6 steps to greater wealth...

Recently, a national publication carried a listing of "Six key steps to greater wealth." Sponsored by an investor advising firm called Integrated Resources, Inc., the special pages showed some simple - yet valuably important - concepts and approaches to better preserve what we all have, and to increase that bounty, too.

Today's volatile economy makes reliable financial growth more important than ever, the feature pointed out. Costs of living, education and retirement are steadily rising.

Yet the yields of many investments are declining, the experts point out. And as tax laws constantly change, so changes how we keep of what we earn. Hence, people need financial planning.

Here are the six tips as recommended in that USA TODAY article:

FIRST, have a plan. You've got to determine your present position to best prepare your financial plan. Add up all your assets and subtract your liabilities, to determine your net worth. Then, follow expenses and set up a budget to live by.

You'll have to set financial goals (kids' college, buy new house, etc.) and - allowing for inflation - estimate how much money you'll need to reach them.

SECOND, secure your safety net. Make sure you have a secure foundation that includes "liquid" cash for emergencies and enough insurance to protect you against risks.

You need cash in reserve (usually equal to three months' of income) in case crises strike. In any given year, your chances of being in an injury-causing car accident are one in 70. The probability that your home could be damaged by fire is about one in 88. Your chance of becoming disabled is about one in eight.

Insurance is a must, these experts say.

THIRD, reduce your current taxes. We all should be "tax-wise," which is best done with professional advice. As people get into higher tax brackets, deferring some taxes or sheltering some income leaves more to invest - and to use in increasing your "nest egg."

FOURTH, pick investments that fit your needs. When (and if) you've fastened your "safety net" and have reduced current taxes, you've got to put the small monetary pot where it will do you the most good.

Certain investments are better for steady income, although returns are smaller than others. Some offer better tax reduction, while still others are more profitable - but more hazardous. Again, professional advice is often the best solution.

FIFTH, protect what you've earned. Maybe we can't "take it with us," but we can preserve what we've earned so it will be intact for the next generation. After evaluating what you have, certain planning techniques will best control probate or estate tax burdens. Some assets may be transferred now to minimize taxes later.

FINALLY, get professional help. As previously stated, you'll make - and retain - more income if proper, informed guidance is sought out and followed.

Financial planners can include CPAs, attorneys, investment counselors and others. Usually, costs of such aid will be more than overcome by tax savings or quicker investment growth.

These experts advise people that making such plans doesn't have to be too complex or time-consuming. But there's no better time to start than now - and we've all got more to lose than we'd ever really admit to...

TV Evangelists: Fruit Inspecting

Last week we looked at all the criteria not to use when seeking to discover whether a TV evangelist is a true or false prophet. It is amazing to discover that very few people ever look to the Biblical way of recognizing true prophets. In my opinion most people base their allegiance on style of delivery (appearance, ethnic accent, flamboyance, etc.) or familiarity of message (he's against everything I'm against) or popularity (large crowds, big budgets) or authority charisma (admiration for taking a stand) or whatever.

Jesus warned us (Matthew 7:15-23) that there would come false prophets to deceive us. He called them ferocious wolves in sheep's clothing. But in the same breath he gave us the test from which to recognize these false prophets.

Verse 16 is the obvious test. It states, "By their fruit you will recognize them." This concept is then explained in the next few verses until verse 20 where it is repeated for emphasis.

Inspector Gordo's MINUTE MYSTERY THE CASE OF

Death by the tracks

The fat man lay by the railroad embankment, his horribly twisted limbs testifying to the poor judgment in leaving a train as it raced 80 miles an hour.

"Broken neck, probably killed on impact," Inspector Gordo said after a summary examination. "Who is he?"

"Tommy Warner, the New York racketeer," replied Sheriff Jones. "He must have jumped from the Overnightr. It leaves Detroit for Los Angeles on Tuesday night and passes through here around 4 Wednesday afternoon. It's the only train by today."

"What makes you sure Warner jumped?" Gordo asked. "For one thing, the money in his wallet. For another, his suitcases."

"Suitcases?"

"I'll show you," the Sheriff said, shading his eyes as he led the way down the tracks toward the setting sun.

After about 500 yards, the two men came to the first suitcase. It contained expensive clothes, monogrammed T.W.

Another 200 yards along lay the second suitcase. It contained $100,000 in new $20 bills.

"Counterfeit," said the Sheriff. "Apparently someone wanted it, and Warner decided to jump rather than give it up."

"At least that's what someone wants the authorities to believe," said Gordo. "The killer went to a lot of trouble, but Warner was thrown from the train."

HOW DID INSPECTOR GORDO KNOW?
See Minute Mystery Answer on Page 8

phasis. Jesus knew many would be buffaloes by the miraculous gifts and abilities of such false prophets, so he was not casual in letting us know how to recognize them.

The whole process of recognizing hinges on the word "fruit." This is a marvelous concept used by Jesus and it sounds so simple. The Matthew 7 explanation simply states that grapes do not come from thornbushes or figs from thistles nor does good fruit come from bad trees or bad fruit from good trees and (very important) trees without fruit are ultimately discarded.

It becomes obvious that we recognize the kind of tree and the quality of a tree by its fruit. And if the tree has no fruit, then it must be destroyed as soon as possible - not only because it is unfruitful, but because it can deceive observers who see no fruit by which to recognize it... it is a dangerous tree!

That sounds simple enough. We recognize a person's inner spirit by his/her outer actions. But what kind of fruit (outer actions) do we look for?

Scripture uses the term "fruit" to describe various outer actions. There is the fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22), fruit unto God (Romans 7:4), fruit unto death (Romans 7:5 et al.), fruit of the lips (i.e. speaking - Isaiah 57:19, Hebrews 8:15), fruit unto holiness and life (Romans 6:22), fruit of the wicked (Matthew 7:16), fruit of self-centeredness (Hosea 10:1), fruit in season (i.e. true prosperity - Psalm 1:3, Jeremiah 17:8), fruits of the gospel (Romans 1:13, Colossians 1:6), fruit of righteousness (Philippians 1:11, James 3:18), fruits fit for repentance (Matthew 3:8), and the unfruitful works of darkness as contrasted with the fruit of light (Ephesians 5:9-11), WHEW!!

But all of this simply gives outer means of checking inner things... like whether the things are the Spirit, or God, or death, or holiness and life, or wickedness or self-centeredness, etc., etc. What we are interested in is checking the spirit of a person. Is that person's spirit of God or not? The key text then is Galatians 5:22 on the fruit of the Spirit of God.

The fruit that comes from God has nine recognizable traits: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. We do not have the time or space here to study each concept. But the study of each concept is imperative in order to recognize false prophets. I suspect there are well-intentioned folk in our community who have been contributing for years to ministries which do not convey these nine traits.

The fruit of the Spirit is different from the gifts of the Spirit in one very important way. The gifts are not for everyone.

RECOLLECTIONS
By-Gone Days

By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:

In one of my last articles, I wrote that these young farmers talked a different language than we used to, when we were farming.

One young fellow got after me about it. He asked if those guys who were farming my farm didn't do all right.

Well, I told him I was well satisfied with the way they farmed and that they were getting almost three times the bushels and tons per acre I used to get, when I first started to farm - 'til I got used to my farm.

The first few years I was on my present farm, I found out they just didn't plow deeply enough. My topsoil goes down pretty deep and when I got some of it tilled, Erich Kraft (who did the tilling) told me to plow deeper.

Well, I didn't have those big front-wheel drive tractors, so I hooked my two small tractors together and I got down deep.

Then those weeds and seed that were down there came up, and my family had quite a job hoeing weeds for several years. But, by adjusting my cultivator and working my ground good and proper, I got ahead of the weeds!

But we still had to hoe the beans. Once, my father-in-law came to see us, during bean hoeing time. The only beans he ever saw were in his wife's garden, and she used to take her hoe and hoe between the bean stalks and along side the bean rows - even if there were no weeds there. He said if that's the way you hoe beans, he sure felt sorry for my children!

So I told him to go out with the children once and see how it was done. Well, they just hoed the weeds out and

SUPERINTENDENT'S CORNER

Snow Day Make-Up

by HARRY BRUNET
LAKER SCHOOLS SUPERINTENDENT

This past month, the Houghton Lake School District served notice to the Department of Education that it is not their intent to make up five snow days.

What prompted their decision was the way in which this ruling came into effect.

When our legislators passed the 1985-86 State Aid Act, there was an additional stipulation, the stipulation being that all days when schools were closed due to inclement weather would have to be made up. This was to guarantee that the minimum of 180 days of student instruction would be carried out.

The penalty for not adhering to this ruling is the forfeiture of 1/180 of a district's state aid for each day you fail to make up.

Needless to say, the ruling had several loopholes.

One of the loopholes affects school districts that were in the final stages of an existing Master Contract and had wording stating that those days when school is closed due to weather shall not be made up.

Many school districts in the state fall into this category. With the start of the 1986-87 school year, this rule is to apply to all schools, regardless of contract language.

This past summer our district negotiated a new Master Contract, stating that we will comply with the state regulation.

The situation at Houghton Lake is similar to ours. Their Master Contract expired at the conclusion of the 1985-86 school year. Their teacher union said "no" to making up the snow days, unless they were to be compensated for the additional days.

With their contract negotiations being stalled on this issue, the Houghton Lake School Board looked into the pitfalls of not meeting the make-up requirement.

One of the first things they did was to equate their loss in state aid for the five snow days. They are an "out-of-formula" district, and therefore do not receive a dollar amount on a per pupil basis.

Any loss in state funds would come from their categorical aid - transportation, special education and vocational education.

Scheurer Hospital notes

Patients in Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon, on Monday, April 7:

PIGEON: Anetta J. Abdalla, Mrs. Greg (Becky) Irwin, Clarence Born, Mrs. Oliver (Dorothy) Leipprandt, Mrs. John (Dianne) Kohr.

BAD AXE: Mrs. Thomas (Lois) Wolschlager.

ELKTON: Carl Danks.

UNIONVILLE: Leslie A. Singer.

BAY PORT: Thomas D. McCreery.

SEREWING: Mark Linzner.

If the state was paying its proportionate share for these three programs, the loss of revenue to the Houghton Lake Schools would be rather steep. But here again, we have another instance of the state not meeting its obligations.

For the past five years, the "out-of-formula" school district has been penalized in receipt of revenues for the three mentioned programs.

The next thing they looked at was the minimum number of clock hours required for a school year. The law states that a school must have a minimum of 900 clock hours during a school year.

Houghton Lake is like our school district, calling for 1080 instruction hours, in excess of 180 hours.

With their contract talks at a standstill, the calculation of lost state aid, and the excess of required clock hours, the Houghton Lake Board of Education and the Teacher Association challenged the '85-86 ruling, basing the challenge on current school law and its taking precedence over this year's state aid ruling.

Another factor they considered is the cost for those additional days in wages for cooks, bus drivers, aides, etc. The Houghton Lake Board felt that if the state mandates this ruling, then they should come up with adequate funding.

After all considerations, their final step was to consult with attorneys and see if they had a case. As it appears, they are going into court contesting the '85-86 State Aid Act.

Their action is not intended to violate the law. What they are doing is simply letting our state legislators know the effects of taking on a regulation without making a thorough investigation of all of its ramifications.

April 10: State Teacher Day

The Michigan State Board of Education has proclaimed Thursday, April 10 as being Michigan Teacher Day.

Perhaps interested Progress-Advance readers could send a note or a card to one of their special teachers commemorating this day and the many other days spent working with the boys and girls of our school district.

The contest will be conducted on Saturday, April 19 in the Community Room of the Caseville Village-Township Hall. Contestants are to bring in their already cooked perch dishes, with the recipes, between 10 and 11 a.m.

Judging will be at 11 a.m. with ribbons and cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded at 12 noon.

Judges will Caseville Home Economics Teacher Debra Fritz, Retired Food Supervisor Evelyn Henkelmann and Extension Home Economist Barbara Neuman. The public is invited to participate.

Bay Port readies for August event

BAY PORT - It's all finalized, and the 9th annual Bay Port Fish Sandwich Day will be Bay Port Fish Sandwich Weekend again - just as it was in 1985, according to Henry Engelhard, who is handling publicity for the event.
A meeting of the community's Chamber of Commerce

Tuesday evening approved the dates and schedule, including the traditional events - thousands of fish sandwiches, a parade, arts and crafts fair - and dedication of Bay Port's new harbor on Saturday. Another new addition will be an outdoor church service at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.
Fish sandwich serving will start at 11 a.m. both days.
Events on Saturday will start at 10:30 a.m. with crowning the 1986 Festival Queen, followed by the harbor dedication. Governor James Blanchard, other state officials and county officers have been invited to take part in the ceremony. A group of "Sweet Adelines" will offer selections in the park, starting at 12:30 p.m., and following will be the parade. Invitations are being extended to neighboring communities to join the parade, Engelhard said.
Arts and crafts departments will be available for renting at approximately 10 booths, Engelhard explained, stating that rentals may be discussed with Forrest Williams at 656-2131 or Al Douglas at 656-2921.
Other business at the April 1 Chamber meeting included a $200 donation to the Bay Port Athletic Association, toward repair of lighting equipment at the ball park.
"You're all invited to take part in our Fish Sandwich Weekend," Engelhard declared, stating that, "When you come to Bay Port, you'll find that we speak 2 languages - English and Fish."

Friends and relatives are invited to attend.
She is the daughter of the late Norman and Ida Schaal.

JULIA A. BLEHM 1912 - 1986

Julia A. Blehm, age 74 of Unionville, passed away Tuesday, April 1 at Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital, after a short illness. She was born Julia Gricar on Feb. 10, 1912 in Texas, and lived in the Unionville area most of her life. She was united in marriage to George Blehm, Sr., in 1931 in Saginaw. He preceded her in death in 1983.
Mrs. Blehm was a member of Holy Family Catholic Church and USA Senior Citizens.
She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William (Julie) Deming of Saginaw, Catherine Eremia of Flushing and Mrs. Mark (Sue) Wiese of Bay Port; two sons, George of Gould City and John of Fish Point; 10 grandchildren; five sisters and one brother.
One son, Jerry, and three brothers preceded her in death. Funeral services were conducted Friday, April 4 at 11 a.m. from the Deisler Funeral Home, Unionville. Rev. Stanley Surman officiated. Memorials may be made to the Michigan Heart Association or the American Cancer Society.

BEAN NUMBERS: Most of a predicted 110,000-acre increase in Michigan dry bean acreage in 1986 will go toward growing black turtle and pinto beans for Mexico, according to the Michigan Ag Reporting Service.

MARS says its survey shows an 25% acreage increase, from 440,000 acres in 1985 to 550,000 which is the largest such bean acreage growth nationwide. U.S. averages are about 10.7% up from last year, with California, Colorado, New York and other states expecting smaller plantings than in 1985.

Contracts for bean sales were made in January by ANV Corp., the same company which set up the 1980-81 bean contracts with Mexico. Final legal details are now being worked out, observers say.

Base price for the new dark bean contracts average $15 per hundredweight (cwt.), which is better financially for farmers than present Navy Bean prices of $14 since dark beans yield greater quantities per acre than do Navies.

IRRADIATE? The U.S. Food & Drug Administration has authorized a New Jersey company to begin irradiation of pork to kill the parasite which can cause trichinosis, an intestinal and muscular disease.

This is the first time the government has allowed the food industry to irradiate food to control insects and retard spoilage. Pork will be exposed to 100,000 rads of what the FDA calls "low level radiation" which leaves no residue in food.

There is some speculation the FDA will soon approve such irradiation in fruits and vegetables, which it has long opposed. Later, some spices may be okayed for irradiation, too.

SUPER COWS? The FDA is being asked to disapprove a synthetic hormone to create "super cows" which would greatly increase milk production -- at a time the government is spending $1.8 billion to reduce milk surpluses by buying and killing cows in the Dairy Herd Termination Program.

Animal rights activists, led by Wisconsin dairy farmers, questioned the FDA's logic in approving might endanger cows, drive havoc on the dairy price support program. No FDA response was yet received.

WOODS and WATERS

By DUANE GUENTHER

Lifesavers

It was catch 22. As I inched slowly forward, the river threatened to spill into my waders. Turning around was out of the question. I had tried that earlier and the force of the current was so great I was almost swept from my precarious footing. So here I was, unable to go forward, and unable to go backward.

It had seemed so easy the night before. In the comfort and safety of the inn's dining room, my host had carefully mapped out the proposed route for crossing the river at this point.

"It really is very easy," he had said confidently. "Just walk down to the end of the island and then sight in on the large flat rock about 50 yards down the opposite shore. If you walk a straight line, you will have no problem. But, vary from side to side, and you will be able to drink standing up."

That piece of advice was of little comfort now. Turning my head, I rechecked my direction line and found it to be perfectly lined with the flat rock on the now distant shore. Why was I having so much trouble?

It came to me in a flash. My host had given me perfect instructions for a wading fisherman who was 6'4" like himself, but he had failed to calculate the problems of a 5'8" shrimp who now was about to take a soaking.

In a moment of panic I lurched forward and felt the shock of icy river water coming in contact with my warm flesh. To make matters worse, at that very moment I chose to step into the slight depression made by a spawning salmon. The results were inevitable. I tottered slowly and then with a crashing crescendo, slipped over on my side.

The wild thrashing that took place may have been comical to anyone witnessing the incident, but it was deadly serious to me. The air temperature was hovering around 38 degrees, and although I had not placed a thermometer in the water that morning, I'm sure it would have been little warmer. And to make matters worse, I was a good 2 miles from my truck and another 2 miles from the nearest house.

My arm was the first part under the water, as anyone's normal reaction is to stop themselves from falling. I managed to hit something with my hand and stopped myself from falling before my head went under. Three or four hurried steps brought me to a shallower part of the river and I managed to struggle ashore.

My first thoughts were to strip off the wet clothing and build a fire. I always carry a butane lighter in my fishing vest and, as I glanced around, saw plenty of firewood and some dry leaves for a start-er. I pulled off my vest and unzipped the wool sweater I always wear during spring fishing trips. It was soggy and, including the water it had soaked up, weighed a ton. My chamois cloth shirt was next, but didn't appear to be nearly as wet. Then came my polypropylene underwear which was hardly damp at all. I gave it a couple of twists to rid it of loose water and pulled it back on.

My next task was to deal with the waders. I had been wearing a new pair of neoprene waders that I had won at a Ducks Unlimited banquet a few months before. They were unlined, and resembled a skin diving suit. In the instructions, it had said they would cling to your body and make it difficult for water to enter if you should happen to dunk. But, I was not prepared for what I saw.

When I pulled down the waders, my long underwear bottoms were perfectly dry. The water that had slipped over the top managed to wet my sweater and shirt, but they must have acted as a seal, for not a drop penetrated below my chest line.

I jerked the waders back up, grabbed for the rain jacket I carry in the back of my fishing vest, and stripped it over my underwear top. I had become a little chilly in the clothes-changing process, but I certainly wasn't in any danger of hypothermia.

I built a small fire on the sandy bank of the shore, and rigged a makeshift rack to dry my shirt and sweater. Rather than sit around and shiver, I thought I would be better off back in the river fishing, so I grabbed my rod and scrambled down the bank.

I have fallen in the water a couple times since then. Any river fisherman will tell you it is practically impossible to avoid. But, each time, my neoprene waders have made the situation more comical than dangerous.

When it comes to river fishing, they are truly a lifesaver...

tion by the Elkton Elementary sixth grader. In only one year, 17 unicorn representations have been accumulated.

About three years ago, Brandi joined with many other children in buying stickers and placing them in albums. Now, she rarely adds to her collection of over 450 which are displayed in albums.

Although she says she doesn't really believe unicorns actually existed, Brandi enjoys the company of the one-horned animals. Her first one was received as a gift last Easter. She also benefits from having an aunt that makes the legendary stuffed animals by hand.

She says she has no particular favorites in the newly formed collection.

STUFFED ANIMALS

Many children find soft, cuddly stuffed animals irresistible, and eight-year-old Brent McIlhargie is no exception. The Elkton Elementary second grader has accumulated 34 stuffed creatures of all types.

Smurfs, Raggedy Andy and teddy bears of all types are represented.

His collection started "probably when I was born," says Brent, and adds he has been surrounded by stuffed objects as long as he can remember.

In addition to being his friends, the animals are often reminders of other friends and relatives. One panda bear was added to the collection by his older brother Dan, who won the prize for selling candy.

A dog in the collection carries special sentimental value because it was hand-made from a coat owned by the boy's great-grandmother.

The collection also reflects today's advanced technology. Under the Christmas Tree this year, Brent found a stuffed bear that "sings" a Christmas song.

During summer months, he can re-create classroom activities with one member of the collection Brent says reminds him of a teacher. He admits a big reason are the spectacles perched on the nose of the stuffed animal.

MUSIC BOXES

Some childhood collections are discarded as people get older, but that is unlikely to be the case with nine-year-old Hayley Herford. The third grader at Pigeon Elementary School, known as "Sunny," stores a collection of 13 music boxes in her bedroom.

The group of music boxes was started three years ago with one purchased by Sunny's parents while on vacation. The musical objects depicting Mickey Mouse attest to her parents' visits to Disney World.

Other music boxes in the shape of pianos reflect the girl's interest in the instrument.

Her favorite box in the collection is the piano which plays the song "The Entertainer." The special feelings generated by that particular one are due to the fact she had to work to earn it. Sunny was given the music box after learning to play the song herself on the piano.

As is the case with many other young girls, Sunny also has a collection of stickers. She has two books filled with the colorful objects.

Another "collection" of Sunny's is the three trophies she earned while tap dancing in talent shows.

Pigeon District LIBRARY

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Area residents are invited to browse at the Pigeon District Library during the Arts and Crafts Display now through April 12, held in conjunction with National Library Week.

Some demonstrations will include: Smocking by Karen Riegle, Stained Glass by Donna Schulze, Counted Cross Stitch by Joyce Kretzschmer, Spinning by the Thumb Fiber Friends, and China Painting by Mary Ann Kiser, who will also display works from her nine students.

Also, the Arts and Crafts Committee members will demonstrate various crafts. Library hours this week will be Monday through Friday from 9 to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

PROFILE

This week's feature on a library staff member will be about Jane Himmel, "The Story Hour Lady."

Jane and her husband Dennis live in Bay Port with their two children, Robert and Sarah. Her work at the library began in the summer of 1977 until 1979, when she moved to Virginia for a year before returning to work at the library in 1981 to the present.

Her duties at the library include Preschool Story Hour, visiting preschool and kindergarten classes, crafts, circulation and dusting. She enjoys working with small children. Her future ambition is to write children's books.

Jane's hobbies are sewing, cooking, reading and enjoying her family. Stop in and say "Hi" to Jane Himmel at the library.

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR

The theme for April 15 Preschool Story Hour will be Little Monster stories, including "Little Monster At Home," "Little Monster's Bedtime Book" and "Little Monster's Alphabet Book." A special treat will be a film, "Rainbow Bear," a 15-minute color film about a rainbow bear who awakens after several hundred years of slumber.

Exercises, fingerplays, songs and flannelgraphs will be some of the activities planned for the children. All three to five year olds are invited to attend. Annual registration is required.

FAMILY FILM FESTIVAL

"Trouble With Angels" will be shown on Saturday, April 12 at 1 p.m. in the Audio-Visual room of the library.

It is a 116-minute color film about happy, mischievous teenagers

(Haley Mills and June Harding) who are in constant conflict with Mother Superior (Rosalind Russell). This film festival is programmed for family entertainment and parents are encouraged to attend with their children, especially if the children are under age 5. Because of slow attendance, this will be the last scheduled Film Festival and Saturday Story Hours will also be discontinued.

PIGEON HEADSTART VISITS

Teacher Connie Smeader and Aides Judy Sowden and Charlotte Metzger accompanied their Headstart Preschoolers for a Story Hour Program on March 27.

Thirty-seven children attended in two sessions, along with eight parents and one grandmother from the Foster Grandparent Program. The children enjoyed stories about Easter, and Spring, including "The Caterpillar" and "The Polliwog." "The Golden Egg Book" and a filmstrip, "The Lollipop Dragon and the Big Easter Egg Hunt." Exercises, flannelgraph and fingerplays were also enjoyed.

Richmond to attend
Pigeon District Library Librarian Roberta Richmond will be among dozens of library representatives to attend a statewide continuing education conference April 22-23 at Lansing.

Local author adds book to library shelves
The Pigeon District Library has placed in circulation a number of copies of "The Cat Who Saw Red," a new series featuring Mystery's most extraordinary detective team, written by Lillian Jackson Braun, resident of Bad Axe and Caseville.

It is a pleasure for the library to make these paperback volumes available for library patrons, says Librarian Roberta Richmond. The staff also wishes Mrs. Braun success with her new murder mystery, the first in a series.

report was given for March. Clayton and Ardis Gemmell led in singing several songs and the Birthday Song was sung for Mike Renn. A letter was read from the Hospitality House in Saginaw, and a motion was made by Ardis Gemmell, seconded by Lillian Kuntzman, to make a contribution. A get-well card was signed for Emma Morley, who is hospitalized.

Marie Hoffman thanked all who sent cards and memorials at the time of her husband's death. There will be a memorial service for Jim Hoffman on April 12 at 1:30 p.m. at McAlpine's Funeral Home.

An open meeting was held with several members contributing music and readings.

Edna Wakefield will be program chairman for April 8.

Miss Richmond will represent the White Pine Library Cooperative, of which the Pigeon District Library is a member. Hosted by the Rural Libraries Caucus of the Michigan Library Association, the conference is a scholarship educational opportunity for 76 representatives of rural and small libraries serving populations of 25,999 or less to meet with government representatives to learn how to strengthen their working relationships and improve communications.

In addition to the conference, Miss Richmond also plans to attend the Michigan Library Association Legislative Day '86, on Wednesday, April 23. The afternoon provides an opportunity for Michigan librarians to meet and discuss issues of concern related to public policy.

Elkton groups making progress

ELKTON WOMANS' CIVIC CLUB

"Health Care, Past and Present" was the theme of the April meeting for the club in the home of Mrs. Rosa Mae Krohn on Thursday evening.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Mary Jane Voelker of Owendale, who serves as In-Service and Training Director at Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon. Her topic was "New Trends in Medical Technology."

Program Coordinator Mrs. Ruby Ewald reviewed excerpts from the periodical "Magic Touch" and members participated in reading remedies from the book, "Chicken Soup and Old Folk Remedies." Roll call was an old-fashioned remedy you have used.

Delegates elected to attend the Huron County Federation of Womens' Clubs convention at Port Hope on Saturday, May 3 were Mrs. Alvin Taylor, Mrs. Blanchard Bixler and Mrs. Ruby Ewald. Announcement was made of the upcoming Laker Art Show, sponsored by the club, on Sunday, May 4 with Mrs. Dale Faist serving as chairman.

Charter club member Mrs. Ruby Ewald was elected to head the club's golden anniversary beginning with the 1986-87 year. Her officers will include Vice President Mrs. Mervin Snider, Secretary Mrs. Della Trudgen and Treasurer Mrs. Rosa Mae Krohn. The club has two charter members, Mrs. Ewald and Mrs. Louise Krohn.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

Thirty-five members attended the April 1 meeting at the Elkton Civic Center. Frank Rinnert offered table prayer. President Mike Renn extended a welcome to Marie Hoffman, Ellen Tait and Henry and Dorothy Carly. Secretary Della Trudgen was welcomed back after a two-week Easter vacation.

Minutes were read, as was an Easter greeting from former member Mary Chambers, who now resides in Canada. The treasurer's

Caseville club news

CASEVILLE RETIREMENT CLUB

A total of 108 members and nine guests were present for the April 1 meeting of the Caseville Retirement Club at the American Legion Hall.

President Frank Janes led in the greeting and the Lord's Prayer, followed by lunch. The Pledge to the Flag was given and President Janes introduced guests Todd and Matt Muskan, Becky and Rachael Clifford, Mark, Steven, Tim Lakatos and Amber and Heather Morris.

Thirty-seven blood pressure readings were given by Rose Koenig and Marion Parent, assisted by Louise Gerrard.

Janes thanked Martha Weremiuk and Alice Dean for the "earlybird" goodies, and members for contributing to the Food Pantry. Hank and Peg Hill were thanked for the delivery of 17 Easter bags. A report was given on the July 17 trip to Chesaning, with full details by Shirley Ritchie. Tony Zacheretti reported on the Perch Festival Parade set for Saturday, April 19 at 1:30 p.m. He asked for help to decorate the club's float on April 12 at John Kavalor's home.

Welcomed back were Alice Dean and Ellen Lawson. Hospitalized is Elmer Gettel at Scheurer Hospital. Janes visited many sick members at home. Celebrating birthdays were Dwight Stroh, Margaret Zakrzewski, Anne David, Madalyn Avigne, Father Ted LaMarre, Norma Schuldt and Virginia Zielinski. Janes honored Bob Bondy for his deliveries of food for the Food Pantry.

Chuck and Betty Pudney led in a sing-along of old favorites. The meeting was adjourned for cards and bingo.

Pinochle winners were Rose Koenig, Frank Janes and Gus Oldford. Euchre winners were Frank Darby, Bob Bondy, Marge Heckman, Frances Richmond and John Kavalor.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY AND EVERY SUNDAY

YOUR EARTHLY RICHES MUST REMAIN ON EARTH

You can't take it with you, as somebody said, For no matter how much you're inclined To use all of your efforts in getting ahead, You will just have to leave it behind. You will just have to leave it behind. If increasing your riches by using your brains Is the only way you can employ them, Then the headaches and taxes your future contains Will deny you the chance to enjoy them. By attending your Church, you will learn to behold What your efforts have really been worth; For our genuine wealth is not measured by gold, But by happiness here on this earth!

—Gloria Nowak

Remembering his miracles

READ MATTHEW 7:7-12
His mother said to the servants, "Do whatever He tells you." John 25

"Why?" That's a question children often ask when told to do something. Christ's followers perhaps asked it too when He gave directions before some of His miracles. Why fill huge jars with water when there is no wine? Why cast out the nets when we have fished all day and caught nothing? Why begin sharing five loaves and two fishes, when there are 5000 to feed? Why put mud on the blind man's eyes? Why? So the water could become wine, so the nets could be filled with fish, so the bread and fish could be multiplied until there were 12 baskets left over, and so the blind man could see. We don't always understand His ways either. We too ask why. Why are we to forgive 70 times seven? Why must we love our enemies and pray for those who insult and persecute us? Why? Because the Lord loves us and knows what is best for us. Because He likes to give good gifts to those who ask Him. Because, like Mary at Cana, we can be sure He will supply our needs. Has God not already given us the best gift of all -- eternal life through His Son? Enable us, dear Savior, always to do whatever You ask of us, and help us to see Your hand at work in our lives. Amen.

Pigeon Prayer Week observance

The Pigeon observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will begin on Sunday, April 13. This is the fifth year that this week will have been observed in the Pigeon community. This year's theme is from Acts 1:8, "You Shall Be My Witnesses."

The opening service will be on Sunday evening, April 13 at 7 p.m. at the St. Francis Borgia Catholic Church. Area pastors will participate in the service, with Rev. Herb Troyer of the Michigan Avenue Mennonite Church delivering the sermon. Music will be provided by the Cantate Chorale.

In addition, there will be a daily service each noon Monday through Friday in a different church each day: Monday, Michigan Avenue Mennonite Church;

Preschool sets date for enrollment

Cross Lutheran Preschool will take enrollment for the 1986-87 school year on Wednesday, April 30 from 3 to 4 p.m.

Two sessions will be offered again. The first session will be conducted Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. A second session will be offered on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 12:30 to 3 p.m.

Both sessions will be open first to children who will be four years old by Dec. 1 and will be going to kindergarten the following year. If there are still vacancies in the afternoon session after May 1, the school will accept three year olds and young four year olds.

A registration fee will be due at the time of enrollment, according to Preschool Teacher Cindy Engelhard. For more information, call the school at 453-3331, the teacher at 674-2766 or the aide at 453-3953.

Pigeon River Mennonite hosts Rosedale Chorale

THE ROSEDALE CHORALE of Irwin, Ohio will present a program of sacred music on Sunday, April 13 at 10 a.m. at the Pigeon River Mennonite Church.

The 45-voice mixed a capella choir represents the Rosedale Bible Institute near Irwin, and is directed by Lloyd Kauffman. The program will include a variety of selections from Local academy chosen as finalist

Thumb Christian Academy in Bad Axe has been selected as a Regional Finalist in the first Governor's Environmental Youth Awards competition, according to Department of Natural Resources Regional Director Michael Moore.

A group of 15 students from the school won in the high school category level by developing a model of a park and camping facility on Oak Point Lake. The group will compete against another Regional Finalist of the State title. "The Thumb Christian Academy students should be commended for their efforts to improve Michigan's environment. Their lakeside park project is an excellent example of what students can do for their community," says Moore. A total of 41 groups entered the competition, involving nearly 2,000 students in the state.

Special services at Trinity

Trinity United Methodist Church of Sebeawaing has planned a week of special services from Sunday, April 20 through Thursday, April 24 and invites area congregations to participate.

Guest speaker for each service will be Kent Fishel, youth evangelist and frequent summer youth leader at Bay Shore Camp. An added feature of the services will be the musical leadership of "Living Truth." Group members will lead a singspiration time each evening for "early comers" at 7 p.m. and will begin the evening service with a special concert at 7:30 p.m.

Fishel is the founder and evangelist for Discipleship, Inc. Known as an effective communicator, he has spoken to thousands of young people in camps, rallies, classrooms, athletic assemblies and youth conferences throughout the U.S. and Canada. He is best known throughout the Thumb for his leadership of the senior high youth assembly each summer at acoustic guitars, piano and synthesizer. Says Trinity Pastor Larry Brooks, "It would be exciting simply to be able to have either Kent Fishel or 'Living Truth' to lead such services, but the combination of both as our leadership is doubly exciting. We look forward to an uplifting and spiritually rewarding time. We hope that Christians of other denominational backgrounds will attend these services whenever possible. Our purpose is to bring spiritual renewal to the larger Sebeawaing area, and not simply to our own congregation."

Lakers break in new track

The Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port boys and girls track teams have a new spring in their step this year as they use the new all-weather track at the high school for the first time in competition. The new surface replaces the former cinder track.

The new track is part of a $120,000 project which included construction of four tennis courts at the high school sports complex.

Mark Karls

Each Christian has some gifts, but no Christian has all the gifts (1 Corinthians 12:29).

On the other hand, the fruit of the Spirit is for every Christian. It is proof positive of a person's relationship with God. Each of the nine traits must be exemplified in every Christian. Obviously some Christians are further along in some traits than in other traits. Just because a trait like self-control fails on occasion does not mean that person is not of God. But consistent lack of self-control is indication that God's spirit does not dwell in that individual.

John 13:35 says that all people will know those who follow Christ by the love they have for each other. Well, this love is the first of the above nine fruits of the Spirit. If we just stick to these nine, we will recognize those of God in time.

I know of several nationally-known people in ministry who have very "effective" ministries, but they do not have gentleness, or patience, or some other fruit of the Spirit. My response to their ministries is not to bad-mouth them or try to undermine them. Heavens, if God can use pagan kings and even Balaam's donkey to prophecy, He certainly might be using immature Christians whose fruit are not yet ripe or noticeable.

My response to TV evangelists, pastors, etc. who do not exemplify all nine fruits of the Spirit is to pray for their maturation, so that we can easily see what kind of fruit they have. If I were already committed to a ministry (e.g. if a spiritually immature pastor were assigned to my church) I would continue to support the ministry and pray for the maturing of the pastor. If I were not committed to the ministry, I would not begin to financially support it. If the ministry were heavily based on one person (e.g. the ministry was named after that person), and that person did not vividly show these nine fruit, then I would withdraw my financial support (yet still pray for that person's maturation). And if the pastor, evangelist, etc. continued to not show all nine traits after my praying for a year or so, then that person is like the dangerous tree that does not show its fruit and he or she must be removed.

God's money needs to be spent wisely. And if the FRUIT of His Spirit is not very evident in a ministry you are contributing toward, then some very serious thinking and praying is in order. God cannot afford to have you recognize His work by anything other than His fruit.

Sign up for Little League Baseball

Little League Baseball Sign-up will be Saturday, April 12 at 9 a.m. at the Pigeon Recreation Park.

This is for ages five through 16, T-Ball through Babe Ruth. Coaches are also needed.

Letters to My Cousin Gus

DEAR COUSIN GUS:

Yesterday's mail contained a letter from the Irish-American Cultural Institute with a possible solution to a small problem that has concerned me for several weeks. When Mama read my letter in The Progress-Advance about the wedding, her remark hinted at the problem. "An excellent article, well-written, but if I had known that immortality was so important I would have traded a few of my tears of joy for some of it. Women also like to leave footprints on the sands of Time."

I readily agreed that my activities received considerable emphasis in the article, but "My original script gave almost a paragraph to your walk down the aisle on Kevin's arm, wearing that saucy hat. But the paragraph broke the theme continuity. Really wanted to use it. You remember I picked out that hat for you."

Mama remembered. We were in Hudson's about a year ago when I spotted that wisp of feather, fluff and flair and dared her to buy it. Her first purchase of a regular hat in 25 years. We laughed a bit. Immortality was forgotten and we took our afternoon naps.

Coming back to the letter that arrived yesterday. About a year ago our favorite Free Press columnist, Neal Shine, wrote about the reforestation projects in Ireland, which were sponsored by the Irish-American Cultural Institute headquartered in Minnesota. Called "Trees for Ireland," the project makes it possible to have a tree planted in the name of a friend or relative in any county in the Republic of Ireland. That name is enrolled in a permanent record maintained by the government. Shine suggested participation in the program is an excellent means of recognizing special events or memorializing friends. The monetary contribution was nominal.

The timing of Shine's suggestion a year ago was opportune - St. Patrick's Day coming up and the birthday of our son-in-law, Patrick Pugh, following in a few weeks. He traces his ancestry directly to the "Auld Sod" through both sides of his family. So commemorating two important dates we arranged to have two trees planted in County Cork. . . . Pat's name is on record.

That small contribution did something else of a permanent nature - it got us on another mailing list. Several previous letters stirred no interest but the one received yesterday prompted a happy thought - this might solve my problem. While Mama knows of no Irish ancestors, she can claim guilt by association. So as a token Easter gift my cheek is on its way with the hope that a few trees and her name on record in County Galway will insure a degree of immortality.

O.W. Baur was written on Good Friday and was to be mailed on Monday. Pat Pugh died of a heart attack on Easter Sunday. The mailing was withheld but when our daughter Judy read it, she said, "Send it to the Progress. Pat was human - he liked to see his name in print. It is a good memorial."

P.S. The above letter was written on Good Friday and was to be mailed on Monday. Pat Pugh died of a heart attack on Easter Sunday. The mailing was withheld but when our daughter Judy read it, she said, "Send it to the Progress. Pat was human - he liked to see his name in print. It is a good memorial."

LWML plans Spring events

The Thumb Zone of the Lutheran Womens' Missionary League will hold their annual Spring Rally on Tuesday, April 15 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Palms.

Registration and refreshments will begin at 6:30 p.m. with opening devotions at 7 p.m. Mrs. Lila Tirsell of Midland, guest speaker, will tell of her experiences in Nigeria. Everyone is asked to bring a bar of soap for Lutheran World Relief.

The 13th annual Zone Retreat will convene on April 23 and 24 at Lake Huron Methodist Camp in Jeddo. Theme will be "Walk in Love With Christ" and will include Bible Study, singing, communion, fellowship, crafts and bookstore browsing.

Speaker and Bible Study leader will be Rev. A. Bahr of Port Hope, a Michigan District LWML counselor.

Deadline for registration is April 15. Registration should be sent to Mrs. Dee Veitengruber in Port Sanilac or contact a local LWML chairman.

Elkton news

Mrs. Gloria Wheeler of Essexville spent Easter Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Coote.

Mrs. Lucy Dietzel spent Saturday as a supper guest with Mrs. Coote. Also visiting her were Mr. and Mrs. George Logan of Kinde on Good Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scitis of Warren and Mr. and Mrs. D. Gascho, also of Warren, were her dinner guests on Good Friday.

Thumb area OUTDOORS

Michigan's DNR was left in a turmoil last week when Dr. Ronald Skoog resigned abruptly as director. Skoog, hired in 1983 to clean up an ailing agency, never really got his feet on the ground, and was in serious trouble with Governor Blanchard.

Most people close to the conservation scene were surprised only by the fact that Ron was able to quit before he got fired. Skoog's days were numbered when he was named director of the DNR. Commission hired him anyway. Blanchard has always felt that the Governor should appoint the director, rather than having him hired by the Commission. Now that Blanchard's commission is made of members appointed by him, it is safe to assume the new director will be "Blanchard's Boy".

It is the opinion of many that the DNR has gotten too big to be effectively handled by one man who is a trained conservationist. A better remedy would be to hire a person with experience and training in dealing with people, rather than fish and animals. That was the problem with Tanner, the previous director, and the same thing happened to Skoog.

Final rules for hunting deer with handguns in southern Michigan next year have been made by the DNR. Legal weapons will include repeating, center-fire pistols or revolvers of .35 caliber or larger. A maximum of 9 shots in the barrel and magazine will be allowed. Black powder pistols will also be allowed as long as they are .44 caliber or larger with round ball ammunition.

The Michigan DNR is trying to convince the US Fish and Wildlife Service that we should have an early goose season this fall. The reason lies in the increased number of Canada Geese in our flyway, and especially, the giant Canadas that do not migrate out of our state during the year. A winter hunting season has been tried with little success in controlling the flock's numbers, and many DNR biologists feel an early fall hunting season may be the answer.

If the early season becomes a reality, it could be good news for Thumb area hunters. Four counties, Saginaw, Tuscola, Huron and Allegan, account for over half of the state's annual harvest of Canada Geese.

WHY CHIROPRACTIC CARE GETS RESULTS
Everyone knows that when a nerve is cut or pinched something stops... whatever organ, gland or tissue is at the end of the pinched nerve will fail to function, just as flipping a switch will turn off the lights.
The doctor of chiropractic works with the spine and nerves. The chiropractor was the first to recognize that spinal bones (vertebrae), twisted even slightly out of place, often impinge the major nerve trunks at the point where they pass through small bony openings as they leave the spine, thus causing pain and disease.
The chiropractor was the first to recognize that the nerve system and its intelligent directing force must be free of all such obstacles in its path in order to function efficiently and thus maintain natural health.
The chiropractor was the first to devise a scientific system of analyzing and testing the spine and nerve system to locate nerve dysfunction. Your chiropractor is a specialist in locating and correcting the blocked and pinched nerves that are causing your health problem.

SOUND-OFF !!

Phone 453-2323

"Recollections of Bygone Days" by George Keim is one of the most refreshing columns in your small-town newspaper. His wit and sincerity and outlook on life are a delight to readers' eyes. The day-to-day contact with people he refers to weekly are one of the more precious things we can do, so easily accomplished and yet by some seems an effort.

To me, it makes my day. Keep up the good work, George, and the good appetite. Sincerely, Jeannette (nee Faust) McDonald, Owendale.

Thanks, Joan B., for your recent write-up in The Progress-Advance. More power to you.

A beach dance is planned at Laker High School on Friday, April 18 in the back parking lot, with real sand and a bonfire, from 9 'til 12. DJ is Soundz. Save an admission if you wear your beach clothes.

After seeing the SOUND-OFF, I had to write, too. Thanks, Caseville High Drama Troupe, for a most entertaining and fun presentation of "Snow White." We loved it.

Have you visited the hobby show at Pigeon District Library this week? Exhibitors have a goodly number of items for sale, and orders can also be taken for delivery later. Join your friends at the Library during National Library Week.

Uncle Rodney, how's it going? How's that pink skateboard? Got handlebars on it? Talk to you soon. Signed, You Guessed It.

Pigeon Little League Baseball sign-up is next Saturday, April 12, 9 a.m., at Pigeon Recreation Park. This is for ages 5-16, T-ball through Babe Ruth. Coaches are needed too and any donations are welcomed. Call Steve S. at 453-2558 or other leaders to volunteer.

I think it's a crime that those men caught in restrooms breaking the law got off so easily. They should be thrown in jail for possibly endangering youngsters who come in.

What you do in the privacy of your home is one thing, but you shouldn't do this in public, taxpayer bathrooms.

The special German meal with all the trimmings and an oompah-band are only two weeks away, at the Scheurer Hospital Annual Dinner on Thursday, April 24. Tickets are available at the Hospital front desk, and the donation is tax-deductible.

During National Library Week, amnesty time is being observed. This is a good time to return your overdue books or other material that has been past due. No book fines are being charged this week, just one service from your library during this special week. Come and visit us.

Porky's, we LOVE the little pig on the roof. Who was the model for it? Keep up the good work.

Sound-Off in Detroit

Remember that SOUND-OFF item that appeared a few weeks ago?

Free: Doberman Pinscher, four years old, good watchdog. Eats anything. Loves children.

Robert Barbrt was home visiting his parents, Nadine and Don Barbrt of Caseville, and read the item in The Progress-Advance.

He felt it was a good entry for Detroit FM radio station WCZY's "funny memo" spot on Dick Purtan's program. So, Rob sent a letter with the article to WCZY.

On Wednesday, April 2 at 7:40 a.m., it was read by Purtan, giving credit to the sender -- plus Pigeon, Michigan and The Progress-Advance.

The Caseville Barbrts report Rob won dinner for two at a lovely Novi restaurant for his entry -- and Pigeon got a little more fame!

Worried about having to choose a long-distance company?

There's lots of confusion these days over how, when, and why you must choose a long-distance company to handle your "one-plus" calls.

(Actually, many people have already chosen the long-distance company they want to use. And, of course, you may sign-up with companies serving your area anytime you wish.)

The confusion is coming from all the ads telling you that if you don't choose, someone else will do it for you. They're talking about the new service called "equal access." With equal access, you must choose the company you want to handle your direct dialed calls.

But don't panic. You don't have to do anything until you hear from us. Since we are the ones to make equal access available in your area, you can bet that nothing will happen until we've notified you.

(Some areas may never see equal access. That's because long-distance companies may choose not to offer the service in all locations.)

If your town is one of the ones to get the new service, we will send you all the information you need to make a decision...

We'll send you a package explaining the how, when, and why of equal access. It will tell you exactly what you must do. And when you must do it. In fact, it will even include a ballot to make it easier for you to notify us of your choice.

But, until then, you don't have to do a thing. So sit back, relax. Your long distance service will be the same tomorrow as it is today.

Laker girls track coach Gordie Murphy says his team could be an outside challenger for the Thumb B Association title if his athletes can avoid injuries. All nine returning letter-winners won medals in competition last year. Those athletes include: junior Julia Sturm in 800 meter run; senior hurdler Debbie Ginter; senior sprinter Kris Elenbaum; junior distance runner Terri Chapin; junior distance runner Renee Elliott; sophomore hurdler Lisa Buschlen; sophomore 200 meter runner Renee Bushey; sophomore distance runner Judy Kropp, and sophomore Jenny Warren in discus.

Leading the team is Sturm who qualified for the state meet last year and won the 800 meter race in the Caro Meet of Champions.

Last year's graduates Sue Kohr, Melissa Dietzel, Shelly Wissner and Margie Blome helped the team place third in regionals and in the Hatchet Invitational. The girls hope to improve on last year's fifth place finish in the Thumb B with a 2-5 record.

BOYS' TRACK

Laker boys track coach Paul Beachy hopes to record a winning season with 14 letter-winners back from last year's team which recorded a 3-4 Thumb B record.

Beachy will look to young athletes to provide depth the team, after Laker boys won the Bad Axe Invitational for 9th and 10th graders last year. They will be needed to fill in for pole vaulter and sprinter Dave Sturm as well as long jumper and hurdler Dan Ritter.

discus and sophomore Shannon Herford in the two mile run.

Other returning letter-winners include Kent Kern, Charlie Edington, Kent Adams, Sean Walsh, Tim Kempisty, Jason McIlhargie and Ken Duffield.

Coach Beachy expects Vassar to be the team to beat in the Thumb B. He looks for good team balance to overcome a lack of depth in each event as the key to Laker success.

BOYS' BASEBALL Varsity

The Laker baseball team must realistically set their sights a little lower than the achievements recorded by last year's squad. After sharing the Thumb B Association championship with Imlay City at 10-4, Lakers went on to win the district championship. The Green and White squad was only stopped in the regional championship game, which improved their overall record to 21-7.

This year Coach Bill McLellan will be starting with possibly a clean slate. The only returning player from last year's team is Rob Irion, and his status depends on a nagging knee injury.

A new crop of players will try to fill the shoes of Laker First Team All-Conference players Tim Patterson, Al Gies, Jeff Caverly and Ron Dubs, along with second team player Dan Bouck.

Top contributors this year are expected to be senior Chris Eby, who participated in track last year and juniors Brian Parrish, Bryan Wertz and Chris Wurst.

Parrish is the only player with varsity experience, after providing pitching help for Lakers last year in the tournaments. He and Wurst are expected to be the main hurlers for the team this year, McLellan says.

The Laker mentor predicts Bad Axe and Caro will be the top teams in the Thumb B, based on players returning from last year, but he expects a tight race in the league.

Lakers will be solid defensively, with good hitting developing later as the young players gain varsity experience, McLellan adds.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL Varsity

Youth and speed are the main characteristics of the Laker softball team this year, says Coach Jack Tyler. He will take over the helm of the varsity squad after coaching the junior varsity team last season.

Lakers hope to improve on last season's 4-10 Thumb B Association record, but those hopes will hinge on how quickly young players on the team develop, Tyler says. He picks his team to finish in the middle of the TBA pack this year, with North Branch, Vassar and Marlette the favorites for the title.

Returning letter winners from last year's team are seniors Patti Thiel, Penny Haag and Kari Truemmer; juniors Cathy Wurst, Rhonda Baur and Kriste Lasceski, and sophomores Deanne Deming and Tammy Peyerk.

Graduates from last year's squad are All-Conference outfielder Lynda Brown, pitcher Shelly Ginter and catcher Lisa Drabek.

Rhonda Baur and Shelly Henne will assume pitching duties for the team this year. Behind the plate, Bethanne Beachy is expected to play a key role in Laker success. Another outstanding prospect this season is Deanne Deming at third base.

"This team has more speed than an Laker softball team in the past five year," says Tyler. Strong defense up the middle should also help Lakers win some games this year, he adds.

The skipper is encouraged by the attitude of his players.

"They have been working hard in practice. Now we need some good weather and playing time," he says.

TENNIS

Tennis will be a "league" sport in the Thumb B Association and that suits Laker net coach Dick Pauly just fine. His team didn't lose a duel match to Bad Axe, Marlette or Inlay City last season, and have only lost one Thumb B match in the past five years.

Pauly will look to junior Randy Heckman to carry last year's winning 18-2 record in second and third singles flights over into the top singles division this year. Last year's top two singles players Dave King and Troy Weidman graduated, along with doubles player Linda Hurlburt.

Other top Laker performances this year are expected from Rod Wertz, Tony Garza, Chris Williams, Jeff Sturm and Jay Anthes. Wertz, Sturm and Anthes compiled a 14-6 record last year, while Garza was 11-8 and Williams posted an 8-9 mark. Another returning letter winner on the team is Kevin Maust.

Last season Lakers missed out on a trip to the state tournament after placing third in regionals. This year, Pauly hopes Laker netters can benefit from playing on their new home courts. For the first time the regionals will be played in the upper Thumb area, as Laker High will host the event on May 16.

Pauly says tough competition for starting spots on this year's team will contribute to overall depth on the squad.
