ROBERT FAY TELLS STORY TO KNOX

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY IS GIVEN DETAILS OF BOMB PLOTS.

CONFESSION IS VOLUNTARY

Truth of Prisoner's Story is Not Yet Assured But Some Features Have Been Verified.

New York.—Robert Fay, self-styled lieutenant in the German army, and by his own confession head of a gang of bomb-makers that sought to disable or destroy munition-laden ships sailing from New York to the Allies, told the story of his life Monday to Assistant United States District Attorney Knox.

Fay talked freely, fully and of his own volition for five hours without interruption. What he said was not made public but at the conclusion of the session, Mr. Knox announced that all Fay wanted to do now was to plead guilty to the government's charges against him and go to jail.

The statement which the prisoner dictated carried him back to Germany, almost to the date of his birth, covered the high lights of his service in the German army, told in detail of his alleged mission to America and recited his movements and activities here.

Whether it was true in its essentials, District Attorney Marshall said afterward, had yet to be determined, but in some respects it was verified by information which the government had collected from other sources.

CAPTAIN STREETER IN TOILS

Chicago Police Finally Capture Famous Belligerent.

Chicago.—After an exchange of 50 shots the police Sunday invaded and captured Captain George Wellington Streeter's "District of Lake Michigan," a plot of filled-in land on the shore of Lake Michigan, where until Sunday Streeter had successfully defied the officers who sought to arrest him on a charge of violating the Sunday closing order.

Mrs. John Holst, wife of one of Streeter's tenants, was slightly wounded, Streeter, his wife and 15 others were placed under arrest and 192 cases of beer, six rifles, four revolvers and a quantity of ammunition were confiscated.

The land claimed by Streeter by squatter's rights adjoins the fashionable lake shore residence district.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON DEAD

Foremost Colored Citizen of America Passes Away at Tuskegee.

Tuskegee, Ala.—Booker T. Washington, the Negro race, died early Sunday at his home here near the Tuskegee Institute of which he was founder and president.

Hardening of the arteries following a nervous breakdown caused death four hours after Dr. Washington arrived from New York.

His last public appearance was at the National Conference of Congregational churches in New York, where he delivered a lecture October 25.

A widow, three children and four grandchildren survive. John H. Washington, a brother, is superintendent of industries at Tuskegee institute.

Fire Hero to Be Pardoned. Jackson.—The board of pardons has recommended executive clemency in the case of Charles Smith, a lifer from Eaton Rapids, on account of services rendered to the state in the performance of which he received injury.

Smith is the convict who was stabbed recently by a fellow inmate, William Sutton, a Lansing arsonist, because he extinguished a fire in a prison shop which Sutton had started. The latter is to be tried at the present term of court on a charge of attempted murder.

The schools of New Lothrop have been closed for the second time within three weeks because of diphtheria.

Chicago.—A hospital motor ambulance costing $5,000 will be presented to the British army by the British Empire association of Chicago as a memorial to the late Miss Edith Cavell, the nurse recently shot at Brussels by the Germans, it was announced Friday.

London.—For fear that the lights might furnish a target for aiding Zeppelins, Sunday evening's services have been discontinued at St. Paul's cathedral, one of the most famous churches in the world.

Atlanta, Ga.—A measure revising Georgia's prohibition laws, designed to eliminate completely breweries, locker clubs and "near beer saloons," now in operation, was passed Friday night by the lower house of the legislature.

It already had passed the senate and it is understood to have the approval of Governor Harris.

ITALIANS CROSSING THE ISONZO BY FERRY

WAR DOGS FROM FAR-OFF ALASKA FOR THE FRENCH

"Scotty" Allan, Famous Driver, Supplies Consignment for Dispatch Service.

"MUTS" BRING GOOD PRICE

Fine-Looking, Alert Animals, Some Weighing as Much as 80 or 90 Pounds—One of Them Was a Contender in Last Sweepstakes.

Winnipeg, Man.—A slight little man, with a small, lean frame, keen features and iron gray hair, stood in the door of a box car at the stock yards. He wore yellow overalls and a coat to match. Little feet, encased in square-toed, custom-made shoes, protruded from beneath his trousers.

In fact, he looked like a stock yard attendant, and yet he is renowned throughout America, for this was A. A. ("Scotty") Allan, the world's greatest dog-driver.

With Lieutenant Haas of the French army, he was passing through Winnipeg with 400 malamutes from Nome, Alaska, to be used in France this winter for dispatch service and the transportation of supplies and ammunition to the firing line.

A stop was made here to rest the dogs, and they were unloaded into the stock yards with a guard from the Seventy-ninth (Cameron) Highlanders to watch over them.

Three out of eight times "Scotty" Allan has won the All-Alaska sweepstakes, the greatest long-distance dog-race in the world—408 miles from Nome to Candel and return. In three instances he was second and twice he was third.

"I have been in every race yet held," he said, "and I have not run out of the money yet."

In the first race which he won the stake was $11,000, but last year the stake had dwindled, because of the pinch from the war, to $3,750. "Scotty's" best time in the event has been 76 hours, while the record of 74 hours was made over better trails.

Genial Little Scotchman. Geniality and sociability seemed bred in this vigorous little Scotchman, and he is as active as a boy despite his forty-eight years.

"The kifites on guard had not been on the ground an hour before they were fast friends, and they pressed upon him an invitation to the dance at the armories."

"Ye-e-a dance the Hiberns bring an' hoot for all ye're worth," said one red-faced youth with the thick burr of the Highlands in his voice. "Ye're yaken we have the pipes and ye'll have a braw time."

"I hae nae doot o' it," said Scotty, and he gave his solemn promise to be on hand. He said he loved the dance.

Three cars are used to transport the dogs, and each car is divided into a series of compartments so that each animal is separated from his neighbors. There has not been a dog lost since they started. In one car is kept the supplies, consisting of three and one-half tons of sun-dried salmon caught at Kotzebue on the Arctic ocean. Here, too, were stored eight of the long sleds, some of them of the toboggan type, which have been made famous by many authors in the tales of the North. There were also 150 sets of harness, together with several Eskimo "parkies," or reindeer and squirrel skin coats, with a hood that fits snugly over the head in stormy weather. In addition there were several pairs of "mukluks," or high-wa-terproof boots, made of sealskin tops with the hair exposed, and soles made from tough sea lion hides.

Price From $30 to $50. "Scotty" said that he had with him several of the dogs that took part in the All-Alaska stakes. He had refused $200 for two of these just before he left Nome. Many of the malamutes were purchased, he said, for as high as $40 and $50, but on an average the price paid was about $30. The animals, he said, were coming through in fine shape. At first they had been fed on one fish a day, but as they were setting too fat, this had been reduced to half a fish daily. Every dog was tied by a chain to the fence of the stock pens and widely separate from his neighbors. They were a miscellaneous lot. Allan explained that they were mostly "breds," but for the most part they were of one type—big, wolflike fellows, with narrow eyes, ears crooked and pointed, and a long, protruding snout. Some of them weighed as much as 80 or 90 pounds. A remarkable fact was that several of them were of a very marked setter strain, and the great dog driver said there was no better dog in the north country than a setter crossed with a malamute—that is, he added, "if he gets the malamute feet."

Reliable Old Irish. "Ah, Irish, old boy!" he called to one handsome animal, and the dog with the red touches of the Irish setter strain looked up at him with big, soft eyes and wagged its tail in affectionate greeting. When this dog stood on his legs were seen to be long and straight and powerful, and he had large, padded feet.

"I drove this dog in the last sweepstakes," said "Scotty," and he just put his head into the collar and stayed with me all the way. He'd rather die than quit. The setter strain," he added, "has got more intelligence and endurance and ambition than any other breed."

Some of the dogs were pure white; some were of a brownish color, with round, rat faces and squatty-looking bodies, and there was one pup, a pure Siberian, three months old, that was being taken along as a mascot. He had a head shaped like a fox. From a line of sixteen of these dogs are used on a sleigh, and the highly prized lead dogs are in a class by themselves.

Morayshire, in Scotland, was the home of "Scotty" Allan. He came to North Dakota with an assignment of thoroughbred horses in 1887. He recalled that his first experience in dog driving was in the Turtle mountain range of Manitoba, when he drove a mail route. Subsequently he wandered over the western states, engaged principally in railway building. He helped build the Great Northern railway, and in the spring of 1897 he went to the Klondike in the gold rush, going over the Skagway trail, which he helped to build. He is now a member of the hardware firm of Darling & Dean at Nome, and Mrs. Darling, wife of one of his partners, is interested financially with him in his racing dogs. They have sold 20 of these dogs to the French government, and have 27 left.

Allan and his assistants are going only as far as Quebec with the dogs, and on his return he will spend the winter in California—the first winter in almost twenty that he has spent outside the Arctic circle. He has one daughter, a girl of eighteen, attending the university at Berkeley. There is another daughter, aged seventeen, and a boy of nine. He says that gold mining at Nome is not being conducted on the same scale as formerly. Most of the work is being done by big syndicates working with dredges. The war has hit the country hard, and there is not much ready cash in sight. Lieutenant Haas, who will take the dogs to France, spent eight years in the Klondike, and he was eleven months in the trenches before he was sent on his mission to Alaska. The explosion of a shell rendered him deaf in one ear.

CAPITAL DEBUTANTES

The Misses Suzanne (left) and Elizabeth (right) are the daughters of Captain and Mrs. Volney O. Chase, V. B. N., and are among the prominent debutantes in Washington society this winter. Captain Chase is a member of the staff of Admiral William S. Benson, of the bureau of operations of the navy department. No date has yet been announced for their coming-out party.

CASE IN COURT FIFTY YEARS

Lafayette Keeps Ground Given for Market According to Decision of Appellate Court.

Lafayette, Ind.—The city of Lafayette has won a lawsuit, which, in various forms, has been in court the last fifty years. The appellate court has upheld a decision to the effect that the so-called market space, which is now used as a city street in the midst of the business district, belongs to the city.

The heirs of Aaron Glasgill who seventy years ago gave the ground to the city for use as a public market, have possession of the ground, asserting that under the terms of the grant the land reverted to them when the city ceased to use it for the purpose indicated.

WEARS HIS CARD ON BROW

Mexican Had His Name and Address Tattooed on Forehead to Insure Identification.

San Francisco.—"What's your name?" demanded Assistant District Attorney Becsey of a Mexican charged with vagrancy.

The defendant brushed back his hair, but did not speak. Becsey repeated his question. Same response. Then the Spanish interpreter tried. The man pointed to a spot on his forehead. Becsey looked closely, and tattooed on the man's brow was "Fred Harris, Sonora, Mexico."

"I have heart disease. I may drop dead. I don't want my grave to be unmarked," the prisoner explained. Judge Brady dismissed him.

Finest Homestead. Seattle, Wash.—What is probably the smallest homestead ever proved is that recently awarded by the United States land office to Fred A. Hunsen of Toit. The homestead comprised forty one-hundredths of an acre, adjoining another homestead owned for some time by Hunsen near Toit. The tiny homestead is technically described as lot 8, township 25 north, range 7 east.

MOTORMAN SAVES CAR FROM CRASH

RECEIVES BURNS WHILE STOPPING WILD DASH DOWN STEEP GRADE.

CLOSE ESCAPE FROM WRECK

Heroism of Frank Bird Prevents Limited Interurban From Running Into Other Cars Near Rochester.

Rochester.—Motorman Frank Bird, of Rochester, was badly burned and 40 passengers, on southbound Saginaw-Detroit United railway limited No. 41, which had left Saginaw at 8:10 Saturday morning, were thrown into a panic when the car ran wild on the hill half a mile north of Rochester at 10:35 Saturday morning.

A broken trolley wire smashed the glass in the front vestibule and burned off the handle of the air brake control, rendering it useless. While the car ran wild at 50 miles an hour down the grade toward the Rochester car barns, where the first section and a freight car was standing, Bird, in a shower of sparks, struggled to reach the hand brake. The passengers began crowding toward the rear platform, but were prevented from jumping off by the conductor. Bird managed to stop his car at the crest of the steepest part of the descent.

He was badly burned about the arms and will have to forego a hunting trip north that he had planned. He will be laid up two weeks.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY BOYS

Conference Prefers to Hold Three-Day Convention Independently Next Year.

Battle Creek.—With the adjournment of the older boys' conference at the First Methodist church Saturday, the Michigan State Sunday School association concluded its fifty-fifth session.

Resolutions were adopted asking the state association to provide a three-day boys' convention in some city other than the one selected by the conference. It is not likely that the young people will meet in Holland in 1916.

At the business session officers were elected as follows: President, Ivan Gordon, of Greenville; vice-president, Coleman Cheesey, of Goblesville; secretary, Howard Fifield, of Sparta; treasurer, Harold Millard, of Battle Creek.

The Misses Suzanne (left) and Elizabeth (right) are the daughters of Captain and Mrs. Volney O. Chase, V. B. N., and are among the prominent debutantes in Washington society this winter. Captain Chase is a member of the staff of Admiral William S. Benson, of the bureau of operations of the navy department. No date has yet been announced for their coming-out party.

DR. DRAPER KILLED BY CAR

Superintendent of University Hospital Meets Fatal Accident.

Ann Arbor.—Superintendent J. B. Draper, of the University hospital, was almost instantly killed when he was struck by an Ann Arbor street car at the corner of Twelfth street and North University avenue as he was on his way home at 6 o'clock Saturday night. Both legs and one arm were cut off.

The accident happened almost opposite the Homeopathic hospital and he was rushed to the operating room there, but died within 10 minutes.

Mr. Draper, who was about 48 years old, had been superintendent of the hospital for 10 years.

He leaves a widow and one daughter.

TO ARREST INHUMANE RESORTERS.

Muskegon.—Fully a score of prominent summer resorters who spend the warmer months at Lake Michigan park and whose homes are located in Grand Rapids, Detroit, Chicago and other large cities, will face criminal charge of failing to provide proper food and shelter for pet dogs and cats they abandoned when they closed up their summer homes for the season this fall. Humane Officer Edward T. Healy is now engaged in an effort to locate those who left such animals to run wild in the sand dunes and forests lining the shores of Lake Michigan near here.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

J. J. Brown On Farmers' Union Invites Co-operation

Co-operation is a mighty word that is ringing from ocean to ocean, reverberating from field to factory and echoing down the corridors of business. It is the slogan of the Farmers' Union, the guiding star of progress and the cornerstone of a new civilization. No man or organization can prosper without co-operation. Mr. J. J. Brown, the president of the Farmers' Union, in his annual address, extending to the business interests an invitation to co-operate, said in part:

"The time has come when it is absolutely necessary for the business interests of this country to get together and stand for the best interests of our country, in order that we may change the conditions that now exist in our handling and marketing of farm products. For that reason the Farmers' Union is holding public meetings throughout the country and we are cordially inviting the business interests to co-operate with us in our efforts to build up our agricultural interests."

"At the beginning of the government, from eighty to ninety per cent of all the wealth of this country was in the hands of the farmers. Since that time they have gradually lost the great part of the wealth of the farmers of this country—less than thirty per cent of the wealth. And while the farmers of the United States produced last year ten billion dollars worth of new wealth, they received, in round numbers, about forty per cent of this wealth, while those who manipulated and speculated in their product received sixty per cent."

"What would you think of the merchant who, knowing the cost of his goods, would allow a consumer to walk into his store and tell him that the price he must sell his goods for is the price he paid for them? He would not be submitting to him for the last half century. We do not blame the merchant, neither do we blame the man who takes advantage of the ignorance of our producers, thereby making millions of dollars in a business called legitimate. But we farmers are to blame for submitting to it."

"I believe in scientific farming, intensive farming, diversified farming, and from all these things matters of putting the cart before the horse. We must meet the basic economic conditions first, then add to them these other things."

"We've had one palliative plan after another given us from every source under the sun, but we've organized and demand, as organized, enlightened consumers. We must expect the tidal wave of failure to engulf the entire South and the land of our inheritance may pass from us forever."

The Enterprise press has printed last receipts for Treasurer Bowler and the treasurers of neighboring townships, who will fill them out and be ready to receive taxes the first of December.

A big drive of young steers passed through town Wednesday morning in charge of the overseer of Watkins farm. They had been on their range in freedom and were going to the home farm.

There was a fair attendance at the Methodist church Sunday morning, when the pastor, Rev. H. J. Johnson, gave his congregation a wholesome talk, defining somewhat his position as well as that.

Some of our readers are planning on attending the circus to begin at Ann Arbor, by Zai-Gas Grotto, beginning Saturday the 20th and continuing until the 27th, as advertised on the 8th page of The Enterprise.

We are afraid that a lot of farmers were disappointed when they saw the snow falling Tuesday morning. These few acres and some of them were hauled and plenty of other farm work that should be disposed of before winter sets in.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving and then there will be great rejoicing because so many of the boys and girls will be home to see "the old folks" and enjoy a good visit and dinner.

Tell The Enterprise about your company, please.

There will be a foot ball game on Brighton's park next Thursday afternoon. The Independents of Adrian, who have come here so many times on Thanksgiving day, are to play our town team, and if the weather is good we may see some fun.

A big rapidly driven auto ran into a drove of cattle belonging to Wm. Rehfuhs, Monday afternoon and five were injured. The men were from Adrian and had been in town getting supplies. They left here about 4 o'clock and in going down the hill east of Edgemoor, they met the herd which was driven by Geo. Dietle. Their car was badly wrecked but did not turn over. They settled with Mr. Rehfuhs Tuesday morning.

The second entertainment of the League course, a lecture by Clarence Lecker Miller on Tolstoy, at Arboretum Hall, Monday evening, was good, but it was perhaps a little too deep for some of the young people who had apparently come to have a good time and learn something from the author. Rev. Wulfman will give a brief talk. 800s will be held by Miss Nag and Miss Grogman and by Miss Nag and Miss Grogman and by Miss Nag and Miss Grogman and by Miss Nag and Miss Grogman.

Hand Injured By Buzz Saw

Ed Logan and men were buzzing with his own rig, at home Wednesday and he was attempting to saw when he thought a stick struck his hand, and it probably did, but when he drew off his glove he discovered his little finger on the right hand severed and his index finger cut. He refused the wound which was quite painful last night but The Enterprise learned by phone this morning that he is more comfortable.

Died From Gasoline Burns

Geo. Millsbaugh of Clinton crawled under an automobile Saturday night to see what was wrong with it and gasoline leaked on his clothes. He struck a match to make further investigation and in an instant his clothes were aflame and he suffered severely until hospital and the burn extracted. His recovery is uncertain.

If you want to buy some good cattle weighing from 500 to 900, good colors and good quality, come and see Wm. F. Rehfuhs.

Business places of Manchester will be closed all day Thursday, Thanksgiving.

Autumn Banquet Much Enjoyed

The annual autumn banquet given by the Methodist society at the church parlors last Thursday evening was a very enjoyable one to those who had the good fortune to attend it. The rooms were appropriately decorated with fruit, vegetable flowers, and looked very attractive. The tables were handsomely arranged to conveniently accommodate both the guests and those who served them. The menu was as follows: consommé soup, oyster crackers, olives, pickles, salad, Waldorf salad, roast veal, mashed potatoes, gravy, Parker House rolls, graham bread, ice cream, assorted cakes, coffee.

We learn that our venerable drayman H. K. Berger came near being thrown from his wagon last Friday night by a headless auto driver backing his car. Mr. Berger was bruised by being thrown against a stake but by grabbing hold of the stake he averted a fall which might have injured him severely.

Our merchants were pleased to have a change of weather. They stores are well stocked with goods but the weather has been so warm that people put off buying for future use and trade was not what the merchant expected. Now that colder weather has arrived they expect trade will be lively.

There appears to be considerable inquiry about the new Jennings and Johnson were unable to be present and County School Commissioner Ebery was called upon to assist in entertaining the company.

Bennett C. Root with his wife accompanied, sang so well that he was called back; Mr. Essery spoke briefly but entertainingly on "Memories," mingling a few stories in with the solemn thoughts which pleased his hearers and drew from them hearty applause.

Miss Myrtle Reman, with Miss Jessie Torrey at the piano, played a violin solo that was so well rendered that she was heartily endorsed. She is making fine progress in handling the bow. Judge Wirt Newkirk of Ann Arbor spoke on "Fads of Reform." His wide experience in several official capacities, his position as representative in the state legislature and secretary to Congressman Townsend, besides extensive travel throughout the country, furnished ample material for an excellent and interesting talk. He is no stranger in Manchester and the reception he received attested his popularity. He is a splendid story teller and kept the audience laughing at his witty sayings. Miss Marie Naught teacher in our public schools favored the company with a fine vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Viola Dietle, and graciously responded to an encore.

At the close of the banquet all enjoyed a social time.

Autumn Day Spent Pleasantly

Making an auto trip to Tecumseh Sunday afternoon the editor and family were pleased to visit upon some of our former Manchester friends, Mr. Wm. Fred Striegel and Mr. & Mrs. Lynn Hardenburg. Mrs. Briegel, a daughter of Jacob Rommel with her Garrison Underhill was once proprietor of the Manchester mill, followed dressing here and went to Tecumseh, where she has continued in that work serving the fashionable and discriminating ladies of the village and vicinity. Mr. Briegel once an expert shoemaker here on account of loss of sight is unable to do much. Their son, Dr. Walter Briegel enjoys a large practice here. We also found Mr. & Mrs. Hardenburg at home. Lynn is again confined to the bed with rheumatism. His affliction is enough to discourage the stoutest heart but Lynn bears it bravely with the cheerful assistance of his noble wife, loving wife, formerly Miss Ella Lehn, daughter of the late Conrad Lehn of this village. Her mother, Mrs. Lehn still lives here. Mr. & Mrs. Hardenburg have one daughter, Alice, a young lady who brings much sunshine into their home. We wanted to make other calls but time would not permit.

Geo. Kalmbach of Grass Lake was accidentally shot while hunting in the afternoon. He was taken to the Soo City hospital and the burn extracted. His recovery is uncertain.

NEW FURNITURE

for Thanksgiving and the Winter season generally

We have observed in the many years of our furniture experience that November invariably awakens a desire for the finer kinds of home furniture—the furniture for living rooms, for libraries, for parlors—quite naturally for dining rooms.

This week it is our pleasure to have ready for your inspection a beautiful and distinctive collection of pieces gathered from the most noted furniture builders in America.

Exceptional care has been given to the selection of medium qualities, though everything is notably fair priced.

This is a wonderfully satisfactory place to come for the new Thanksgiving furnishings

SCHOOL NEWS

Ralph Grossman entered the ninth grade Monday morning.

Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd the grades will give a Thanksgiving program in the high school room.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday of next week but school work will resume the following Monday morning.

Last Friday afternoon Commissioner and Mrs. Essery of Ann Arbor visited the high school and grades. Mr. Essery spoke to the various grades. He is always a welcome guest. It was the first time in eight years that Mrs. Essery visited the school.

The election of officers of Manchester lodge F. & A. M. occurs Dec. 20 and the installation must take place not later than St. John's day, Dec. 27. They are talking of having a public installation.

Don't delay subscribing for The Enterprise at once, if you do you will miss getting the opening chapters of our new continued story, "The Battle Cry," another of those wonderfully interesting stories of the Cumberland mountain people. Send in or bring in your name today.

It is not known how soon Frank Koebbe of Freedom will take possession of the post office. Everything there seems to be nicely taken care of by Miss Amanda Schmid and brother, but whenever the post office department is ready to check up the books and deliver the keys to Mr. Koebbe, we presume that he will be ready to assume responsibility and take charge of affairs. He will of course, move to town when he really becomes post master.

At the regular teachers' meeting this week, the teachers gave reports of the various schools visited and the work that is being done.

Among the visitors in the high school and grades the past week were Mrs. Mae Mobbs '93, of Tecumseh, Miss Louise Blum of Bridgewater and Guy Tracy '15.

Julius Wuerthner '09 of Great Falls, Mont., met with the high school Monday morning and gave a very interesting talk on the "Efficiency of Education." All are pleased to have former graduates call.

Sidney Lowery would like to go back to the farm and might take his grandfather's place, the one where his brother Frank lives, in Bridgewater. He can sell his draying business.

Manchester lodge F. & A. M. conferred the 1st degree upon two candidates Monday evening and two weeks from that date will initiate other candidates. There appears to be a number of our young men anxious to become members of that ancient and honorable order this fall.

One of the worst looking tramp umbrellas menders on the road was standing on a crossing a few days ago. A freight engine was switching cars and an auto driver watching an opportunity to cross the track, "honked" to the hobo though he knew he was aware the car was coming. He reluctantly kept out of the way and as the car passed said: "Hit me and I'll go to the hospital." It may be that he was just hankering for an excuse to get where he would be cared for, the scamp.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Ralph Peters
On Railway Mail Pay

A controversy has been raging in the columns of the press between the railroads and the Federal Post Office Department over the question of proper compensation for handling the United States mail. Mr. Ralph Peters, Chairman of the Railway Mail Committee, when asked to state the railroad side of the controversy to the American farmer, said in part:

"The railway mail pay question will be settled—and settled permanently and with justice to all concerned—as soon as the American people realize that the whole subject, while seemingly complicated and technical, boils down to a few simple points of fair business dealing which no one need be a rate expert to understand.

"The first is that the Post Office Department weighs the mails, and adjusts the pay of the railroads, only once in four years. This compels the railroads to carry the increase in the mail tonnage during the intervening years without pay—manifestly an injustice in the case of a rapidly growing business. One consequence has been that last year the railroads carried fully half the parcel post for nothing.

"A second point is this: In addition to carrying the mails, the railroads are required to operate many traveling post offices for sorting and distributing the mails while in transit. But the Post Office Department pays for such post offices only where they occupy whole cars, and pays nothing in the many cases in which it merely requires the use of post office apartments in combination cars, although such apartments differ from the full railway post office cars only in size. More than 4,200 apartments of this character have been fitted up, and are maintained for the exclusive use of the Post Office Department. Failure to pay for them has been an especial hardship to the smaller roads on which the Department does not find it necessary to utilize whole cars.

"One last point: In thousands of instances (though not in all) the Post Office Department requires the railroads to carry the mails back and forth between railroad stations and post offices, but pays them nothing for this extra service beyond the rates covering the rail transportation. The railroads have no choice but to perform this additional service gratis, or refuse to carry the mails at all.

"Now for the remedies the railroads ask: They do not ask to have the mails weighed daily, or to have each shipment weighed and paid for separately, as is done in the case of private shippers. They merely ask to have the mails weighed, and the pay of the railroads adjusted, at least once a year, instead of once in four years. They also ask that apartment post office cars be paid for, at reasonable rates, according to size. Lastly, they ask that the Post Office Department cease to require of them free messenger service between stations and post offices, and either relieve them of this service or pay fairly for it. These are the reforms the railroads ask of Congress. They gladly lay these reforms before the public, confident that they will appeal to the common sense and fairness of American voters."
