fact that it is one of the few in the country to offer electronic comparative muscle testing which utilizes space-age technology to pinpoint sources of functional loss more precisely than ever before possible by testing and measuring strength and endurance, thus assisting our doctors to locate problem areas and to assess the extent of nerve damage caused by out-of-place vertebrae.

Watch for higher beef prices coming

April shoppers will want to take a special look at the meat case this month because tender cuts best for grilling will likely increase in price soon, says Extension Food Marketing Agent Ada Shinabarger.

Rib, T-bone, porterhouse and sirloin steaks are especially sensitive to the price increase which will come with the outdoor grilling weather. Meat prices in general are showing little movement in either direction. Record supplies of broilers mean they will remain an economical choice, advises Shinabarger.

Egg production will soon return to last year's level. Look for the price of eggs this month to be a bit under current prices.

April is the month shoppers really get serious about eating more fresh vegetables. New crop potatoes are favorites now, because old crop potatoes start sprouting this time of year. Red potato production is pegged at 12% more this year, and harvesting is at peak levels in Florida, Shinabarger says.

Michigan asparagus should become available this month. Acreage is projected at about the same level as that of a year ago. Look for lettuce and salad vegetables to become more reasonable in price this month.

California has made record-large shipments of strawberries to date, despite heavy rains. Shipments are slated to increase dramatically by early April, advises Shinabarger.

SPARK workshop set for April 12

Kindergarteners, preschoolers ages 3-5 and their parents are invited to a SPARK workshop at Huron Learning Center on Saturday, April 12, beginning at 9 a.m.

The workshop theme, "The World Around Me," will focus on the wonders of spring. Monce McHenry will present language arts activities about the topic of weather. Carol Brown will assist in art and science activities related to plants, and Cindy Engelhard will coordinate movement activities related to animals.

During the children's projects, parents will attend a workshop on Bloom's Taxonomy of Higher Level Thinking Skills and how to use those activities with children in their home. The parent workshop will be led by former Huron County resident Suzanne Murphy, who has experience as a parent and is presently an active advocate of Gifted Education in the Saginaw area.

To register for the workshop or to be put on the mailing list for future SPARK workshops, contact Shirley Edwards at Huron Intermediate School District.

DE-RAILED: Two C & O Railroad grain cars required a boost from a crane to get back on track last Thursday. Softened soil from spring thaws under the tracks on a siding used by Co-op Elevator in Pigeon is believed to be the cause of the cars jumping the tracks. Both cars were loaded with wheat at the time, with each car representing about 130 tons.

CMU offers home study courses here

MT. PLEASANT — Students can graduate from Central Michigan University and never see the inside of a classroom, thanks to a one-of-a-kind program that gives state residents a chance to take home-study courses for credit.

The courses, offered through the individualized Degree Program, make it possible for students to work at their own pace and pace, said Joseph Travaglini, IDP manager.

Travaglini said he is especially interested in attracting Michigan Thumb-area adults into the program, particularly residents of Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Lapeer, and St. Clair Counties.

"People in the Thumb are important to us because of their relative geographic isolation," said Travaglini. "There are not many 4-year institutions accessible to them. I look at it as being one of our primary responsibilities to attempt to serve these people."

The program is ideal for adults who have family or business commitments or who simply feel that pulling up stakes and moving to a college campus is too expensive, said Travaglini.

"It is for those who can't drop everything to come back to campus, but who want or need to complete a bachelor of science degree," he said. Most current students are already employed and come into the program to strengthen their possibilities for promotions or to prepare for better jobs, career moves, or graduate school.

Through a series of learning packages, students can pursue bachelor of science degrees in either Management and Supervision, or Community Development. More than 1,200 students are currently enrolled in the program.

The learning packages consist of lecture tapes, written materials, and assignments and can be shipped anywhere in the state. Then, using frequent telephone communication and occasional meetings with advisers, students proceed at their own pace. No maximum time limit is set by which students must finish their degrees; they may take as many or as few hours as they like in any given semester.

Students can also earn college credits for skills developed through job experiences or leisure activities.

"Students studying at home have 2 distinct advantages," said Travaglini. "They don't have to face the costs of campus living. They can wrap our program around their lives."

Students who enroll in IDP are required to attend a 2-credit, 3-day Adult Learning Seminar. On-campus seminars are scheduled for May 17, 31, and July 26.

In addition, the individualized Degree Program will be introduced in a free informational meeting at Lapeer County General Hospital in Lapeer. An Adult Learning Seminar is also scheduled at the Lapeer Hospital April 26, May 10, and July 26.

Bee facts 'fed' into computers!

EAST LANSING — More and more people are finding their lives involved with computers, and now even honey bees are being studied by that method, as Michigan State University researchers have developed a computer model of bee activity that could save apple growers time and money.

Entomologist Roger Hoopingarner says the model he and other MSU Agricultural Experiment Station scientists developed tells growers when the optimum number of blossoms have been pollinated so they can pull the bees out of the orchard.

If bees are removed too soon and too few blossoms are pollinated, the apples grow too large. If they are left too long, they pollinate too many blossoms and apples are undersized.

Hoopingarner says growers now let the bees do their work and then spray the trees to thin the fruit. Growers using the model can arrange ahead for enough bee colonies for adequate pollination in a bad year — when wet or cool weather slows the bees — and know when to pull the colonies in good years when warm weather favors bees' flying.

The researchers will go into orchards around the state this year to test the model's accuracy. Data on the specific characteristics of each orchard, the weather and the number of bee colonies will be fed into the computer. When it indicates that enough pollination has occurred, selected limbs will be wrapped with gauze to keep the bees out. Pollination of blossoms on the wrapped limbs will then be compared with that of exposed limbs.

Hoopingarner says the model should be available for growers' use by next year. It should cost them little because they should be able to get access to it through a county Extension agent or, if they have personal computers, with a phone modem.

The model, which has aroused interest of growers in other parts of the country, has several long-term implications for apple and other fruit growers.

As they developed the model, MSU researchers discovered that cross-pollination, which is essential for fruit development in a number of fruiting plants, occurs in large part in the hive. It had been thought that cross-pollination occurred when bees landed first on one variety of fruit blossom and then on another, so growers mixed their plantings.

The MSU scientists discovered that the bees rub against one another in the hive and exchange pollen there before returning to the fruit trees, so it isn't necessary for plantings to be mixed. Instead, Hoopingarner says, cross-pollination will occur just as effectively if different varieties are planted in large blocks adjacent to each other.

Planting in blocks will save growers a lot of effort, because each block can be tended, sprayed or picked on schedule without concern about whether different schedules apply to different varieties planted together.

The model has applications for other fruits, including sweet cherries, almonds, certain apricots, and some pear and citrus varieties, Hoopingarner says. It was developed for Delicious apples, one of several varieties grown by Michigan producers, whose efforts make Michigan the 3rd largest apple-producing state.

Funding for the research has come in part from the Michigan Apple Research Committee.

Good Samaritans getting protection

Good Samaritans who attempt to resuscitate persons during a life and death emergency will be protected from liability under House Bill 4077, just signed into law, according to State Representative Dick Allen (R-Caro).

The new law is designed to encourage prompt life-saving action when death is imminent, Allen says.

Attempts have been made to protect only those who had been certified in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), but those efforts failed after lengthy debate in the House and Senate.

Now anyone can provide that life-saving action, as long as they act in good faith and without gross negligence or wanton misconduct. In situations where seconds count, doubts or hesitations about certification or future lawsuits could discourage someone from taking needed action. This legislation eliminates those impediments and strongly encourages prompt involvement in saving lives, Allen adds.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY AND EVERY SUNDAY

FOOLS ARE NOT CONFINED TO THE MONTH OF APRIL

April Fool's Day is a good time to point out that the greatest fools are not the ones who succumb to children's pranks, but those who believe themselves to be in no need of any divine guidance. Perhaps fortune has favored them thus far and spared them most of the problems that confront the rest of us. Nevertheless, when trouble or tragedy does strike, as it eventually must, their complacent self-reliance will give way to a desperate cry for help. The wisest of them will then abandon their folly and go to Church, as a last resort which should have been their first one. So, join in the fun on April's Fool's Day, but do not be one of the real fools who can be found every day of the year.

"He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered."
—Proverbs 28:26

Sixty Seconds

Jesus lives!

READ LUKE 24:1-12
He is not here; for He has risen, as He said. Come, see the place where he lay. Matthew 28:6

Never has there been so happy an announcement as the words of the angel at the empty tomb: "He has risen."

We can do nothing more than listen in awe to these simple but life-changing words.

Consider how devastating it would have been had the disciples' worst fears been realized!

They huddled in fear because they thought their hopes had been dashed.

Their Master had died, and they had little incentive to go on living.

Nothing had come of the kingdom of God after all.

True, He had said He would rise on the third day, but could that be? No, that was too unlikely.

"He has risen!" Had He not, we who cling to Him as Lord and Savior, would draw nothing but pity for our trust in a loser.

But He lives! He has established that He is the Winner. He met our enemies head on and won.

He struggled with Satan over the guilt of sin -- our sin -- and suffered the damnation that is the ultimate result of sin.

But He is not in the grave to which all of this took Him.

He gave His life, but within days He took it back again.

Satan was defeated even though he had brought out his ultimate weapons.

Jesus has risen triumphantly from the grave!

Lord Jesus, this is the day that You have made; we shall rejoice and be glad in it. Amen.

Prayer Week for Unity in Pigeon

Five churches in the Pigeon area are co-sponsoring the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, beginning with a rally at St. Francis Borgia Catholic Church on Sunday, April 13 at 7 p.m.

Pastor Herb Troyer of Michigan Avenue Mennonite Church will be speaker.

The remainder of the week will consist of half-hour services beginning at 12:30 p.m. on Monday, April 14 at Michigan Avenue Mennonite Church with Rev. Mark Karis; Tuesday, April 15 at First United Methodist Church with Rev. Troyer; Wednesday, April 16 at Cross Lutheran Church with Rev. Gordon Nusz; Thursday, April 17 at St. Francis Borgia Catholic Church with Rev. Raymond Orth and Friday, April 18 at Salem United Methodist Church with Fr. Ben Skornia.

They huddled in fear because they thought their hopes had been dashed.

Their Master had died, and they had little incentive to go on living.

Nothing had come of the kingdom of God after all.

True, He had said He would rise on the third day, but could that be? No, that was too unlikely.

WONDERS OF WINNIE: Caseville Elementary students enjoyed plenty of activities centered around the character of Winnie the Pooh in an IGNITE class taught by Pam Ignatowski. The six-week program sponsored by Huron Intermediate School District included Winnie the Pooh bingo and other homemade games, viewed filmstrips, read Winnie the Pooh stories and drew pictures.

"Snow White" by the Caseville Drama Class was another very enjoyable evening. Casting was SUPERB, as always. Applause, Applause, Mary K!

I agree freshmen should be able to attend the school dance April 18. It's not fair, otherwise.

Here's a better address for Perch fishermen to write, from last week. DNR Regional Headquarters, Fisheries Division, Box 30028, Lansing, Mich., 48909, attention: Dennis Weaver.

S.C., I love you, from your sweetheart.

A Little League Baseball meeting for Pigeon is planned Saturday, April 5 at the Rec. Building at the Park. Equipment storage, buying new equipment and scheduling will be discussed. We need help with all age groups.

An Easter teen dance is scheduled this Friday, April 4 from 9 to 1 at the Pigeon VFW Hall, sponsored by the Pigeon Area Jaycees. All teens are invited. Thank you.

You're invited to the Smorgasbord Supper this Friday night, April 4, at Cross Lutheran School, 5 to 7 p.m. Tickets available at Diener's in Pigeon, McKenzie's in Elkton and at the door. Take outs available.

It sounds to me as if the clerk is threatening the Council, saying, if you don't give me help, I'll not do my job efficiently. With the salary you are making, I think you should be able to do this yourself for a while, and do it to the best of your ability.

Anyone knowing about the Class of 1976's 10-year reunion, please contact Sherri Kraft, Lori Krohn, Leslie Klein or Chris Swartzendruber. We will help if it is needed.

The price which will be paid to dairy farmers who wish to get out of this declining business isn't fair. There isn't enough income here to properly dispose of our herd, and cash crop prices are no better either. We just can't win.

Thanks, George K., for your writings. We always look forward to your words. They make us remember our own old days.

BULK FOOD: One of the most popular places in Pigeon these days is the new bulk food area at Pigeon IGA Foodliner. More than 150 food items are offered in bulk quantities, which owners Orville and Millie Schuette say are less expensive than pre-packaged goods. All types of foods, spices, snack foods, pet foods, candy and other items are offered, with selections changing regularly.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

Thirty-nine members and one guest attended the Easter Week program at the Civic Center.

Members prayed the Lord's Prayer as the Invocation. A welcome was extended to Bill Proffitt and to George Keim of Pigeon.

"God Bless America" was sung and the Pledge to the Flag recited. Birthdays celebrated with song were for Hugo Leipprandt and Edna Wakefield.

With Harold and Beagregor in charge of music, several songs were sung, ending with the hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross." Minutes were read and an open meeting was announced for next week. April committees were appointed.

Guest speaker Phyllis Snider was introduced by Program Chairman Florence Southworth. Mrs. Snider spoke on the meaning of Holy Week and the Crucifixion of Christ. Bill

Proffitt sang two Easter songs and Kay Walker gave a reading on "The Joys of Spring." Members were asked to bring old-fashioned hats and bonnets and a parade was held with members modeling the bonnets and marching to the tune of "The Easter Parade."

PIGEON LIONS CLUB

The Pigeon Lions met at the Pigeon VFW Hall on March 26.

President Wayne Anderson called the meeting to order. A guest, Al Kendall was introduced and 53 Lions answered roll call.

Tail-twisting by John Kohr and Al Abbott brought in $40 of fines, followed by a 50/50 raffle.

President Anderson announced the following dates: Lion Officer Training April 22 at St. Clair Community College, Bad Axe; White Cane Day in Pigeon April 25 and 26 and Farmers' Night at the Colony House, sponsored by the Bad Axe Lions, which was set for March 31.

He reported on the 112d Convention March 21-23 in Owendale and announced that Owendale Lion Ed Good, Jr. has been named new Governor. Multiple District 11 Convention will be May 16-18 at Traverse City.

Lion Pat Walsh served as program chairman, introducing Al Kendall, Huron Conservation Officer, who showed a film and spoke on "Fish and Wildlife."

The next meeting will be May 14, followed by a board meeting.

Gifted session

Thumb area parents, teachers and school administrators are welcome to attend the final session of a series of workshops entitled "Steps in the Right Direction." The meeting will focus on teaching strategies which can be used with talented students.

The workshops are sponsored by the Huron Intermediate School District and schools in the Gifted Education Consortium.

To register, call 269-6406.

MINUTE MYSTERY SOLUTION

The youth claimed he had "never heard" of Edmund Boyne. Yet he told the police the dead man's first name was Edmund.

As Gordo had told him only "Ed," he could not have known whether it was Edmund, Edward, Edwin or Edgar! The great Gordo does it again!

Coasters

The Indians once told a story of a mother bear and her two cubs. One day she decided to swim across the large body of water that is now known as Lake Michigan. She entered the lake on the Wisconsin side, and coaxing her cubs to follow, headed on the long, perilous journey. As she neared the Michigan shore, her cubs grew very tired and lagged behind. When the mother bear reached the shore she lay down on the beach to wait for her two offsprings to join her. She waited a long, long time, then when they didn't come, she fell asleep. To this day, she still sleeps and waits for her cubs to come ashore.

In the east, the sun tried desperately to rear its orange head and puncture the morning fog shrouding the lone fisherman standing near the mouth of the river. I had arrived early. Partly, because I knew the trout I sought were light sensitive and would be close to shore during the low-light pre-dawn hours, but mostly because I'm a rammy sort of fellow who always shows up an hour before his appointed time. Now, I stood crotch-deep in the frigid waters of Lake Michigan and, like the sleeping bear laying behind me, waited.

My main quarry this morning was brown trout. Called coasters, by the fishing fraternity who pursue them, these football-shaped fish found spring a perfect time to cruise the shoreline of the Great Lakes searching for the baitfish that inhabited the shallow waters. But browns weren't the only fish in the lake found along the shores. Steelheads, filled with spawn and milt, also congregated at the mouths of rivers, waiting for instincts to guide them to their birthplace where they would continue to propagate their species.

Shoreline fishing, or "sand-spiking," as it is locally known, is a simple and inexpensive method of catching Great Lake's trout. A large boat, with expensive electronic gear is not needed, and one can usually find most of the necessary gear in your own garage.

First of all, the fishing is done with a spinning outfit. A rod and reel that you already own will suffice, but if you intend to go out and buy one, you should consider picking up a rod that is 9 or 10 feet in length and a compatible reel loaded with 8- test monofilament. A pair of chest waders and some warm clothes will round out your personal gear.

The next item you will need is a sand

The strikes may come as faint nibblings on the spawn bags, or as violent eruptions on the spinning lures, but you can bet on one thing. If you are persistent, the strikes are sure to come spike. This is nothing more than a homemade device that holds your rod out of the water while you're fishing offshore.

A simple way to construct a sand spike is to begin with a 7-foot piece of thin-walled conduit. A short piece of 2-inch diameter PVC pipe is strapped on the top of the conduit and a plug is put on one end. Once out in the water, the end of the conduit is jammed into the sandy bottom and the PVC holder rides above the waves to serve as a second pair of hands for the fisherman. Since Michigan law allows you to fish 2 lines, it is logical to assume you should have a couple of sand spikes.

Most fishermen use spawnbags when going after coasters. A slip sinker, riding against a splitshot, will allow you the necessary weight to cast the bag a fair distance from your fishing position, and a few pieces of styrofoam in the spawnbag will cause it to float and bob in a natural way.

Many times, I will fish with spawn on one rod, and cast small, flashing lures like Cleos, K.O. Wobblers, or Crocodiles, with the other. This method keeps me from becoming bored, and helps the circulation problem associated with standing for long periods of time in near-freezing water.

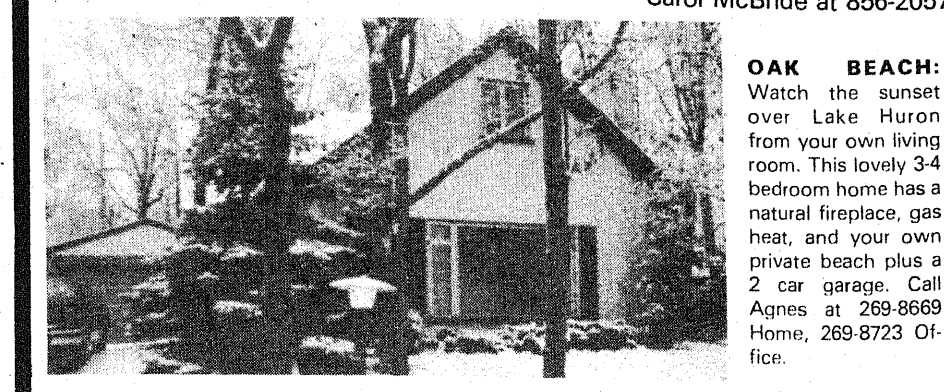

The strikes may come as faint nibblings on the spawn bags, or as violent eruptions on the spinning lures, but you can bet on one thing. If you are persistent, the strikes are sure to come...

debt. About 2.95 million shares of stock are outstanding, so the new offering will total about 15% of existing stock, according to Executive Vice President Robert Walpole.

MILLER TOP FIREMAN

Kinde fireman Richard Miller has been named Huron County's Fire Fighter of the Year for 1985, during last week's Fire Fighter Association's annual banquet.

Miller, who is Kinde's assistant chief, has been a fireman for 19 years. He was recently elected Kinde Village President and is active in local groups and activities.

INMATE WORK PLAN OKAYED

Persons can receive community work program sentences instead of jail terms thanks to a new administrative program being organized by Huron County Sheriff Richard V. Stokan. Sheriff Stokan has been authorized to hire two part-time workers who will oversee a community service program, to give judges more options in sentencing.

Some misdemeanor offenses may allow District Judge John Schubel to sentence lawbreakers to community clean-up work or other jobs under supervision, and participants will wear distinctive clothing identifying them. Circuit Court Judge M. Richard Knoblock sentences some offenders to community work in such a state-funded program now.

Stokan says the program will be reviewed at the end of the year by his department, to see if it should be continued in another year.

TOURISM IS BIG BUSINESS

Michigan's tourism revenues increased 7% to a record $12.6 billion last year, thanks to the state economy's continued upswing, stronger travel promotion and more out-of-state visitors, experts say.

More than $28 million was earned in Thumb Area tourism in 1985, according to estimates. About $22 million of that person can say many things. We need to detect what that person's spirit is saying and then we will know whether the person is true or false.

Second, there is a difference between "acknowledge" and stating a fact. "Acknowledge" has the connotation of allegiance. The Mark 3:11 text shows demons stating the fact that Jesus is God, but they do not acknowledge his Lordship over them.

This makes it very difficult for the average observer to tell whether a pastor, teacher, prophet, evangelist, etc. is true or false.

Another method of "testing" comes from Romans 8:16 -- "The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are God's children." Thus, if my spirit experiences "kinship" with someone else's spirit, then that person is one of God's "children." But such texts are not teaching us how to identify someone else's standing with God.

The method of testing the spirits through spiritual identification is called "discernment." This is a "gift" of the Spirit of God and is listed among the spiritual gifts (I Corinthians 12:10). But spiritual gifts are as such gifts to certain individuals for the building up of the church. Not everyone has the gift of discernment of spirits. Hence, not only are most people incapable of discerning true and false spirits, but most people are also incapable of discerning whether those claiming to be able to discern are themselves true or false.

This is getting to be a very complicated mess. We need to distinguish true pastors, teachers, prophets, TV evangelists, etc., from the false. There has got to be a way that everyone can be confident in, that will work all the time, that is absolutely fool-proof, and that will enable every Christian to discover the true from the false.

Well, there is such a test. But I have run out of space, so next week should wrap this thing up.

A new WATS line number for travel information is now being offered by the East Michigan Tourist Association. The toll-free number is 1-800-292-6154.

The Michigan Travel Commission was recently elevated to cabinet-level status by Gov. James Blanchard, showing its growing importance to the state's economy. Motorists in Michigan traveled a record 68.4 billion miles last year. State tax revenues from tourism hit a record $582 million last year, up from 1984's $525 million.

POLICE BLOTTER NEWS

Police believe a break-in last Sunday in Bad Axe and another last Friday near Midland are related to a wave of appliance thefts reported in the Thumb Area since October.

More than $10,000 in TVs, VCRs and videotapes were taken from East Huron TV in Bad Axe, as thieves broke open a window next door to gain entry. Police frightened a lone thief last Friday at Godwin's of Midland but he escaped before taking any items.

Last Oct. 14, up to $20,000 in appliances were taken from Richard's TV & Appliance, east of Caro. Then, on Oct. 28, about $15,000 in items were taken from Leitch Refrigeration and Appliance west of Bad Axe. Another $35,000 in goods were stolen from Schneberger's in Cass City on Nov. 18, while Rex Binder Sales and Pattullo & Sons each lost more than $60,000 in items earlier this year.

Police believe the burglaries are being done by "professional" thieves who take the items elsewhere for sale.

James Bishaw of Bay City was rescued last Tuesday from an ice floe nearly a mile off Sebewaing, after the ice broke loose while he and two friends were fishing.

His companions waded to shore, but Bishaw was picked up unharmed by the Huron County Sheriff's Department helicopter.

The Country Kitchen was entered forcibly last Tuesday night, and Sebewaing Police are investigating. A rear door was broken and an undetermined amount of cash was reported missing on Wednesday.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

Dale Matzke, 20 of Millington, was sentenced to four-to-10 years for allegedly shooting the gun which struck a DNR officer in 1984. Matzke had attempted to withdraw his guilty plea in Tuscola County Circuit Court, but Judge Patrick Joslyn refused the request. He pled guilty to assault with intent to commit malicious destruction of property.

Matzke's brother, Steven Matzke, 21 of Millington, was allowed to withdraw his guilty plea. He allegedly disposed of the rifle used in the crime when DNR Officer Timothy Burke was shot in the face. Burke pursued suspected deer poachers in Juniata Township. Steven Matzke faces trial May 6 on charges of attempted accessory after a felony.

In Huron County District Court, Judge John Schubel heard these pleas or passed sentence on:

Lee Koehler, 21 of Sebewaing, pled guilty to falsifying a police report; ordered to pay $150 in fines and costs;

Ferry Howard, 37 of Owendale and Kimberly Olszak, 18 of Gageton, pled guilty to impaired driving; ordered to pay $400 fines and costs and lose driving privileges for 90 days;

Edward Kosinski, 17 of Elkton, pled guilty to larceny less than $100; ordered to pay $75 fines and costs after theft of a shirt from a Bad Axe business.

Sign up for summer jobs in Michigan Youth Corps

The Michigan Youth Corps is returning for its fourth consecutive summer with a promise of productive work and opportunity for 12,500 young men and women in Michigan.

State Representative Dick Allen (R-Caro) says applications will be accepted from young adults ages 18-21, beginning April 1. Actual projects begin June 2. Youth Corps members are paid minimum wage and can earn up to $1,000 for their summer employment.

Applications can be obtained at all Michigan Employment Security Commission offices, all Department of Social Services offices, all university, college or community college placement centers, all Service Delivery Area agencies and all vocational education centers.
