A Time for Thanks...

Thanksgiving Dinner at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Martin Hagenow of Sebewaing is a busy time, as it is in every American home. But before the turkey is carved and before the mashed potatoes, vegetables, bread and homemade desserts are served, first must come the family devotional prayer. The Hagenows, of Immanuel Lutheran Church, are foster parents, so gathering 10 or more family members around one or more tables is a regular event.

We Americans have much for which to be thankful this year, as wars are subsiding around the world and threats we formerly faced have subsided. Whatever our condition, we should take time to give thanks at this time of year, and always, for all we truly have...

Seeking $200,000 Sebewaing park grants

By MARY DRIER

Sebewaing River fishermen are elbow-to-elbow in the fall and spring, especially on the downtown river bridge.

Two state grants could help provide a more convenient and attractive fishing area along the Center Street bridge and Muellerweiss Park.

The Huron County Economic Development Corp. (EDC) helped the village apply for two state grants to revamp the park and bridge.

Laker Girls win basketball district crown

By AMY HEIDEN and JIM JAWORSKI

Eight long, long years have passed since the Lady Lakers got their hands on a district championship trophy, but they finally got their chance last week, as they knocked off the Harbor Beach Pirates 46-41 to take the title.

"In 1985 we had two sophomores starting and a big senior center and weren't favored to go very far, and beat Harbor Beach in the district final," Coach Paul Beachy said.

"We have a very similar team situation this year and came up with same results, a district championship against a very good Harbor Beach team."

THE DISTRICT GAMES: LAKERS 64 BAD AXE 40

By the luck of the draw the Lakers and the Bad Axe Hatchets played Monday night in the first game, while Harbor Beach, Ubly and USA drew first-round byes.

After handily beating the Hatchets four times this year already, the game didn't appear to be a difficult test for the Lakers. After a somewhat slow start, center Kelly Mc-Lellan drew a quick second foul on the tall Hatchet center Heidi Geiger. After a dejected Geiger went to the bench, the Laker team broke the game wide open.

Junior Kim Sturm led the assault with a variety of shots around the basket. Her inside game netted 13 first quarter points and the Lakers led 23-9 after eight minutes of play.

Long range shooter Jenny Smith sank four baskets, one being a three-pointer in the second stanza and Laker pressure defense limited the Hatchets to only five second-period points.

By halftime the Laker advantage was 43-14 and the final outcome wasn't in doubt.

"I was very pleased with the team's intensity tonight," Beachy said. "It was a great first half both offensively and defensively."

The only Laker concern

wasn't the final score but an ankle injury suffered by starting guard Connie Sherwood before the game in warmups. Sophomore Michelle Bolda and senior Wendy Osentoski did a commendable job filling in for Sherwood.

Sturm led the Lakers with 17 points and eight rebounds while McLellan added 13 and Smith chipped in with 12. Geiger was the Hatchet leading scorer with 16 points.

Beach taking on the USA Patriots in the first game.

The Patriots' Chris Doud nailed a jumper for the first basket of the game, but it was their last and only lead of the game. The Pirates scored the next 12 points and led 12-2 after the first quarter. Doud again hit two outside baskets but received very little support on offense the rest of the half.

"I thought we played a good defense the first half," third-year Coach Steve Fletchersaid. "It was our lack of offense and costly turnovers which put us out of the game."

By halftime, the Pirates took a commanding 23-7 lead into the locker room. In the third quarter, Pirate guard Kim Seltz was beating the Patriot defense downcourt and scored several easy layups. The Patriot offense was not effective in any way and only managed baskets by Melissa Fuerst and Jennifer Francomb the entire second half.

Harbor Beach spread their point production evenly with the game-high scorer Seltz scoring 20 points. Stacey Wolschleger added 11 and Stefeni Meissner banked in nine. Doud led the Patriots with six points.

"Once our offense started clicking and the defense limited USA to one shot, our play improved dramatically," Pirate coach JoAnn Capling said.

LAKERS 46 UBLY 33

In the late game Wednesday night, the Lakers took on the hard-working Ubly Bearcats. The teams had split their two earlier outings this year and the winner would face Harbor Beachs in the district final.

With both teams playing great defense, the first quarter was a virtual standoff. A trey by sophomore Smith was the only difference in the quarter, which ended with the Lakers on top 7-4.

The Green Team threatened to pull away early in the second quarter but a Bearcat triple by senior Brooke Smalley seemed to turn the momentum in Ubly's favor.

By halftime, the struggling Lakers managed a 17-15 lead but neither team was in command.

The Lakers built their lead in the third quarter on the strength of McLellan's inside game and guard Carolyn Bollenbacher's playmaking ability. Both players scored three baskets each and Bearcat center Luann Mazure was called for her fourth foul by the end of the quarter.

Going into the final eight minutes, the Lakers held a cautious 31-23 lead. With Mazure on the bench, Coach Beachy decided to concentrate on the inside game and spread the Bearcat defense.

McLellan and Sturm responded by faking and weaving to the basket for four points each in a short time.

However the Bearcats wouldn't give up as junior Denise cook hit four consecutive shots to keep it close. But it wasn't enough because a cool-headed Bollenbacher canned five of seven free throws to ice the game away.

"I thought we played a very aggressive defense, as they did," Beachy said. "But the key was Mazure getting in foul trouble. I don't think they had anyone else that could match up with Kim or Kelly and we took advantage of it."

Avery steady Bollenbacher led all scorers with 16 points, an active McLellan added 13, Smith had seven and Sturm netted six. Ubly's leading scorer was Cook with 11 points and Sue Peruski chipped in with 10.

the district final with the rival Pirates, the obviously tentative Lakers couldn't find the bottom of the baskets.

The charged-up Pirates took advantage and ran out to a quick 7-1 lead with four minutes gone.

But hot-shooting sophomore Smith came to the rescue, hitting three nothing-but-net triples and putting the home team ahead 10-9 early in the second quarter.

The teams traded wellearned baskets the rest of the quarter with the Pirates clinging to a 24-22 halftime lead In the exciting second half, the Lakers jumped back in front on baskets by Bollenbacher and Sherwood, taking a 27-26 lead. But foul trouble bit the Laker starting guards as Sherwood and Bollenbacher were called for their fourth fouls halfway through the third quarter.

Capling recognized the Laker weakness and had her team in a full-court press which caused confusion for the Lakers.

The Pirates quickly turned the momentum in their favor with a number of steals and converted shots. They

League changes coming

By MARY DRIER

The format of sports competition in the Thumb could change drastically as proposals shift league lines.

Cass City School District's Board of Education members last week approved applying to join the Thumb C Athletic League.

"For the last three years, the four schools in the Blue Bay Conference have been trying to work with the Thumb C League and merge the two leagues," says Cass City Supt. Kenneth Micklash.

The Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port, Bad Axe, Marlette and Cass City School Districts form the Blue Bay Conference, following the breakup of the old Thumb B Association.

The Marlette School District recently approved leaving the Blue Bay Conference to join the Thumb C League.

"We can't function very well with just three school districts," says Micklash.

"It's been difficult with four, so all of us are going to be requesting admission into the Thumb C League.

"It is up to that league to make a determination on who will be able to join and if there would be one division or two divisions."

Currently, there are seven schools in the Thumb C League — Unionville-Sebewaing, Harbor Beach, Reese, Mayville, Sandusky, Deckerville and Ubly.

The Caro, Millington and North Branch Districts left the old Thumb B League and now are part of the Tri-Valley League.

"Ihope the merger comes about," says Micklash. "It would be better for our school and I think it would eliminate a lot of transportation costs for all of the schools to participate in sports."

sports.
"The cross-county rivalry offers a better gate and more resources for programs - it would be a positive situation for everyone involved."

Finally a McLellan basket ended the run and closed out the scoring going into the final stanza. After inserting the starters back in, the Lakers matched baskets with the pesky Pirates early in the final quarter. But another offensive rebound and putback by an aggressive McLellan brought the hard-working Lakers and an excited crowd back into the game 39-37 with four minutes to go.

However, McLellan fouled Pirate center Marci Conquergood on a move to the bas-

With two intense minutes left, the biggest basket of the game came on a clutch three-pointer by Sherwood that put the Lakers on top to stay 42-41.

Lakers earn Blue Bay All-Conference honors

All-Conference team selections have been made for fall sports in the Blue Bay Conference, according to the nominating panel of coaches. GIRLS'BASKETBALL: Sophomore Carolyn Bollenbacher and junior Kim Sturm were mamed to the First Team All-Conference, among sev-en players selected. Earning girls' honorable mention were seniors Kelly McLellan and Connie Sherwood plus sophomore Jenny Smith of Lakers. The Lakers ended the regular season in third place with a 4-8 record ffor Coach Paul Beachy. The TV team was 10-2.

BOYS' C-C: Shawn Diebel and Justin Maust of Lakers were named to the First Team All-Conference Cross-Counitry honors for boys.

Jeremy Meyersieck earned honorable mention honors for the Laker Boys, who finished in third place for the season with a 2-4 dual mark for Coach Mark Weidman.

The Lakers finished the season with a 8-2 overall record, with a perfect 6-0 record in the conference.

On offense, senior guard Dan McBride, junior tackle Shawn Weber, senior end Scott Herbert, senior quarterback Jason Krohn and junior running back Chris Schember were named to the All-Conference First Team. Senior interior lineman Bob Blome, senior linebacker Kendal Truemner and senior kicker Justin Maust were named to the All-Conference Defensive First Team. twice and fouled Sturm in the process. A tentative freethrow-shooting Sturm missed both free throw situations, keeping the game close.

But another clutch basket, this time by Smith with 48 seconds to go put the Lakers up by three. The Pirates came down the floor looking for the tying basket but senior Lisa Buchholz made a big steal, passed it to Sherwood at midcourt where Conquergood tackled her and was called for an intentional foul.

Sherwood calmly sank both free throws on the technical with 19 ticks left on the clock and the Lakers ran out the lock after getting the pos-

"I never felt we were in control tonight. We just hung around long enough to pull t out in the end," an elated Beachy said between many congratulations from happy Laker supporters.

"Jenny's early three-pointers and Connie's triple at the end were all very big baskets. Harbor Beach played well tonight and we were fortunate to get this victory."

"The Laker defense kept us off-balance most of the night and our girls had trouble finishing the plays," Capling said. "I give the Lakers a lot of credit and wish them well in the regionals."

Smith was the leading scorer with 14 points. Bollenbacher and Sherwood each had nine, while McLellan had seven points and 13 rebounds and Sturm grabbed 12 rebounds and scored seven points. Kim Seltz led the Pirates with 11 points and Conquergood netted 10.

The Lakers were to have met Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest in the first game of the regional playoffs at Sandusky Monday night.

Two Eagles honored

TWO MEMBERS OF the Caseville High School Eagles soccer team were recently recognized as members of the All-District team for their talents this season. The district includes teams from the Thumb and the Saginaw Valley area, according to athletic director George Bednorek.

Senior Mark Samborski was named to the First Team with eight goals, eight assists and 44 shots on goal, according to Coach Mike Remar. "He's been an outstanding center forward for us and was a big part of our winning season," Remar said.

Tim Gaertner, a sophomore center fullback, was named points for the Eagles, while to the Second Team. As fullback, Gaertner's responsibilities were to act as a "stopper," the first line of defense before the ball got to the goalie. "Tim has a trem ability to read the opposing team and be there to make the stop," Remar said.

The Eagles ended only their second season as a fullfledged soccer team with a 6-7-2 record.

But next spring and summer, fish from Dutcher's Caseville operation should be in the store, Lazarus said.

Not only are several varieties of fresh fish available, but smoked fish has proven to be popular with hunters passing through Bay Port.

Dutcher also hopes to carry fresh seafood and shrimp next early next year. He brings down nearly a ton of fresh Lake Huron herring every week and is selling those fish in 50 lb. boxes for customers who like to smoke their own fish.

Andrea Sue Richmond and Christopher Raymond Deering, both of Caseville, were united in marriage on Saturday, Aug. 22 at 2 p.m. in the garden of the bride's parents.

The bride is the daughter of Kurt and Gail Richmond of Caseville. The groom is the son of Joyce Deering of Port Austin and the late Raymond Deering.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an offthe-shoulder ivory gown with a bodice accented with lace and iridescent sequins and pearls with a flowing sagin, tulle-covered chapel train. Her floral wreath-like veil was also decorated with sequins, pearls and lilies of the valley falling loosely around her face.

The bride carried a handtied bouquet of coral roses, baby's breath, alstromerius, purple statice and greens trimmed with ivory tulle.

Matron of honor Lisa Miller of Bad Axe wore an off-theshoulder tea-length gown in iridescent coral taffeta with the bodice accented with iridescent ivory lace and a lace and taffeta bow. She carried a hand-tied bouquet similar to the bride's.

Maid of honor was Heather Wallgren of Kalamazoo, who was attired identically to the Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Beth Ann Henry of Ann Arbor and Holly Sampson of Kalamazoo.

SPECIAL NEEDS SERVICES OFFERED IN HURON COUNTY

A new county-wide method of delivering special need services is being developed for use in our schools by the Huron Intermediate School District. Previously, when a teacher had a concern for a student, the only choice wwas for testing by the speech pathologist, psychologist, social worker or teacher consultant. The student either qualified for special services or they did not.

Under the new system, a special assistance team (called an intervention team) will be made-up of local school and district personnel. This special team will meet bi-weekly and will address each referral as a team. All students who have been referred will have a plan developed for them (whether it is special class programming, regular class programming, etc.).

This new approach is being accepted with open arms by the staffs of the schools involved. Anyone requesting more information is asked to contact the building principal or counselor of the school that their child attends.

Try these ideas to help build writing skills: Kids who have lots of chances to write become better writers. Parents can help children improve their writing. Here are some sugges-

1) Ask your child what she chooses to write about at school.

2) At Parent-Teacher conferences, ask to see your child's writing. Later, talk about these writings with your child. 3) Praise your child's writing attemps. Always find something you like. 4) Let your child see you writing. Share some of your writing with your child. 5) Encourage your child to write with you at home. She can take phone messages, write a letter to her grandparents or make a grocery

6) Leave notes for your child. Have her 7) Have paper and pencils available for your

Counselor's Corner

By DAVE WOJCICKI

For your information: The following is a list of topics and activities that some of the students have been working

KINDERGARTEN: The introduction of the concept of brainstorming (thinking without limits on a certain topic) has been taking place in class. The children are catching on quickly and having fun thinking. Also, through the use of puppetry, such issues as better dealing with circumstances inwhich one doesn't get his or her way and constructive playing in groups has been addressed FIRST GRADE: Storytelling is being used to teach students ways in which they can encourage one another. Also, through story, children heard that taking the time to plan activities can save us from getting frustrated.

SECOND/THIRD GRADES: For the past month, we have been studying emotions, specifically anger and frustration. We have been talking about ways in which we can identify an emotion we are experiencing through being aware of what happens to our body. One may argue that only when we are aware of what we are doing, can one then go about changing. The students are being told that the emotions each of us possess are natural and OK to have. What we are working on is how to better consequences result from our emotions. FOURTH/FIFTH GRADES: We have been studying communications for the past month. One issue we are presently working on is letting people know how their actions affect us. If negative, many times we choose to communicate this by questioning, yelling, punching, kicking, etc.

We are learning a constructive option to the above and it's something called an "I" message. An "I" messagee clues people in to how what they are doing affects you. For example, if someone interrupts you and you say to them, "Stop it!" Or, "Why are you doing that?" Those statements manytimes have little long-term positive outcomes.

But if we choose to inform them that, "When you interrupt me, I become irritated because what I was saying was very important." This ties all the events of their action together. An "I" message lets people know, specifically, how you feel about what they've done and why you feel that way. Some argue that people stand a better chance of changing negative behaviors if they are clued into how those negative behaviors impact others. One last note, an "I" message can also be used to let people know how one feels about another's positive hehavior

ELKTON ELEMENTARY BOOK FAIR: Elkton Elementary fourth grade students Brayden McCairns, KC Gaeth and Scott Herford enjoy the Elkton Book Fair, an Elkton tradition for many years. Mrs. Lois Bruderick organizes the fair, which is another way the school promotes reading.

Bay Port & Pigeon Principal's REPORT

By TODD BIGGER

We have just completed our first nine weeks of school. Grades are in order and parents are receiving progress reports at our annual conferences.

This first marking period has been fast and exciting. Students in the past nine weeks have reviewed last year's materials, entered into new educational concepts and ideas, sold magazines, have had two very educational assemblies, have had their pictures taken, visited the hospital in their "Halloween best," have welcomed new students and said goodbye to departing students, have participated in their first ever "Saturday Enrichment School," have had one day of rest while the elementary staff spent the day "inservicing" on school improvement, have experienced the annual fourth and fifth grade MEAP test, have shared an after-school program with counselor Mr. Wojcicki, have shared their building with parents and staff at the annual Open House, and have done an exceptional job of cooperating and behaving inside and outside of their elementary classrooms.

Needless to say, we are very proud of our fine start, as well as for the many wonderful learning opportunities we are able to provide our students.

"The Saturday Enrichment School" is a new program for Pigeon and Bay Port students that allows for students to enjoy enrichment activities on a Saturday about once a month. The three-hour program will be activity-based. The "Saturday School" will be enhanced a little further with the addition of a third, four and fifth grade basketball prograam for seven weeks in January and February. More information will be sent home with

The basketball program will also be available to Elkton students and to our local parochial schools. This will be a school-sponsored pro-

A special "thank you" to students, parents, staff and our supportive community for assisting with the Pigeon Elementary/Morley Candy Sales. This sale will assist with the purchase of fifth grade basketball uniforms, the purchase of basketball equipment, special assemblies, etc. A big "thankyou" to everyone on behalf of our school and its children.

Pigeon Elementary School was pleased to host the third annual "Thumb Area Educational Fair" on Saturday, Nov. 21 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Eighteen vendors were on hand to supply books, computers, software, Amish toys and games, educational items, and more. vere also special activities for children while their parents shopped. We hope you took advantage of shopping "close to home" for Christmas with a wide variety of items for

A DEER TALE

I sometimes get tired of hunts deer tales found in the slick In pages of national outdoor magazines. They shower kudos on hardy souls who trek dozens of miles, climb formidable peaks, lie motionless for 4 hours in 3-feet of snow to iron off a mosscovered 83 pointer with a 6-
