GOOD CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Manchester Loses Another of Her Good Citizens at Early Hour This Morning.

About 7 o'clock this morning and soon after opening the store of F. G. Houck for the day's business.

But a moment before he stood in the doorway talking with Wm. Schaffer and Charles Burkhardt and as he turned to enter the store he fell against the door and sank to the floor.

Physicians were called and Dr. Kapp who was the first to arrive, pronounced it a stroke of apoplexy and saw he was beyond human aid.

To his friends and associates it was a shock to learn that Adam had been feeling poorly but Dr. Kapp says he had been all right for some time.

Following the death of their only daughter a few years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Schaeble rented their farm one mile west of this village and moved to town since which time he had been an affable and able clerk in the hardware store of F. G. Houck.

He was supervisor of the townally of Manchester and was elected to the board and was recognized. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

The funeral will be held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Johnson officiating. The burial service will be under the auspices of Manchester Lodge, F. & A. M.

COUNTY PUBLISHERS MEET

Pen Pushers Held Quarterly Meeting of Association at Ypsilanti Saturday Afternoon.

After publishing reports of "copy" advocating the organization of the grange and community clubs for the farmers, horticultural societies, the children's association, the publishers of the county finally decided their own teachings.

Four meetings of the organization have been held in convenient intervals, three at Ypsilanti and one at Ann Arbor.

The meeting was held in a suite of rooms in the Hawkins house and the following county publishers were present: Mat D. Blosser, of Chelsea; Wm. VanWagoner, of Ypsilanti; John O. Thompson, of Dexter; W. A. VanWagoner, of Ypsilanti; and Ford Axell, of Ypsilanti.

Miss Bessie Fay of Detroit spent Sunday at the home of H. F. Schofield. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Eva Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Palmer and family of Owosso came Saturday. Mr. Palmer returned home Monday while Mrs. Palmer and children will remain for a longer visit among her relatives.

WAMPLER LAKE

George J. Nisle drove to Detroit Monday.

Alf. Heile and family of Ogden were here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lynds of Toledo are spending the week at their cottage.

Louis Halladay of Clinton is planning to entertain a party of friends at their cottage, Thursday.

There were two picnic parties here last Friday, one being from Saline. There were about 200 people in the crowd.

The dance Tuesday evening at The Farm hotel was well attended. Mahlon Smith of Sharon played with the orchestra.

Landlord Nisle was so well pleased with the services of a chef in his kitchen last year that he has secured the services of another this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoagland of Newport, Ky., have come here for a short stay. On account of the war Mr. Hoagland was doubtful of his being able to spend much time at the lake and they did not intend to open the cottage. When alighting from the car at Manchester Mrs. Hoagland sprained her ankle and is suffering from the injury.

IRON CREEK

Marion Jenkins spent Sunday at Norvell.

Everybody wants to go fishing these fine days.

FREEDOM

Fish are biting ravenously at times, at Pleasant lake.

Albert Kuhl has been on the sick list the past week.

Miss Marie Kleinschmidt spent the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sott, in Bridgewater.

Stephen J. Chartrand left Sunday evening for Saginaw where he was called by the serious illness of his mother.

Samuel Gross who was elected justice of the peace last spring, went to Ann Arbor last Thursday and qualified, so after the 1st of July you may address him as judge.

John A. Messner, formerly a prosperous farmer of this township, died at the home of his son Charles in Lima, Thursday night, June 21, aged 79 years. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

Ben Dresselhouse and family had as Sunday guests William and Ralph Middlebrook of Grass Lake, Frank and Walter and Oscar Bertke of Manchester, Lillian Middlebrook of Bridgewater, also Stephen J. Chartrand, who has been spending some time with George Widmayer in Sharon.

The funeral of Jacob Horning was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martin Hueber, Sunday morning. Mr. Horning had been a resident of this township for many years; he was afflicted with asthma and he and his wife went to Europe six years ago to find relief but that was only temporary. Despondent over his condition he was taken to the psychopathic ward at Ann Arbor a few weeks ago, and on Friday morning he succumbed by strangulation. He was 63 years of age.

Members of the Staib family and their connections to the number of a hundred or more gathered at Columbia Lake for a reunion and general good time on Sunday and they certainly had it. A beautiful chicken dinner from the finest fowls the farms could produce was an attractive feature and received its full share of attention. The day was also pleasantly spent with races, games, boating, fishing, merry songs and an abundance of talk-fest, and was continued until after supper was served. Besides those from the surrounding country, members were present from Chicago, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Clinton, Manchester and other places.

CLINTON

BRIDGEWATER

About 80 of Chris. Bauer's old neighbors from Iron Creek and a few relatives and friends from Jackson gathered at his home last Saturday to assist him in raising his new barn. It is 34x64 feet.

Everybody knows that animals as well as people are attacked with homesickness when removed from the familiar haunts. The latest evidence shown was in a horse John Rentschler bought in Detroit. It missed its mate and would not be comforted with good fresh country grass, nor the aroma of new-mown hay, so John took it back to Detroit.

NORTH SHARON

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Troitz and Master William spent Sunday in Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Curtis and son James were callers in this vicinity Sunday.

The Chautauqua's offering in Music

FIRST DAY

Mrs. Wilbur Starr Concert Party: Headed by Mrs. Starr, a favorite among the Chautauqua for several years, she is a pianist, cellist and reader. With her are Miss Adale Lawson, flute soloist and vocalist; Miss Jennie De Voe, violinist, and Miss Florence Black, vocalist and pianist. You see there is enough music here for a whole Chautauqua. They will appear in a full concert on the opening afternoon and in a recital to the night lecture.

SECOND DAY

Hann's Jubilee Singers: The sturdy songs of the old plantation are as rich with melody as any music ever sung and have been said by some to be the only real, peculiarly native music America has produced. The original jubilee company, the old Fiskers, will be remembered as one of the most notable musical attractions of their day. They sang to thousands in this country; then went abroad and appeared in some of the largest musical halls in England and on the continent, always before packed houses. The song of the Chautauqua circuit was a grand triumph, and they have been known as the original Fisk Jubilee Singers. Two of the members of the Hann company are daughters of women who sang in the original Fisk Jubilee company. They will appear in both the afternoon and evening programs on the second day, and, although the focus of their work is their old time darky melodies, they will present also selections from grand opera. Among their songs of the southland are "Swanee River," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home" and such old darky song meeting favorites as "Ginny, Get Ready," and a score of others. You'll want to hear Hann's Jubilee.

THIRD DAY

The Emerson Winters Company: Two of them in this company, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Winters. "I wish they could live in our town," said a woman in Tennessee after hearing them on the Chautauqua. "They would drive all the blues away. They would fill every one with joy and keep them happy all the time." They sing; they tell stories. Mrs. Winters is an imitator of song birds, and their program is made up of beautiful, lilted songs and good jokes that wend every one home, just wishing there could be more people in the world like the Winters. "They are the best of their name suggests," said a newspaper in Texas. "They are full of sunshine and happiness." This is not a very good description of their work, but their program is so original and so much their own and so different from the ordinary you must see and hear it to know what it's like. They will appear in both programs on the third day.

FOURTH DAY

Pallaria and His Band: Pallaria is one of the most dynamic personalities in the band world. He is an Italian of extraordinary genius, who completed his ten years' course in the Milan Conservatory before he became of age. He is a born leader, directed heads in Italy with wonderful success, came to this country and appeared with his band in the New York Hippodrome. Later he made a concert tour, appearing in the largest cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He was most engaged as band-leader on the latter-day Kansas in the United States and was the leading church choir in the party. He has appeared on the largest Chautauqua circuits in America and will be here for two full concerts, afternoon and evening of the fourth day.

FIFTH DAY

The Handel Choir: Only a company of exceptional strength could follow the big steps of Isabelle Wagner-Schank, formerly of Henry W. Sawyer's operatic forces in New York. Miss Schank was perhaps the best musical organizer and director to bring to the Chautauqua circuits a company featuring sacred music and singing some of the great oratorios and sacred anthems as they are sung by the leading church choirs of this country and Canada. Her company is made up entirely of church soloists. They will appear in choir recitals. Their program is divided in three parts—one, the sacred music; the other, semi-classical and popular selections in evening dress; and the third part, a beautiful sketch, "The Days of '84," in which they wear the costumes of the times—breeches, powdered wigs, etc.

Get Season Tickets

What you need is a season ticket for each member of the family. They bring the cost way down, and they apply directly on the guarantee made by the Chautauqua committee.
