Examples of this are Holeproof Hosiery, Dorothy Dodd Shoes, Devonshire Cloths, Murphy Chairs, Nemo and other corsets, Vanta Baby Garments, Fleischer's Yarns, etc., etc. Qualities and prices on these goods are rigidly established by the maker and are known beforehand to the purchaser. It would be an unbusinesslike presumption to expect people to have sumption to expect people to bu such merchandise in any other place than their own town or city.

> The Field Wherein We Can Compete Is This

To be of truly good service to To be of truly good service to a community a store must go beyond the mere carrying and selling of standardized lines. There is a good deal of merchandise today which is not standardized and probably never will be—millinery, women's apparel, ribbons, silks, dress goods, laces. The business, then, of a great store is to carry also in its stocks unadvertised goods which are the best and must perfect of their kind. It must act as a purchasing agent for the community whose confidence it holds.

It is nearly sixty years since we began the business of serving in this way the people of Ann Artor and Washtenaw county.

Mark R. Bacon

Representative for Congress

This district is normally Republican. Velected the Congressmadin 1900 by a plurali of 3.574: in 1902 by 3.298; in 1904 by 9.923; 1906 by 2.473. (no. Democratic conditions)

111, owing to a split in the party.

The Republicans and Progressives really belong in one party; both believe in a reasonable tariff, and in progressive legislation that would benefit all classes of people—the farmer, the laborer, the mechanic, the manufacturer, the business man. There was an honest division of sentiment in 1912, but I can see no reason why they should not get together now—and in our case—redeem the Second district. The Progressive party cannot hope to elect its candidate this year, then why not vote for [] Mark R. Bacon? I oliam to be progressive, there is the people that all reforms for the benefit of the people must come through the Republican pasty. RX
