Charles Bartles west to Ohio last Friday and from there to Chicago to buy sheep.
Miss Ruth Agor will teach in Belding the coming year and left for that place today.

Ed. Dragstone left Monday for his summer vacation with a ten day's visit with the H. O. and J. F. Lison families returning to their home Friday.
Edward Metz of Manchester, a student of Edna school, St. Louis, Mo., conducted the services at St. Paul's church Sunday morning—Chloe Standard.

H. G. Lindenschmidt successful candidate for sheriff on the republican ticket was in town Friday calling on friends who are an advertisement in another column.
Opa Esch the deputy state game warden was over from Ypsilanti keeping an eye on some of the hunters and fishermen but of course he found them all obeying the law.

Mr. Myron Silkworth and daughter Ruth went to Jackson last Thursday to visit relatives and friends until Sunday night. Mr. Silkworth and Elmer went up Sunday morning and spent the day.
We understand that B. F. Bartles, secretary of the state tax commission will leave for Denver, Col., on Sunday to attend the national tax conference. Mrs. Bartles will accompany him and they will be absent about ten days.

Dr. B. G. Sutton, superintendent of our via school three years ago, was a present caller at the Epworthian office Monday. He is preaching for the Methodist protestants at Columbusville, LaPorte county, and has been to the annual conference at Gull Lake.
Our townman, John Schlicht had a birthday on Sunday, his 28th and he and his children and family and some other ones came to help him celebrate it. Besides the friends and the "cow" boys was the pastor J. B. Schlicht and wife, and their daughter Mrs. E. Hanson and her husband of Ypsilanti, present and they made a jolly crowd.

It seems more lively now on our streets, also school begins.
Ed. Wallace of Detroit visited at Wm. Behlmer last Thursday.
Higgins & Wetzlander shipped a carload of onions to Toledo last week.
Farmer's have drawn some logs to Sloan's handle factory, to be sawn into lumber.
Hay fever patients are as uneasy as a fish out of water, and long for a frost to get a stop to their sufferings.

Famous Kilties' Band Will Play For State Fair.

The Famous Kilties' Band, one of the most famous musical organizations that ever have trotted the United States, has been secured by the management of the Michigan State Fair at Detroit Sept. 7-18 to furnish music throughout the entire two weeks of the exhibition. Efforts have been made for several years to secure the Kilties' band, but only this season was the attempt successful.

The Kilties comprise a band of forty Scottish Highlanders, each one garbed in the kilt and costume of his native land, and each one an accomplished musician. The organization has been in existence for many years, and has recently completed a world tour which was a triumph. It has played in all the large cities in this country and has been called for more return engagements than almost any other organization of its kind. It will appear at the grounds every day and will give concerts morning and afternoon, besides playing for the horse show and fireworks in the evening.

The fourth annual convention of the United States and Canada will meet in Detroit Sept. 12 to 15 inclusive. The Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad has asked the circuit court at Grand Rapids to set aside the state railroad commission's ruling that the Grand Rapids & Indiana must interchange passengers at Peleekey and Bay View. The rule which goes into effect Sept. 1, affects all northern resort passengers on each road.

The fair will be held at the Michigan State Fair grounds, Detroit, Sept. 7-18. Premiums and Purses valued at $150,000. Michigan's Fair—the Oldest in the United States—will be the Most Magnificent Display that any State Ever Attempted.

NO DULL MOMENTS AT THE BIG FAIR THIS YEAR.
Circus Attractions to Present Act in Front of Grand Stand.
If there is a dull moment at the State Fair this year it will not be the management's fault. Never before has so much attention been given to amusement features as this season, and the cap the absent a program of fine attractions will be given every afternoon and evening in front of the grand stand. These for the most part include spectacular acts which are on our tour with one or another of the great circuses. Briefly, they are as follows:

WAR MAY BRING MILLIONS TO THE FARMERS OF MICHIGAN

The Michigan farmer stands to win millions of dollars through the upward impetus which Europe's calamity has given to crop prices.

The 1914 oat yield for the state has been forecasted as 55,000,000 bushels, on which the price has jumped an average of 12 cents a bushel over what it was in 1912.

It is expected also that Michigan will harvest something like 5,700,000 bushels of rye, on which the price has increased 34 cents a bushel over 1912.

Wheat is another crop which it is figured will net the farmers of the state a nice profit. Wheat prices at present are an average of four cents a bushel above what they were in 1912.

Another source of gain is expected to be had from sugar beets, while potatoes, beans and other crops are commanding top figures.

Michigan postal authorities advise that the farmers and farmers' wives of this state are utilizing the parcel post extensively in selling farm produce direct to the consumer and excellent results have been obtained.

"HE LEADETH ME"

Darkness Never Really Dark; Light Leads On Through the Valley.

If we were to try to classify human experiences they would fall into three divisions: First, rest and refreshment; second, work; third, sorrow.

David is speaking of work when he says, "He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness." The sheep is not a creature of toil.

David is speaking of sorrow when he says, "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me."

LONGEST BALL GAME PLAYED. Jack Coombs and Jumbo Harris Were Opposing Boxmen—Contest Went Twenty-four Innings.

Teaching Mean Tricks. Wilbert Robinson is teaching his catchers many a naughty trick. Twice Milton Stock complained bitterly that the Brooklyn Catchers were crowding the plate, and whenever opportunity offered, reaching out and tipping his bat, says a New York critic.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND. Speed is quite an asset to a ball player if he uses it in daylight.

SIZE DOESN'T COUNT WITH BALL PLAYERS

Vincent Campbell, Outfielder With Indianapolis Federals.

Someone has revived the question as to whether big men or little men play the better baseball. The question is a good deal like the one discussed among players—whether nine Walter Johnsons could beat nine Ty Cobb.

Little team—O'Neill and Schalk, catchers; Clotte and Fisk, pitchers; McInnes, first base; Evers, second base; Maranville, shortstop; Maisei, third base; Leach, Milan and Ehler, outfield.

One can pick a little team that probably would win, a tall team the same way, and the big team just as easily. Undoubtedly the style of ball players now runs to the strong, big fellows, especially in the pitching line.

SPITBALL IS IN DISREPUTE

Wise Pitchers in Big Leagues Have Cast Moist Sphere Aside—Shortens Careers.

The spitball is falling into disuse, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Very few of the twirlers in the big leagues are using it today, and those who do are using it sparingly.

Jack Chesbro used it back in 1904 when he almost pitched the Yankees into the leadership of the league. But the use of the spitball practically ruined Chesbro as a star performer.

There are several other pitchers in the big leagues who still throw the spitball, but they are throwing it just about a half dozen times during the game.

them coming. So the pitchers who have discarded the use of the dampened twister very often bluff at pitching one.

Ed Walsh of Chicago White Sox.

The passing of the spitball comes as good news to the infielders. In the years when the spitball was generally used errors were frequent on account of the spitball. A pitcher would gloss the ball freely with saliva and slippery elm or tobacco juice, a batter would hammer it to the infield, the infielder would grab it and start to throw, only to find that the slippery ball had slipped from his fingers.

INSURES LIVES OF UMPIRES. National League Takes Out Policies for Its Basebatters—Not Afraid of Fans.

Arrangements have just been completed whereby the National league has taken out accident insurance policies in favor of the ten umpires on the rolls of this organization.

The action of the league authorities is in line with a policy of protecting against railroad accidents, flying balls and the like, it being the practice, when an umpire has been injured in the line of duty, to defray the cost of medical and surgical attention, while at the same time keeping upon the salary rolls during periods of inactivity.

Terms of the policies call for a payment of $25 a week while victims are out of commission, $5,000 in event of death and $10,000 in event of death in a railroad accident. It is considered likely that the American league will follow suit.

Wonderful Red Sox Player. Boston fans at one time thought the Red Sox never would get another shortstop like Heinie Wagner.

Germany Schaeffer is loud in his praise of the Boston Braves, and says Stallings' team is going to nose out the Giants.

Lee Magee of the Cardinals is having the best season in stick work he has had since coming into the National league.

Rudolph, Tyler and James have been the pitchers who have done the most consistent work for Stallings' men this summer.

Connie Mack says he believes Doc Lavan, the diminutive infielder now with the Browns, is going to make one of the real stars of the game.

Works With Feet. Ralph Works, former Red pitcher, has become a St. Louis Red. Since leaving the big show he played in the American association and Southern leagues.

MAKES A MOST CHEERFUL HOME

Style of Building That Has Been Popular for Many Hundred Years.

HAS MUCH TO RECOMMEND IT

Always Light and Airy, and the Matter of Slightly Increased Cost of Heating is Hardly Worth Considering.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper.

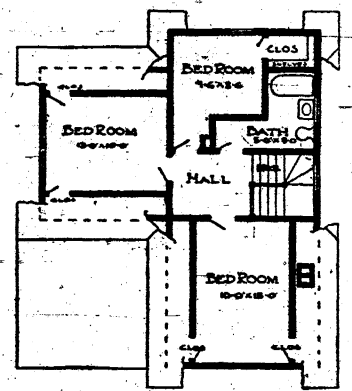

A house built at right angles to itself is shown in the accompanying plan. For some reasons this style of building has more to recommend it than almost any other design.

In the early history of building operations houses were made narrow because window lights were small and it was difficult to light a wide room.

Although this way of building a house is several hundred years old, it is still as popular as ever and the reason is that houses built in this way make very comfortable homes.

The only objection is that every room in the house has two or three outside walls and for this reason it is a little more difficult to heat such a house in cold weather, but we have learned how to protect ourselves

When you have a nice porch furnished up in that way you like to use it as early in the season as possible and as late as possible in the fall.

Second Floor Plan

get away from it as much and often as possible. A good deal depends on the house plan, in the first place, but more depends on the housekeeper.

This plan may be carried out at a cost of from $2,000 to $2,500.

"Doctored" Pearls.

A commotion was caused among the pearl merchants of Paris over a black pearl, the original commercial value of which was $1,600.

The conclusion drawn from expert opinion upon the food value of nuts is that nuts are most valuable if eaten properly, not between meals, but at meals in the place of meat or eggs and not combined with them or with sweets.

The KITCHEN CABINET

There is no action so slight nor so mean but it may be done to a great purpose, and ennobled thereby; nor is any purpose so great, but that slight acts may help it.—Ruskin.

"ALL IN A NUT SHELL."

It has been frequently claimed against us and with justice that we eat too much meat, even men who work outdoors eat more than is wise.

The great cry which goes up from many who are advised to eat nuts instead of meat is that "nuts are so indigestible." All highly concentrated forms of food are indigestible if eaten improperly.

Nuts are rich in proteid, the element in lean meat which makes it so valuable, and they are still richer in fat.

It is the wise mother who teaches her child to eat fat, as it is most essential in producing good sound nerves. Fat meat is often distasteful to a child but plenty of butter, nuts, milk, cream and eggs will supply it.

Another reason for the indigestibility of nuts besides imperfect mastication is eating them after a heavy meal or late at night.

THE JERUSALEM ARTICHOKE.

The Jerusalem artichoke is not the artichoke proper, but a plant of the sunflower family, which is cultivated for its tubers.

Artichokes a la Creme.—Wash and peel the vegetable and boil 15 minutes in plenty of salted water, drain them and add butter, a little lemon juice and cream for a sauce. Dish up and serve hot.

Artichoke Soup.—Cut up a peeled onion, one potato and a pint of artichokes, put into a saucepan with two tablespoonsful of butter and fry for eight minutes, taking care not to brown them. Then add a quart of white stock, pepper, salt and a piece of bay leaf, a sprig of parsley and piece of mace. Allow to simmer for one and a half hours, then rub through a sieve, using the back of a wooden spoon to put the pulp through.

Artichoke Omelet.—Mix five table-spoonfuls of chopped cooked artichokes with enough white sauce to moisten, add salt, pepper and a little finely chopped parsley and allow it to become hot. Prepare an omelet of four eggs, pour into an omelet pan, add the artichoke mixture, fold over and set in the oven to finish cooking. Serve at once.

Artichokes a la Princess.—Take some cooked artichokes, season well with olive oil, a little mushroom, sweet-bread and cooked ham, all chopped; season with salt and pepper, pile in the center of a bed of crisp lettuce, pour over a bit of boiled dressing and serve.

Artichokes au Gratin.—Cut boiled artichokes in thick slices after cooking.

A Protest Checked.

"You don't send any more communications signed 'Taxpayer,'" said the editor.

Nothing Doing. Madge—What do you think of this place as a summer resort?

Delicate Task. "Are you preparing a speech to make to your constituents?"

Every Inch a Sailor. "Mother, the captain wants us to go out sailing with him."

Shame! Gertrude—Too bad Mildred couldn't come tonight. She had to stay at home to get the baby to sleep.

Local Resident—Why, mister, Jones can holler "I object!" louder than any other man in these parts.—Judge.

ing, dip each in melted butter and grated brown bread crumbs, sprinkle with cheese and arrange in a dish, pour over a rich white sauce and bake.

ABOUT FISH.

Fish is one of our most valuable foods and on occasion may suffice for a good dinner by itself.

Care should be taken in cleansing a fish not to make the opening larger or than necessary, which distorts the fish and is inclined to make it watery if boiled.

In buying fish the important factor is freshness as spoiled fish is an exceedingly dangerous food for anybody.

Casserole of Fish.—Pound half a pound of white fish until smooth, add a slice of bread which has been soaked in milk. Beat together, put through a meat chopper then through a sieve, add two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of chopped meat, one tablespoonful of melted butter, salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Mix well. Decorate a fish mold or a casserole with slices of tomatoes, pour in the mixture and press it down, cover with buttered paper, set in a pan of boiling water and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Serve with Dutch Sauce.—Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a small saucepan, stir in a tablespoonful of flour, when well blended add gradually a cup of milk, boil three minutes, then add one tablespoonful of vinegar, one teaspoonful of mustard, a dash of salt and the yolks of two eggs; stir until it thickens, but do not boil. Serve hot.

Salmon Cutlet.—Take a cutlet weighing a pound and a half. Dry it well with a cloth and wrap it in a sheet of oiled paper or a paper bag used for cooking, fry ten minutes in smoking hot fat, drain and serve in the bag in which it was cooked.

To establish and maintain order, harmony and excellence in the territory under one's own hat, will keep one fairly well occupied.

Let us speak plain; there is more force in names than most men dream of; and a lie may keep its throne a whole age longer, if it skulk behind the shield of some fair-seeming name.—Lowell.

HOUSEHOLD EXPEDIENTS.

Serve vanilla ice cream in tall glasses with a teaspoonful of orange marmalade on top.

Cut angel food in squares and cover with orange marmalade and cover that with whipped cream for a dainty dessert.

Soda applied with moisture to a burn either acute or of sunburn will take out the fire.

Soak paint brushes in coal oil then wash in hot soap suds and they may be used in any paint again.

To prevent a bed sore, freely lather with castile soap and let it dry in. Never known to fail.

This comes from good authority. To make any fowl, young or old, tender and good flavor. After it is killed let it stand until cool, then submerge in cold water, being sure that every part is under. Put a weight over it and let it stand 12 hours, then remove, scald, pick off the feathers and truss. The toughest chicken will be juicy after this treatment.

A sandwich or two of peanut butter and white bread with a couple of olives and a glass of grape juice will make the best kind of a luncheon.

Spiced Roast Beef.—Take a roast from the round three inches thick, and with a sharp knife make an incision in the form of a cross, clear through the meat. Into this insert a slice of bacon, rub well with salt, pepper and sprinkle with flour. Put the roast into the pan, pour over a dressing made as follows: Half a cup of vinegar into which is stirred a tablespoonful of sugar, a fourth of a teaspoonful of mustard, a few grains of allspice. Add a little water for basting and cook slowly. This is good cold.

Nellie Maxwell.

The average hen, if provided with a good place to dust herself, will keep down the lice, but this will not protect her from the red mites in the chicken house, which infest her body at night.

Naturally. "I tried to induce the rest of the congregation to put a weather sign on the church steeple."

Satisfied. Hotel Proprietor—Your bill not is hotel leaves until you shall not be paid in.

Proof Positive. Stranger—Why is Jones conceded to be the leading lawyer in this vicinity?

Local Resident—Why, mister, Jones can holler "I object!" louder than any other man in these parts.—Judge.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

William Pitt

Maintain the milk flow.

Vetch is an annual plant.

Clean the troughs, these hot days.

Straw and hay make good nesting material.

Over-our cream makes butter lose its fine aroma.

Cutworms, as a rule, do their greatest damage in the spring.

Improper feeding will soon cause a good strain of hogs to run out.

Pasturing the pigs in a 30x30 mud pen makes no money for the owner.

Lime is best supplied by giving the fowls access to crushed oyster shells.

A combination of high roosts and heavy fowls seldom proves satisfactory.

Separate the young pigs that are to be kept as breeders, from the fattening stock.

The time to feed silage is directly after milking or at least several hours before milking.

The mares with draft blood are too coarse to give quality to the colt, no matter what the sire is.

Do not allow decayed meat to lie around where the fowls can get it or they may die from ptomaine poison.

Fire blight, like hog cholera, is caused by an organism invisible to the naked eye, but present in the blighted twigs.

When given with care, one of the best foods for young and growing chickens, and the laying hens, too, is sweet milk.

Sorghum is preferred to corn for silage in semi-arid sections because it is a surer grower under dry weather conditions.

Angora goats have been used with profit to keep fire lines clear of inflammable vegetation on national forests in California.

Let the colt wear its little halter through the day, but remove it at night to prevent the possibility of getting its feet caught in it.

Sixty million dollars were lost by the American farmer last year simply because he did not take steps in time to prevent the deadly hog cholera.

If pullets do not lay before cold weather, they are apt to wait until spring, so the chicks hatched very late will not fill next winter's egg-basket.

Wasps, yellow jackets and birds sometimes puncture grapes, and then—but not until then—the bees feast on the released juices. Paper bags are a great help in growing perfect clusters.

Never put a lid on a can of warm, fresh milk—use a cloth cover. If the milk is to be separated get it through the machine as soon as possible—the quicker the better. Cool the cream immediately after separating, and if possible, dispose of the warm skim milk at once.

A mare may become wire cut and almost worthless on the market, but she can still redeem herself if she is a brooder. Her value for raising colts, if she is bred well, is not decreased.

The gelding has a place on the farm till he has reached his prime, then cash him in. If he gets blighted, all he is worth is the hard work that he can do.

It is necessary to apply special precautionary measures in dairy practices to insure the production of clean and sanitary milk during the hot summer months. It is during this time that the various damage producing bacteria do their deadliest work and when the milkman must be on his guard. A few simple rules of sense and sanitation carefully executed will produce excellent results.

The normal temperature of a hen is higher than that of a human being and if she has enough fresh air to keep up the combustion fed by her respiration, she can endure more cold than human folk, but dampness is a grave injury to her.

The work on the average farm can be done by mares that raise colts. The time of foaling can be arranged to suit the work. There is always a period between planting time and when cultivation begins that the mare could be given a lay-off.

The cost of producing hogs is principally feed. The man who produces feed upon the farm that can be used to advantage is usually the most successful in producing pork at the least cost. Grain and mill feed are high compared with forage. Alfalfa or clover cheapens the grain feed.

The costliest feed is not always essential. Thus, equal weights of corn meal and bran with a half-pint to one pint of linseed-meal will summerize feed a horse better than oats and a much less expense.

Fertile eggs begin to incubate at once in hot weather, and the less in spotted eggs can be reduced at least 75 per cent by promptly getting rid of the roosters as soon as hatching eggs are no longer wanted.

GOOD METHOD OF PRESERVING

Most Popular in California, It is Well Worthy of Adoption in Other Localities.

Certain fruits, like strawberries, cherries and raspberries, are particularly pleasing when prepared by a method which originated in California, the land of fruit. The proportions should be:

One pound of fresh fruit; one pound of sugar. Place a layer of fruit in the bottom of a large enamel preserving kettle and add one or two tablespoonfuls of water and alternate with layers of sugar. Heat very slowly and care fully, until the sugar is melted, avoiding crushing the fruit. Boil from 15 to 20 minutes, then pour the mixture in thick layers into large platters and set in the bright sunshine for a day. It should thicken or "jelly" on the platter, after which it may be placed in sterilized jars and sealed with paraffin.

Very often peddlers and druggists, too, offer the housewife "preserving powder" to help her in putting up her preserves. These powders do prevent the decay of fruit or vegetables, but they are dangerous and, indeed, poisonous in many cases. Never use them under any circumstances, as the proper way to sterilize is by means of heat, and it is not necessary to resort to any kind of preservative if you follow clear directions.

Someone writes asking whether beef sugar can be used in jelly making. It appears that both sugars are equally pure and there is no difference in taste or appearance of jellies made from either. If, therefore, anyone is in a locality where beef sugar is cheap, it would be just as well to use this as the more expensive cane sugar.

There is profit in raising mules, but the right kind of mares must be selected for that.

Never forget that poultry requires grit and lime for digesting food and forming egg shells.

Practical poultry for practical poultrymen. A scrub poultryman will win his faith to scrub fowls.

The packing of peaches is one of the most important steps in the successful handling of the crop.

The very first symptoms of kicking should lead us to dispose of the animal that does it. Life is precious.

It is the poorest of management, besides being cruel, to shut hens and chicks away from ample green runs.

Once or twice a year a wagon load of small gravel should be hauled from some stream for the fowls to work over.

It is a waste of time and money to breed colts unless the inheritance on both the sire's and the dam's side will blend.

The successful intensive poultry farms started small, aimed well, and that is why they can do a big business on a small area.

It pays to feed cows on grain, and silage if you have it, when pastures get short, even though it does seem to cost considerable.

When the wild mustard patch gets ripe save the seeds to mix in the mash for the laying hens next winter; it is a safe stimulant.

Give pigs a good run, and gradually increase the amount of protein food, as it is bone and muscle that you are building up in the youngsters.

Dispose of the roosters as soon as the eggs needed for hatching are obtained. The eggs keep better and the hens will lay just as many of them.

Before and after the sow farrows, she should be fed very light or the pigs will not be able to take all the milk, or if they do, they will become sick.

Keep all windfall apples and plums of the ground. They often have dropped because they are diseased or have insects in them. Feed to the pigs or burn.

The United States obtains practically all its potash salts from Germany; its nitrate of soda—from Chile; its bone dust, chiefly from Europe, Canada and India; and its miscellaneous fertilizers, mostly from Canada, Germany, Belgium and the United Kingdom.

Instead of wasting the straw stack by running it into some spot where it will be out-of-the-way, or burning it, stack it well for an emergency feed in case you run short of roughage. Then, it makes fine bedding, and thus is put into proper condition for being returned to the soil as a fertilizer of great value.

For nearly 40 years the news given for Manchester and surrounding towns. We have never been away from the Enterprise building east side of the river, and we will be there as long as we can. We want to know what you think of our news. Write us, and we will be glad to answer you. We want to know what you think of our news. Write us, and we will be glad to answer you.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation setting apart September 10 as a day of prayer for early peace in Europe.

Stockholders of the Leo Car Co. get a 15 per cent and those of the Leo Motor Truck Co., a 10 per cent dividend this year.

The state fair opened at Detroit Monday for its two weeks continuous show, with an attendance of 40,000 they say, and the finest exhibit ever seen there.

The allied forces of England, Russia and France have agreed not to make peace with Germany separately, and the fight goes on to a finish because they know no peace can be made until the enemy is completely defeated.

We find that oil is used in many villages and dies to keep down the dust. It is said to be cheaper than sprinkling with water and as we have some streets that are very dusty now and are sprinkled on account of the dust, would it not be well for the council to investigate the oiling proposition.

The W. O. T. U. are raising money to place a drinking fountain in people and place the same in the lower city, and they are undecided where to place it to do the most good. The ENTERPRISE suggested in front of the post office, that being the place where they are always, and as central as any. It is also a public place and a circular rail could be connected with the drinking posts to prevent homes from getting the drink habit.

The opening of the Panama canal was supposed to be the date of activity in the southern part of the state. The state preparations have been in making for several years to that end. Railroads have built and secured larger dockage and steamship companies have joined with them in arrangements for taking care of the business properly and promptly. But the people never dreamed of a war in Europe to favor them in their efforts or opportunity of scoring leads in South America. Much has been said in the papers about how to gain the south American trade. That was all right before the war, but now as European trade with our southern neighbors is practically closed, they will be obliged to try of us or go without. However, we trust that manufacturers of this country will be honest, polite and accommodating to all their transactions with a European manufacturer. Let us all take advantage of the opportunity and build up lasting friendship with our neighbors on this continent.

Building an Auto Every Ten Minutes at the State Fair

BUILDING one automobile is quite a task, and building one in ten minutes presents difficulties that would be insurmountable for every person except Henry Ford. Just to show the people that it can be done he has contracted for one whole side of the Automobile building at the State Fair grounds. This he will transform into an assembling plant, and during the two weeks of the Fair, Sept. 7-18, he will put out a finished automobile every ten minutes during certain portions of the day. The State Fair factory will maintain a production of twenty-five cars daily during the exhibition. The illustration shows the traveling cranes and the tracks on which the chassis run which make possible the remarkable production.

BAN WILL NOT AFFECT AUTO RACES AT FAIR

Noted Drivers Will Appear in Thrilling Events.

AROUSED OVER A. A. ACTION

"Going to See Whether This is a Free Country," Says General Manager Dickinson—Cycle Car Meet Not Under Auspices of State Fair.

The directors of the Michigan State Agricultural society have been aroused by the notice published throughout the country by the American Automobile association that the Michigan State Fair track has been blacklisted, and interesting developments are promised for the next few days.

The contest board of the A. A. A. has been informed that even though the ban is kept on the Michigan track it will not affect the automobile speed program here. Contracts have been made with a dozen of the best known drivers in the country, and they will appear in the events scheduled. "If they do not they may not be allowed to participate in the automobile races at the Minnesota, Nebraska, and the many other fairs where they are listed. The Michigan State Fair is a member in good standing of the American Association of Fairs and Expositions, and should a contract be broken with one member it is the policy of the association to protect itself and its members by severing all relations with the erring party.

Inasmuch as these state fair meetings are one of the chief sources of revenue of the A. A. A., it is believed the situation will receive careful consideration by that body. It is even asserted that the association may, if it is found necessary, inaugurate a series of automobile speed contests under its own auspices.

"To make it short, we're going to see whether this is a free country or not, if our track can be blacklisted when we are not even members of the A. A. A. and no sanction had yet been asked for our state fair meeting," said George W. Dickinson, general manager of the fair. "This action has been taken against our track because of the cycle car races that were held there July 4 and 5. The races were not under our auspices; we merely leased the track as we lease it for motorcycle and harness race meetings. We never have had any difficulty over those. We regret this misunderstanding has arisen. We have taken counsel in the matter, however, and are confident our position is justly taken.

"Contracts with a number of well known drivers were made some months ago, long before the A. A. A. made the announcement concerning our track. Should any driver violate his contract with us he may not be allowed to drive on the track of any fair that is a member of the American association of fairs and expositions. When we sign a contract we live up to it and we expect the people who sign contracts with us to do likewise. That has been the position the association has taken in many instances to guard itself and its members from those who cannot be depended upon, and we will have the association's aid in this case.

"You can depend upon it there will be automobile races at the Michigan State Fair."

TEN STAKE RACES AT STATE FAIR

Purses Reach $60,000; Early Closing Events Filled.

PROGRAM TWO WEEKS LONG.

Best Stables in Country Are Being Attracted—Speeders From Over the Border Will Face Wire—Finest Racing Events in Fair's History.

A speed program, the like of which has never been seen at a Michigan State Fair, has been arranged by the Michigan State Agricultural society for its sixty-fifth annual exhibition at Detroit, Sept. 7-18. Two solid weeks of racing have been carded, with the purses so liberal that large fields are insured for all. No less than ten stake events have been arranged with purses ranging from $5,000 to $1,500. The entries for these have all been closed, and the class of horses that will face the wire contends that turf history will be made. The stakes are scattered through the two weeks, one coming each day.

Notable among the stakes are the Michigan, for 2:12 trotters; the Aitken, for 2:14 trotters, and the Postal, for 2:11 pacers, purses of $5,000 being hung up for each of these. The first named will be trotted the first week, and the others the second. Another stake in the first week's list which has attracted attention is the 2:17 trot, the entrants being limited to those horses owned in Michigan April 1 of the present year. The other stake events are as follows: Detroit stake, 2:08 class, trotting, purse of $3,000; Windsor stake, 2:11 class, pacing, $3,000; Wayne stake, free for all pace, $3,000; Fifield stake, 2:08 class, trotting, $2,500; Newton stake, $2,500; Dickinson stake, 2:19, trot, $1,500.

Many Class Races.

In addition to the early closing events the following class races with uniform purses of $1,000 will be run each week: 2:23 pace, 2:15 pace, 2:15 pace, 2:13 pace, 2:09 pace, 2:07 pace, 2:05 pace, 2:24 trot, 2:20 trot, 2:14 trot, 2:10 trot, free for all trot and Conner's handicap.

A race program is as indispensable to a fair as a merry-go-round, and the management aims this season to present to the lovers of this sport in Michigan the best that is obtainable. The value of the purses is such that the best horses in the country are being attracted here, and that is a guarantee of the competition that will result. All the stables know up and down the big line will be represented, and there will be many speeders from over the border.

Fred Postal, Eugene Fifield and G. W. Dickinson are the members of the State Fair's board of directors who comprise the speed committee.

Break Ground For Hospital.

Ground has been broken for the Clara Barton hospital building, which will stand just north of the automobile building and to the west of the dairy building. The structure, two stories in height and in the comfortable colonial style, is being erected under the direction of Dr. E. B. Smith, brigadier general of the Michigan division of the National First Aid society. The building will contain fourteen beds and an operating room and will be equipped as completely as a modern hospital. A staff of physicians and nurses will be in constant attendance during the two weeks of the Fair.

Memoirs of Napoleon

In Three Volumes

The personal reminiscences of Baron de Ménéval, for thirteen years private secretary to Napoleon Bonaparte, bring out, as no history can, many enlightening and interesting side lights on the character of that greatest of leaders. De Ménéval's descriptions have the piquancy and interest possible only because he was an actual eyewitness of the scenes and incidents of which he writes. Their reliability and historical interest can be judged by the fact that the very conservative French Academy publicly recommends them.

A SPECIAL OFFER TO OUR READERS

By special arrangement with the publishers of Collier's, The National Weekly, we are able to give these valuable and interesting Memoirs free with a year's subscription to Collier's and this publication, at a price less than the lowest net cash subscription price of the two papers. Only a limited quantity of these Memoirs is available, however, so to get the benefit of this special offer you must act quickly.
