TEUTON INVASION OF MOLDAVIA BEGUN

FIELD MARSHAL VON MACKENSEN'S ARMY IS MORE THAN FIVE MILES OVER BORDER.

RUSSIANS ARE DRIVEN BACK

Three Teuton Armies Are Driving Their Way Toward Braila Which is Expected to Fall Any Moment.

The Teuton invasion of Moldavia is now under way. General Geroch's forces, forming the left wing of Field Marshal von Mackensen's army chain attacking the Sereth front, is more than five miles within the Moldavian border, according to official admission from the Petrograd war office. "The enemy," says the Russian official statement, "attacked the Rumanians on the front north and south of the river Kasno (Casin), eight versts east of the Moldavian frontier." (A verst is about two-thirds of a mile.) The Russian statement admits further that the Teuton center is only 13 miles west of Focsani and that the right is only 10 miles from Braila.

Russians Forced Back. Focsani, the pivotal point of the fortified Sereth line, is the objective of three armies driving against it from the north, south and west. The fall of Braila is expected momentarily by Berlin. "The Danube army," says the German report, "has forced the enemy back into the bridgehead of Braila." At the vital points of the whole 600-mile line, from the Pinsk marshes to the Black sea, the Russians suffered serious reverses, according to the German statement, which is borne out and supplied by Russian official admissions. It becomes more and more apparent that Mackensen proposes to launch a concerted offensive along this whole huge battle front, as soon as the Sereth line has fallen.

Reports of Both Sides. Briefly summarized, this is what each side reports: Petrograd admits the Teutons forced the Rumanians to withdraw to within 13 miles of Focsani; the Russians on the whole line between Focsani and the Danube retired to new positions, though without pressure from the enemy's flank; in Dobruja a force of 23,000 Teuton troops threw the Muscovites back to "the next line of defense." Teuton attacks were beaten off, however, the Russian war office asserts, on the Buzen-Braila railway, as well as to the west of the important Danube port. In a fierce battle south of Pinsk the right wing of Prince Leopold of Bavaria scored a short-lived success, the Russians wresting from the attackers a position they gained after three violent assaults. Further south a Teuton offensive movement was stifled by the Russian barrier fire.

GOVERNOR REFUSED OFFICE

Large Crowd Filled Capitol Grounds to Hear Inaugural Address—Hunt Refuses to Give Up Office. Phoenix, Ariz.—Thomas E. Campbell Republican, was inaugurated governor of Arizona. There were no inaugural ceremonies for Governor G. W. P. Hunt, incumbent, who claims the office, but when Governor Campbell went to the executive offices he found them locked.

Governor Campbell delivered his inaugural address to a great crowd that filled the capitol grounds. There was no serious disturbance. Scores of armed deputies were scattered throughout the assemblage. Immediately after his address Governor Campbell proceeded to the executive offices. He found a deputy on guard there, who said because it was a legal holiday he was under instructions to admit no one. A formal demand for admittance was made and the governor withdrew.

Governor Hunt left the capitol shortly before Governor Campbell arrived, declaring he would be at his desk January 2. Governor Campbell announced he considered the oath of office he took before a notary public sufficient to entitle him to the governorship. Therefore he had not insisted on a formal ceremony at the capitol New Year's day.

Mandamus proceedings already have been commenced in the supreme court to compel Governor Hunt to relinquish the office of chief executive.

Grover Ream, 27 years old, is Ann Arbor's latest smallpox victim. This is the eighth local case in the last four weeks. He is in the contagious ward.

Figures compiled by the Detroit board of health show 37 deaths from pneumonia last week, while in the corresponding period of 1915 there were 53 deaths, the heaviest toll for one week during the epidemic that took more than 1,000 lives.

Dr. Henry A. Lounsbury, confessed slayer of Madeline Kramer, 19-year-old wife and mother, is dead. Pneumonia, coupled with a weakened heart and worry over the crime, caused the death of the physician at the Receiving hospital in Detroit.

NIAGARA FALLS ILLUMINATED AT NIGHT

SEND A NOTE TO HOSTILE FLIERS

British Express Hope German Pilot Was Not Killed or Seriously Injured.

CHIVALRY SHOWN IN WAR

Only Question Among British Aviators Is as to Whether Note Should Be Written in Poor German or Good English.

By LOUIS EDGAR BROWNE. (Correspondent of Chicago News.) British Advanced Base, near Amara, Turkish Arabia.—The British aviators trust that the German pilot of the Fokker airplane which was shot down yesterday was neither seriously injured nor killed.

This note was penned in English after a two hours' wrangle in the aviation camp over its phrasing, and over whether it should be written in bad German or in good English. There was not one dissenter from the spirit of the message. The note was sealed up in a canvas bag and dropped into the Turkish lines addressed "The German Aviators."

The note was a return of a great courtesy. Some time ago a British airplane tumbled to earth behind the Turkish lines. Both pilot and observer were killed. A few days later a package was dropped into the British aerodrome from a Turkish airplane. Safely packed between two pillows were two watches, two cigarette cases, a ring, some other trinkets and a letter, which in effect said: "The German aviators with the Turkish army regret the sad death of two very valiant hostile aviators. They return the personal effects of these brave men, thinking that their mothers would like to have them."

TURKISH GUN KNOCKED OUT

When I arrived at the aerodrome the "birds" had just landed from their morning scouting expeditions. The daily "straf" had been successful. Between mouthfuls of melons they carried on a rapid-fire conversation concentrating on the topics "last night's raid on the Turkish aerodrome," "what happened to Fritz" and the "note to the German aviators."

HELPS TUBERCULOSIS FUND

Lillian Emerson, a nine-year-old North Carolina girl who has danced before Princess Victoria in London and her guests, Dowager Queen Mother Alexandra, the dowager empress of Russia, Dowager Queen Amelie of Portugal and King Manuel of Portugal was the principal entertainer at a recent entertainment in Washington for the benefit of a fund to prevent the spread of tuberculosis in France.

BIRDS BUILD THEIR NESTS UNDER FIRE

Philadelphia, Pa.—Birds build nests in European forests while trees are being shelled during the artillery engagements, according to Dr. Arthur A. Allen, head of the department devoted to bird study at Cornell University, who spoke at the American Ornithologists' meeting here recently.

He said a doctor with an ambulance corps in France counted 25 species of birds that had built nests in ruins of buildings and trenches abandoned by inhabitants and soldiers. "Artillery fire that sweeps away entire sections of woods fails to disturb the birds which happen to be building there," Doctor Allen said. "The observer was able to see a number of these birds building nests under fire. The tree in which one of the birds was making a nest was entirely swept away by a shell, but a bird on a neighboring tree kept right on building."

The German aviators. They seemed rather sorrowful because "Fritz" and his Fokker could no longer furnish them diversion of an evening. "He was a brave man," said one flier. "How about the fight?" I suggested. "It was a great go," said one aviator. "Three of our birds were up. One was spotting for the guns and the other two were acting as escorts. 'Fritz' deliberately came up in a big aviator to take us all on. I took my hat off to that 'boche.' He was a thorough sportsman."

When "Fritz" was sighted the fun commenced. The three British machines went for him like a streak of lightning. "Fritz" drove straight for the nearest British machine, firing his machine gun through his propeller. The German pilot had two or three narrow escapes. His big machine was not mobile enough to even give him a chance against such superior strength he descended. The three British machines were left in possession of the air.

In about ten minutes a signal from the ground flashed "hostile airplane coming this direction." The three machines in the air prepared for battle. In a few minutes the Fokker came into sight. "Fritz" had gone down to get a machine with mobility. Clever Maneuvers in Fight. Suddenly one of the British machines made a dash at the Fokker, intending to ram it. Both machines were well over 5,000 feet above the earth. Had the British pilot been successful and rammed the Fokker, both would have tumbled to the ground. "Fritz" apparently did not see the object of the British pilot until there was only about 200 feet of intervening space between the machines. The angle of approach was so acute that the

WORRY DOESN'T PAY, ASSERTS UNCLE SAM

Washington, D. C.—The public health service, which has been gathering statistics on nervous diseases and their tendency to shorten life, has issued a bulletin against worrying. "So far as is known," the bulletin says, "no bird ever tried to build more nests than its neighbor; no fox ever 'retted' because he had only one hole in which to hide; no squirrel ever died of anxiety lest he should not lay by enough nuts for two winters instead of one; and no dog ever lost any sleep over the fact that he did not have enough bones laid aside for his declining years."

FOKKER HAD ONLY ONE CHANCE OF ESCAPE

Fokker had only one chance of escape and that was to dive toward the earth. He turned the nose of his machine almost straight down, and the British machine, not being able to dive so steeply, passed above the Fokker. The German pilot's whole attention was riveted on righting his machine, and during the 20 seconds that this took another British machine went underneath and found the range. On each of these airplanes there is a patent machine gun, which is very light and much more rapid than the machine guns used on the ground. Before "Fritz" knew what had struck him some 200 bullets had gone through his machine. A part of the Fokker flew off into the air and fell to the ground. The Fokker wobbled a moment as though it were going to capsize. The engine had been struck and was dead. "Fritz" recovered himself and made a steep volplane to no man's land, where he made a safe landing, as was afterward learned.

STATE BEAN CROP EARNS $16,500,000

INVESTIGATORS ESTIMATE SALABLE PRODUCTS AT 2,761,000 BUSHELS.

WHEAT MADE GOOD SHOWING

The Hot and Dry Weather of July Is Due to Small Yield of Early Planted Crops.

DETROIT.—Crop conditions in Michigan during November are described as favorable in the summary issued by the United States department of agriculture. "Wheat and rye made a better growth than was anticipated, but being sown extremely late in most districts are going into the winter with less top than usual," says the summary. "That sown early is in about the same condition, because of the dryness of the soil at the time of seeding and for several weeks afterward. The acreage of wheat is greater than that of last year, but the extreme dryness of the soil in the central and eastern districts delayed plowing in many instances until too late for seeding, and greatly lessened the contemplated acreage. The acreage last year was much below normal, and the increase this year is not sufficient to overcome that loss, hence it is still less than normal for the state as a whole. The condition of the growing rye crop is slightly better than that of wheat, and the acreage shows an increase over that sown a year ago.

A special inquiry relative to the bean crop of the state was recently sent to several hundred of the bureau's regular correspondents in the bean growing counties and to a special list of bean buyers. Nearly all responded to the questions asked and the information thus obtained is of general interest. The average yield for acre is found to be 6.6 bushels, which makes a total production for the state of 3,102,000 bushels. The average "pick" is 6.6 pounds per bushel or 11 per cent of the crop, leaving a crop of choice hand-picked stock of 2,761,000 bushels, which at prevailing prices is worth approximately $16,500,000 to the producers.

The unusually small yield this year was due chiefly to the unseasonably hot and dry weather in July, which blasted many of the blooms on the early planted crop. A second setting of pods on these, and the late-planted crop, gave only a partial return as the drought continued in most of the heavy-producing counties throughout the growing season, causing the pods to be short and poorly filled. The crop matured slowly and unevenly and severe frosts did extensive damage during the latter half of September, these immature beans constituting practically all of the "pick" as an thracose, the disease which caused such widespread damage in 1914 and 1915 did not develop to any material extent this year.

"The yield and 'pick' vary widely within short distances due to the uneven distribution of temperature and moisture-conditions over the variable soils, comprising the bean-districts of the state. The inquiry also shows that about 10 per cent of the planted acreages was not harvested; this abandonment was chiefly confined to the eastern and central parts of the state."

FERRIS' AIDE TO HOLD JOB

E. C. Austin, Democrat, Will be Private Secretary to Gov.-Elect Sleeper.

Lansing.—E. C. Austin of Battle Creek, who has been private secretary to Governor Ferris during the last six months, will remain in the executive office temporarily at least, in the same capacity under Governor-Elect Sleeper. Sleeper has asked Austin to continue as his private secretary for a time, and Austin is willing to stay. Inasmuch as Austin is a Democrat, a unique situation has been created, and it is the first time in the history of the state, it is said, that a Democrat will be private secretary to a Republican governor.
