FATALLY HURT IN FIELD

Sylvan Farmer Victim of Unseen Accident While Harvesting Near Chelsea.

Ira Watkins, who worked on the Riemensneider farm in west Sylvan, was found unconscious and in a badly lacerated condition in a wheat field where he had been operating a binder, soon after the dinner hour on Monday. He was given all possible medical aid but died during the afternoon.

Watkins, who is well known as "Ned," had worked on the farm the past 14 years. On the day of the accident he had gone to the field early, having a pair of young horses hitched to the binder. A boy on the farm observed him at work about 9:30, but he was not noticed after that. It is supposed that he left his seat and stood in front of the machine to fix something and the team started and drew the heavy binder over him. Both horses and binder were found about 100 feet from the body, standing in the fence corner, so there is no evidence of a runaway.

The injured man must have lain in the open field under the glare of the boiling sun for several hours as is calculated from the time last seen and the amount of work he had done before discovered. The unfortunate man was 46 years of age. Previous to working on the Riemensneider farm he had lived in Napoleon where several brothers and other relatives reside. He was a member of the Grass Lake Congregational church and belonged to the masonic fraternity, being affiliated with Grass Lake lodge.

Senator Lodge Issues Appeal for Armenians

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts has issued the following statement, appealing to the people of the United States to contribute to the work of the American and Syrian Relief:

"The distress and suffering in the Near East is very severe and relief is greatly needed. I earnestly hope that Americans will give generously to the fund of the committee in charge of this work. The sufferings of those poor people are intense and no time is to be lost in aiding them in the most generous way and to the very best of our ability."

"In Alexandropol I visited refugees and the city soup kitchens. The city gives soup to 26,173. In three soup kitchens which I visited I saw and heard exactly the same things. The menu is like this: Eight pounds of wheat and about twenty nine pounds of meat and bone are made into a soup which is divided amongst 200 people once a day. Thirty seven pounds of solid food for 200 people, about three ounces to the person. The share of soup with its portion of wheat and meat for each person was less than a teaspoonful."

Cherries may be scarce around here, but up in the Grand Traverse region they are so plentiful that owners are begging for pickers.

Active Fraternal Society Feels Itself Pinched in Present Quarters And Is Looking for New.

The Knights of Pythias lodge has attained such a size that it has outgrown its present quarters and the members have been looking around for more space. The Manchester hotel building and the Sloat and Kirchgessner blocks offered the best selection of existing good buildings, and the location of each is better than could be obtained elsewhere. The lodge has offers from the proprietors of the two latter buildings and may consider the purchase of both and remodeling of the second and third stories to meet the requirements. The second stories could be used for club rooms and the third floor for lodge room and dance hall.

FREE ENTERTAINMENT AT MICH. STATE FAIR

During the ten days of the Michigan State Fair, at Detroit, August 29 to September 7, free attractions, the equal of which has never been collected in this state, will be presented. C. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the fair association, has scoured the nation to obtain the greatest, outstanding attractions in the amusement market.

Trained animals, circus performers, airplanes, fireworks and many other big features including automobile races and auto polo will fill up every afternoon and evening of the entire fortnight.

Among some of the acts which are to appear are: Trained apes and a trained elephant; Hawaiian singers; Fernikoff Rose Ballad; clowns; trained dogs; Jap tumblers; Aronty Brothers, and many other clever and eccentric acts.

Dumbar's White Huzzar band is to be at the fair during the entire 10 days to play afternoons and evenings in the grand stand and give band concerts in the parks.

They must have spirited horses at Brooklyn, so many runaways are reported. Sumner Turk's team would not stand while he stopped the binder to set up wheat but ran and in passing through the gate the binder struck a post, whirled around and knocked the team down. The post stood in the Detroit.—Delayed cablegrams from the Caucasus received at national headquarters of the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief in New York report conditions are "indescribably bad." A typhus epidemic has been raging in the region about Tiflis and Erivan, and at the time the messages were sent, the medicines were exhausted.

One of the cablegrams from Erivan, which is at the foot of Mt. Ararat, says: "Food shortage terrible. Food now in Erivan will last six days only. Every week's delay costs thousands of lives."

The latest message from the Caucasus received by the committee came from Dr. John H. T. Main, president of Grinnell College, Iowa, the commissioner to that section for the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, and reveals that conditions have become worse instead of better since these cablegrams were sent.

Dr. Main's message dated Tiflis, says: "Conditions in this country frightful and menacing. Rapidly growing worse. It is the concentrating region for refugees from other parts. People starving, dying by thousands, and are down to using dead bodies for food."

In response to cablegram from Constantinople for about 60 additional relief workers, the committee is preparing to send another expedition to Asia Minor. It will include men and women for orphanage and industrial work, doctors, nurses, accountants, and stenographers, and one each of the following: builder, transport-supervisor, housekeeper, and woman for employment bureau.

Auto drivers are filing applications for licenses. The deputy sheriffs have blanks which have to be carefully filled out and sworn to. The license costs 50 cents and must be applied for before 10 o'clock. The

You will respond with fervor to the glowing message of this year's Chautauqua lecturers—for surely never was such a galaxy of great thinkers and gifted speakers presented in a single week!

By reason of his importance in the body politic, and doubly by reason of his nation-wide reputation as an orator, chief attention focuses on the great address of Ex-Governor Willis of Ohio, whose lecture, "Perils and Problems," cuts with the white heat of an acetylene torch to the very heart of our national problems.

George P. Bible is another orator of gifted mind. His lecture, "New Fads and Fancies," gets close to the heart of the man and the nation and helps men steer their course during these trying days.

Jas. S. Knox—community specialist, comes not only to lecture but to counsel with us to find ways to better our own "Community Efficiency." Mr. Knox is not only a powerful speaker but has the added distinction of being one of the few men in America thoroughly familiar with the problems of the small and medium-sized community, as well as those of the larger cities.

Mother Lake—that eloquent woman who has dedicated her life to overcoming the iniquities of life—often unseen and unknown by the parent—that serve to hamper the mental, physical and moral development of the child, brings her lecture, "The Divine Rights of the Child," one of the most sympathetic appeals ever heard on the Chautauqua platform.

In the collection are plenty of the dark colored voiles which are so popular. Women like them because they look well for street wear, are cool and so practical, because they do not require frequent tubbing. Some of them, in their softly blended patterns have very much the appearance of printed Georgette.

LURE OF HIDDEN GOLD CALLS "ROARING BILL" AND HAZEL INTO THE WILDERNESS.

Synopsis.—Miss Hazel Weir, a stenographer, living at Granville, Ontario, is placed under a cloud by circumstances for which she is entirely blameless.

He worked his way to a point southeast of the one at which Bill got in a little rise where through the treetops they could look out upon the cabin roof. Hazel felt that it was a little like a fine, simple instrument of the watch, which he had seen in the woods.

EVERYTHING FAILED BIG POTATO YIELD Western Canada Man Raised 600 Bushels on Two Acres.

He Thinks He Did Pretty Well, but There Were Even Larger Crops in the Medicine Hat District of Alberta. Stock Men Prose.

As a by-product the yield of potatoes on the farm of Ben Adams of Cardale, Alberta, was somewhat of a disappointing proposition. Considerable in the Medicine Hat district of Alberta, where the best yield was reported to be 600 bushels on two acres.

Washington, July 10.—President Wilson in presenting the peace treaty and the League of Nations to the Senate today in an epochal session explained to the senators and to the millions of people who were following the broadcast of his speech that the treaty was a result of the peace conference at Versailles.

The treaty constitutes nothing less than a world settlement. It would not be possible for our own government to construct its manifold provisions in an address which must necessarily be somewhat long. It covers a wide field of international relations, and its effects will be felt for many years to come.

It is unlikely to lose $13 on Friday. The price of the stock market has fallen to a level which is not generally expected to be reached for some time.

NOTED STATESMAN WILL LECTURE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

HON. FRANK B. WILLIS

Wherever men gather in America, there politics and political opinions hold forth. And wherever these things are known, the name of Frank B. Willis is a by-word.

The effectiveness of his administrative ability while Governor of Ohio, the eloquence of his oratory and the genius and insight of his mind have made him one of the most popular lecturers on the Chautauqua platform.

Our community is to be congratulated on having the opportunity of hearing him.

Governor Willis' subject is "Perils and Problems," and his lecture deals with those phases of National and International life which the aftermath of the great world-war makes so vital a factor in our national as well as our individual existence.

This lecture is the big feature of the second night of the Chautauqua.

The Enterprise received a pleasant call from Rev. J. S. Steingler of Flint last Friday forenoon. He had come to officiate at the funeral of Miss Louise Coon. Rev. Steingler occupied a portion of her residence when he resided here as pastor of the M. E. church.

Herman Huber was injured while unloading a tractor from a truck a few days ago. The tractor when put on the truck was left in gear and when he cranked it to run it off the truck it moved forward and squeezed him. Help was at hand and he was released from the dangerous situation.

A lapel button, to be known as the Victory Button, for wear on civilian clothes, will be issued to all officers, enlisted men, field clerks and members of the Army Nurse Corps who served on active duty in the army of the United States, at any time between Apr. 6, 1917 and Nov. 11, 1918 and whose service was honorable. The button will be silver for those wounded in action and bronze for all others. These buttons may be secured at recruiting offices by presentation of the honorable discharge papers, or soldiers in the second congressional district of this state may secure theirs by sending their honorable discharge papers to their congressman, Hon. Earl C. McInerney Washington, D. C. Or upon application to him a blank may be furnished which should be executed before a notary public, and which will be sufficient without the original discharge paper.

A fine resident portion of a village or city may be spoiled by allowing a grocery, garage or factory to be built in it. In Ann Arbor they pay some attention to these things and we learn that other cities are beginning to investigate in order that homes may be protected from unnecessary noise, danger from fire, etc.

FREEDOM

A good many Ann Arbor people drive out to Pleasant lake on Sundays. It is an ideal place for quiet meditation and fishing.

The Enterprise frequently speaks of the scenery enjoyed by a trip over the Irish hills, south of Wampler lake. We think that we have some views worth mentioning in a ride over the "Burkhardt hill," on the Silver lake road. It's worth while to stop one's car there and look around a few moments, one will be amply repaid if he enjoys scenery. What was formerly known as the "Burkhardt hill" is just north-east of Burkhardt hill is the highest elevation in this or adjoining townships and Ann Arbor, Tecumseh, Chelsea and Manchester can easily be located from its summit. There is no road leading up, however, and one must make the climb on foot.
