We learn that J. E. Teeter has set out 300 fruit trees for Dr. Servis on his farm in the west part of the village. That is a pretty good job for a man 83 years of age.
Enoch Silkworth sold a year old heifer of his own raising to John Bowler Tuesday, that weighed 815 pounds and Chas. Knorpp says that he never dressed a better one.
Some of our citizens who opposed the waterworks proposition show their good citizenship by telling the president that they want to take water as soon as the system is complete.
Leo Watkins fixed up the flower bed on the top of the old water tank in front of the Manchester house, this morning. The council should remove that obstruction from the street.
We presume that more oats have been sown this spring than perhaps ever before. So many farmers dragged over their poor wheat fields and sowed oats. If there is a big crop the price is likely to fall.
The council has been petitioned to build a cross walk from the corner of Jefferson and Water street from in front of John Decker's store to Mr. Kingley's corner. This would accommodate many.

Highway Commissioner Logan says that two wheel scrapers are needed by the township before work can be begun on the road improvement west of town. He also says that teams to work on the road will be hard to get this spring.
As the season advances we learn that the past winter was an exceedingly severe one on fruit and shrubs. Many fruit trees were killed and farmers and others are replacing them with new stock Rose bushes which had adorned many a porch are dead to the very roots.
Township Clerk Chase reports that there were seventeen births and six deaths in the township outside the village last month. All the deaths but one were persons over 60 years of age. Village Clerk H. reports that there were 15 births and an even number of deaths last year in the village.

The ENTERPRISE press has printed for the village the specifications for waterworks to be installed in this village, the coming season, and Village Clerk Hoffer has mailed them to manufacturers and contractors all over the country to invite bids for material needed or the full completion of the system.

Blosser of the ENTERPRISE was appealed to help the project along and after some labor the following were induced to give promises and they subscribed all the way from $100 to $10 each and the extension was made. When he has completed his sentence Lewis will have been in jail about eight months. James J. Beagle the owner of the hotel, whom Lewis accuses of conspiracy to commit arson will be tried in October, his case having gone over the term at his own request. He is out on $500 bail.
