A COMMUNITY HOUSE PEST SURELY COMING

Why Not Provide One for General Meeting Purposes of This Community?

Everybody, men as well as women, will agree that Manchester and every other town ought to have a community house or some place where the returning soldiers and the boys can congregate...

Since the saloons have closed there is seemingly no proper place for men and boys to congregate, tell stories and visit while temporarily idle or in town on business.

True, we are all pretty busy making money or earning a living, but we should be willing to assist in such a laudable an undertaking as this...

MERIDIAN CHAPTER NO. 48, R. & A. M., meets at Masonic Hall Wednesday evening...

CENTRAL COUNCIL NO. 24, R. & S. O. T. meets at Masonic Hall...

Township Clerk Bennett Root informs The Enterprise, that the item calling attention of women to the fact that they should attend to having their names registered had evidently been read by the fair sex and headed too as he is receiving names.

Some people have wondered why the electric lights grow dim for half a minute about 10 o'clock each evening. It is because Mr. Widmayer starts the pump for the water works...

Those 40 government trucks that were to pass through Manchester last Friday failed to put in an appearance and it was announced that they would be here Saturday or Sunday...

Frequently when we are in some city and engaged in conversation with strangers, we are asked where we reside and when informed that Manchester is our place of habitation, the stranger explains, 'Manchester, why that is one of the finest towns in the state. You have substantial and prosperous looking business buildings and your residences, your homes are neat, comfortable looking and lawns well kept.'

Manchester people love fish and whenever opportunity permits itself they go fishing with the hope of getting a mess to eat. But as a fish market this is no good. The Enterprise has often asked people why they did not buy fish and the reply has been that they want fresh fish, fish that has been recently caught, and taken care of properly.

Experience, 'tis said, is a great teacher, and since the use of bituminous coal has been thrust upon the just as well as upon the unjust, the world is learning much faster than ever before with what force the furnace door just closed may be suddenly pushed open again.

Seventeen-Year Locusts Due to Show Up This Year—Extra Large Numbers Expected.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—The most interesting insect in the world, the periodical cicada, will be seen, perhaps in very large numbers, during the coming spring and early summer over large regions of the United States where this brood has not appeared before for 17 years and over other regions where another brood appeared 13 years ago.

Most Interesting Insect. The statement that this is the most interesting insect in the world will hardly be questioned. It is the most interesting because it is the most anomalous, or possibly because it has always appeared to be so mysterious.

Injury Usually Overestimated. Upon every appearance of large broods of the cicada, fear is aroused that trees will be destroyed, particularly young trees of the fruiting and ornamental species.

It is claimed that 200,000 American soldiers will marry French wives and remain in France.

AMENA, LITTLE ARMENIAN ORPHAN, WAITS, BUT "MOTHER" WON'T RETURN

Amena, one of the 400,000 orphans in the Near East, was wandering in the streets of her ruined city, in tattered clothing, and whimpering—she had not strength to cry—from hunger, when she was picked up by a relief worker.

Now Amena—the smallest girl in the above illustration—has been placed in one of the orphanages being put up for the thousands of fatherless, motherless, friendless children, by the American Committee for Relief in the Near East.

Waits for "Really" Mother. When Amena reached the orphan asylum, she was placed in charge of the little girl who is shown mothering her,—but it is evident from the look of longing in Amena's eyes that her hurt little heart is longing to be pressed against that of her "really" mother.

Some day, Amena will be told that her mother is dead; now she is allowed to hope, for fear that her heart will be broken, if additional weight of sorrow is placed upon it.

Father Brutally Murdered. For Amena's sorrows surpass those of most of us who have lived to several times her six years. She saw her father seized by the Turks and tied to the tail of a horse and dragged to death.

President Wilson, in Proclamation, Strongly Urges Near East Relief. For more than three years American philanthropy has been a large factor in keeping alive Armenian, Syrian, Greek and other exiles and refugees...

East is asking the public to give $30,000,000. A very important part of this committee's work is to establish orphanages, as many as funds permit, wherever possible.

PRESIDENT WILSON, IN PROCLAMATION, STRONGLY URGES NEAR EAST RELIEF

Proclamation. For more than three years American philanthropy has been a large factor in keeping alive Armenian, Syrian, Greek and other exiles and refugees...

Even more generous contributions than they have made heretofore to sustain through the winter months those who, through no fault of their own, have been left in a starving, shelterless condition...

WIND-UP OF WAR FINE A GLIMPSE INTO PAST

Christmas Was Event Long to Be Remembered—Boys Anxious to Get Home Now.

Clermont, Ferrard, France, Dec. 26, 1918. Dear folks: How are all of you these fine holidays? I am fine and dandy and having a good time.

I received my Christmas box and everything was in perfect shape. The candy is excellent and the ring a perfect beauty. All the boys admire it and ask where I got it and when I tell them they say, "That's the kind of folks to have."

At 3 p. m. yesterday the Y. M. C. A. put on a vaudeville in the hall and of course it was a success. The troupe was composed of two gentlemen and one lady. Can't remember her name, but she is some celebrated movie actress.

Soleville had a school house but no church and perhaps that accounts for its losing out when Manchester was established.

Settlement That Led to Manchester Was Mile or More East of Present Business Section.

The first building erected in this township was a log house on the east side of the river, not far from where the Creamery now stands.

The river was dammed and a saw mill erected on the east bank near John White's residence where the few early settlers hauled logs to be sawed into planks, boards and timbers used in some of the residences that are still occupied by our citizens.

Among the residences now standing and occupied that were erected in those early days is the home erected by Mr. Sole, which has since been occupied by Thomas Morgan and M. B. Wallace, and is now owned by R. G. Sorrow. The location of the site overlooking the Raisin valley and the prosperous village of Manchester, must have been an inspiration in the early pioneer days.

TOBACCO IS NEXT--- So soon Dr. S. Dickie of Albion. The saloon and John Barleycorn have but a short time. Woman suffrage will soon be universal in the U. S. Women and the men opposed to tobacco, with a united front, can do to Tobacco what has been done to the Saloon. We do not know what industry will be tackled next in this free United States, but eat, drink and wear are the most essential, and when the time comes that we are told what we must wear we will not be in the clothing business. IRON CREEK

The health of the community is much better.

Frank Troiz of Jackson was down to the farm, Tuesday.

Mrs. George M. Sutton returned from Detroit, Monday.

There will be services at the church Sunday evening at the usual time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Benedict of Franklin were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Scully.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman of Caro are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. James Scully's this week.

The Woman's missionary society will meet with Mrs. Chris. Fry on Thursday, Feb. 6 and a pot-luck dinner will be served.

About 14 neighbors gave Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stringham a complete surprise at their home last Thursday evening and had a jolly time. It was in honor of their eighteenth wedding anniversary.

Elwin Matteson, who went to Jackson a few weeks ago to work, did not like a night job and when looking about chanced to meet L. R. Hatch, formerly of Manchester, and through him secured a position in the Michigan Central ticket office.

John M. Gauss and family, who have lived in this community for many years, have sold out and moved into the village. The neighbors wish them health and happiness. Bert Partlow, who bought the place, has moved and is getting settled.

Those neither absent nor tardy for the month ending Jan. 24, in district No. 9—Miss Alta L. Grossman, teacher; Lena Gauss, Nellie, Olive and Myron Stockinger; Elmer Paul. The star spellers were Nellie Stockinger, Lena and Arthur Gauss.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the month of January in district No. 4, M. J. Ferguson, teacher; Paul and Katharine Frey, Raymond and Iola Loucks. Perfect spellers were Robert and Richard Schaible and Iola Loucks.

We hear that people who have taken auto trips through the eastern states mention the many abandoned farms seen through that section. It may not be that we have so many acres of land lying idle around here, but to one who is driving through the country it may have the appearance, for surely there are a considerable number of vacant and abandoned houses.

We learn that County Agricultural Agent Osler is trying to induce the farmers of this section to hold an institute at the church about the first of March. That would not be a bad thing and might arouse some interest of benefit to the community. Surely there is abundance of talent to arrange and carry out a program that would be worth listening to. All those in favor of the scheme, say yes, and take it up with your neighbors.

They also have pigs. The present prices it is more profitable to feed the corn to the pigs and sell the pork than it is to sell the corn itself. The truth is that the demand for this grain is growing so fast that production has not kept pace with it. Long hailed as king in America, it is extending its sway to the whole world.

WHERE THEY GET BEST MEN.

The Philadelphia Ledger takes issue with one of the big city dailies in its view that the new secretary of the treasury does not size up to the job. The only argument advanced, says the Ledger, is that Mr. Glass, being a country editor, has no training in high finance, to which the Ledger replies: "The big city editor who does not know that the country editor has more trouble with financing his job than any other part of it, needs personal contact to enlighten him. Any man who can successfully run a country newspaper is fit for most any big job. Secretary of the Navy Daniels was not the first man to prove this, and it is safe to say that Secretary Glass will not be the last. Numerous country editors help much in running the country without holding any other job."

GO DO IT QUICK.

A working man, with wife and a child to support, dropped in at the police station Saturday night, says Jackson News. He was half stewed and seemed to glory in his smartness in being able to buy half a pint of whisky for $4. Lieut. Behan gave him some short-arm jabs, as follows: "There's something wrong with your noodle, young man. Any poor man with a family to support who turns his pockets inside out for a little booze needs a guardian. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. How can you look your wife and child in the face after throwing away your money so foolishly—money that you need to supply the common decencies of a home? You call it habit, and say that after taking one drink you must have another. Bosh, every word of it! It is your contemptible low-down selfishness cropping out. Why don't you call it by the right name? Why don't you jump in the lake some night and say, 'Here goes nothing'? That's what I think of you."

DIGGING WITH DYNAMITE.

Digging of pole holes with dynamite is a comparatively new practice, but it is fast supplanting the old-fashioned, tedious and costly hand work. This new method has been found to be so practical and economical that it is fast being adopted by companies and contractors in this line of work. When dynamite is used, a smaller number of laborers is required, and in days of labor shortage, this fact is most pertinent. Another advantage not to be overlooked, in connection with the use of dynamite and hand digging, is that the force of the explosion tends to pack the dirt, especially if wet, solidly around the walls of the hole, making a much firmer hole than possible to do by hand digging. In hand digging, where hand work is employed, the tendency is to make the holes shallow which is quite natural, but in using explosives this danger is completely eliminated.

NORTH SHARON

Misses Clara Holden and Loretta Weber spent Saturday in Jackson.

Mrs. L. B. Lawrence of Chelsea and Mrs. Max Irwin spent Thursday in Jackson.

Miss Carrie Washburne spent Saturday in Grass Lake as the guest of Minnie Hilton.

The Epworth League will be led by Mrs. Fred Luman on Sunday. Topic: "The greatest democracy, China."

Miss Alice Richmond-Case, who was a teacher in our schools for many years, afterwards living in Duith, has gone to Saskatchewan to visit relatives. She always likes to hear from old friends in Manchester.

Charles Seckinger, when in Ypsilanti last week on business, called on his brother William, who now owns and lives on a farm near Willis. That is a fine country, one of the oldest of the settlements in the country.

Mrs. August Kirk recently received a copy of a Columbus, Ohio, paper telling of her brother winning the Croix de Guerre. He has 14 citations, such as Soisson, Verdun, Tirzy and Chateau Thierry. He was gassed, buried alive, and wounded 14 times.

After practicing medicine here for 43 years, our townsman C. F. Kaapp feels that he should withdraw from active practice, in fact he has been trying to quit for two or three years. We wonder how many thousands of miles he has driven during all those years.

Mrs. F. D. Merithew's nephew, Corp. Raynor Fogell, of Jackson, has received his discharge and is back home. He has been at several camps recently on the Pacific coast and was greatly impressed with the activities as well as the scenic beauty of Washington and Oregon.

We learn that Lynn Glover, son of Mrs. Sophia Glover of Ann Arbor, was discharged from U. S. service and returned home on Jan. 10. The following day he accepted a fine position at Gary, Ind., and went there to take up his work. Many Manchester friends will rejoice at his good fortune.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnson and the board of stewards of the Methodist church and their wives held the monthly meeting at Mr. and Mrs. Yocum's, Tuesday evening. There were no business communications to overcome, so most of the time was spent in partaking of refreshments.

Our townsman Henry L. Root celebrated his 70th birthday on Wednesday and is receiving the congratulations of neighbors and friends. Mr. Root learned the jeweler's trade of Mr. Chubbuck, who had a store in the same place where Mr. Root's store is located. For several years he lived at Oakley, near Saginaw, but concluded to return to his old home town where he opened a store and has conducted a successful business ever since.

Lewis Louier appears to be making a steady gain, though still in bed. He has a good appetite—some one made the remark: "He eats like a thrasher." Before he had his last set-back he was talking of making a trip to Florida and wanted his friend Dan Gage to go along. Now he is again talking about a trip for rest and possible sun-baths, when he has sufficiently recovered to permit it. Surely he could get a surfeit of sun-baths in the flowery southern state, and if he chanced to meet our townsman Harry Calhoun, could no doubt have his appetite sufficiently appeased by partaking of those big fat oysters and excellent fish so abundant in the gulf country.

Hoover Says New Inter-Allied World Relief Organization Will Aid Near East Relief Plans

HOOVER

Washington, Jan. 29.—Herbert Hoover has cabled the American Committee for Relief in the Near East, through the food administration, Washington, that, while the bulk of the relief work to be done will be financed by the countries affected, through the medium of loans of other government assistance, "nevertheless distress and suffering exists in many areas where payment for relief supplies cannot be made. These charity cases will still urgently need private benevolence.

"This is the situation with regard to the Armenians, Syrians and Persians," continues Hoover's cablegram. "There is probably no greater suffering today than among the persecuted peoples of Asia Minor who have no other funds and cannot secure government loans and have no other credit.

The further text of the Hoover cable reads: "It is to aid this distressing situation that your Committee for Relief in the Near East is making its appeal to the generosity of the American people.

"With your financing accomplished, your committee representing these stricken people can come under the direction of the new Inter-Allied World Relief organization and will receive its co-operation in the purchasing and shipment of supplies.

"Arrangements are now being made to assign one complete four car now en route for Southern Europe to the order of your committee and further supplies will shortly be allocated to you by the Inter-Allied Committee as soon as we are assured that the necessary finances have been provided.

(Signed) HOOVER."

The world recognition thus given the American Committee for Relief in the Near East follows naturally upon the proclamations of President Wilson and the pronouncements of the Secretary of State and other high officials, recognizing its work officially and calling upon the people of the United States to give generously to its fund during its $30,000,000 drive, which begins January 12.
