Grape Juice.
Wash the grapes well, just cover with cold water and let simmer until the juice seems to be well extracted. Then strain through a jelly glass and add a cupful of sugar to each quart of strained juice. Put on fire and bring to the boiling point, bottle and seal in well-sterilized receptacles, and the juice will be perfect after a year in the cellar.

I go to the battlefield, brother,
Staunch in the faith of our cause;
Have I not learned from a gray-headed mother
"Obedience is the best of our laws."
Onward in the name of the story
That Galvary gave unto men;
To die in the midst of that glory
Is to be living immortal again.

I go to the battlefield, brother,
With the smiles of my children enshrined
In the heart that beats for another,
With the goal of our feeling defined.
Onward, I say; for the glory
That comes from our loving the sod
Will teach to our children the story
"The best of our manhood is God."

BOYS TO HELP FARMERS
Commissioner Evan Essery Has Been Appointed Director of Work In This County.

School Commissioner Evan Essery has been appointed director of Washtenaw county for the United States Boys' Working Reserve, an organization that has been effected by the Department of Labor and heartily endorsed by President Wilson and ex-President Roosevelt.

It is thought that the school forces of the county can be depended on to help the movement along, and Mr. Essery, as director, asks the cooperation of the superintendents and principals of the county schools in enrolling boys for work for next summer.

The United States Boys' Working Reserve was formed for the purpose of establishing a reserve of labor for farm and other work, from which may be drawn workers ordinarily not available between the ages of 16 and 21, to meet an emergency shortage of labor in the present crisis. It is intended that the Reserve shall operate with and through the recognized state organizations, and co-ordinate all such organizations so that the mobilization and distribution of labor may yield the greatest obtainable benefit to the nation.

There are county organizations under way now in most of the lower sections of Michigan and in the upper counties. The Reserve expects to be called on next year for a great deal of help, as the boys go going home to some people that there will be a shortage of labor and that they may do well to make the most of the energy of these younger men.

This fall it is desired to enlist throughout the county all boys from 16 to 21 who have been engaged during the summer in farm work, and to present them with a federal badge in recognition of their services, also as a mark of significance that they will as a matter of patriotic service help to form the much needed labor on the farms next year; also to get a labor census of the county and provide the boys with jobs.

It may be advisable to excuse the boys next spring about a month early from the schools and to give them the credit for their work on the farms, in agricultural or natural science, as it may be interesting to know that an conservative institution as of Yale university is recognizing the work done by the Connecticut boys by giving them a trial with fewer examinations passed than are usually advanced throughout the country in many other ways.

Any boy who was 16 years of age on his last birthday and who is less than 21 may enroll in the Reserve, to provide:

- (1) That he obtain the consent in writing of his parent or guardian, and if employed, the consent of his employer, for the term of his intended vacation.
- (2) He must be free from communicable or other diseases, and possess no inherent weakness so as to unfit him for the rigors of farm labor for his intended occupation, as attested by a physician or physical director.
- (3) He must subscribe to an oath of allegiance before an enrolling officer. Any person designated by the state or a recognized, affiliated boy organization is deemed an enrolling officer.

More enrollment does not constitute membership in the Reserve until the applicant is formally accepted by the enrolling officer.

When a boy is accepted, he will be awarded the following conditions:

- (1) That the boy has given service to the nation by actual work on the farm or in other employment of at least three weeks, or until he shall have proved his fitness for the particular occupation in which he has engaged as a patriotic service, it being intended that membership in the Reserve is to be composed of only the capable and steadfast.
- (2) That the boy sign a receipt when the badge is awarded to him. An effort will be made to get in touch with all high school boys who left school to work on the farm during the spring of this year and also those who spent their vacation on the farm.

With the approval of the federal director, badges will be given to all such boys on proof of their service.

The county director of this work desires the co-operation of all interested in the labor problems that the boys will help solve during the coming summer.

They will be doing their bit in carrying on to successful issue the struggle in which our nation is engaged and the badge that they will wear will attest to their service as much as the khaki does for the army or the blue suit for the navy.

EPIGRAMS:

I don't pretend to be the sort of hero that he was, for Nathan Hale thought ONLY of his flag; I'm glad because there's deep within my heart a shame-faced feeling of REGRET THAT I am not quite man enough to die like that—not yet. We HAVE BUT ONE LIFE, rich or poor; myself, I have one prayer—that when I come TO LOSE it, they will say, "That man was There!" And so I'll give my services, FOR 'neath my flag and mine, MY love of COUNTRY ought to grow like his—almost Divine.

Robert Russell.

Are You Particular?
If you want to make anything of yourself you must be particular. You set the standards by which you will be known. If your tastes are high grade you won't be able to put up with things below par. Once let it be known that you tolerate inferior things and a grasping world will see that they are thrust upon you. To receive proper respect you must be particular. See to it that only the best is given you and people will soon come up to your demands. Require honorable conduct in your presence, and your friends will see to it that you get what you ask. It pays to be particular.—Exchange.

It was the tenth Ward of a Southern town that a young man approached, gave his name and answered all the questions. He was twenty-one and had as dependents his wife, children and mother-in-law.

"Do you claim exemption?" he was asked.

"Shucks, no!" was his answer.

The lowest ratio of exemptions asked in another place was nineteen out of 841 eligibles. The warden of the Eastern penitentiary said:

"We surely have a lot of patriots in our hotel. The old fellows even wanted to slip their ages back on us so they could register." Altogether the 610 inmates of the penitentiary registered.

Waving his registration card energetically and calling for the chief registrar, a husky blond American, apparently a sailor, rushed into City Clerk

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

In Peace and War

In time of peace a nation develops as its railroads expand.
The very life of commerce and trade — agriculture, mines, factories — is dependent upon transportation facilities.

In time of war the railroads must not only take care of this normal traffic but must in addition be ready for every emergency in the transporting of troops, guns and supplies.

The New York Central Lines
"America's Greatest Railway System"

with their 12,000 miles of railway and nearly 200,000 employees thus have an important place in the life of our nation in the time of peace—doubly so in time of war.

It is the aim and purpose of the New York Central Lines to serve the government and the people faithfully and well.

DONT FORGET THE HORSE!

There Was Another Hero in Wild "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere, Reminds" Writer.

Paul Revere's name was made immortal when he rode from Boston to Lexington and Concord, warning the patriots along the way of the British approach, and his name has been as carefully enshrined in the hearts of all Americans.

Historians have honored themselves in honoring him. Poets have found inspiration in his name. He is the prime of manhood and a soldier's memory of old days.

But while we give deserved glory to Paul Revere, let us no longer forget that there was another hero in the wild midnight ride, says a writer in the Christian Herald.

"Any other horse might have done as well," you think? Well, no, no other man have done as well, neither. So might we flippantly disparage any hero.

THE REAL MAIN By FRANCIS LYNDE

CHAPTER XXVI—Continued. "You didn't say too much," he said. "You're right. I'm making it understandable to you, but..."

The interruption was the whining song of a jacketed bell passing over the trees. "Down boys," said the sheriff softly, setting the example by sliding into the saddle.

"They Used to Call Me Monty-Boy," and take punishment, and a son that could drive both horse and nerve to the limit. Also, I've found out what it means to be a Tangle dealer in your town, Agv.

But the fact remains that it was Paul Revere's horse that did it. And the harder work fell on the horse. But for the true horse's faithfulness, Paul Revere would have been a failure.

SHARON

Fred Burkhardt marketed a load of wheat at Manchester a few days ago that brought him $102.50. The miller remarked that it was some load when Fred replied that he delivered a load of hogs and received $419 for them. These are hard times?

G. W. Hulbert, a former Sharon boy, is now filling a position in the public speaking department of the Iowa State College at Ames, made vacant by Mr. Alexander who has received a commission as Lieutenant in the army. Mr. Hulbert is a graduate of the university at Ann Arbor and his prominence in forensic circles should be of value to him in aiding him to produce winning teams at Ames.

FREEDOM

There was a large amount of timber injured by the cyclone last June. A visit to one piece in the "big swamp" discloses great trees thrown down and in a tangled mass. It would be well to have them sawed up into timbers or firewood.

A first page feature this week is a splendid poem "Drafted," written for The Enterprise by Will Coghlan of this township.

Early sown wheat is up and looks fine. Farmers are drilling and some are yet plowing. The ground seems moist and in good condition.

of IMPORTED and DOMESTIC tobaccos—Blended

"They please the taste great! But also—"

If a cigarette simply pleased the taste, smokers used to let it go at that. But not now.

Because Chesterfields give smokers not only a taste that they like, but also a new kind of smoking-enjoyment—

Chesterfields hit the smoke-spot, they let you know you are smoking—they "Satisfy"!

Yet, they're MILD!

The new blend of pure, natural imported and domestic tobaccos—that tells the story. And the blend can't be copied—don't forget that!
