'No-hands' doughnut eating!

Christopher Clabuesch of Caseville ate a doughnut Saturday afternoon, and he had some help from fellow Kids' Olympics team member Michael Pirret.

The idea during the Caseville Perch Festival event was to eat a doughnut dangling on a string without using your hands. Christopher learned quickly it's a hard technique to master! He's the son of Paul and Jan Clabuesch.

The Clabuesch team tied for fourth place during the Olympics, conducted after the parade at Caseville's Memorial Park downtown.

Special recognitions will be offered to long-time Pigeon physicians Peter Ruiz de Castilla, M.D., 20 years and B.G. Kam lapurker, M.D., over 10 years.

Three ladies will also get "special attention" as they are feted for being charter members of the Scheurer Hospital Auxiliary.

Auxiliaries Mrs. Clare (Clara) Scheurer, Mrs. E.T. (Lillian) Leipprandt and Mrs. Clifton (Ethel) Bailey are still members of today's auxiliary, 47 years later.

Tickets are for sale at the front reception desk at Scheurer Hospital. No tickets will be sold at the door, so orders should be placed now to assure an available seat, organizers say.

All proceeds from the dinner will go to provide equipment for Scheurer Hospital.

LAYOFFS COMING AT NORTH HURON?

The North Huron School District may lay off three teachers at the end of the school year, due to uncertain finances. School officials said notification of possible layoffs is required in such situations, to allow the non-tenured staff to seek other employment if they wish.

Board members said they will attempt to continue employment for the three instructors, depending on improved economic conditions.

Two teachers were granted tenure. Math and phys. ed. teacher Robert White plus social studies and English teacher Tony Berry earned tenure after two probation years.

STATE TO CUT BACK SCHOOL AID?

State Senator James Barcia (D-Bay City) says local school districts face state aid cutbacks as the state's economic condition stays poor.

Due to budget constraints, Sen. Barcia says a proposal is underway to postpone payment of districts' state aid, normally allocated each fall. The August State Aid Payment may be suspended into the next fiscal year, and may be postponed longer, Sen. Barcia said.

Sen. Barcia says in-formula school districts would be hard-hit this year if state funding of FICA (Federal Insurance Contribution Act) payments is eliminated, requiring local districts to pay retirement benefits for employees, instead of 100% FICA payment by the state at this time.

Most school districts would lose the equivalent of two mills if that proposed DeGrow - O'Neill Bill is passed. Sen. Barica said a final decision on the FICA proposal may not be made until October.

Here is how much local school districts might have to pay if the proposed change in FICA is enacted:

Akron-Fairgrove $147,131
 Cass City $312,604
 Unionville Sebewaing Area $208,263
 Bad Axe $269,900
 Caseville $80,002
 Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port $285,828
 North Huron $176,955
 Owendale Gagetown $84,292

"The figures are (only) tentative because I believe there is a great deal of opposition to this K-12 bill because of the impact it will have on every school district in the state," Sen. Barcia said. "I feel education is something that should be a priority."

BARRIER-FREE COURTHOUSE?

Tuscola County Commissioners are studying the feasibility of making the courthouse barrier-free. The three-story building was constructed in the early 1930s, long before the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which requires barrier-free access to 43 million citizens with mental and physical handicaps.

The courthouse has no elevator, bathrooms located in the basement and other shortcomings, but commissioners have not made changes due to money shortages. Plus, long-range plans call for building a new courthouse.

LOTS OF LAKE LIGHTHOUSES...

America's Third Coast — the Great Lakes — is a treasure trove of historical sites for all travelers. Of special appeal to many residents and visitors alike are the lighthouses of the Great Lakes, all 366 of them!

To increase support for their light-houses, the Great Lakes Lighthouse Keepers Association and the Historical Society of Michigan have jointly published two "Great Lakes Lighthouse Locator Guides."

As we see it

Flat tax will never fly; but isn't it a great idea?

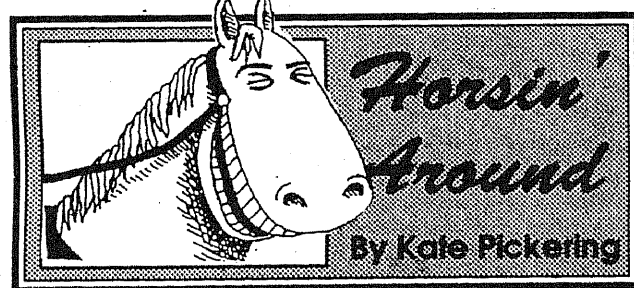

This 1992 election year will likely be remembered as the "year of the outsider," since most voters are tired of (and not trusting of) incumbents or political business as usual.

Leading the list of outsiders is Former California Governor Jerry Brown, who hasn't got a chance to win the Democratic nomination but COULD change the direction of one aspect of business as usual among our leaders. Gov. Brown's proposed flat tax makes us all yearn for simpler days and times, but a growing number of "experts" say it makes more sense than other experts would like us to think.

In a nutshell, Gov. Brown's plan would replace our existing maze of tax laws with a 13% flat tax on everyone's personal income, plus establish a 13% value-added tax (VAT). There would be no payroll tax on employment, and corporate income would be passed through to shareholders and taxed as personal income. This would eliminate the current double taxation of dividends so unfair — and so unstimulating to our economy.

Estate taxes would be eliminated, as would part of the capital-gains tax. We'd only have three deductions from personal income — charitable contributions, mortgage interest and rent, to give the young and the poor some benefits similar to homeowners.

Of course, such complicated and life-changing subjects as this cannot be explained in a few paragraphs. In fact, some of Gov. Brown's best supporters can't even explain it — although as we could already imagine, politicians and lobbyists are now lining up opposing it.

DARTS

Does anyone remember darts? No, not the variety flung at the walls of local bars — those are far from being forgotten — but the other kind. While I've no wish to date myself, for those of you who don't recall, they were, well . . . "allowances" that were a part of every blouse pattern years ago, and they were generously sewn into each and every article of clothing intended for (female) use above the waist. These "allowances" in the material and shape of the garment made it possible for the well-built woman to button up her blouse or dress without any annoying little peek-a-boo gaps.

The dart was almost extinct by the time I "matured" as — by that time — the infamous Twiggy was doing her best to convince a new generation that real women were emaciated, and those who weren't could wear knit. Still, I got a couple of years experience with them before they went the way of the bustle, and for the life of me I've yet to figure out why mankind is so quick to find new things that improve the quality of life, but faster yet at discarding those that worked just fine!

These days, any woman with any kind of chest on her at all will naively go into a clothing store and select items on the rack that she is assuming are her size. Once in the dressing room, however, she finds — to her dismay — that despite the fact that the beautiful silk blouse fits perfectly at the neck, and that the sleeve length is just right — there's a God-awful gap right at the point where the flower applique on her 18-hour is peeking through!

In this case, one of many things happens:
#1) She feels like a fat pig and gloomily sets her sights on an unattainable weight loss goal, eventually destroying her health, her sanity, and her happy homelife, all the while failing to ever actually shed any pounds . . . or
#2) She goes out to the rack and comes back with a size or two larger. The shoulders are at her elbows, the nice, high, tuxedo-style collar looks like a boatneck, and the hem is somewhere down around her knees, but by God that little 18-hour applique is well hidden from sight . . . or
#3) She takes back the fresh and trim looking silk and cotton blouses and trades them in for an armful of old lady sweaters, boys-look T-shirts and fat-lady polyester.

And all this is due solely to the absence of the invisible, inimitable, irreplaceable little dart-of-old. You notice, no where on that list of options is there "finds beautiful blouse, buttons up and grins — with pride — at the sharp look and luxuriant feel of a perfect fit!"

So how 'bout it designers of today? Twiggy's an old middle-aged married woman with boobs now herself, isn't it high time to bring darts back?

But the Texas-based National Center for Policy Analysis says the flat tax could do a mountain of good. It would raise the economic-growth rate a full percentage point and bring an additional three million jobs, says Paul Craig Roberts in a recent Business Week article.

The flat tax would more than pay for itself — bringing in $250 billion more in tax revenues than currently collected — which could help eliminate the federal deficit.

The genius in the plan, Roberts points out, is that it shifts taxes from labor to capital while lowering marginal tax rates on capital income. We now underutilize capital and labor productivity and wages are lower than they should be. The VAT would replace Social Security and corporate-income taxes, and would do far better to support retirees than does the current 15.3% payroll tax.

The world does not have to be overly-complicated to work well. Perhaps we CAN collect a lesser tax rate from more people and come out ahead. It would be more fair than the current system, and the tax-preparers and CPAs who'd find more time on their hands could help those corporate leaders, both in large companies and small, run their businesses better to take best advantage of the new flat tax potential.

FOUND: SMALL TOWN USA

An Easter jaunt to Wisconsin to visit my parents. That's what we had planned. Ed came home on the day before we left and said, "Gee, we could go through Iowa and pick up the sheep gates that I've been wanting to try in the barn."

Lee and Peter were enjoying Easter vacation with one of their Eastern aunts. Willie agreed to take care of the house and barn animals. So Ed and I left mid-Thursday, bound for Sunnyside Stock Farm south of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin by way of eastern Iowa.

We agreed early on to let the trip be more leisurely than driven. So we found our way off the interstates onto the blue highways (called that because they're usually thin blue lines on the map) and into the heart of small town America.

Oppose drain clean-out proposal on April 28!

DEAR EDITOR:

This letter is to draw attention to a recent notice of a "Board of Determination" meeting which is scheduled to take place on April 28, 1992 at 7 p.m. at the Laker High School auditorium, 6136 Pigeon Road.

I think it is a bad financial and environmental proposal. It appears to affect only a drainage ditch but in fact, I feel places the entire Pigeon River system at risk.

If you will notice the nature of the "petition" and the number of townships covered: a part of the notice reads, "Notice of drainage meeting for the determination of practicability (in accordance with P.A. 40 of 1956, as amended.)"

Notice is hereby given that on June 1, 1991, a petition was filed with Vernon L. Rounds, Huron County Drain Commissioner, praying for the cleaning out, extending, adding branches, and providing structures or mechanical devices that will properly purify or improve the flow of a drain known and designated as the Pigeon River Intercounty Drain.

Whereas, the drainage district for the Pigeon River Intercounty drain includes lands within the following counties and their respective municipalities; Huron County: Bingham, Brookfield, Caseville, Chandler, Colfax, Grant, Lake, McKinley, Oliver, Sheridan and Winsor townships; the villages of Caseville, Pigeon and Owendale; Sanilac County: Greenleaf township; Tuscola County: Elkland township.

As anyone can see this does not involve a little outhouse drain leading to the back 40 acres. I urge opposition at the public hearing to this proposition. It can only harm the river system as a whole.

NEWS & ADVERTISING DEADLINE: 9 A.M. MONDAYS

DEAR EDITOR:

My last article was written by my daughter who had spent one week in Hesston, Kansas with her brother Howard, a teacher at Hesston College.

She was here with me for several days and then she went to Pennsylvania to visit with her daughter, who is an exchange student working in an old peoples home. She'll be back here with me several days and then go back to her home in Aalsmeer, Holland.

When she went over there in the late 60's she met a Dutchman and got married to him. I told her I could come to see her maybe three times. Well I was over there seven times and if everything goes well I might get over there again in 1992.

A lot of people don't have any idea what it's like over there, but I like the people there, because a lot of them can speak English. Some people think that Dutch and German are the same but Dutch is a language of its own. I can understand enough to know what they are talking about.

Once when I was over there we went to a Chinese restaurant and the waiter was very cross. My daughter, who speaks good Dutch, said something about 12 inches long to him and he was as nice as he could be. I asked her what she told him and she said plenty. I'll have to learn a little Dutch so I can quiet people down.

In the last few weeks I was at a birthday party at the Long Term Unit at Scheuer Hospital. I have two sisters there. We talked about some of the good old days when our dad had a 1917 model Studebaker. It gave us a lot of trouble. When the lights didn't go on, he'd hit them a crack with his fist and they went on.

Once the horn didn't blow, so dad went to G V Black's Store and got a little horn to put on the steering wheel.

Well, when he backed the car out of the barn it caught on the gas lever and he shot out of the barn. He just got stopped a few feet from a deep ditch.

Well, he got it straightened up and started for the house and my mother saw him coming and ran into the other room. He just missed the corner of the house by a few feet so he took it off and mother got after him about it.

He said he can't go fast enough to go around anybody and if a buggy gets in the way that old car makes enough noise that they can hear it and get out of the way!

Dad went into the ditch several times with that old car, but we never got hurt and he finally traded it on a 1921 Model T Ford.

In Proverbs 10:7 it says "The memory of the just is blessed."

Sincerely yours, GEORGE KEIM

Elkton's DDA formally ok'd; members named

By AMY HEIDEN

Elkton's long-awaited Downtown Development Authority is finally official, after the Village Council last week approved an ordinance setting up the authority.

Huron County Economic Development Corp. Director Carl Osentoski was at the meeting last Tuesday to inform the council of the guidelines and other aspects of a DDA, prior to approval of the ordinance.

Council then appointed eight village residents to the DDA board.

Serving four year terms will be Dr. Richard Lockard and Merlin Farver, and serving three year terms will be Don Damrow and Jerry White.

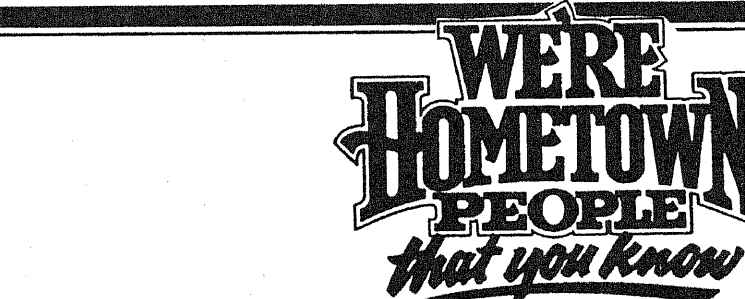

Rev. DeWeerd Smith and Steve Fosdick will serve two-year terms and Diane McGee and Walt Forster will serve one year terms.

Forming a DDA gives the village a better chance at state grants and funds, according to village officials. The DDA has the power to levy taxes on business in the downtown district, with tax increment financing.

Only those with commercial properties within the district would be taxed. Those funds could be used for a variety of improvements to the downtown area.

Elkton Council is also seeking bids on curb and gutter work in the downtown business district, along North Main Street.

Also up for bids is the resurfacing of North Main, from the corner of M-142 and Main, north to York Street. Bid specifications can be picked at the Village Clerk's office, and must be returned by the next regular meeting, May 12 at 4 p.m.

Gallbladder Surgery In The Evening. Back Home And Back To Normal The Next Day.

Now there's no reason to go to the "big city" because this new surgery is available locally at Scheurer Hospital

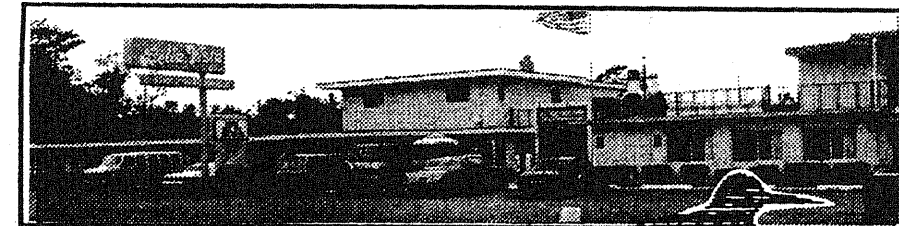

Thanks to a new surgical breakthrough - laparoscopic surgery - patients can go home in less than 24 hours and recover fully in days, not weeks. Using specialized instruments, your surgeon makes four tiny openings, leaving almost invisible scars. Since there's no long incision, there's almost no post-operative pain.

Our hospital now offers this new operation. Please ask your doctor about laparoscopic gallbladder surgery.

State Sen. James Barcia of Bay City addressed the Caseville Kiwanians at the group's regular meeting on April 15, saying that auto insurance costs can be significantly lowered if legislation is enacted that includes meaningful tort reform. Sen. Barcia is also supporting legislation that would reduce insurance rates by 15%, provide for territorial rate setting and set medical benefits at $3 million.

Caseville Kiwanis Club President Leonard Watchowski presided over the meeting.

Kiwanis Club members voted unanimously to authorize four delegates to the Kiwanis International Convention in Indianapolis, authorized a grant to Scheurer Hospital in memory of George Beadle and approved a project to build a Great Lakes model ship to be given to the Village of Caseville.

Kiwanians will pick-up scrap paper and debris along M-25 from Crescent Beach Road to Filion Road under the state's Adopt-a-Highway Program. Chairman John Kavalor stated the pick-up will begin at 9 a.m. on Thursday, April 30.

Saluting Scheurer Hospital

at its facility at 170 N.
Caseville Road, Pigeon, MI

1972

A year the entire Western Thumb rallied together for a common cause... the successful completion of a brand new hospital, named after the founder of Scheurer Hospital, C. A. Scheurer, M.D.

It began in a rented office in 1934....

Clare Adam Scheurer, M.D., fresh from Northwestern University Medical School in Chicago and with his internship behind him, came to Pigeon in 1934.

He rented an apartment on Main Street for his office and hired Ruth Clabuesch as nurse/secretary. His office included a waiting room, first-aid room and an exam room in which he performed minor surgery. All major surgery was done at Hubbard Hospital in Bad Axe, where Dr. Scheurer was a member of the medical staff.

An overly-crowded office, too many house calls and the distance to Bad Axe or Bay City became a determining factor in his decision to build a medical office building in Pigeon. On Dec. 14, 1944, a charter was granted for the new building and he, his wife Clara and Ruth Clabuesch, R.N. were the original trustees of the newly-founded non-profit organization.

E.J. Clabuesch, who organized $1 million fund-raising drive in 1970s

C.A. Scheurer, M.D.

Generous donations from friends, businesses and organizations amounting to about $20,000.00 were applied to the construction of a 21-bed hospital, which was named Scheurer Hospital.

The following doctors were added in the hospital's early years: R.C. Dixon, M.D.; Arno Whipple, M.D.; Walter Strempek, M.D.; C.S. Elliott, M.D.; Earle Stine, M.D.; M.G. Sorensen, M.D.; R.A. Willits, M.D. and P.A. Ruiz de Castilla.

In the early 1970s, because of certain inadequacies and State and Federal regulations, it became apparent that a new hospital needed to be built. In fact, groundbreaking for the new facility had to be underway by April 1, 1971, in order to avoid being closed because it no longer met state requirements.

"This is one of the most important challenges this entire area has had placed before it, ever," Thumb National Bank Chairman of the Board E.J. Clabuesch told a group of 400 residents at Laker High School on Aug. 5, 1970. A fund-raising goal of $1 million was set to construct a 47-bed hospital on an 11-acre site in the northwest corner of Pigeon.

Communities of the entire hospital service area rallied their personal and financial resources together in a fund-drive so successful, that no government funding was used in the construction of the new Scheurer Hospital. About 3,000 families lived in the hospital's service area of Pi-

Clabuesch, who was chairman of the hospital board of trustees, served as chairman of the funding drive, assisted by fund-raising experts Martz & Lundy, Inc. of New York. While they said that the only way for this project to succeed was to find an initial donor of $100,000, Clabuesch rose to the challenge and found 10 people who together could contribute that total, then far exceeded the original goal of $1 million.

Dedication ceremonies for the new Scheurer Hospital took place on May 28, 1972 with thousands of people taking part in tours of the hospital which they all helped make possible.

Arthur J. Woelke, Administrator 1953 - 1980

"Showtime With Scheurer" Thursday Night at Lakers Community Dinner Honors Achievements

Friends and supporters of Scheurer Hospital will gather Thursday, April 23 at 6 p.m. at Laker High School for a special recognition of Scheurer's 20th Anniversary of its current facility.

"Showtime With Scheurer" will feature a prime rib dinner, "Broadway Showtunes" entertainment by Pigeon native Barbara Dixon, pianist, daughter of long-time physician, the late R.C. Dixon, and vocalist Timothy Caldwell.

Special recognitions will be given to physicians Peter Ruiz de Castilla, M.D. and B.G. Kamlapurker, M.D., who have performed General Practice and Surgery at the Pigeon Clinic for 20 years and over 10 years, respectively.

Three women who were charter members of the Scheurer Hospital Auxiliary and still continue to serve today will be given "the Royal treatment" at Thursday's dinner. Royal Limousine Service of Bad Axe will pick up these ladies for a chauffeur-driven ride to Scheurer Hospital.

Mrs. Clare (Clara) Scheurer, Mrs. E.T. (Lillian) Leipprandt and Mrs. Clifton (Ethel) Bailey have helped the Auxiliary raise over $50,000 for Scheurer Hospital over the past 47 years of the Auxiliary's existence.

The Scheurer Hospital Auxiliary is hosting Thursday's "Showtime With Scheurer" event.

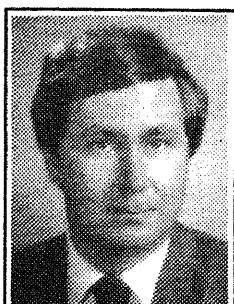

Peter Ruiz de Castilla, M.D.

B.G. Kamlapurker, M.D.

Tickets are still available for Thursday night's "Showtime With Scheurer." They're available at the Scheurer Hospital front desk.

50th Anniversary feted this Sunday for St. John, Kilmanagh

Members of St. John Lutheran Church in Kilmanagh are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their present church building, which was erected after a fire in 1941.

The 50th anniversary will be celebrated with a 9:30 am worship on Sunday, April 26. Guest preacher will be Rev. Wayne H. Wentzel of St. Peter Lutheran Church, Mount Clemens, who was pastor of St. John congregation from 1977-1983.

Present pastor of St. John Church is Rev. Jeffrey B. Walsh.

The first church building was erected in 1876, but by 1887 it was already apparent that the building was too small for the congregation.

Later that became a meeting place for the Ladies' Aid. On October 4, 1891, a wood frame church was dedicated and that was remodeled extensively in 1922.

On March 24, 1941, the church building was destroyed completely by a fire. Six days later, in the quarterly meeting of March 30, it was decided to start work immediately in erecting a new house of worship.

The new church was to be longer than the previous one and was to be built with an exterior of brick.

A Wicks pipe organ with chimes was purchased for the new building.

Total cost of the church building amounted to $29,033, with one-half of the amount having been covered by insurance.

In somewhat more than one year, the congregation had paid for the new church in full.

Dedication of the new church was celebrated on April 19, 1942.

Preachers for the dedication included Pastor Andrew Zeile of Bethlehem Church, Saginaw, who was District President, Rev. Edward Schmidt of Leland and a native of the Thumb area, and Rev. Carl Nietzsche of De-

60 Seconds

— The empty tomb —

"For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive". I Corinthians 15:22

An Arab guide in Jerusalem, a Christian, leads his visiting tourists to an open tomb outside the city walls, and tells them, "Every other tomb in the world is famous for what it contains. This is the only tomb that is famous for what it does not contain."

The women who came to the tomb early Easter morning found it was empty, and Peter and John, too, arriving moments later, also saw the greatest miracle—the greatest victory—in history.

Then Mary met the risen Christ, and recognized Him when He spoke her name. Yes, Christ had been raised!

The death and defeat of Good Friday had exploded into the great message of triumph on Easter morning. The sin of Adam, which produced death, was swallowed up in victory.

Jesus, the Son of God, came out of the grave, because the Roman soldiers, the Jewish rulers, and Satan himself, could not hold Him in death and the tomb.

What a message for the people of Jerusalem on that Easter morning, and what a message for us today, nearly 20 centuries later!

God's anger at sin is appeased, He has accepted Jesus' sacrifice and through Him we are declared free from sin.

Through faith we live in His victory, and therefore we, too, shall be made alive!

For eternity!

Risen, Righteous Savior, give us Your victory now and forever! Amen.

troit, a native of the Kilmanagh-Sebewaing Area.

Since dedication in 1942, St. John Church's interior was remodeled in 1975. In 1990-1991 the church exterior was repaired and coated with silicone.

LWML Rally draws 98

Lutheran women from all over the Thumb attended the annual Spring Rally of Lutheran Women's Missionary League in Marlette on April 7, with 98 women and guests taking part.

Mrs. Lorraine Sattelmeyer of Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Lewiston was the speaker, and she stressed the point that in today's society "women need to reach out and touch one another, through prayer, thought or deed". She invited women to "take time to listen to each other and just be there".

Mrs. Sattelmeyer brought along her singing group, the Bethlehem Singers, from her home congregation.

A gift from the rally offering was sent to Chris Palach of Harbor Beach, a seminary student, to help in his schooling.

Pets & therapy deserve study

By JoAnn Yott R.N.
Geriatrics Nurse Coordinator

There are approximately 120 million dogs and cats in the United States. Three of them belong to me.

Animals play a major role in my life and in the everyday lives of many other people.

The unique contributions made by animals are documented in literature, art and religion. In addition, there are several studies that have supported the therapeutic importance of having a pet.

The term therapy denotes an action made to facilitate healing or treatment. Therapeutic names used to describe the relationships between people and their pets include: zotherapy, pet-facilitated or animal-facilitated therapy.

Scientific studies have supported findings that petting an animal can lower blood pressure and have the same soothing effect as reading silently.

Few unbiased scientific studies are available, however numerous reports have documented the physical, emotional and social benefits derived from spending time with an animal.

Pets are age-blind. Whether they provide enjoyment to children or adults, animals usually aim to please and ownership can provide many benefits.

However, the responsibility of pet ownership should not be taken lightly.

Most puppies are adorable and appealing however there are some practical things to consider.

Cats are more selective about the amounts of food they may consume in any 24 hour period; usually litter train easily and can be left alone unattended for longer periods of time.

However, cats are not usually considered "guard animals" and depending on their breed, may be less social and affectionate than the canine species.

The pet owner is responsible for making wise choices, training and properly caring for their animals.

In some cases, a pet may be chosen to provide a service to their owner. Dogs may be selected to undergo special training to assist hearing-impaired or sight-impaired individuals. Such an animal may not only provide love and affection for its master, but help provide that person with continued independence in activities of daily living.

Animals can provide special benefits for the elderly and developmentally disabled children.

AMERICANS HAVE DISCOVERED NUTELLA!
Once found only in gourmet stores, Nutella - the Chocolate Creamy Hazelnut Spread - is now available in most supermarkets right next to the peanut butter, jams and jellies. Nutella is nutty tasting, like imported hazelnuts and it's chocolaty, like a fine European chocolate. All this with fewer calories and less fat than a serving of peanut butter.

Generations of Europeans have grown up eating Nutella on fresh baked bread, crackers and fruit as a nutritious breakfast or snack food. You'll love spreading Nutella on all kinds of everyday treats. Try it on: Italian Bread, Fresh Croissants, Crackers, Bread Sticks, Bagels; Mix it with Peanut Butter; Dip fruit in it; Spoon it on Ice Cream; Put a dab in your coffee.

I eat it as a snack straight from the jar. I also use it for icing cookies, brownies and cakes. Try this quick and easy show-stopping dessert.

Another Trout Opener

By DIANE GUENTHER

I must be getting old, I thought fleetingly. I must be getting old.

The sky was old for so early in the morning. A weak, false dawn had tried desperately to break through the ominous cloud cover an hour ago, but other than a faint glimmer of daylight it still looked like a night sky.

A soft mist hung above the river filtering the weak light which reflected from the various runs and riffles turning them into shimmering pools of mercury.

I sipped my second cup of coffee, hot from the pot, but already turning cool in the tin cup nestled in my hands, and looked around the campsite.

Had come in late last night, long after dark and made camp by the flickering light of a candle lantern.

The spot was located near the river and usually reserved for large groups later in the summer. I purposely chose it to escape the horde of trailers and pop-ups I passed at the main campground.

It was rough, just the way I like it. A pit toilet was several yards down a wooden trail and a hand pump the same distance in the opposite direction. There was a small fire ring and no picnic table.

I would later see them stacked vertically near the ranger's cabin, like trained elephants ready to march into the summer circus ring.

Supper, the night before, had been limited to a fast-food hamburger eaten in heavy traffic moving north on I-75, so I lingered a little longer than usual over this morning's breakfast.

An extra fried egg, making the total three, had sizzled in the cast iron skillet along with some raw-fried potatoes and fatty bacon.

Dark, rich coffee, the kind that comes from throwing a fistful of grounds into some boiling river water, had spilled over the hot campfire coals before I could transfer it into my metal cup.

Now, I sat on the edge of the bank, my stomach swelled like an over-fed puppy and contemplated the day's activities.

The fishing would probably be poor. It never is very good on opening day. The river is usually too high, the water exceptionally cold and the insect activity at a minimum.

Once in a while, if the sun should peak through bugs will dot the surface and a few fish will dapple, but for the most part, if you want fish you must resort to heavy, weighted streamers and search the dark, deep holes.

But many fishermen, like myself, are not overly concerned about the fish, or their lack thereof, on opening day. We tend to be taken with the places where trout live, because they are always the most beautiful places in the world.

By 10 a.m. I am in the river, encased in longjohns and neoprene waders to ward off the bone-chilling water that tries to sweep me off my feet. A heavy sweater protects my upper torso and a wool hat and wool, fingerless gloves keep those extremities warm. I unfurl my line, limber up the rod and begin to fish.

This morning I am fishing more than a mile from my campsite. First, to get away from the crowd that always hangs around the river in front of the campground, and second, because I know this part of the river much better.

I have fished here many times before and have even secretly named all the holes and riffles by their productivity throughout the year.

The first one I fish, I call "old faithful". But on this cold, dreary morning it does not live up to its name and after more than 15 minutes of working the hole, I come away fishless.

The next is "sneaky log". It is a long, shallow run that looks like anything but a good fishing spot. That's what I thought several years ago when an errant cast fly floated by the end of a log jutting out from the bank and the biggest brook trout I have ever landed nailed it with a ferocity seldom seen on these quiet waters.

Today it proved its worth again. Not with a trophy brookie, but a satisfying 12-inch brown that became my first trout of the season.

I admire him for a moment, think of how good he will taste fresh from the frying pan later that evening, and with little more thought, lower him back to the crystal clear water to fight a fisherman's fly another day.

Outdoor Report

Week of April 20, 1992

Turkey season opened this past Monday and will run until May 24 for those hunters lucky enough to receive a permit. DNR officials are predicting that this could well be the best turkey hunting year yet. Modern turkey hunting has been taking place since 1968 when 800 licenses were issued and 25 turkeys were killed. Last year, 9,656 turkeys were taken and this year it could be better. Early spring scouting trips have produced turkey sightings at almost every upnorth woodlot.

This Saturday, walleye and pike season opens on inland lakes including many river systems. It also is the opening day for the 1992 general trout season. Remember, your last year's fishing license has expired on March 31, and you best be getting a new one before going after your favorite fish.

Smelt dippers have been waiting for a warm spell and the beautiful weather this past Sunday may have gotten the fish moving. Some runs were reported at White Rock and a few were picked up in Lexington, but for the most part, fishing has been spotty. Perch fishing has also been on hold with the cold weather and muddy water caused by heavy rains last week.

Michigan recognizes Beet Sugar Week

LANSING—A reception was held Wednesday, April 1, in the Capitol Building in Lansing to celebrate Beet Sugar Week in Michigan.

The event was proclaimed by Gov. John Engler, the Michigan House and Senate.

In proclaiming Beet Sugar Week at noon, Governor Engler cut the dessert buffet's centerpiece, a 35-pound sugar beet cake.

More than 400 guests and beet sugar industry representatives attended. House Speaker Lew Dodak made the official House proclamation. Representing the beet sugar industry and accepting the proclamations were David H. Roche, executive vice-president/COO of Michigan Sugar Company, Donald Keinath, Caro farmer and vice-president of Great Lakes Sugar Beet Growers Association, Robert Hetzler, president/CEO of Monitor Sugar Company and Ray VanDriessche, president of Monitor Sugar Beet Growers, Inc.

The day's activities were developed in recognition of Michigan's beet sugar industry which provides thousands of jobs and more than $450 million in economic activity to Michigan each year.

The day's activities were developed in recognition of Michigan's beet sugar industry, which provides thousands of jobs and more than $450 million in economic activity.

The reception included a detailed dessert buffet table, with custom-designed cakes representing Michigan's major industries and natural resources, as well as a wide variety of pastries, cakes and candies, all made with 100% pure Michigan beet sugar. Michigan Sugar Company produces nearly 500 million pounds of granulated sugar annually from beets processed by mid-Michigan farmers on more than 100,000 acres of rich Michigan farmland.

HUDSON H. HEDLEY 1918 - 1992

Hudson H. Hedley, 73 of Elkton, passed away Sunday evening, April 19 at his home after a long illness.

He was born Oct. 18, 1918 in Chandler Township, son of the late Ross and Caroline (Kroll) Hedley. He was united in marriage on Nov. 8, 1942 to Dorothy McClain in St. Charles, MO.

Mr. Hedley was a 1936 graduate of Elkton High School and farmed in Chandler Township after his military service. He was employed by Wallace and Morley Elevator, now Agri Sales in Elkton from Sept. 1949, retiring in April 1975 for health reasons.

Tractor safety a must throughout year...

According to the National Safety Council, 500 to 600 American farmers are killed in tractor overturns each year and many more are disabled.

Geraldine R. Smith, Farm Safety Coordinator, Huron County Health Department, encourages tractor operators to install Roll-Over-Protection-Structures (ROPS) and to use their safety belts.

A ROPS is a steel frame, whether it be two-post, four-post, or integral cab configuration, that has been specifically designed for the particular tractor model. It reduces the tendency for the tractor to roll over completely, and it protects the operator wearing a safety belt from being crushed.

Studies show that injury severity has been greatly reduced and deaths practically eliminated in overturns of tractors equipped with ROPS and safety belts, according to the National Safety Council.

Whenever you drive a tractor, always follow these safety rules:

- * Stay away from ditches, embankments and holes.

- * Stay off hills and slopes too steep for safe operation.

- * Slow down when turning, crossing slopes, or on rough, slick or muddy surfaces.

- * Set the wheel tread as wide as practical for maximum stability.

- * When using a loader, always transport with the bucket as low as possible and pay special attention to the four safety rules above.

- * Hitch heavy loads only to the drawbar. If the drawbar is on a three-point hitch, set it no higher than a fixed drawbar. Use front weights to balance your tractor.

- * Always watch where you are going. Watch for and avoid obstacles. Be sure everyone is clear before moving.

- * Don't overload your tractor. Always engage the clutch slowly.

First of America Bank offers new loans...

First of America Bank Corporation is taking steps aimed at stimulating the local economy and is making available an additional $500 million in loan money earmarked for local business.

The action is the centerpiece of an aggressive campaign, including TV, newspaper and 1-800 direct response line, which First of America calls "The Smart Business Loan" program.

Announced by First of America Bank-Mid Michigan's F. Don Carl, Jr., "The Smart Business Loan" program is designed to free up $500 million above First of America's usual lending volume corporate-wide.

On average, this money could enable thousands of qualified local businesses throughout the Midwest to take advantage of the Federal Reserve Board's cut in interest rates and expand their businesses now.

"When the Federal Reserve lowered rates, it expected loan money to flow back into the economy to stimulate investment and help us out of this recession," Carl said. "Instead, as rates went down, money got tighter and businesses seeking expansion loans were frozen out."

Carl said First of America has placed an extra $500 million into its loan pool to counter the "tight" money issue and help jolt the local economy out of its recession.

"When money gets put to work, people work."
