Louis Chevrolet, the French-American dare-devil auto driver, has r turned to the automobile racing game after an absence of five years. Chevrolet until 1910 was considered one of the country's premier pilots. In the Vanderbilt of that year an accident drove him from competition. He was se ely hurt and his car wrecked. He frequently declined offers of a mount. The Frenchman will build his own car. It will be the lightest car that ever has been raced on the speedway, weighing only 1,000 pounds. The pis displacement will be about ninety-three cubic inches.

Patrick and the Snakes

This week Shamrock and St. Patrick reign supreme. St Pat. drove all the snakes out of Ireland. We believe some landed in Manchester and some are wishing St. Pat. alive and living here.

Johnny Bull could probably make more use of him than anyone at the present time. See what he could do to the Kaiser. The war would be over. Ireland could claim Germany, England attach Austria, France take Turkev. And Russia—oh, well—they have enough, they even deport their own countrymen to Siberia.

That's where you will find High Prices and we are guilty of deporting them there. We don't know what methods St Pat. used, but we started in by dividing profits with our customers each Saturday. If you don' watch our ad for bargains we take no blame.
