and Carpetings

"Choosing the Rugs" is to those who propose perfect harmony in the furnishing of their homes the first and most important consideration.

Decorative schemes depend upon floor covering as a musical theme depends upon an accompaniment to sustain it. The rugs gather together, in the plan harmonious, the entire details of the room.

From such rug and carpet stocks as these that important feature of furnishing the home can be accomplished most satisfactorily, for this store is in a fortunate position with collections offering every possible opportunity for making individual selections, no matter what decorative idea one may wish to express.

> Our rug collections include unusual diversity of plain color rugs, rugs of beautiful designs and colorings, rugs of every grade and size and fabric.

To these extensive stocks just now your attention is particularly invited.

On the second ball pitched he made the break. If he reached it in safety, single would surely win the game, as the runner was a very fast man. The runner got away with a pretty good lead, making it evident to e catcher that he would have to hurry his throw, which he did. The throw was considerably wide of the bag and it is doubtful if it would ave got the runner if nothing unusual had happened. But as luck would have it, the ball struck the umpire, who was squatted for the play, squarely on the top of the head, and bounding off, rolled into right field. The runner dashed for third and then to the plate. The right fielder recovered the ball and made a nice throw to the plate, but failed to get the man. The crowd, believing the game won, surged on the field. Then trouble started.

ng of the two box men.

It became almost necessary for the umpire to forfeit the game because of the difficulty in getting the fans off the field. On the play itself, the only thing the umpire could do under the circumstances was to send back to first the runner who had apparently scored the winning run. Any time the umpire is struck by a ball thrown by the catcher or any other fielder to intercept a base runner, the latter must return to his base without liability to be put out. It was necessary, of course, in this instance, to go extra innings, and the umpire, who had rendered the only and proper decision, was severely roasted. It so happened, however, that the home team won in the fourteenth inning on a home-run drive, so that, in the joy over victory, the umpire es-(Copyright by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
