Our Paper—The material for our paper did not arrive in season, and we were compelled to use a "wooden head," and to stop the temporary articles to keep the first number. Now that the paper has been established, we can improve the many perplexities connected with the first issue. It will take three or four weeks to get things in shape, during which time we will be obliged to continue to use the "wooden head," but we are sure that the paper will compare favorably with any other paper. Mr. Wallace has consented to distribute our paper at the Post Office.

Seen as a Woman's Girl—We have frequently heard the above remark, and it always makes us feel a little bit of a "woman's girl." It is a source of regret to us that it may ever be your duty to deal frankly with any portion of the fact who maintains a respectable standing in society, but there are some, and not a few either, who though their fame is unimpaired, are so deeply imbued with envy, jealousy, hatred and spite, who happen to be less favored by fortune, but more particularly so, and who are so deeply imbued with their own sense of superiority, that they will do anything, whenever they can make it convenient to speak to them.

These are days, who with a nervous and careful turn of the nose, regarding as "building but nothing else," each young female as having the moral courage and virtue to work with their hands for an honest livelihood, rather than be dependent, destitute or disappointed.

It is sometimes surprising to see a lady after the following manner: "Did you ever see the like, how Manchester herself and children of her? I know her when she was a working girl, and her husband a poor mechanic, and when he worked for my father. Now they have a little something in the world, and they stick themselves up as mighty somebody. It is just always so with such creatures. As soon as they get a little start in the world they begin to think they are something, and then they begin to strut."

Reader, if you are a young man, and should have anything like the above sentiment uttered by a young lady to whom you are paying your address, let that be your last word. If you are a young man, and should have anything like the above sentiment uttered by a young lady to whom you are paying your address, let that be your last word.

There is a certain amount of knowledge and skill to be had in a school. It is not a matter of course that a child should be taught to read, to write, to cipher, and to use the tools of his trade. It is a matter of course that a child should be taught to read, to write, to cipher, and to use the tools of his trade.

It is a universal complaint among young men, that they are not "taken into account" by the women of the city. They are not "taken into account" by the women of the city. They are not "taken into account" by the women of the city.

There has been a great deal of talk about the "Revolution" in the city. It is a matter of course that a child should be taught to read, to write, to cipher, and to use the tools of his trade. It is a matter of course that a child should be taught to read, to write, to cipher, and to use the tools of his trade.
