Whimsical McGraw.

Al Demaree's return to the Giants is another evidence of the eccentric whims of John McGraw.

When Demaree went to Philadelphia in a trade with the New York club, Gotham fans thought they had seen the last of him in a Giant uniform, for McGraw seldom turns a player loose unless he is satisfied that the player has outlived his usefulness.

ANOTHER BEAUTIFUL VIEW IN SCENIC SOUTHERN MICHIGAN

View from the summit of Peach Orchard Hill, Lyndon Township, Washtenaw County.

SOME SMILES

A Lost Opportunity.
Hindenburg (gloomily)—Calling my strategic lines by Wagnerian names doesn't seem to have done any good.
Kaiser (neerisly)—Of course it didn't. If you wanted to frighten off the enemy with Wagner why didn't you have the regimental bands play the music?

One Resemblance.
"Here you have scattered bullets all over the range. Thought you said you were like lightning with a rifle."
"Well, lightning never hits twice in the same place."

They Might.
"My shoes wear out too darn quick."
"Why don't you get a pair of them heavy policemen's shoes?"
"I should think they'd be apt to pinch a chap."

Their Advantage.
"I don't see how anybody can fall out with street car conductors."
"Why not?"
"Because they view everything in such a fare light."

as a Giant, and he seldom calls a man back.

Because of this Demaree's "come back" marks a peculiar turn in the administration of the Giants. Only a few times in the history of the Giants under McGraw's management has a player been sold or traded and later brought back to the fold.

Charley Herzog is serving his third term as a Giant. He was brought back from Boston and later turned loose to manage the Cincinnati club. After his fling as a manager in Cincinnati figured in the trade for Mathewson. Red Murray came back, having been sent to the Cubs, but at that was not considered as a likely candidate for a regular job.

Demaree may well consider himself a lucky player, although he is to be given some credit, too. When McGraw turned Steamer Al over to the Phils it was said that he had lost confidence in Demaree's ability to hold his nerve under fire. The cartoonist-pitcher was knocked out of the box in a number of games which McGraw thought he had no reason for losing, and he put Al down as a player without much backbone. But when Demaree became known as a Giant killer, by virtue of numerous victories over the New York club after Muggsy turned him loose, Jawa promptly changed his mind and jumped at the chance to trade Kilduff for him.

The Demaree-Kilduff deal was made at a time when McGraw was beginning to look at the spurt of the Reds and Cardinals with an apprehensive eye. He decided that he could sacrifice an infielder for a pitcher of Demaree's caliber, and at the time the Giant staff was going none too good.

As a member of the Cubs, Steamer Al had little to look forward to. Mitchell's team was out of the pennant race by the middle of July, and with the White Sox struggling for the American League pennant, the chances of a city series and the resultant financial fruit was considered slim at the time the deal was made. Demaree is lucky, and all that, but it must be remembered that he pitched his way back to the Giant berth.

Real Folks.

Willie was a minister's son and knew his Bible so far as his father had thought his understanding could carry him.

One day a very tall bishop came to visit his father and brought his son with him.

"Willie," his father said, "this is David."

"Oh," exclaimed Willie in surprise and delight. "Have you got your sling with you?"

Feathers.

Feather belts are acquiring a new use to trim bags and hats and frocks. The prices of velvet, felt and silk will sour in the fall, and it is predicted that hats will be made entirely of feathers. Ostrich, gonrah, pheasant and bird of paradise are in the lead.

FINE SCENES ARE NEARBY

Peach Orchard Hill in Lyndon Adds To Scenic Beauties Found in Drive From Manchester

AUTO DRIVE IS A SHORT ONE

Lakes And Hills Lie in Profusion And Make Trip Well Worth The Drive And Climb.

Much has been said about the fascinating if not wonderful scenery obtained from the top of "The Irish Hills," in Cambridge township, south of Wampler lake. From the publicity given them in The Enterprise and other newspapers, thousands of people have been attracted to that section and after taking the trip have sung the praises in no uncertain tones.

On our numerous trips to Lansing by way of Chelsea, Stockbridge and Mason, we have been struck with the beauty of the scenery when crossing over the hills in Lyndon township, north of Chelsea, and on Monday we stopped at the Standard office in Chelsea and borrowed of Editor Hoover the cut which is shown at the head of this page of The Enterprise.

The view was taken by the late Henry Shaver, a well known photographer. It was taken from the top of "Peach Orchard Hill" on the farm of Henry Stoffer, a short distance from the Lyndon town hall.

In order to get the above view one must leave the car near the residence and make the climb on foot to the summit, but the effort will be rewarded by a magnificent view, more of course than is shown in the picture.

On a clear day to the north and east can be seen the smoke ascending from the factories at Pontiac, to the south-east the cement plant at Four Mile lake is plainly visible, to the west the line of the Michigan Central railway easily can be traced and the smoke arising from the many factory buildings in Jackson seen. Far to the south may be seen the "Short Hills" in Sharon, about six miles north of the beautiful village of Manchester.

Lyndon township has many small lakes, none as large, however, as Wampler or others that can be seen from "The Irish Hills" in Cambridge. But they are nestled among the hills and make an attractive scene. In passing, we might add that the lakes are well stocked with fish—pike, bass, bluegills perch, etc., and it is said that they generally have good appetites.

Michigan is blessed with the finest farm lands in the world, let us say, and the farmers have builded substantial and in many cases beautiful homes, large and substantial barns and accompanying sheds, etc. Many of these can, be seen, from Peach Orchard and other hills, and let us, say, When you have once viewed the exhilarating Michigan scenery you will not stop at almost any effort to obtain more of it.

September and October will be proper and favorable for a trip to either "The Irish Hills in Cambridge" or "Peach Orchard Hill" in Lyndon. Soon the early frosts will tint the leaves of the forest trees and bushes and, believe us, you will be enchanted with a view from either.

Let us add that a sunset view will linger like a rare sweet morsel in your memory long after the limbs have refused to respond to the task of climbing to the summit of these beautiful Michigan hills.

Flashlights.

Sometimes might makes it mighty uncomfortable for right. The trouble with public life is that it isn't nearly so public, as a rule, as it should be.

Success is just doing a little bit better today than the thing that were done fairly well yesterday.

It's easy enough to get ahead in this world. It's only the fellows who want to do it the easiest way who make hard work out of it.

The trouble with the man who walls that he was led astray is that he probably made no particular effort to travel in the right way.

As a rule, gratitude, before and after a favor has been done shows about as much difference as the before and after patent medicine advertisements, with the conditions reversed.

HOW ABOUT YOURS?

Three months 40c Six months 75c One year $1.50

The country roads are very good and this is the time for auto driving.

A good many of our readers are attending the Jackson county fair this week.

We hope for six weeks of warm weather to ripen the crops and make harvesting pleasant.

The banks are receiving many applications for the new Liberty bonds now to be issued.

Wm. Rehms is moving part of Ogemaw farm house to a new foundation across the road from his own home and it will be fitted up for his son William, and will be ready to occupy in a few days.

We learn that Howard Macomber has an opportunity to sell his residence but does not wish to let it go until he has bought one in Detroit or elsewhere.

George Schaffer is packing up ready to move to Chicago where he will have his headquarters hereafter. He and Mrs. Schaffer will probably leave here in about a week, driving through.

The Cash sisters' house, corner of Railroad and Byrne streets, which was raised and a new foundation built under, the yard graded and the porch removed, is now adorned with a front porch.

E. C. Jester and son have been quietly at work making a body for their motor which they are preparing, etc., for funeral purposes. It is now ready to be painted and when completed will be a stylish looking conveyance.

The lawn about town are looking fine, almost every one well kept. Many are brightened by brilliant clusters of flowers, indicating retirement and happy hours. Manchester is indeed what strangers call a beautiful village, and a lively one at that.

It may not be necessary for The Enterprise to urge that the few apples left on the trees—those that are left—be picked up and used for cider. The supply is indeed almost exhausted.

Frank Merithew has bought the Servis farm, just west of the village. The farm for years has been owned by Merithew's father, Albert Cass, and it was he who set out the fine maple trees in front of the cottage. Frank may build a bungalow in the midst of that maple grove.

The W. C. T. U. ladies met at the Methodist church parlors Wednesday afternoon, had an interesting program and enjoyed a social hour. A silver collection of over $6 was taken up, which we understand will be contributed to the Red Cross or other war fund. The ladies are anxious for something to do to help a good cause along.

We learn that Bert Lowery got the contract for furnishing tiles for the Half Moon lake drain and, Charles W. Wurster got the contract for digging the open drain was let to a contractor. It is hoped that those opposed to the drain have hired lawyers to get out an injunction to stop proceedings.

Highway Commissioner John Huber has been in the village of late, running west from the cemetery with a fine quality of gravel from Fahlbacher's pit. Let us hope it will be well graded and kept free from "thank you man's" There is no better way of creating a favorable impression of a village among those who drive into and through it than having all approaching roads as good as found anywhere.

The annual missionary meeting of Emanuel's church here will be held next Sunday in three services at 9:30 a. m., 2 and 7 p. m., standard time. Those who will assist Rev. William Rev. George Schoettle of Adrian, Rev. F. Lueckhoff of Bethel church in Freedom, Rev. C. L. Wittbraut of Saline. At the evening service Rev. Rodres and Rev. Wittbraut will speak in English. A special program of music is being prepared by the choir.

Many a hunter will be quietly slipping out at night, either on a morning and with a lunch in his pocket, gun on shoulder and high hopes in his heart, will depart here for his favorite lake, pond or stream in search of wild duck, for all day long. Let us hope that the law on hunting other game found in this locality at this season will be strictly enforced. Wilson and Jack snipe, coots, geese and brant may be shot from Sept. 15 to Dec. 31st inclusive. Woodcock and partridge from Oct. 1 to Nov. 30th inclusive. Rabbits and hares from Oct. 1 to Feb. 1. Wood duck are still protected.

The timbers having arrived, the carpenters framed them and on last Thursday about 30 men assembled on the Thomas Morgan farm in the eastern part of the village, to erect a building. The building is enclosed now and has a single roof. It is situated on a hill and will be a long shed on the north end of the barn, extending east. Large hog houses will be built near and the old barns occupied so many years by Mr. Morgan and later by Giles Vandegrift and Mart. W. Wainwright will be removed to other locations. There is a splendid outlook from the premises across the lower pond, up and down the valley and of a considerable portion of the village.

Mail Orders Filled

THE MILLERS

The Millers have been in the style creating work for twenty years, visiting every city of importance, returning to the same stores again and again.

Miller and Miller will cut and fit to your measure any fabric or material bought in this store for $1 a yard or more absolutely without charge to you.

They measure, cut, fit and pin the materials so that the sewing is simple. Each piece of material even to the trimming and buttons is pinned in the proper place, ready for sewing. Instructions are given for finishing the garment.

In addition to the cutting and fitting service, Madame Miller will gladly answer any questions as to style, fabrics, trimmings. She will originate designs or copy any style shown in the fashion magazines.

Special attention is given to the hard to fit. The personal service rendered in this fitting of garments cannot be emphasized too strongly.

Last March at this store the Millers were busy—orders were turned away. They will be busier this time. Make your appointments early.

Now it's Time to Order Your

WASHTENAW CERTIFIES 73

Total Number of Drafted Men Taken In This District Now Reaches 234 Mark.

The board at Ann Arbor Saturday received a list of 73 names of men who are selected from Washtenaw county for army service by the district board at Detroit. This makes a total of 234 that have been certified from this county by the district board.

This county is required to furnish 258 men for service in the new national army and it is estimated by the local board that at least 50 more will have to be certified in order to replace those who may be discharged for physical disqualification when examined at Camp Custer.

Following is part of the list of 73 men selected by the district board: Oscar Herman Wahr, Grass Lake; Ernest Wahr, Grass Lake; Raymond B. Way, Clinton; Albert G. Herman, Manchester; James VanHouten, Manchester.

Among those certified to the district board Saturday as qualified for army service was Jacob A. Finkbeiner, Clinton.
