A Physician's Opinion

A physician who uses Grape Nuts in his family was recently asked his opinion of this food. He said-

"It is a concentrated, palatable, nourishing and healthful food. Sweetened slightly and moistened with good rich cream. Grape-Nuts makes a very toothsome dish."

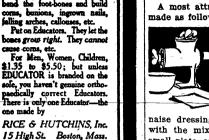

There's a reason for these excellent qualities in Grape-Nuts. This food is made of whole wheat and barley, thoroughly baked and processed to render it easily and quickly digestible—generally in about one hour.

Grape-Nuts contains all the rich nutriment of the grains, including the phosphorus, iron, sulphur, and other mineral elements so necessary for proper nourishment of body and nerve cells. It's a healthful food, and economical also.

AN EXPERT ADVERTISING AGENT HAS THIS TO SAY ABOUT THE COUNTRY MERCHANT.

What is the matter with the merchant the smaller towns of this country.

The country business man repre very best development in American manhood. He is healthy, strong and unusually intellectual, but as a merchant, simply will not get out of the rut made in the road o his kind of trade, by the footsteps of his

The merchant in the rural districts, who imagines that he can handle his business on the same slipshod plan as that employed by his predecesors 40 years ago, is badly mistaken. He has new conditions to face, new forces to contend with, almost unsurmountable obstacles to overcome.

The hotel and professional men, as well as the mechanic, in these smaller towns are also quite likely to see customers pass their doors en route to the city, if they are willing to rest content with old fashioned methods

They must meet city competition with the city man's plan of getting business How do the big stores in the city attract

First, by large display ads in the daily papers. These are almost a complete cata logue of each of the various departments of the entire store. Think of it, a daily issue of a well illustrated catalogue with catchy descriptions and skillfully phrased talk about cut prices, spread out daily before 75,000 to 200,000 women, who have money to spend and who need the goods. There can be but one result, which means a sale

How long could these big stores exist it they did not use these advertising pullers to draw trade? The spawer is self evident. Their ex penses would put them out of business in Suppose for example, five of the depart ment stores of Detroit, Toledo, Jackson of

Ann Arbor would adopt the methods of the average country merchant, cut off their advertising in the idaily and weekly papers, discontinue soliciting orders by mail, refuse to send out samples and all of the proprietors should sit quietly down and wait for customers to happen along, as i sually done in the country store. Can anyone doubt the result? Contrast the difference between the two methods and the remedy is as plain as the sun in the sky.

Of course, the answer is, that the small store in the country town cannot afford high priced advertisements, costing $500 00 to $1,000 per day, neither can he afford to issue a catalogue or to have a mail order department. That's perfectly true and nobody will try to dispute it, but he has his local newspaper, (whose rate is less than $20 a week for a whole page,) and its working force at his disposal, and it is the greatest and best advertising force in the entire world.

Let us repeat that country newspapers, i properly used, are positively the best advertising mediums in the world for the

Mr. Merchant, just store this thought under your hat every country town has a weekly newspaper and you are missing a est if you do not make it your mail

Mind you, you should advertise prices, no matter wether it be a package of onion seed-Advertising gas engine, hay scale or a fiannel shirt, nd every article shown should be quoted at a price that compares Tavorably with the prices in the advertisements of the city

> There is not a country town in America where three or four pages of this class of dvertising would not boom the local trade and get the business, as far as orders from that locality are concerned. Every mer. chant should make it a point to advertise his goods and prices, as well as his name.

SCHOOL

The high school boys and girls are talking of putting on a play to raise oney for athletics.

On a warm day the student looks ongingly at the window, and is convinced that the only scientific way to tudy biology is from the banks of a rout brook.

The first ball game of the season was layed on the school grounds last Friday afternon by the Napoleon and Manchester high school teams. There was good crowd of interested spectators, though the weather was somewhat chilly. George Graham umpired the game From the first it looked like a victory for Manchester, yet one can hardly tell what may happen before the last innings are finished. However the score showed 17 to 3 in favor of Manchester.

The outward appearance of our high hool building is often criticised by visitors. We know that it is not in accordance with school architecture of the present date, but, when the visitor makes an interior inspection and sees that everything is up to date, clean and cheerful, with the walls adorned with pictures of scenes and people of historical interest, the laboratory supplied clayment of extra help by the prosecuwith apparatus, the library -with good books, and the seats filled with bright, well dressed children they rarely fail to announce their surprise and approbation.
