Opposed to War Training

Superintendent of Public Instruction Fred L. Kessler declares that he is opposed to any plan whereby military training would be established in the public schools of Michigan. "It is not right for colleges and universities, but has no place in the public school system," he said. "We know of no such military training will be for a country. Let us teach the boys the policy of the square deal instead of taking time from their studies to interest them in the manual of arms."

Pays a Big Water Bill

Through the carelessness or neglect of the plumber one of our citizens has been using water without paying for it. He was one of the first to be connected with the water works. The water bill for the month of August was $10.00. The plumber who installed the street and officers investigating discovered that he was not on the city water books. The city has a pretty bill against him now. He says that the water in the street was run from his barn instead of the water works.

Buffalo? Skeleton Found in Marsh

In ditching on W. H. Schlicht's land northeast of the village the men uncovered the skeleton of what is supposed to be a Bison or Musk Ox. The specimen is a very good one, only a part of the nose was broken off by one of the ditchers' shovels. It was found about four feet under the ground. Only a portion of the head was seen. The men in the ditch and the workmen took no time to uncover the body which is probably in a good state of preservation. The teeth would indicate that the animal was full grown.

Good Bye Old Landmark

As announced last week, the old building on the east side of the street, opposite the H. H. Railroad building, has been taken down. The roof and siding had been removed leaving nothing but the solid oak frame standing on Tuesday night. This building was one of the very first erected in the village. We believe first erected in the village. We believe first erected in the village. We believe first erected in the village.

George Schaffer who travels for a Jackson concern perhaps covers more territory than any of the other commercial travelers who reside here. As a matter of fact he makes a pretty clean sweep of the United States in the course of a year. If there should be any exception it would be the northwest and Pacific coast states.

Fred H. Blosser, son of Mat D. Blosser of the Manchester Enterprise, will return from Seattle, Wash., to take up the management of The Enterprise. This does not mean that the senior member will retire, but that he will be able to enjoy a little more leisure. In point of continuous service, Mr. Blosser is the oldest publisher in Michigan.—Brooklyn Exponent.

The following Detroiters visited over Sunday with the Wurster families, Mr. & Mrs. C. F. Wurster, Mr. & Mrs. H. A. Grogokop Jr., Miss Georgia Wurster, Gayley W. Stockham, Miss Maud Wurster and Don W. Shain also Miss Louise Wurster of Jackson.

F. A. Bradish, secretary of the Lenawee county fair has sent The Enterprise a ticket to the show, Sept. 20-24. We would like to attend, we think every farmer at least should patronize the fairs nearest to his home and they are good places for other people to go and get posted on farming matters, see the races and visit with friends you haven't seen before in a long time.

The first change reported to be made in the rural routes in this section comes with the elimination of Carrier Beck with from Norvell route No. 2. It is said that his Sharon patrons will go to the carrier from Grass Lake but we doubt it, believing some will come to Manchester. A few changes will also be made in route No. 1. We expect that one route out of Manchester will be dropped and patrons supplied by lengthening the other routes.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Hon. Elihu Root
On Woman's Sphere

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have adopted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every voter to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the constitutional convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the state, and to every man and every woman in the state. It would be useless to argue this if the right of suffrage were a natural right. If it were a natural right, then women should have it though the heavens fall. But if there be any one thing settled in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone.

"Into my judgment, sir, there enters no element of the inferiority of woman. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions.

"Woman rules today by the sweet and noble influences of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and nervous for strife, weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive; as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we confess submission, as the heaven is removed from the earth.

"The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of protection rests with the male. It is so throughout nature. It is so with men and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the women whom I love, and the women whom I respect, exercising the birthright of man, and place that high duty in the weak and nervous hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the stern warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women.

"The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy; I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of social development, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries backward on the march towards a higher, nobler and purer civilization, which must be found not in the confusion, but in the higher differentiation of the sexes."
