CARSON RESIGNS FROM CABINET

CRISIS IN BRITISH GOVERNMENT THOUGHT IMMINENT.

GEN. HAMILTON IS RECALLED

Reason for Action of Attorney General is Thought to Be Popular Demand for Change.

London—Sir Edward Carson, attorney general, has resigned from the cabinet and General Sir Ian Hamilton has been recalled from command of the British forces on the Dardanelles front.

These two announcements, coming late Monday night, are expected to bring on the government crisis that has been predicted ever since the diplomatic failure of the Allies in the Balkans became known.

The reasons for Sir Edward Carson's resignation were not made public, but it is surmised that his retirement was the outcome of his advocacy of conscription.

It was reported some days ago that several members of the cabinet were about to resign as a means of compelling conscription.

Sir Edward Carson's resignation is said to have been in the hands of Premier Asquith for several days.

The recall of General Hamilton was announced in the following statement issued by the war office:

"General Sir Charles Carmichael Monro has been appointed to command the Mediterranean force in succession of Sir Ian Hamilton, who is returning to England to report. Pending General Monro's arrival General Birdwood commands."

Thus three sources of controversy between the government and the public—the Dardanelles campaign, the Balkan situation and the conscription question—have virtually been brought to an issue.

The dissatisfaction with the conduct of war by the present cabinet of 22 is growing apace with the ever-increasing demand for the elimination from the government as many "lawyer-politicians" as possible. It is urged that they be replaced by naval and military experts and big-business men with great organizing capacity who have proved their ability in their respective lines.

Despite the restrictions imposed by the censorship, public opinion is compelling the press to take the matter seriously.

It is plain that a crisis is at hand. The ministers are still endeavoring to protect themselves either by attempts to justify themselves in public speeches or communications to the newspapers, or through the guise of anonymous letters to their constituents, but the people no longer hearken to the cry, "Trust the government!"

THE ENDLESS CHAIN IN THE WAR REGION

This photograph taken along a road in Poland illustrates the dramatic tragedy that occurs every day in Europe—a divided road; on one side, able-bodied, vigorous men-marching to the front; on the other, Red Cross ambulance trains toiling toward the rear laden with broken bodies. So long as the first line moves forward, the second line also moves—to the rear.

TESLA SEES VISION

Predicts "World System" of Wireless in Future.

Hundreds Will Be Able to Talk at Same Time Through the Earth—Static Disturbance Eliminated by Invention.

New York—Nikola Tesla announced that he had received a patent on an invention which would not only eliminate static interference, the present bugaboo of wireless telephony, but would enable thousands of persons to talk at once through wireless stations and make it possible for those talking to see one another by wireless, regardless of the distance separating them. He said also that with his wireless station now in the process of construction on Long Island he hoped to make New York one of the central exchanges in a world system of wireless telephony.

IS EAGER TO BE A NURSE

Miss Helen Namur, a popular leader and one of the prettiest girls in her set, longs for an opportunity to aid the people of King Albert's war-torn country. Since the outbreak of the war she has worked unceasingly in the interests of Belgium, being enrolled in practically all the movements for the aid of the tiny kingdom where back in the fourteenth century her ancestors played a leading part in some of the most important and romantic historical events of the little country. They lived in the vicinity of Namur, where the greatest forts in the world were shattered by the 42-centimeter guns of the German army, and many of their descendants resided there until the outbreak of the war. Miss Namur's parents came to the United States 49 years ago and settled in New York, where she was born. Realizing the great need of workers in the stricken country where many of her relatives are fighting in the trenches, she offers to go as a war nurse or as a relief worker to aid the helpless women and children left at home to fight battles at even greater odds than those encountered by the men who held the Germans back until the French were mobilized.

TELLS SEA ROMANCE

Sole Survivor Recalls Wreck of Bark Egypt.

Went Down in Gale in Bahama Sixty-Six Years Ago—Clings to Rigging for Five Days and Nights.

Blackwell, Okla.—The only survivor of the wreck of the bark Egypt 66 years ago is visiting relatives in Kay county, and celebrated the anniversary of what was known to him as the most terrible week he has spent in his eighty-nine years on this earth. Sheridan is yet a hale and hearty old "sea dog" and his tale of the adventure many years ago in which practically the whole crew of the bark were drowned and the remaining 13 came near meeting a much worse death was told by him in this fashion: "It was sixty-six years ago this summer that the old bark Egypt put out from Portland, Me., with a cargo of lumber and a few weeks later struck a real northwester while in the gulf stream near the Banks of Bahama. A happy outfit we were, all full of life. On the evening of September 6 a storm struck us and for six hours we battled that gale in a terrific fight. Finally, however, the bark turned over. The masts and rigging were left afloat, and to these those of us that were left made. When we counted up the next day, there were thirteen of us.

"Without food, without a drop of fresh water, suffering intensely from the semitropical midsummer sun of day and night from the cold at night, half-famished and nearly crazed from thirst, we clung to the rigging of that half-sunken vessel for five days and nights. "Time after time I was in the notion of letting go and ending the torture in the cool deep of the sea, but each time the love of life was too great, and I held on in the hope that some time before my mind left me, which is the usual ending of those cast out in that way, we might be rescued by a passing boat. "On the evening of the fifth day a sailing vessel bound for New York sighted us an hour after we had seen it. That was the longest hour of my life, for I was afraid that they would go right on by without seeing us. We quickly revived, but the memory of those times will be vivid always."

CATS FOR FOOD IN HUNGARY

Demand Causes Jump in Price Until Maximum is Set by Authorities.

Paris.—The Figaro quotes the Budapest correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung as follows: "The official organ of the central Hungarian slaughter houses states that in the Biharskasser district, where all the Italian residents of Hungary are interned, a great number of cats are killed and dressed daily. The demand has been such that the price of cats rose to a prohibitive figure, hence the local authorities stepped in and fixed the maximum price at three crowns the kilo." (About 25 cents a pound.)

FRYE NOTE IS MADE PUBLIC

United States Does Not Regard Life Boats As Sufficiently Safe.

Washington—Publication Monday night of the text of the latest note sent by the United States to Germany in the case of the American ship William P. Frye reveals that the United States does not regard "an opportunity to escape in lifeboats" as sufficient safety for passengers and crew of any American vessel destroyed when carrying contraband. In the note, which is dated October 12, Secretary Lansing expresses satisfaction that Germany agreed to the American proposal for a joint commission of experts to fix damages for the loss of the Frye, sunk by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, and concurs in the suggestion from Berlin that it is not necessary to appoint an umpire in advance.

CITY PREPARING TO TAKE CARE OF THOUSANDS OF TEACHERS.

STATE MEETING THIS MONTH

Exceptionally High Grade of Talent On Program Expected to Equal Previous Records of Attendance.

Saginaw—This city has preparations about completed for members of the Michigan State Teachers' association, who will come here October 28 and 29 for their sixty-third annual state convention. It is expected there will be between 7,000 and 8,000 teachers, as reservations are pouring in from all sections of the state and the officers of the association have reports that the attendance will be unusually heavy.

Last year at Grand Rapids there were nearly 8,000 present, and the city was nearly swamped for accommodations, but Saginaw, through a two months' canvass of the city, has made arrangements so that every teacher that comes can find a good room and meals. The homes of the city have been opened up for the visitors, and all commercial organizations have assisted in securing the lodgings.

Louise Homer, the prima donna, will be the great musical number for the convention, and the speaking talent will be made up of ex-President Tarr, David Starr, Jordan, of Leland Stanford university; Mary Antin, of New York city; P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, and others.

CANDY TO RELIEVE FATIGUE

British Soldiers in France Devour Sweets in Enormous Quantities—Substitute for Alcohol.

The value of candy is recognized by military authorities. The British soldiers in France are reported as consuming "prodigious quantities of sweets." A captain at the front with the British army reports that the cautions has "five times the demand for sweets that was expected, and one-fifth the demand for beer." The Australians encamped in Egypt have eaten all the chocolate to be had in Cairo.

Scientists contend the sugar has much food value and is a good substitute for alcohol. Chocolate, for example, is harmlessly stimulating. Soldiers have discovered what scientists know before that sugar will relieve fatigue quickly and give a sense of strength that is real without the subsequent depression experienced by those who use spirits. Sugar and candies are found to be useful not only to the physically tired, but to those who suffer mental exhaustion.

The Largest, Strongest, and most Progressive Society of Women in the World.

Non-political and non-sectarian. Offers more opportunities to women than any other society. Good training and future success, love of humanity and protection of helpless little ones.

A splendid opportunity for broad-minded and sympathetic women to join this great fraternal chain of one hundred and eighty-six thousand women banded together for the betterment of their own sex. This Organization has a national reputation for this great work in the interest of women, and has already paid into homes of deceased and distressed members over twelve million dollars, every dollar going into some home in time of want and distress. We cannot begin to record the deeds of loving kindness and sympathy that have gone hand in hand with these disbursements.

This Organization has risen to high position in Fraternal Insurance through the hearty co-operation of its members and has built up by the management of its officers, a reserve of over eight million dollars.

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was founded in Michigan by Michigan women in 1892; the cornerstone of its own building, laid in Port Huron, October 22, 1915, being the first woman's benefit association in the world to erect its own building.

Your loved ones are protected by our death benefits; we will see that you have proper burial with our burial benefits. We will take care of you when sick through sick benefits and hospital service.

SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Logan visited the first primary last Friday.

Mrs. Sortor and Mrs. Higgins visited the first and second primary last Friday.

Mrs. Geo. Graham and Mrs. Graham of Niles visited the first primary Wednesday.

The foot ball team did not go to Britton Friday as the invitation came too late.

The children enjoy the swings, teeter boards etc., on the school grounds, these bright days.

The motto for the week is "There is only one person you need to manage and that is yourself."

We wish every pupil in school would commit to memory each week the motto selected for that week.

The attendance at school has been very good. The teachers appreciate the co-operation of the parents.

Teachers' meetings are held every alternate Wednesday after school. The subject "How to study" was discussed Wednesday.

The Alpha Sigma Monday was well attended and an interesting program was given. All that took part did well. The debate: "Resolved, that the farmer is more indispensable to society than the mechanic," was decided in favor of the negative by the judges, Mrs. Geo. Smith, Misses Gaita Waters and Ruby Stautz. Guy Tracy was appointed critic and gave a pleasing report at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held Nov. 1st. A cordial invitation is extended to all parents and friends to attend.
