New home for Sebewaing Historical Society

By WALT RUMMEL

A gift of property and money by First of America Bank-Mid Michigan to Sebewaing Historical Society was received last week by Society President Dave Eberlein.

Following the presentation, he expressed hopes that the property will give downtown Sebewaing a new look, greater tourism draw and the creation of new jobs.

The property is the former Esterline Market—known for three-quarters of a century as the Rummel Store—at the southeast corner of E. Main and S. Center Streets.

The gift also includes the store's parking lot to the south, along Center to Grove Street, and a $6,000 check for roof repairs as the first step in rebuilding the structure.

The property deed and check from the bank were presented by First of America Bank Assistant Vice-President Janet Rink.

TO BE RESTORED TO 1910-ERA

President Eberlein said Society plans are to change the building front to resemble the "Rummel store appearance" in the 1910-era.

That would mean remov-

15 years of ACW service honored

Akron, Columbia Wisner (ACW) Ambulance crew members hosted a cookout to show their appreciation for the years of service to retiring and past members of the crew.

Those honored were: Harvey Niedrich for seven years, Betty Koepf for 13 years, Eric and Pat Garlick for 13 and 11 years respectively, Rev. Gary and Kathy Groth for 13 and 12 years respectively, Lorene Riech for 14 years, Daniel Butterfield for 15 years and Don Barrigar for 17 years.

Anyone interested in joining the ambulance service is invited to call any current member. A first responder's class is expected to start in January.

ing the brick facade—which has become loose in recent years—moving the front entrance to the east side of the building and returning to a barn-lumber front.

Complying with new regulations, plans are to create a barrier-free access along the east side of the front wall.

Eberlein said eventually the building will house a small museum, a retail area, and several rooms for teaching oldtime crafts and the Society's office.

"This gift couldn't be better situated and could not come at a better time than right now," Eberlein said.

He was referring to the reconstructed old Sebewaing Township Hall, located on the west side of Center Street, and the adjoining Pioneer Home at the southwest corner of Grove and Center.

ROOFING WORK TO BEGIN

As soon as he accepted the deed and check for the Society, Eberlein met with a roofing contractor who will order materials immediately for repairing the leaking roof of the old store. That is the most critical upgrading and will be completed before freezing weather sets in, Eberlein said.

The three central-town historic locations are planned to become an attractive tourist place and source of pride for locals, as all structures date back well over a century.

The Township Hall was built in 1877, the Pioneer Home at about the same time, and the store building housed the Schwalm and Schluchter Mercantile Business as early as 1890.

$15,000 grant for Huron

A $15,000 Michigan Community Block Development Grant has been awarded to Huron County, according to State Rep. Dick Allen (R-Caro) and State Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City), who announced the state Commerce Department grant last week.

Funds will be used to conduct a market feasibility study for the development of Information Parks in Huron County. The study would analyze market potential of using advanced telecommunications for economic development. Both lawmakers say this will help attract new, high technology companies to the area.

County officials expect to begin implementing the study in coming weeks.

Tuscola values up $7 million

New construction over the last year boosted Tuscola County's total property values from $667.7 million to $675.1 million. The increase in values and recent approval of county millages will slightly increase county income collections, officials say.

"New construction brings the county about $30,183," says Equalization Director Ed Karr during a recent truth-in-taxation hearing. Total increases with the renewed millages is about $78,985.

Because county voters renewed the four county-wide millages in August, the county can collect the full tax levy. Commissioners approved setting the renewed millage rates to:

- five-tenths of a mill (from .4921 last year) for bridge and streets;
- two-tenths of a mill (from .1969) for senior services;
- nine-tenths of a mill (from .8857) for road patrol, and
- 1 mill (from .9841) for roads and streets.

Also, commissioners set the county's allocated millage rate at 4.1333 mills and the medical care facility millage at .2461 mills for the coming year. The increased SEV will generate an additional $30,483 in county allocated revenue and $1,814 for the medical care facility.

Based on the 1992 SEV of approximately $675 million, the millage increases will generate additional amounts of: $8,962 for bridges and streets; $3,545 for senior services; $16,186 for road patrol and $17,992 for roads and streets.

"The freeze is on assessments and not millages," says County Controller Michael Hoagland. "There is truly a freeze in place and the only reason there is a change is because of construction and a small fractional change in millages. "It is about a 1 percent increase - much less than the rate of inflation."

Karr notes the changes in taxes would have little impact.

For a person with a $50,000 home (assessed at $25,000), the increase would $1.03 — "peanuts, especially when you consider schools take about 80 percent of tax dollars," Karr says.

Michigan "By the Numbers" What are top harvests?

Western Thumb farmers are busy harvesting sugar beets, beans and soon will harvest corn, although we don't know exactly how well crop yields will be this year. Here are record crop acreage, yields and production in Michigan, thanks to the state Ag Statistics Service in East Lansing:

■ CORN FOR GRAIN: 2.8 million acres was record harvest (1981), while 577,000 acres harvested in 1929 was lowest. 1990 per-acre yield was 115 bushels, while low was 24.5 in 1930 and 1934. The 1982 production total of 293 million bushels was tops, versus low of 15.6 million in 1929.

LOTS OF BACK-YARD FARMERS seem to have bumper crops of giant potatoes, and Elton and Joyce Motz of Elkton are no exception. Motz grew these 2 1/2 lb. whoppers in his backyard garden, along with a couple more that were only 1/2 lb. lighter.

HERE, Joyce Motz proudly displays the giant potatoes.

Thumb native had first-hand view of Hurricane Andrew

By MARY DRIER

For many who saw news reports about last month's Hurricane Andrew, the event is only a distant memory. But those who experienced the storm will never forget it. Andrew was the first hurricane Sebawaing native Ethel Czernik has ever experienced, in the 14 years she has lived in Florida — and she hopes it will be her last. Czernik lives about 10 miles north of Homestead. The eye of the hurricane went over Miami city and the community of Homestead, causing billions of dollars in destruction. While many homes were devastated, the condominium where Czernik lives received extensive damage, but wasn't condemned. Some of the apartments were uninhabitable, but Czernik and a few others' places were livable, even with no lights or running water. "That's why I came to Michigan," she said this week, on a recent visit. "It looked like a battle zone." Czernik rode out the storm at home. She and her cat Tabby stayed under a mattress during the storm to protect themselves from debris. She didn't seek shelter because she was just outside of the line that was targeted to evacuate. "I believe they expected the storm to hit more north, but in the last hour it changed directions and went south toward my area," said Czernik.

"In the last hour or so, the storm had somehow shifted south towards Cutler Ridge - my area." Andrew was her first storm and one she will never forget. "I wouldn't want to go through it again — no way!" she stated. "As the wind became stronger, it was a totally helpless feeling.

"There was nothing to be done and no way to stop it and no chance to go anywhere else. "You just had to weather the storm." Czernik returned home Michigan to stay with family members for a few weeks until the area is cleaned up. "The first week we were all dazed and stood around outside waiting for food and water," she said. "People were really wonderful. It took a few days for the Red Cross and Army to get setup. "It was a panicky feeling

4-H leaders honored during 4-H Week

Huron County and Western Thumb 4-H youth and volunteers will celebrate the many ways 4-H helps kids explore their personal strengths to build on them in preparation for their future during National 4-H Week,

Oct. 4-10. "You Can Touch the Future in 4-H" continues to be the theme that captures Michigan's celebration of National 4-H Week. Basic premise of 4-H programs has and continues to provide educational opportunities for children that meet their developmental needs at different life stages. Today, 4-H youth programs also attempt to help kids develop personal coping skills, while they garner other life skills to ensure they can cope with the rapidly changing world.

Huron County will join other Michigan counties in highlighting Michigan 4-H's national and local contributions to the positive development of young people. Michigan 4-H Youth Programs, a division of the Michigan State University Extension Service, involves 30,000 adult and teen volunteers working with more than 220,000 young people.

In Huron County, 296 adult and teen volunteers work with 1,169 youth in 54 4-H Clubs.

Eberlein has carried on the monumental task of supervising and working on the refurbishing tasks for the Township Hall and Pioneer Home. Friday afternoon he said he sees the gift as the continuance of "a real positive move for the Sebawaing community. "These properties in the downtown area were deteriorating and no one knew just how to utilize them. Fortunately, the whole mood of the country now is to return to our roots, and that's the way to turn a problem into a victory. He added, "help is needed in both the physical and financial areas. We will be looking to other organizations, groups and individuals for the needed support to complete this project.

We have a Donor Recognition Program in place which has several phases, up to and including the naming of rooms on permanent displays for individuals or groups."

Members will carry red CROP cans and wear CROP buttons to identify themselves and promote the drive. If no one is home, they will leave information and an envelope to enable residents to send their donations.

FFA CROP Drive this Wednesday

The Unionville-Sebawaing Area School District's Future Farmers of America (FFA) annual CROP Drive is Wednesday, October 7.

FFA members will collect funds from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for the needy in the United States and overseas countries.

Members will carry red CROP cans and wear CROP buttons to identify themselves and promote the drive. If no one is home, they will leave information and an envelope to enable residents to send their donations.

did a good job in relief efforts especially considering the amount of devastation some areas received. She is an Inspector for the state of Florida Department of Business Regulations, checking standards of all public lodgings and food services. Most of the businesses in her district were destroyed. There was a lot of looting after the storm and that was another factor in her visit home to Michigan, she said. "I couldn't sleep nights. You had to lock yourself up because of the looters and it was unbearably hot because there was no air conditioning or electricity for fans," said Czernik. "You couldn't leave the doors or windows open because it was too dangerous." Czernik recently returned to Florida to check on her place and see if utilities have been restored yet. However, she is planning to move back to Michigan as soon as she can. "I've been thinking about moving home for sometime, but after the storm I will be moving back," she stated. "As soon as I sell my place I'm coming back, the quicker the better. "I don't want to go through anything like that again!"

Czernik is the former owner of Traveler's Motel south of Sebawaing, that was razed several years ago for a parking lot for Gettel Motors Company, and of Don's Tavern, which is now Sugar Shack. She is the daughter of Hattie Heinitz, Unionville, and the late Walter Jahr.

Thumb Area ripe for tourism growth

By SALLY RUMMEL

What do Traverse City, Grand Haven, Cadillac and southeastern Michigan and other tourist areas have that Huron County doesn't have? According to Dr. Ed Mahoney, tourism marketing expert from Michigan State University, the only thing Huron County lacks is a marketing plan to promote "Michigan's best-kept secret."

About 60 community leaders and residents met with Mahoney and another MSU colleague last Thursday for a one-day seminar to develop a marketing theme for Huron County. Future plans are to work with Sanilac and Tuscola Counties to promote "Michigan's Thumb" as a unified vacation area. "I've been to Portland, OR and all over Michigan in the last couple weeks. "What you've got here in terms of shoreline, history, religious and family values is what's really selling in family vacations now," explains Dr. Mahoney.

"Many of the 'glitzy' vacation spots are down some 6 to 8%, while alternative destinations that have marketed themselves are finding themselves up in a down economy."

The group divided into four brainstorming sessions to discover the strengths and weaknesses of Huron County's tourism, as well as potential target markets to reach with advertising and promotion.

Two individuals from each group will meet more intensively with Dr. Mahoney to write a completed theme and strategy for marketing Huron County, and in the near future — Michigan's Thumb.

Historical Society benefits from Dast tour Oct. 18

Michelle Dast "at home"...

DESK-CLEARING: ■ BIG FRUIT: This may have been poor year for farm crops, but apparently fruits are ample in local backyards. We've had people bring in the biggest fruit and huge vegetables seen here in 10 years.

Ivoughn Depner of the (very busy) Depner's Pumpkin Patch near Caseville said her crop is large in pumpkin size, average to poor in quantity... and still quite green, being about three weeks behind normal...

MEMORABLE SMELLS: I grew up in Sebawaing, smelling the Sebawaing Brewery aromas without a second thought. Likewise, the Sugar Factory smells are still totally familiar to me.

Imagine my surprise then, Friday night, when I smelled the Sugar Factory scent 15 miles away, in downtown Pigeon! Yes, there WAS a wind from the southwest, but that's STILL a lot of ground to cover, with just a small.

SPRUCING UP TOWN: The USA High Homecoming celebration was made extra-special with the big posters made by students, and hung throughout Sebawaing and Unionville stores. Shows lots of Patriot pride...

HE'S NO MILLIONAIRE: We were surprised how many folks contacted us, looking for a story about how Sebawaing's Jerry Gunsell had won the $14 million Michigan Lotto jackpot last week.

But, Jerry told us with a smile, it was all a rumor. Seems his neighbor jokingly told a relative Jerry was the $14 million winner... and the relative believed it! He says he WISHES it was true, and — if he ever wins — he'll call us first...

BROTHERLY NEWS: My oldest brother John was the subject of a feature story in last Sunday's Saginaw News, talking about how changing jobs often brings more satisfaction. John is marking his fifth year as Public Information Officer for the Library of Michigan in Lansing — and he's always been willing to change employment when new opportunities arise. He's been a high school teacher, college registrar, public relations worker and director (for several different organizations and companies) and substance abuse counselor.

New responsibilities force you to keep up on technology and stay on the cutting edge," he says in the story. "I think when a job isn't so exciting that you don't want to come in early, that's time to move on," he says. The Frankemuth resident has ALWAYS been interesting — it's nice to see some good news about a family member...

THERE SHE IS: Last week's edition carried a little story about writer Amy Heiden's hometown of Big Stone Gap, Va., home of newly-crowned Miss America Leanza Cornett. Amy's story was right — this week's Big Stone Gap Post carried the hometown connection as front page news.

The Post made note that "video cassette recorders have been whirring since Saturday night," after Leanza was crowned. "It appears about nine-tenths of the students of Powell Valley High School are teasingly claiming distant kin..." reporter Ida Holyfield says. Small-town native moves to Florida and wins crown!

The property on which the Wurm House in Pigeon has been a well-known local landmark during this century, and in response to so many inquiries, owner Michelle Dast will open her newly-renovated home upstairs to the public on Sunday, Oct. 18 from 1 to 4 p.m. — as a benefit for the Pigeon Historical Society.

"So many local people have made the Wurm House their home during its rental years," explains Dast, "and dozens of residents have expressed an interest in seeing the building now that it has been renovated." Dast has made the upstairs of the former Wurm home her residence since purchasing Flowers by MariAnne from her mother in the past year and a half. Renamed MariAnne's Floral Design & Gifts, the business is still housed downstairs with her personal residence upstairs. The Wurm House was owned by Dast's parents, Clare and Michelle Dast, since 1976.

The property on which the Wurm House was eventually built was purchased from the State of Michigan in November, 1867 by Christian Auschintz, a local landowner. Between 1868 and 1909 when it was purchased by veterinarian John E. Wurm, it changed ownership several times.

The Human Development Commission of Caro will receive a $47,000 grant from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority, according to State Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City) and State Rep. Dick Allen (R-Caro.) "This grant is for non-profit organizations to use for a variety of housing projects in their neighborhoods," Rep. Allen said. Funding comes from MSHDA's Neighborhood Housing Grants program.

These grants may be used for painting and fixing houses, home improvements, renovation of apartments, or the purchase and rehabilitation of single family homes, Sen. Barcia said.

Local native Jeremy Barry was murdered in Germany

The March 16 death of 20-year-old Elkton native Pfc. Jeremy Barry has been ruled unpremeditated murder, resulting in the conviction of a fellow U.S. Army private, following investigation and trial at Hanau, Germany, where both men were stationed. Pvt. John P. Morrow, 22 of Arizona, was Barry's former roommate. Army reports say both men were assigned to the 149th Maintenance Co., Eighth Battalion, near Hanau. Morrow was sentenced to life in prison Sept. 16 in the murder, which reports say was strangulation with a chain in a wooded training area near the Army base where both men served. Morrow later confessed to the attack. A forensic psychiatrist said Morrow was under stress as well as cocaine and alcohol dependency. Plus, additional tension from debts and marital problems may have triggered the attack. German police arrested Morrow on charges of murder, robbery and other lesser charges. Barry is survived by his father Eugene of Elkton and his mother Bernice of Bad Axe; five sisters, two brothers and his maternal grandfather.

Observations by Walt Rummel

THAT'S a hero? And, breaking gridlock...

America's idolizing of sports figures was never more apparent than with the unfortunate case of Magic Johnson. The story is so well known that it need not be repeated here. Last week Magic managed to make headlines again as he announced he's returning to play basketball with the LA Lakers, despite carrying the HIV virus.

So, the sports reporters go bonkers with joy and adulation. "What a role model," sang one of the WJR Radio reporters. "Role model?" How can anyone see it that way?

Here's an athlete who reached a pinnacle that 99.9% of sports players long for, for which they'd give their eye teeth (and then some) to emulate. And this world-acclaimed, wealthy-and-admired-beyond-description star contracts the HIV virus. An acclaimed athlete, who could learn or see or buy anything he wants, contracts the deadly virus. Suddenly he's an "expert" on the subject; he begins to preach, and his theme is "practice 'safe' sex." The sports press bows down before him, and they hail him as a "role model!"

Model for what? Would you want your son or daughter to "model" his or her life after Magic? Even with millions of dollars of income, would you want your child in that situation? If Magic were an investment banker, with a whole truckload of money, and he'd lose it all in one fell swoop in a one-night deadly lottery, would the American Banking Association choose him as a "Role Model Banker." Would you ???

The Mackinac Center for Public Policy of Midland has published a new book, "Gridlock in Government," which tells "How to Break the Stagnation of America." In its preface, the book tells this: "Thirty years ago, 25% of the voters said government is pretty much run by special interests looking out for themselves; in 1992, 80% of the voters say that special interests, not the will of the people, determine policies."

"Voter outrage leads to grass roots movements. The push for term limits is such a movement. Term limits comes from the people. It is resisted by many politicians and their special interest friends. It is ignored by the media elite and most academics.

"But the people are RIGHT; we need term limits." The book tells why. Three states have already adopted term limits. In next month's election, two states are voting on 12-year limit in the House and Senate, four states are voting on an eight-year limit in the House and 12-year limit in the Senate — and nine states (including Michigan) are voting on six-year limit in the House and 12-year limit in the Senate.

In Michigan the question will appear under Proposal B, as a constitutional amendment. You'll hear a lot more about this before the election.

If you favor limiting the terms of U.S. and state Representatives and Senators, and the Governor and top administration, you'll vote "Yes" on Proposal B at the Nov. 3 General Election...

A few days ago Helene Letsche of Sebewaing stopped into the Newsweekly Office and left a baked treat for us. "Zwetschguchen," she called it. The treat was a fruit-covered coffee cake, delicious—fresh, tasty, just the right "moistness."

But what, we asked her, is "Zwetschge"? The topping on her Kuchen looked like plums, but our known German word for plum is Pflaume. Helene insisted that a Zwetschge is very much like a plum, but it's not just an every-day plum. One characteristic is that a Zwetschge just needs to be squeezed gently and the stone inside will pop right out. We'd never heard of that, so Helene went back to her home, brought back a supply of Zwetschguchen and demonstrated how easy it is to remove the stones.

Zwetschguchen are slightly more rounded than the usual plums, and they ARE delicious! And Zwetschguchen, that's mighty delicious, too! No doubt, Helen's Zwetschguchen are a plum variety, probably developed for easy stone removal. Is anyone acquainted with the plum variety this involves? We'd appreciate your comments . . .

There's a four-day Apple Butter Festival starting in Salem, WV, today with food, apple pie and apple butter contests, cooking, and an Apple Butter Queen. (This area of the Thumb should stage its own Apple Butter Cooking in a big iron kettle on Main Street. Can you IMAGINE the delicious aroma? ? ?) Sgt. Alvin C. York, World War I hero in the French Argonne Forest, was awarded the U.S. Medal of Honor and the French Croix de Guerre. It happened OCT. 8, 1918 . . . The Great Chicago Fire, which started when "Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a lantern in the barn on DeKoven Street", began OCT. 8, 1871. It destroyed much of the city, killed 250 residents and cost $200 million in losses. (Whatever happened to the cow? Or Mrs. O'Leary?). Note: That was 10 years before the Great Thumb Fire of 1881 . . .

The Bob Evans Farm Festival in Rio Grande, OH, starts today, FRIDAY, OCT. 9, and runs for 3 days. There are demonstrations by more than 125 craftsmen clothed in authentic costumes, using tools and techniques of a century ago. . . Leif Erikson Day is celebrated in Iceland today, OCT. 9, marking the discovery of North America by the famed Norse explorer in the year 1000 . . .

Apple and grape festivals are celebrated all over the country. More and more the festivals highlight cooking good old-fashioned apple butter. . . If you watch The Victory Garden on TV Sunday afternoons at 5:30 you're well-acquainted with Callaway Gardens at Pine Mountain, GA. Well, the Fall Festival at Callaway Gardens is celebrated for ing to a lot of mothers who had brought their children to school for the first time.

I sat there with my hat on and a girl said, "If that Amish boy don't take his hat off, he'll get the rubber hose!" Well, I could speak English but I didn't know what a rubber hose was. But I found out a little later and it stung like crazy.

I went to town school 'til I started in the third grade. Then I started to country school. It was a lot different. We had to walk to school.

A lot of children had to walk 2 1/2 miles and there were over 50 in the school, including all eight grades under the direction of one teacher. But they could make us behave. If we didn't, she gave us a licking and we'd get another one when we got home. I wasn't the "teacher's pet," but I got by without getting another licking at home because I got my sister not to tell on me!

Well, I still like to go to auction sales and once in awhile, I get a good deal. My exercise bike got stolen recently, and I still hope the guy who stole it is getting good use out of it.

I was at sale the other day and got another one. It had a lot of gadgets on it that the one I used to have didn't, but I'm going to keep it in the house because soon it will be too cold to be outside. This world is a small place. Sometimes I get tired and once I sat on a chair beside a young lady and we started to

Letters to the Editor...

DEAR EDITOR, PUBLISHER, DIRECTOR OF MISSING PERSONS:

It is with great concern and alarm that I file this report. The person I have grown to love and admire has disappeared. That great magnificent mastermind of murder, mischief and malcontent has disappeared.

He was previously seen in The Pigeon Progress and The Progress Advance, but will he appear in The Newsweekly?

The search for the slippery sleuth with the ability to discover devilish deeds has all but died. He has provided a whole passel of people with the purpose of providing possible solutions to crime and corruption constantly.

Since he has been unavailable to unravel the dirty deeds being done by dastardly doers, crime has run rampant.

Please send forth your most stouthearted, steadfast soul in search of our beloved Inspector Gordo.

Sincerely,
A. FAN
DEAR EDITOR

(EDITOR'S NOTE: "Fan" will be happy to know Inspector Gordo is planning an occasional return to these pages very soon...)

Thanks, Unionville, for CF support
DEAR EDITOR:

"It's September Again..." National Cystic Fibrosis Month.

The people of Unionville spend much time and effort this September help 30,000 children and youth adults who are afflicted with CF in this country.

These very special people, our dedicated volunteers, raised $300 to support research, education, and treatment of victims of this fatal disease.

We are extremely grateful for the generosity of our community, and to our volunteers - namely: Edith LeValley, Florence VanBeveren, Pat Achenbach, Cindy Balzer, Alice Stecker, Tammy Marker and Josh Hampshire.

In recent years, researchers have made great advances in the cause and treatment of CF. Because of your contributions research will be able to continue. Each effort brings us closer to a cure. It is within reach.

On behalf of the children with cystic fibrosis, thank you for every contribution.

Kids shouldn't pay for adult disputes at school
DEAR EDITOR:

I have always enjoyed going to my children's school on nights they have an Open House. It's nice to start off the school year meeting the teachers and seeing their classrooms.

This year when I went, I was sorry to see that the teachers were not there. Unfortunately, they chose not to attend.

Consequently, it looked like the school was open to parents and children to just browse around. But I always thought the school was open for us to visit anyway.

It's too bad the teachers thought to use this evening for some kind of contract dispute. It is hard to work without a contract. And a lot of times we have to decide what is more important.

But in an election year when the President is touting education in his campaign, it's hard for a parent to accept this absence. We are not responsible for their lack of a contract. Yet we are the ones who did not get to meet the teachers our tax dollars are supporting.

I think it was a poor choice not to show up. It really seemed to me and to other parents I've talked to that the teachers didn't really think it was important enough to meet the parents of their students. And so once again we have to take a backseat to money and politics.

CF support in Pigeon appreciated
DEAR EDITOR:

Thanks to the Pigeon community for its generosity in providing donations and volunteers for the Cystic Fibrosis door-to-door canvass that took place during the month of September.

The drive raised almost $1500 to fight CF, one of the largest claimers of the lives of children.

Marchers included Bea Anklam, Eunice Binder, Janet Blakeney, Jenny Bruce, Linda Clabuesch, Connie Damm, Mary Dast, Verda Dast, Ellamae Diachenko, Wanda Dubs, Penny Edington, Ann Ebbing, Maude Heck, Sue Meyersieck, Janet Miller, Caye Mitin, Jane Pobanz, Betty Rapson, Joann Schember, Chris Schwartzendruber, Naomi Wichter, Noel Wichter.

Thanks for your caring generosity towards the CF campaign.

Sincerely
DEBBIE GORSEGNER,
Pigeon chairman

Horsin' Around

NOT WHAT SHE PROMISED

Oprah had a special on television several weeks ago... a special on child abuse that broke precedent and appeared on several major networks simultaneously. It received so much hype, that I just had to tune in. Television advertisements and the TV Guide led me to believe that something new was going to be revealed—something important, something that would result in a great "national" healing, something that deserved our undivided attention.

Well I was disappointed to find that the program dealt almost exclusively with sexual abuse and incest. And I was insulted because to me anyway—it appears that these subjects, intended to horrify and repel us, are instead presented in such a fashion as to actually titillate and enthrall us, no doubt for the purpose of high ratings.

Perhaps I'm an old prude or a lascivious pervert (you decide) but that is how I interpret it. And my bitter disappointment stems from the fact that although child molestation and incest are indeed worthy topics in need of discussion—this particular program failed (like many before it have) to deal with the very real and seldom addressed issue of verbal abuse.

I know of no more cruel or sadistic way to cripple a child than to abuse him or her verbally, for this particularly loathsome and cowardly form of punishment leaves no tell tale bruises or scars, no broken or sprained limbs, no visible evidence of the pain and suffering that often result. Rather, it is invisible, demeaning torture that chips away mercilessly at a child's self-esteem and dignity, and self-esteem and dignity are sometimes less easily mended than flesh and bone. Verbal abuse can leave goblins of fear and self-doubt that haunt the victim well into adulthood, and which impede their pursuit of success and happiness all the days of their lives.

Verbal abuse is not only endured by children at the hands of their parents. Sometimes it is a relative, teacher, sibling or neighbor who yields the sharp tongue. Verbal abuse also goes on between husbands and wives, employees and employers, brothers and sisters, neighbors and friends, motorists and other motorists, even pet owners and their animals. And yes—it commonly occurs between business people and their customers, too. But in none of these many incarnations should it ever be accepted or tolerated!

I'm no Oprah Winfrey, but in my little way I would like to urge you to discontinue using abusive language in your home and in your life, and to refuse to accept it from anyone, on any level, at any time. Only when we begin to recognize refusal to acknowledge abusive or degrading language as a basic human right can we begin to eradicate verbal abuse from our lives—and more importantly, from the lives of our children.

"ABER SAG'S NIEMAND!"

Menschen haben lately viel fewer Secrets denn Sie hatten many Years ago. In die old Days, wenn jemand eine neue Kuh kaufte, sagte er den Seller, "Aber sag's niemand!"

Wenn unsere Neighbor's Frau einst zum Doktor ging, war es ein grosser Secret. Ich remember einmal hat die next-door Hausfrau bei meine Mutter ein-ge-stoppt, und Mutter hat ge-joked, "Wo gehst du hin? Zum Doktor?"

Die Neighbor Lady ist zu jede Color ge-turned und wurde so rot wie eine Beet. Sie hat beinah ge-bawled. "Ich hab solch painful Rheumatismus Ich kann's nicht staenden. ABER SAG'S NIEMAND!"

"Das ist doch kein Disgrace", sagte Mutter, "das ist warum wir Doktoren haben".

"Es ist no one else's Business", sagte die Neighbor Lady. "Ich bitte dich, sag's niemand!"

Fuer alle Problems, in unsere Families, in die Kirche, ueberall, kamm immer die Warning: "Aber sag's niemand".

Wenn in die old Days eine Shotgun Marriage in Town ge-happened ist, dann haette niemand je ge-commented zu die Family. Das war eine deep, dark Secret.

Jeder hat es regarded als ob ein Death occurred hat. Meiste haben mit die Familie ge-sympathized.

Das war in die Days wenn jeder sagte, "Aber sag's niemand!"

Jetzt wird es ge-broadcast als wenn es ein everyday public Occurrence waere. Jetzt gibt es keine Secrets. Jetzt kann mann es publicizen wie mann will. Jetzt ist es, "Aber sag's JEDEN!"

So werden wir von TV ge-hardened, weil Alles ist OK on TV. Zusammen schlafen fuer zwei Unmarrieds, Schwanger werden, AIDS catchen, ge-murdered werden—Alles kann fuenf-und-zwanzigmal jeden Abend auf TV happenen.

Wir werden so accustomed zu solches Krap das es keine Surprises, kein Shame, keine Suenden mehr gibt. Alles ist OK.

Wenn es gut fuehlt, go ahead! Ich glaube das ein gutes Part in die Good Old Days war das Jeder hat immer requested, "Aber sag's niemand!"

Die Moral in die Lesson ist, Es war immer mehr Fun fuer eine few Secrets zu haben. Es war exciting zum etwas hoeren da es ge-followed war mit, "Aber sag's niemand!"

Dann konnten wir irgend Stuff imaginen und das war actually besser denn Alles in Public ueber und ueber reciten.

Achievements

Jeremy Licht of Pigeon took "Best of Breed" in the California Class with his junior buck at the Genesee County Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Association show at Corunna on Sept. 19.

He then went on to take "Best Six Class" and "Best of Show" out of approximately 2,000 rabbits.

JAMIE JEFFERS of Hop 2 It 4-H Rabbit club won both the Grand Champion Market Pen and Reserve Champion Market Pen trophy at the 1992 Huron Community Fair.

He was also the recipient of the Best Opposite Award for the Californian Breed of Rabbits, along with the Champion Mixed Breed trophy and Best of Fur plaque.

Caseville Community Choir starts practice this Wednesday

The Caseville Community Choir will present its Christmas Cantata "Home For Christmas" sometime in December.

Rehearsals for the cantata, under the direction of Carole Anderson, will be on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. starting Oct. 14 at the Caseville United Methodist Church. All singers are welcome!

Continued from Page 5 talk. I found out I went to school with her mother and I know her aunts and uncles and grandfather. We had a nice talk.

When the sale was over, I started to load up my stuff and several people offered to help. They found room for everything. I didn't know them but they knew me because they read my writings every week.

They were very nice people and asked me where I was going to put everything. I told them I still had room in my basement.

Well, I have lots of friends and the old saying is, "A friend in need is a friend indeed." When people help me get around, I sure appreciate it.

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE KEIM

Cindy Jeffers of Elkton attended several rabbit shows around Michigan this summer and did very well, showing her California rabbits.

At Saginaw she won "Best of Breed", won "Best of Breed" and "Best of Show" in Davisburg. At the Genesee Co. RBA show she had "Champion Meat Pen" and "Best of Breed."

In September, a California doe won "Best of Breed" and "Reserve in Show" out of almost seven hundred entries at the Mid-Michigan RBA show in Ionia. The same doe won "Best of Breed" a week later at Corunna with the meat pen entry winning first place also.

Cindy is in second place in the state for meat pen point accumulated this season. Cindy's mother, Doris Ross, attended the rabbit show in Ionia with her.

Sally Dittman, principal of Grand Blanc's McGrath Elementary School and a Pigeon native, was featured in a recent Saginaw News article about a two-hour parenting class known as "Homework Without Tears," which she takes to audiences in schools and churches across mid-Michigan.

Her goal is to help parents become better at parenting, says the 49 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Anderson of Pigeon.

She encourages parents to establish limits such as no television for 10 minutes every night after dinner, beginning in first grade so that by sixth grade, there is enough non-television time for one hour of homework. Dittman also encourages parents to hug their children at least three times a day.

Dittman holds bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Central Michigan University. She also has a specialist degree in elementary administration from the University of Michigan.

A single parent of two for nearly 10 years when her children were teens, she was host of a parent education program in 1988 while serving as principal of Caro's Schall Elementary School. Then she signed up for training with Lee Canter & Assoc., a California educational consulting company. She now presents about 30 programs a year.

Two Huron County volunteers have been honored by Michigan 4-H Youth Programs for their long-term commitment to young people in their communities.

Lillian Gremel of Sebawa and Marie Ulf of Ruth were each recognized for 25 and 35 years of 4-H service, respectively. Each volunteer received a clover pin and a certificate of recognition at the 1992 State 4-H Recognition Banquet in Flint.

Housing workshop set Oct. 19

The Human Development Commission will hold a "Fall Housing Workshop" on Monday, Oct. 19, at the HDC's office at 429 Montague, Caro, at 7 p.m.

The workshop is an educational, informative experience offered especially for, but not limited to, first-time home buyers, says HDC Executive Director Mary Ann Vandemark.

The workshop will include local lenders, real-estate agents, and budget counselors as guest speakers. Persons must pre-register, by calling Dawn Billington Cubitt at 1-800-843-6394 by Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Income limits to qualify for the program are $46,920 per year in Huron and Tuscola Counties.

Scheurer plans breast cancer meet Oct. 12

Scheurer Hospital of Pigeon will sponsor a Breast Cancer Awareness Open House this Monday, Oct. 12 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Drs. Carol Wyse and Marlene Harvey will be available for clinical breast exams. Participants will receive self breast exam instruction, as well as a coupon for a reduced-cost primary mammography screening.

There will also be a video on self breast exam, handouts, refreshments and a flower to the first 10 participants.

Breast cancer is the second leading cause of death, after lung cancer. About 151,000 women in the U.S. and will develop the disease this year and almost 44,000 women and 300 men will die from it, experts say.

In fact, one in nine American women will develop breast cancer. That's why early detection is so important in saving lives.

CCAC plans 'Phantom' trip Jan. 17

The Caseville Community Arts Council plans a trip to the Masonic Temple, Detroit, on Sunday, Jan. 17, 1993 to see Andrew Lloyd Webber's world-renowned "Phantom of the Opera."

Round-trip transportation is included and will be provided by Mitchell Tours. The bus will depart from Caseville High School.

Tickets are now available to the public and the price includes a one-year membership to the Caseville Community Arts Council. Tickets are limited, and are on a first come, first served basis.

For more information and reservations call 856-4940.

Port take the stage next year, they won't be standing out in the open as they have in previous years.

Miss Bay Port 1993 will be on a brand new stage in a brand new pavilion, now under construction in Bay Port on the old Silver Dollar Saloon property. The Chamber of Commerce owns the pavilion and the property, and is providing funds for construction.

"We've been talking about it for five years now," says

Project Chairman Glenn Henne.

"We've asked for donations from area organizations and the community and they've been generous." The pavilion is expected to cost about $6,000, he said.

The 24 x 40 ft. pavilion will be open on all four sides for plenty of ventilation, and when it's not in use for the Fish Sandwich Festival — picnic tables will be available, Henne says.

Local volunteers are providing most of the labor, and Pigeon Lumber drew up the plans for the pavilion.

Bazaar, bake sale coming Nov. 21

The 17th Annual Holiday Bazaar and Bake Sale offered by the Akron-Fairgrove School District's Band Parents runs 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 21 at the high school's multi-purpose room, near Fairgrove.

Anyone interested in renting a table or in getting more information should call 693-6137, or write to Barbara Fry, 4488 W. Gilford Road, Fairgrove, MI 48733.

VOLUNTEERS pitched in to help build Bay Port's new park pavilion.

Mammograms are available... affordably

Affordable mammograms are available to women in the Thumb.

The Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac County Health Departments provide a mammogram, breast exam and a pap test, based on income.

The program is targeted at women 40 years or older who have limited income, no insurance or whose insurance will not cover the tests.

Between the ages of 40 and 49, women should have a mammogram every one to two years and a clinical breast exam by a doctor every year, experts say.

Beginning at age 50, women should have a mammogram done each year. Call 1-800-833-8550 to schedule an appointment.

Thumb Club News

CASEVILLE KIWANIS CLUB

About 60 members and guests attended the Silver Anniversary and installation of the Caseville Kiwanis Club Wednesday, at Mitch's Hidden Harbour of Caseville.

The club's first woman President, Nancy Buchholz of Thumb National Bank & Trust, was installed by 1993 District 19 Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Kedrick Kyles of the Midland Kiwanis Club.

Outgoing 1992 President Leonard Watchowski was recognized for his leadership and announced he is 1993-94 Lt. Gov.-elect for the District.

The Caseville Club presented a Legion of Honor Award for distinguished service to Ralph Hudson, 30-year member of the Bay City Kiwanis Club, who helped found Caseville's Kiwanis group in 1967, and who attended last week's 25th Anniversary event.

Besides President Buchholz, other 1993 officers are First Vice President Bob Schoenberg, Second V.P. Alice Hart, Secretary Ann Kennedy, Treasurer James Stahl and Immediate Past President Wachowski. Next year's directors are William Anderson, John Watzke, Michael Power, John Kavalari, Scott Meyersleck, Charles Kirk and John DiVincentis.

The Caseville Kiwanis now number 51 members, with three persons who helped found the club still listed on the membership roll: Raymond Nimitz, Melvin "Pete" Dutcher and Bud Lankey.

ST. PAUL LADIES AID, UNIONVILLE

The September meeting of

St. Paul Ladies Aid of Unionville was held Sept. 24, when plans were finalized for the Oct. 24 bazaar. Donna Schlund read the devotion "The Blessing of Love" and the topic "Tell Another Generation" on Psalm 145:4 was given by Pastor Paul Stohlmann.

Donna Schlund presided over the meeting. It was decided that a dinner would be served by the ladies on November 10 to the pastors and wives at their conference in Unionville.

St. Paul Ladies are offering rides to those who need help to go to the doctor, buy groceries or have other needs. Call Donna Schlund 674-2126, Dee Bitzer 674-8456, Marie Stoll 674-2671 or Alberta Gaeth 674-8791.

Discussion was held on a trip to the Amish Country in Clare (May 13, 1993).

The social committee was Dorothy Schmuck and Emma Beltz. Prizes went to Donna Schlund, Alice Gremel, Marie Adlam, Eva Balzer and Mable Stohlmann.

Sandwiches were served by hostesses Ruth Gaeth and Betty Ewald.

IMMANUEL LADIES AID, SEBEWAING

Immanuel Ladies Aid annual Sample Night was held Sept. 24 in the Immanuel school cafeteria in Sebe-waing, Vicar Russell Helbig gave devotions and prayer before dinner.

After the meal, Lorna Highduchuck gave readings on Golden Thoughts and on Promises.

President Alma Stephens introduced three guests. Twenty-eight members answered roll call and final preparations were made for Immanuel Bazaar on Saturday, October 10.

House prizes were given to Dorothy Beyer, Leah Helman and Dorothy Uhl.

Lorna Highduchuck, Dorothy Dehmel and Anna Gall was the committee in charge.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

The Bad Axe Business and Professional Women met Monday, Sept. 14 at the United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall in Bad Axe. The first meeting of the 1992-1993 year was called to order by President Debbi Leash. Present were 33 members and two guests.

Brent Woodward from the Huron County Sheriff Department presented a program on "Operation Buckle Down" and the importance of wearing seat belts.

First Vice President Marie Hoffman welcomed 45 members and guests Dwight Gascho and Dorothy Duggan to the Sept. 29 meeting of the Elkton Senior Citizens.

Clayton Gemmel gave the table prayer before the potluck meal.

Clayton and Ardis Gemmel were in charge of music. The afternoon session opened with the singing of "America" followed by the Pledge to the Flag.

The birthday of Eva Blaylock was recognized with the Birthday song. Minutes of the Sept. 22 meeting were read and approved. A "Thinking of You" card was signed by all for Mike and Millie Renn.

Program Chairman Chuck Willis introduced Dwight Gascho, Scheurer Hospital administrator, who spoke on "Country Bay Village" senior living community" sponsored by Scheurer Hospital, to be located on Caseville Road, Pigeon.

Set-up committee for October will be Mildred Dietzel and Marie Hoffman. Clean-up will be Mildred Tilt, Eldora Harrison, Althea Hebrner and Bill and Eva Blaylock.

A BRIDGE IN BAY PORT'S FUTURE?

For other possibilities, Bay Port is awaiting word from the Michigan DNR, which supplied the plan, property and dredging for the channel, boat launches, park and vehicle parking area.

James and Pamela (Brandenburg) Pryor of Vassar, announce the birth of their daughter, Taylor Nicole.

Taylor was born on Monday, Sept. 21 at Saginaw General Hospital. She weighed in at 7 lbs., 11 ozs., and was 21 inches long.

Grandparents are Audrey Brandenburg and the late Fred Brandenburg of Sebewaing, Jim and Betty Pryor of Saginaw and Chet and Joyce Foster of Arizona.

Great-grandmother is Mrs. Russell Erb of Bad Axe.

Born to Greg and Susan (Fournier) Bendzinski, a daughter Jessica Holly, on Tuesday, Sept. 29 at 6:31 p.m. at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The infant weighed 7 lbs. 6 ozs. and measured 19 3/4 inches long at her birth.

Maternal grandparents are Bob and Mary Fournier of Sebewaing. Paternal grandparents are John and Loretta Bendzinski of Pinconning.

Maternal great-grandparents are Alfred and Florence Sy of Unionville and Virginia Fournier of Sebewaing.

Officers elected were Leader Barbara Elmers, Assistant Leader Rita Case, Secretary Bev Simmons and Treasurer Pat Carter.

Plans were discussed for the Harvest Supper, Oct. 23 and the Holly Berry Fair Bake Sale and Luncheon on Saturday, Nov. 7. Both events will be at the Caseville RLDS Church. The "Mystery Sister" party is scheduled for Dec. 2.

The Oct. 8 meeting will be with Ila McCallum.

Bay Port hopes Limerick Bridge will highlight new tourism era

By WALT RUMMEL

Most of this year's vacationing and fishing season is past, but the Bay Port community and Fair Haven Township are already working busily on future years' tourism business.

Work started Friday morning, Sept. 25, on a pavilion in McLeish Park, which will serve as a stage, and also a cooking and eating area in case of inclement weather, says Jan Forge, Chamber of Commerce president.

The Chamber purchased materials for building the pavilion, volunteers have pledged to help with construction, and Nick Henne, a local carpenter, will oversee the job.

"A real plus for us is that from the pavilion you can see the beautiful lake out in front of us," Forge stated.

THE LIMERICK ROAD BRIDGE

is looking for a new owner and perhaps a new home. The Huron County Road Commission wants to sell the 90-year-old structure.

Commission. Further steps preparing for next year's tourist season include the Chamber's purchase of two 25-foot x 40-inch steel docks to be placed in the launch cut for temporary boat tie-ups, minor repairs or for waiting.

The docks were built by Caseville Welding and Fabricating, and are now on display in McLeish Park. Permission has been requested from the DNR to place the docks in the cut, south of the launch ramps.

Because of the lateness of this season, the docks would not be placed into the cut until Spring, 1993. Approval is needed by DNR for docks to be placed into the cut.

"slow" signs to keep boaters from creating waves that damage the banks along the cut," she said.

FUNDS FROM BENEFIT FISH MEAL

Using profits from the Chamber's benefit fish dinner on March 22, Bay Port Chamber members raised money to dredge 200 feet inland—to the south—from the launching area. That permitted space to load, turn around and pass time before going into Wildfowl Bay or after returning. Because of additional needs—docks, lights, buoys, signage—chances are that there will be another dinner in late winter or early spring.

"With the tremendous support we received from local folks and our neighboring communities, we are seriously considering a similar event in early 1993," President Forge said.

"Many friends, in and beyond Fair Haven Township, tell us that they're looking forward to a repeat of last Spring's event," she said.

As the central part of the program, Forge said the Chamber and Fair Haven Township have asked to be given the historic Limerick Bridge over Pigeon River, to be placed across the south end of the boating cut in Bay Port Park.

There it would serve as an historic attraction, and it could be used as a fishing spot, as a walking place and to shorten the route around the cut.

Forge has contacted the bridge owners, Huron County Road Commission, an engineering firm and the DNR. Limerick Bridge, an 87-foot, overhead steel truss bridge, has been designated as a local historic bridge by the Michigan Historical Preservation Commission.

That requires special use and prescribed care by any new owners to insure that the bridge will be maintained correctly.

"That's just fine with us," Forge says, "because we want it to be kept and to be seen by the public."

Since the bridge is just 13 feet wide, it is "no longer functional" for vehicle traffic, according to the Road Commission.

USA SHUT OUT BY BEARCATS, 34-0

The Uby Bearcats spoiled the Patriots homecoming celebration with a 34-0 shut-out Saturday. Although the Patriots controlled the ball throughout the first half of the game, making a whole helmetful of plays, they couldn't find their way into the end zone.

"They're a good team with a 5-0 record," said Coach Tim Travis.

The Bearcats scored on their first possession, as Scott Oberski ran 65 yards for the TD. The two point conversion try failed. Then they scored on their next possession, with Oberski again doing the honors. The PAT failed again, and the Pats were down 12-0.

The Patriots thought they had a completed pass in the end zone in the second quarter, but it was ruled incomplete. On the next try, Bill Nietzsche's pass was intercepted in the end zone, and the Bearcats ran it back to the 40 yard line. Oberski again scored on a 25-yd. run, and Brian Maurer added the extra point.

Uby scored again just before halftime, on a pass from Jason Ruthig to Mark Krumenacker. Maurer again added the extra point.

The Bearcats failed to score in the third, but in the fourth, Perry Heleski ran 5 yards for their final TD. Ruthig passed to Jeff Dekoski for the 2-pt. conversion.

The Patriots were held to 112 yards rushing and 46 yards passing, while Uby racked up 313 yards on the ground. Greg Eremia was the leading Patriot rusher with 53 yards in 16 carries. Chad Liberacki had 29 yards in 4 carries.

Jared Kottenko led the defense with 12 tackles, while Paul Wiese had 10 and Aaron Yenglin had 8.

JVs WIN TWICE: The Patriot JV team posted recent victories, defeating Bad Axe 6-0 and Akron-Fairgrove 40-0.

Derrick Hartman posted 113 yards rushing against Bad Axe including a TD, and had 4 solo tackles and 6 assists.

Danny Sweetman had 25 yards rushing, 54 yards passing, and had 5 solos and 5 assists.

The team scored some big numbers defeating Akron-Fairgrove. Hartman had 123 yards rushing, 10 yards pass receiving, scored a TD and have 4 assisted tackles.

On Thursday, the JV team lost a nail-biter to Uby, 32-30. USA scored in the last three minutes and an onside kick and recovery gave them possession again. But time ran out on the young Pats just as they were ready to score.

LAKERS WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT

By AMY HEIDEN

The Cass City Redhawks have had a pretty good season so far this year, but so have the Lakers. And at their contest Friday night, both teams plumbed the depths of their resolve in a hard-fought contest.

But the Lakers ended up on top, spoiling Cass City's homecoming by winning 26-16.

"They're a pretty good team. We got them down early and they kept their composure," said Coach Bill McLellan. "We got the big plays when we needed them."

Cass City helped the Lakers set up their first score after their center snapped the ball badly and gave the Lakers excellent field position. Chris Schember scored on a 7-yard run and Justin Maust added the extra point.

Then Kendal Truemner added another 6 points on a 15-yd. TD run and Maust's kick made the score 14-0.

The Red Hawks weren't demoralized, though, driving down the field. On a fourth and 7 situation, a half-back pass netted the Hawks 29 yards for the first down, setting up the touchdown. Jason Morgan got into the end zone and the Hawks added two points for the 14-8 halftime score.

The Lakers scored again in the third quarter on a screen pass from quarterback Jason Krohn to Schember, who sprinted 50 yards into the end zone. The two-point conversion try failed.

In the fourth quarter, the Hawks made a furious drive and scored.

Then with 9:30 left, the Lakers got the ball and spent the quarter fighting their way down the field, determined not to give up the ball. Schember made it into the end zone, but his TD was called back.

That penalty set the Lakers back, but a pass interference call gave the Lakers an automatic first down. Truemner scored on a one yard run for the 26-16 win.

The Lakers gained 262 yards on the ground. Schember led the rushing attack with 103 yards in 13 carries, while Truemner gained 68 yards in 10 carries. Schember also caught 2 passes for 54 yards and Truemner brought down 2 passes for 33 yards. Krohn connected on 4 of his 10 passes for 87 yards and a touchdown.

On defense, Eric Maust made 13 assisted tackles and Matt Keefer had 1 solo and 11 assists. Bob Blome had 2 solos and 8 assists, Truemner had 2 solos and 7 assists, and Schember had 2 solos and 6 assists. Smiley Villa also recovered a fumble in the game.

JVs ROMP: The Laker JV team whopped Cass City 50-0, avenging their sole early season loss. Special teams assured the Lakers good field position all night. The win was the third straight for the team and boosts their record to 4-1.

EAGLES WIN HOMECOMING SOCCER GAME!

Whatever happens during the rest of the season, the Caseville soccer team will long remember its homecoming game—the one game of the year that every team wants to win.

And win they did, as the Eagles defeated Valley Christian's varsity team 2-1 in overtime Saturday.

"We played an all-around excellent game," said Coach Mike Remar. "We've improved every game. We played so smart this time.

Valley Christian scored first in the first 40-minute half. But the Eagles came right back with Ryan Lackie netting the ball after Mark Samborski's pass.

Both teams failed to get the ball in the net in the second half and the game ended with a tie. In soccer, two overtime periods are allowed and the Eagles made good use of the second overtime period by getting the win points on a penalty kick by Samborski.

Goalie Gene Dombrowski prevented Valley Christian from scoring 18 times while allowing only one ball to slip through. Tyler Williams, Tim Gaertner and Randy Britt added important defensive work, playing the entire 80 minutes of the game and both overtime periods.

After the Eagles' first win of the season, Remar got an entire cooler of ice water dumped on him, and he received that honor again Saturday.

But the credit goes to his hard-working and fast-learning players, he said.

"They're playing kids that play in summer leagues, that have been playing for years. But these guys, their sense of the game is really coming along.

"We're going to build on this game and turn it around so that other teams, when they get their soccer programs, will say 'oh, no, we've got to play Caseville'."

EAGLES' SOCCER TEAM GAINING EXPERIENCE

Caseville's soccer team is plenty long on enthusiasm, even though they're a bit short on experience. But they're gaining in the experience department and that Improvement showed in their loss, 3-2, to Valley Lutheran last week.

"We've improved immensely," Coach Mike Remar said. "We started out slow again, but we have a lot of beginners and it takes time to understand the game. The kids are all very enthusiastic, though, and they play very well."

This game certainly showed that improvement. The last time the Eagles played Valley Lutheran, the Chargers downed the Eagles 9-0. This time the Eagles held the Chargers scoreless for the first 70 minutes of the game. But in the last 10 minutes, the Chargers lived up to their name by scoring three quick goals for the win.

Mark Samborski and Bobby Samborsky each scored for Caseville and each had one assist. Goalie Gene Domrowski had 24 saves while allowing only 3 goals.

Key defensive players were Tyler Williams and Tony Cardillo, while Kevin Gettle at center half put in some key moves. Nick Bednerek and Dan Duffy each played very well, Remar said.

LADY LAKERS DROP TWO GAMES
The Lady Lakers lost a non-league contest to the defense-minded Ubyl Bears Tuesday, 4-4.

Once again the Laker offense struggled not only through the first quarter but the second also and trailed 21-14 by halftime.

Regarding the first half, an unhappy Coach Paul Beachy said, "We were outthrust on the boards and offensively not going to the right positions."

Jenny Smith had four points at the half to lead the Lakers. In the third quarter, the game started to open up at both ends of the floor as the Bears outscored the Lakers 18-13. Darlene Jaworski poured in 7 of her team-high 12 points in the quarter.

The last 8 minutes all gears were clicking, but the Green Machine couldn't overcome the large deficit. Kim Sturm and Kelly McLellan led the comeback with 5 points each.

"I was satisfied with offensive surge and also the defensive hustle Connie Sherwood showed," Beachy said about the second half. At Cass City Thursday night, the Lakers ran out of gas in the fourth quarter and lost 55-38 in an important league game.

In the first quarter, both teams looked very tight and the Lakers trailed 11-5 after the buzzer. The Green defense took over the second quarter, resulting in many Red Hawk turnovers.

Jenny Smith, Sherwood and Jaworski each contributed 4 points in the offensive effort, but the Lakers still trailed 21-19 by halftime.

The defensive hustle continued as the Lakers stormed into a 31-29 lead with two minutes remaining in the third quarter. Sturm canned all 6 of her points in the quarter. However, the Hawks scored the next 7 points and took a 36-31 lead with eight minutes to go.

The Hawks' Jenny Storm

(16 points) and Jodi Schember (15 points) got hot and pulled away as the Lakers managed only 7 points in the deciding quarter.

Coach Beachy said, "I thought we were in control of the game but bad passing led to our downfall. We need to learn to play hard and focus the entire game."

Sherwood led the Lakers in scoring with 10 points and Jaworski added 9.

JVs: The JV team lost to Ubyl 32-26 in a defensive struggle. Michelle Bolda led the scoring with 6 points.

But on Thursday, the team hustled their way to an overwhelming 40-20 win over Cass City. Kristen Damm, scoring inside and out, managed 16 points and Fronda Ashmore banked 9.

FRESHMEN: The Laker freshman team upped their record to 7-1 with two victories last week. First they defeated Ubyl 45-30, with Betsy Drury scoring a sea-

LAKER C-C TEAM DOES WELL
The Laker cross country team continues to put in some fine performances. At the Akron-Fairgrove Invitational, the boys team finished 8th overall.

Top medalist for the boys team was Justin Maust, who finished 16th overall with a time of 17:54.

Although the girls didn't compete as a team, Laker Sarah Krebs set a new school record with a time of 20:10 and a second place finish. Melanie Smith was 21st with a time of 22:31. At the Blue Bay Conference meet in Bad Axe, Krebs finished first overall with a time of 20:26. With that finish, the girls team defeated Marlette and Cass City, but lost to Bad Axe. Smith was third overall with a time of 22:11, and Imogene Aguilera was 9th in 24:26.

The boys team lost to Bad Axe and Marlette, tied Cass City, but then lost the tie on a tiebreaker. Maust was 6th overall with a time of 18:05, and Shaun Diebel was 7th in 18:08.

ARCHERY DEER HUNTING started this past Thursday, and the first reported "success" story came that day. Bill Kauffold, Jr., of Sebewaing, hunting in the Elkton Area, bagged this big 9-point, 165-pound buck. He said the buck was 20-some yards from him, walking away, when he hit the animal behind the ribs. The arrow passed through, exiting through the front ribs on the opposite side. The buck ran about 40 yards, then collapsed. It was Kauffold's second deer in the past two seasons, as he bagged a doe last year.

COMING IN...

The buck was small, probably not more than two years old. His tiny forkhorns glistened in the afternoon sun, evidence he had recently honed them on one of the saplings growing nearby.

He was behind me, quartering over my left shoulder and making any sort of shot almost impossible.

From my vantage point, a sturdy tree blind wedged in a triple-trunk cedar, I had not seen him come.

Although I was watching the cross roads of three major deer runways, this little fellow had sneaked in from behind and was now testing the air with twitching nostrils.

The arrival of a deer is one of the most exciting features of bow hunting. If you did your homework well, scouted the area before selecting a hunting spot, and sit long enough you are bound to see some. The exciting part is you never know when or where they will appear.

I'm a great one for visualizing my hunting scenario. I'm inclined to think it comes from my golf game where portraying a specific shot or putt in your mind produces much better results when you finally strike the dimpled devil.

Anyway, I don't have to sit in my tree blind very long before my mind begins to project a slow motion video of gigantic bucks tip-toeing down the runway to stand in majestic, broadside fashion, perfectly framed between a couple of saplings, a mere 15 yards from the left front of my blind.

I raise my bow in dozens of fake draws, judging the tip of my broadhead to slip silently and deadly, low, just behind the front leg. I wait in breathless anticipation, rehearsing each and every step I will take when the moment of truth arrives.

Hours of boredom set in, and soon my mind begins to wander. I think of a lawn needing one final cutting before the mower is stored in its winter quarters.

Or, perhaps I work on solving a particularly perplexing problem I was facing when the clock in the hall

Woods & Waters

by Duane Guenther

rolled around to hunting time.

Whatever the reason, my brain is always out of gear when the first deer of the evening slips into range.

He, she, or sometimes they are never on the right runway. I painstakingly built the blind on a runway that is so deep it would have taken the footfalls of a hundred deer an hour, on their way to the all-night alfalfa supermarket, to scar the landscape in such a fashion.

But, come bow season, I will sit in the blind religiously and never catch a one on this whitetail expressway.

Instead, they pop out of nowhere, like the little buck who is nosing around the base of my tree at this very moment.

Where he came from, I do not know. How he got to where he is, I cannot figure out.

Will he move to the right location and give me an open shot? You can safely bet your next week's pay he won't.

One moment the woods are void of life, the next, this little buck, or others like him, materialize as if by osmotic action.

They seem to be like creatures from a Stephen King novel, or part of a Houdini act. You know, now you see 'em, now you don't.

My little buck paws the ground, banging his sharp hoof against the soft earth in an act of defiance. I know from experience he is not sure what's nearby and is trying to provoke movement from his unseen adversary. But his actions remind me of a cocky kid who is bragging about his superiority in the game of stealth.

I tire of his actions and try a quick move to reach my shooting position. All is for naught, as he quickly departs the scene and I am left with an empty woods and a loaded bow.

To my right is another large group of cedars. I begin to ponder. If I were to build another blind, place a mannequin in mine to make the deer think it was occupied, maybe..... just maybe.....

Pharmacy sold, closes

Laursen's Pharmacy in Pigeon closed its doors last week after a quarter-century of service, when the business was sold to Kmart Pharmacy of Bad Axe. Owner James Laursen said he had sought to sell the business to an individual, but could not find an individual buyer at this time. He is now working at the Kmart Pharmacy in Bad Axe, which bought all Laursen's equipment and stock. The Newsweekly incorrectly reported last week that no buyer had been found, and we regret the error.

60 Seconds

Wasting away? Or renewal?

"Therefore we do not lose heart. Though outwardly we are wasting away, yet inwardly we are being renewed day by day." II CORINTHIANS 4:16

The aging process affects everyone, as we tear the monthly pages off our calendars and especially as birthdays roll on faster and faster. Losses in hearing, slowing physical reactions, stiffening joints and lapses in memory convince us that we are, indeed, "wasting away." Even though we may not yet be afflicted by an incurable illness, yet the passing years leave their unmistakable signs that we are becoming slower and weaker. That's on the outside. That's what others see in us. But God sees us on the inside, and when we know that He is our maker, our provider, our Savior then we know we are being renewed on the inside. When we accept Jesus, who gave His life for us, when we turn all our weaknesses and fears over to Him, then we are strengthened and renewed day by day. The weaknesses others see in us are temporal. The renewal and the strength we have "inwardly," they are eternal. JESUS, BE WITH US TODAY AND ALWAYS, AND RE-NEW US INWARDLY. AMEN.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

John A. Champagne - Director -

COST OF A FUNERAL

People are concerned near prices just as it does on about funeral costs; and they the cost of other services and commodities. There are the expenses of a funeral home essential to provide a variety of choices. All who are selecting a funeral should be able to choose the kind of funeral they want. In doing so, all except the less fortunate, should share in the cost of making those choices available.

At the same time, there is no standard cost for a funeral, just as there is no standard funeral. The funeral is usually selected by the family of the deceased, taking into account their needs, desires and finances. Their decision is often rooted in religious and ethnic customs, family preferences and tradition. Then, too, the economy of an area has its effect on fu-
