CAN'T ENFORCE DEMURRAGE

RAILROAD COMMISSION IS THE LOSER IN SUPREME COURT CASE.
COURT SAYS RULES BUTT INTO INTER-STATE COMMERCE DOMAIN.

The Michigan Manufacturers' Association Took Up the Fight March 1, 1910.

The Michigan railroad commission and the shippers of the state interested in the demurrage rules which the commission promulgated have been defeated in their attempt to enforce those rules.

The railroads of the lower peninsula promulgated a set of car demurrage rules through the Michigan car demurrage bureau on Jan. 1, 1909.

The Michigan Manufacturers' association took up the fight for the state rules and on March 1, 1910, the Ann Arbor railroad commenced proceedings to restrain the commission from enforcing the state rules.

The railroad commission filed a demurrer in which it was claimed that the rules simply apply to state commerce and do not directly affect interstate commerce.

The commission also claimed that the rules were within the power of the commission to establish. The supreme court says the creating commission expressly limits the power of the commission to railroad business between points in this state.

Power Companies to Issue Bonds. At least three of the power companies which are interested in the power which has been talked of so much since the late fall of 1909, are now furthering their plans.

The Pontiac Power Co. was authorized to issue $114,000 in bonds to refund present outstanding bonds, and the Bay City Power Co. authorized to issue $50,000 in bonds with which to refund outstanding bonds.

These companies and the Saginaw Power Co. appeared before the commission some months ago and all asked for bond issues. The commission instructed Prof. Cooley of Ann Arbor, to make an appraisal of the several properties to ascertain whether the properties were worth the bond issues asked for.

This happened several weeks ago, but it was only when Wigent was unable to meet a payment on the mortgage on his farm, that the story came out.

The letter demanded that he leave $500 in cash under a certain bridge near his farm, and he did so one night at 11 o'clock.

Henry Mason, of Marine City, was fined $100 and sent to the Detroit house of correction for 90 days for striking his wife and driving the stem of a pipe through her nose.

FOUR DIE IN RACE

GREAT CARNAGE MARKS RUNNING OF VANDERBILT CUP AUTO CONTEST. HARRY GRANT IS VICTOR

Wins by 25 Seconds and Sets New American Record—Many Spectators Are Injured—Mismanagement Blamed for Accidents.

New York, Oct. 3.—Four persons killed and twenty seriously injured—several of them probably fatally—was the sacrifice on the altar of speed at the sixth Vanderbilt cup automobile race.

Mismanagement and poor policing of the course were declared responsible for the slaughter. Many of the victims were spectators, run down when the racing autos crashed into the crowds lining the parkway.

The race was won in electrifying fashion by Harry Grant, driving a 120 horsepower Alco. He defeated Joe Dawson, driving a Marmon, by the narrow margin of twenty-five seconds.

John Aitken, in a National, was only a minute and six seconds behind Dawson. Grant, by covering the 278.05 miles of the course in 4 hours 15 minutes 58 seconds—equivalent to an average of 65.75 miles an hour—established a new American record.

Notwithstanding the list of casualties, it was announced that the grand prize race over the same course positively will be held on Saturday, October 15. Fifteen cars already have been entered for the event.

Accidents Are Sensational. The deaths that caused two of the four deaths recorded were sensational in the extreme. The first was when the Columbia car, driven by Harold Stone, suddenly burst a tire at the approach of the cement bridge crossing the Westbury road, and becoming unmanageable, plunged over the parapet.

The great machine went over twice in mid-air and landed on its side, crushing out the life of Matthew R. Bacon, Stone's mechanic, who was caught under it. Stone himself had both legs broken and received internal injuries from which it is doubtful if he will recover.

The killing of Louis Chevrolet's mechanic, Charles Miller, came as the climax of a mad attempt of Chevrolet to regain a lead lost through frequent magnets and tire trouble. The daring French driver traveled a bad rut in the back stretch with full power on, and landing on three wheels, only found the car slithering from side to side, unresponsive to its steering gear.

With a shriek of horror from the hundreds assembled at the spot the car plunged through a fence and plowed deep into a passenger laden touring car moored on the side of the road.

Miller Caught in Wreckage. The impact was terrific and the occupants of the touring car were tossed high in the air. All escaped death, however, but Miller was caught in the wreckage and instantly killed.

The third death of the day did not occur on the course, but in an accident en route to the race. Ferdinand d'Zubia, an automobile man, was the victim. Both his wife's legs were broken in the smashup.

Edward Lynch, a spectator, was run down and killed by a car after the race was over.

REVOLUTIONISTS RULE IN LISBON

ROYAL PALACE, BOMBARDED BY WARSHIPS, FLIES FLAG OF REPUBLICANS.

ENTIRE NAVY AND MOST OF THE ARMY JOINT IN REVOLT—MANUEL IS A PRISONER.

Attacks in City and Eram-Harbor Are Simultaneous; Uprising is Continuation of Continuous Dissections.

Lisbon, Portugal, is in the hands of revolutionists. King Manuel has been captured and the royal palace flies the green and blue flag of the republicans.

The entire navy and the greater part of the army are on the side of the rebels. The uprising took place Tuesday.

Warships in the harbor began bombarding the royal palace at the instant the revolutionists within the city began their attack on the palace, and in a short time the royal flag was hauled down from the king's home and the rebels' standard run up.

The recent assassination of Deput Bombarde, a leading republican, is believed to have played an important part in bringing the long dissension to a climax.

Entrance to Lisbon has been cut off, and further details of the revolt are not obtainable.

Wages for Prisoners Advocated. Payment of prisoners according to their industry to insure protection for their families and their own rehabilitation on release was recommended to the international prison congress in session at Washington, by the section on "preventive means."

The resolution provoked heated discussion in the congress, not because the principle of caring for prisoners' families was opposed, but because it was not so worded as to be adopted in several countries, including the United States, where prisoners are unable under existing law to earn anything.

Laundering Our Paper Money

The treasury department in Washington has just completed a series of experiments and the results of these experiments are of the most interesting as well as one of the most effective economic measures during the present era of retrenchment in Uncle Sam's administrative affairs. The innovation is nothing short of a scheme for laundering our currency. All the processes of washing, starching and ironing will be carried out just as though the articles to be cleaned were linen garments instead of the normal issue of the circulating medium and to the government considerably more than $10,000,000.

That paper money can be washed successfully is not, of course, an entirely new discovery. From time to time in years gone by individuals of their own initiative have sought to clean dirty bank notes with soap and water. The important discovery is that the processes of washing, starching and ironing can be carried out on a large scale and that the result is a paper money which is as good as new.

Advertising Talks

Advertising is the insurance which the shrewd merchant carries to prevent the disturbance of his business by the sudden appearance of a competitor in his field. By his advertising he has led the people to form the habit of buying at his store. Habits are not so easily broken up as some may imagine. By his advertising he has also expanded the volume of his business, so that the appearance of a competitor has less effect than it otherwise might have.
