SHOOTS GIRL HE LOVED AND SELF

BATTLE CREEK YOUTH TURNS WEAPON ON HIMSELF AFTER MURDER.

CRAZED BY REJECTED LOVE

Crime Was Evidently Premeditated As Man Bought Gun For Occasion—No Inquest is Thought Necessary.

Battle Creek—No inquest was held on the shooting affair of early Friday evening, in which Frank S. Newman, 26 years old, slew his sweetheart, Miss Millie Glenn Havens.
Newman, after an hour's conversation with Miss Havens, in an alley near her home, on Stone avenue, shot her without warning, the bullet entering near the neck. The girl ran, and just as Newman fired a second shot, fell in the arms of her father, Bert J. Havens, and expired. Newman started to run away, but suddenly stopped and shot himself twice, first in the stomach and then in the mouth. He lived several minutes, during which men surrounded him and swore they would hang him if he didn't die from his wounds.
Miss Havens had rejected Newman when he proposed marriage, her parents objecting to him because he was a foreigner and also because he had been in jail for breaking into a cottage at Lake Gogaw. The two became acquainted while both were employed in Nichols hospital last September.
Newman evidently had premeditated the crime, after Miss Havens had returned a shawl which he gave her recently on her seventeenth birthday. He had evidently bought the gun for the occasion, for he was not in the habit of carrying firearms.

THE WONDERFUL AEROSCOPE, HIGHER THAN THE FERRIS WHEEL, GIVES VISITORS MARVELOUS VIEW OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION

VISITORS ON THE AEROSCOPE 265 FEET ABOVE THE EARTH

THE GIANT FRAME OF THE AEROSCOPE AS IT APPEARED UNDER CONSTRUCTION

For the seeker of amusement, there is opportunity a-plenty in the unique mechanical achievement, the Aeroscope, on "The Zone," at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The Aeroscope resembles a giant crane of a novel and intricate design, its steel construction recalling that of the Bascals bridge. At the extremity of a long arm of the crane is a two-story car with a seating capacity for 100 persons and standing room for 20 more. At the short end of the crane is a giant mass of concrete, which serves as a counter-balance for the long arm of the crane. Beneath the car are two great water tanks, which take on water or discharge it as passengers enter or leave the car, thus always preserving the balance to a nicety. When, for example, a man weighing 160 pounds enters the car an amount of water of equal weight is released from the tank, and when the passenger departs 160 pounds of water are automatically discharged into the tank below the car. The car ascends without perceptible motion, and perfect safety and a larger ride of ten minutes is assured to passengers while enjoying this trip of 265 feet into the clouds, or four feet higher than the Ferris wheel. Two motors control the ascent and descent in conjunction with the counter-balance of the huge car, and when it reaches its extreme height it begins to swing slowly around on the wheels at its base, giving a magnificent view of the exposition, of San Francisco bay and of the city of San Francisco.

TWO "DRY" BILLS KILLED

Measure Providing for Four Year Interim Between Elections Instead of Two Had Joker.

Lansing—The three liquor bills on which the house liquor committee compromised Wednesday and reported out, following a bargain in which the "dry" members gave up all the other bills before the committee, met with a sad fate when they came up in the committee of the whole house Thursday evening.
Two of them were killed by being referred back to the liquor committee, which has adjourned sine die. The third also was referred back to committee, but the vote was reconsidered, and it finally was passed.
The Wolcott bill, aimed to have local option elections make counties "wet" or "dry" for four years instead of for two years, as at present. An amendment inserted in committee called Representative Moore to inquire if the bill would compel all "dry" counties in the state to vote on the liquor question again next year, as a preliminary to the four-year drought in those that went "dry."
An opinion from the attorney-general was read that the bill would have this effect. The Wolcott bill later was sent back to the committee which will not meet again, the vote being 35 to 20.
By a 51 to 40 vote the house also sent the Biggerstaff bill back to committee. This bill aimed to make the same laws cover the sale of liquor in drug stores in "wet" counties as in "dry" counties.
The bill that got by after once being set back to committee was the Sours bill to allow townships to legally refuse to issue saloon licenses, thereby making the townships "dry," although they are located in "wet" counties. An effort to give this bill immediate effect was killed.
The Culver "pure booze" bill, to have the state dairy and food commission examine all brands of intoxicants sold in Michigan and providing fees for the registering of each brand, as was the Hulse bill to prevent the use of the name of any former president in connection with liquor advertisements.

TURKS DESTROY TEN VILLAGES

REPORTS OF TERRIBLE MASSACRES CONTINUE TO COME FROM REFUGEES.

WILSON IS ASKED FOR HELP

Armenians Are Being Put to Death by the Hundreds According to Stories Given Out by Russia.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, via Petrograd and London—Refugees who have reached the Russian line report that the massacre of Armenians by Mohammedans is being continued on even a greater scale than reported. They say that all the inhabitants of 10 villages near Van, in Armenia, Asiatic Turkey, have been put to death. The Katolik, head of the Armenian church, at Echmiadzin, near Erivan, has cabled to President Wilson an appeal to the people of the United States on behalf of the Armenians.
The Associated Press received reports of the massacre of 800 of the villagers in Urza and of 720 in Salmas. Three weeks failed to obliterate the signs of the slaughter. In Hattivan the caps of 36 victims lay where a mud wall had been toppled over on them.
A young man named Hackatur related the story of his escape from a well in which the bodies of the dead had been crammed. He was tossed into the well, but he managed to wriggle through the bodies lying on top of him, and escaped.

WOMEN TO VOTE IN DENMARK

Diet Also Confers Right to Hold Membership in That Body.

Copenhagen—The Danish diet Friday adopted an amendment to the constitution giving the vote to women and conferring upon them the right of election to the diet.
The amendment further abolishes the special qualifications which up to the present time have been required for election to the upper house of parliament.
This amendment has still to be passed by the new diet, to be elected next month, before it becomes effective.
It is hoped that King Christian will sign the new constitution June 5, the anniversary of the signing of the first constitution in 1849.

STATE ORDER IS REVERSED

Judge Smith Rules That Road Need Not Build Sidings.

Charlotte—An opinion of unusual importance was filed by Judge Clement Smith Saturday when he overruled the judgment of the Michigan railroad commission, relative to an order directing the Grand Trunk to install a switch and siding at Bellevue for the use of Zipp brothers, lime rock dealers.
The court finds that the order of the commission is unreasonable and if installed as requested the switch and siding would be a source of great danger. The Grand Trunk had offered to install a siding, but not as directed by the commission. An appeal will probably be taken.
Preparing for Spring Fires.
Marquette—Every deputy fire warden in the upper peninsula has been warned to keep especially close watch for forest fires, the lack of rainfall this spring having made everything exceedingly dry and conditions being propitious for the outbreak and rapid spread of fires. Many brush fires are reported, but so far none of these have reached standing timber.
As a result of the open winter and slight rainfall since cold weather, timbered and brush lands are dry as tinder, and every day without rain increases the danger.

GERMAN CRUISER WILHELM INTERNS

COMMANDER GIVES ILLNESS OF CREW AS REASON FOR DECISION.

FORMERLY PASSENGER SHIP

Has Eluded Many Hostile War Vessels and Destroyed Thirteen Merchant Ships of the Allies.

Norfolk, Va.—While his crew was busily engaged in loading 3,000 tons of coal in the hold of the German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm Monday afternoon, Captain Thierfelder, her commander, announced suddenly that he desired to intern until the close of the European war.
The commander presented this note to Collector of Customs Hamilton: "Herewith I have to officially inform you that I intern."
Thierfelder declared a good portion of his crew were ill with beriberi and could not take on new men to fill their places. He said he would have made a dash for the sea if his crew had been well enough to attend to their duties.
Captain Thierfelder had until Friday to sail or intern. The ship will probably be interned at the Norfolk navy yard, where the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the first German raider to put into Newport News, also is interned.
The Wilhelm was formerly a North German Lloyd passenger liner plying between New York and Bremen. Several times during her raiding career she was reported destroyed, but she eluded many hostile warships and destroyed 13 merchant vessels of the Allies, and one neutral vessel, a Norwegian bark.

FREDERICK SEWARD IS DEAD

Son of Noted Civil War Secretary Under Lincoln.

Montrose, N. Y.—Frederick W. Seward, twice assistant secretary of state, son of the noted Civil war secretary, William H. Seward, died early Sunday morning in his eighty-fifth year at his residence at Montrose, on the Hudson.
He is survived by his widow, brother, General William H. Seward, of Auburn, N. Y., at whose residence services were held prior to interment in the family lot at Fort Hill cemetery, Auburn.
Frederick W. Seward was the last survivor, it is believed, of those who took part in the events of that tragic night in Washington on April 14, 1865, when President Lincoln was shot down at Ford's theatre by John Wilkes Booth.

MRS. STEELE TO STAND TRIAL

Muskegon Woman Surprises Authorities by Plea of Not Guilty.

Muskegon—Surprising the authorities, Mrs. Albert Steele, alleged to have confessed to killing her 11-year-old stepdaughter, Evelyn M. Steele, Monday afternoon pleaded not guilty in circuit court to first degree murder.
Mrs. Steele appeared unmoved by the curious throng which crowded the court room and the corridors.
Attorneys R. W. Gale and Harry W. Jackson were appointed to defend Mrs. Steele.
In anticipation of a plea of not guilty, the officers took photographs of marks on the child's throat that seem to indicate that she may have been strangled.

SCHOOL

The last entertainment in the lecture course was given at Arber's hall Monday evening, it being a concert by the Morrow Brothers.

The alumni officers hope that every member of the association will try to attend the reunion this year which will be held June 18th.

The high school ball team have about a dozen games booked. Saturday the Stockbridge team comes here to play them on the school grounds.

The senior class of the high school is composed of 13 members, eight girls and five boys, as follows: Galta Waters, Pearl Coleman, Marguerite Riedel, Lulu Lehman, Helen Behfus, Anna Rodisler, Marse Bowles, Edith Sutton, Will Chase, Guy Tracy, Taylor Gage, Whitney Riedel, Carl Schable.

In his talk on "The Use of the School as a Social Center," at the meeting of the Civic class of the Congregational church yesterday afternoon, Durand W. Springer, secretary of the National Educational association, reminded his hearers that this so-called new movement is in reality an effort to regain some of the community spirit of an earlier time.

"Many of us can remember," he said, "the baking bees, the barn raisings and other excursions that were used in the country as opportunities to get the people together. There was a time when we went down to the postoffice to get our own mail. The postoffice was then the greatest social center of the community that could be found. There the policies of the community were discussed and we succeeded in getting groups that looked over these matters. In the days prior to the present, the schoolhouse was more largely used than it is today, or was five years ago anyway."

With regard to the modern revival of this old use of the schoolhouse, Mr. Springer said that no one should speak of a school as a social center, unless it is open regularly and frequently for social or civic purposes. In fact, the term "community center," he thought was broader and likely to come into popular usage. Among the activities that go to make up a social center, he mentioned lectures, socials, club meetings, exhibits of all kinds including physical culture drills, political meetings under certain restrictions, and handicraft work.

In Michigan four cities can claim that their schools are serving as community or social centers: Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Pontiac. Ann Arbor has one ward which has developed, with the assistance of the public library, a live community center in the school buildings—the fifth ward, which is making the utmost use of the Doanover school.

"The place that is large enough to have more than one school," said Mr. Springer

"is large enough to have more than one interest developed in its social center. The best results are obtained when each school develops its own interest, under general regulation. It is possible to force the growth of this idea from the outside, but it is impractical. The results are not lasting. Just insofar as the community finds that it has something that it wants to work out, the social center work can be started and developed with the best result. The schoolhouse growth has not been found to be lasting." Mr. Springer also explained that anyone who attempted to lead the work in the community center must be the choice of the people of the community.—Ann Arbor News.

Passing of Henry Gilbert

A man whom the oldest inhabitants of Manchester knew very well and respected because of his pleasant manner, honesty and liberality, but who on account of the loss of his only son had ceased to mingle with the new comers, though he retained all of his early virtues, has passed from our presence, leaving his widow and many friends to mourn his departure.

He was one of the early settlers of the township, his father, David Gilbert, having located the farm just west of town, where he died many years ago.

Mr. Gilbert had been in poor health the past few years but up to the last he was patient and pleasant. Last Sunday afternoon his friends laid his remains away in Oak Grove, near his late residence. He was 70 years of age.

The following lines have been thought most appropriate:

The House by the Side of the Road.

(He was a friend to man and lived in a house by the side of the road.—Homer.)

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn in the peace of self-content:

There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart. In a fellowship of firmament:

There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths where highways never ran:

But let me live by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road, where the race of men go by—

The men who are good and the men who are bad.

As good and as bad as I, I would not sit in the scorners' seat.

Or haul the cynic's ban.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road—

By the side of the highway of life, The men who press with the ardor of hope

The men who are faint with strife But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—

Both parts of an infinite plan; Let me live in my house by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead,

And mountains of wearisome height; That the road passes on through the long afternoon,

And stretches away in the night. But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice, And weep with the strangers that moan,

For live in my house by the side of the road Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road,

Where the race of men go by— They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong.

Wise, foolish—am I. Then why should I sit in the scorners' seat, Or haul the cynic's ban?

Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend of man.

Sam Walter Foss.

Plans for a campaign to raise $100,000 for the erection of a union clubhouse similar to that at the University of Michigan were made public by the secretary of the Michigan Agricultural College Alumni association. A site on the campus probably will be chosen for the building, which will include a clubhouse for undergraduates and the alumni, and dormitories for alumni visitors.

A new record for shaft sinking has been made by the Newport Mining company, at Ironwood. In 30 days it sunk a steel shaft, 21 by 13 feet, 190 feet. The shaft will be 2,000 feet deep. The Newport company has resumed work with its full force. The Rogers-Brown interests will resume work at the Portland mine, an open pit mine near Michigan, and shipping will begin at once.
