JAPS IMPORT THEIR BRIDES

Oriental in Hawaii Send All the Way to the Fish Kingdom for Them.

Kauai, Hawaii.—No more Originals of the laboring class are coming to Hawaii, and a good many of our white citizens who cultivate sugar and pineapples are sorry that the faithful Chinese are barred under the law," said W. P. Harwood, a sugar planter of Kauai.

"They are our best workers, and before the exclusion policy applied, they could count on a certain regular influx of haway Mongolians to fill in the gaps here."

It is only within recent years that Chinese men in Hawaii have been there for many years, and most of them are getting to be old men.

Not many of the former have wives, but in former days not a few of them became the husbands of the native Ka.

As a rule, ganders mate with only two or three, rarely four, and give one or two to each.

They are very highly prized in the market and bring larger prices than any other geese.

The raising of geese is particularly conducted for the most part on a small scale. This is due to the requirements of the birds with regard to range and also to their breeding habits and the expense connected with maintaining a large establishment for rearing them.

Geese are the most monogamous of all domestic fowls, so that it follows that a large number of expensive ganders would be necessary for conducting the business on any extensive scale.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1912

Battle Creekers like water so much that they bathe in it and they drink it.

John I. Kepp one of the best known men in Lenawee county, died at Adrian Tuesday, aged 86.

It is strange that congress don't get frightened over the talk that Japan is going to take the United States.

Washington county will get $85,026.35, Jackson $91,873.40 and Lenawee $84,738.45 primary school money.

The bull moose will hold a convention at Lansing, Oct. 1 and Teddy Roosevelt has promised to be there.

The wets in Lenawee county are circulating petitions to submit the local option question to the voters at next spring election.

Jackson moose will have their field day, Sept. 20. Commencement for all parts of the state will attend and give exhibition drills.

It is very evident that congress will pass a parcel post bill. The senate and house are at work at it and it will probably pass in modified form.

Another evidence that this is a busy season is that most people are taking vacations of only one or two days at a time instead of a week or longer as in past years.

Governor Osborn says that there is no good reason for the third party and believes majority voting strength of the republican party is progressive and will bring together.

A call has been issued for a state convention of the G. O. P. to be held at Detroit, Sept. 24th and it's time for the republicans to begin climbing back up the lead wagon.

What harvest was late and in most parts of the state was very small. Barley is fit to cut and case turnip, corn is growing rapidly, some fields are exceptionally good.

The new progressive party was not born under the oak at all but in the mausoleum temple at Jackson as the rain prostrated the plans of the organizers, but the party will grow like an acorn just the same.

"Shoes will be higher in price." "Price of clothing going up," are head lines in every paper. The tendency is for higher prices for everything manufactured.

The delegates to the third party convention at Jackson Saturday were enthusiastic in endorsing Senator L. W. Watkins for governor, Theodore M. Tiffin, of Adrian, for United States senator, and Nathan P. Hall, of Dimondale, for congressman-at-large. Mr. Watkins appeared to favor Gov. Osborn for governor but as Osborn does not seem to favor the new party it is highly likely that Whitney may be the candidate.

In riding through the country we observe that the farmers are obeying the law in regard to cutting-noxious weeds and brush along the highways. We see a marked improvement in appearance at least and no doubt they will see the necessity of keeping up the weed cutting practice at least once a year to rid the fields of the noxious weeds.

Education is doing great things in the business world. Time was when a man went to work for a railroad company in any branch of the service, if he liked the work he sought to "work up" to a better position and finally to become the head of a department of that or some other road. But school and college education are proving superior to the old-time practical knowledge of railroad men.

It is interesting to note that the railroad men are now men who have had little practical knowledge of railroading but are going more and more to figure lines of business.

Reforest Slopes of Pike's Peak

METHODS THAT WILL BOTH RE-OVATE AND PRESERVE.

Use Sprites of Wine, With Warm Water.
Peak last spring, Government forestry officials replanted a vast area, which was swept by a fire. They are now reforesting the entire Rocky Mountain Range—or so they claim. It is in the National Forest. With the denuded areas on the slopes of the Rockies covered with a sturdy growth of young trees, the mountain ranges will never recede. The young trees will be much larger in melting. This will hold back the waters which are rushing down the mountain. The water will be used for irrigation. The water will be used for irrigation. # Robinsons Two

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Robinson took up the next stack of letters his office had ordered for him. They were mostly business communications. But suddenly and unexpectedly there came from his tight fist a letter which was a postcard. Robinson caught the letter with a gasp. It was a postcard from the face Robinson studied the card over.

"Dear Jack," he read. "Here I am from Devonshire. We are having a gorgeous trip. My story is in the paper. I'm having a very good time. Robinson sitting quietly opposite could only gaze with fascinated eyes at the card. He had never seen the picture of a woman who was a girl he had never seen. Robinson picked up the envelope and looked at the address. It was a girl he had never seen. Robinson picked up the envelope and looked at the address. It was a girl he had never seen. # TOO STRENUOUS A JOB

MOSQUITO EXTERMINATOR HAD ENOUGH.

Recently Went Through Experience That It Must Be Admitted Was Calculated to Discourage Almost Any One.

Charles F. Stauder, marshal of Verona, N. J., is also chief mosquito exterminator of that city. It is his duty to hunt the breeding places of the winged rapiers that made New Jersey famous and deluge their larvae with venereal ail. The life of the chief mosquito exterminator has been a tragedy. He went into the big lounge where many of the travelers meet and took a chair by one of the desks. There, with pen in hand, he tried to compose a letter to Wilhelmina Wick. Try as he might, he could not write a satisfactory message to the girl whom he did not know.

He turned and it seemed to Robinson that he was very good looking. He had her eyes half smitten. After that she sat down in a chair facing him. He was very good looking. He had her eyes half smitten. After that she sat down in a chair facing him. He was very good looking. He had her eyes half smitten.
