WORK OF CLUB RESUMED

After Respite During Warm Months, Ladies Again Take Up Literary Pursuits.

Opening their year's work, the Saturday club met with Mrs. F. H. Blosser last Saturday afternoon. The first meeting of the year being president's day, Mrs. Fred E. Spafard gave a splendid address of a historical nature and reviewing work of the club during the past 27 years of its existence. An entertainment program planned by Mrs. Bert Lowery and Mrs. Adam Houck proved a pleasing diversion. A special roll-call cleverly executed by Mrs. J. H. Kingsley, in which members were required to guess as to the one referred to, was voted a distinctly original and pleasing feature of the program. A letter from the French orphan boy whom the club fosters was read. He is now nine years of age and expressed his appreciation of what is being done for him. Ere the club adjourned light refreshments were served. The members will continue study of the Independent magazine this year.

HOME TEAM WINS AGAIN

Football Game With Tecumseh Was Good One, But Visitors Could Not Hold Independents.

Before a large crowd of townspeople and a good attendance from Tecumseh and Clinton, the Manchester Independents sprang somewhat of a surprise Sunday afternoon by defeating Tecumseh by a score of 15 to 0.

When Capt. Crowl called his men on Brighton field it was thought by onlookers that the visitors averaged heavier than the home team and predictions were freely given as to the result of the afternoon's sport. Manchester won the toss and elected to defend the south goal, and the game had not progressed far when it was evident that Tecumseh had nothing in the way of an offensive attack and the locals' smashing attacks were able to gain almost at will on any part of the line.

Manchester's first score was a safety in the second quarter, when a punt by Tecumseh was blocked and knocked back of the goal.

In the same half the locals carried the ball almost continually and

BIG SUM FOR MISSIONS

Emanuel's Congregation Contributes Liberally for Teaching Heavens of India.

With a church filled to capacity at each session, Emanuel's church held its annual mission festival on Sunday, in three meetings, morning, afternoon and evening. Assisting Rev. Schoen in the morning service was Rev. Paul Iron of Michigan City, Indiana, who was the principal speaker. The altar and choir loft were tastefully decorated for the day and special music was prepared by the choir. At the afternoon meeting Rev. Wittbracht of Saline and Mrs. Gotsch, a missionary to India, now on leave of absence, were the speakers. Mrs. Gotsch's presence on this particular day was especially timely. She gave an interesting description of life, manners and customs of the East Indians among whom she and her husband work, supplementing her talk with songs and spoken sentences in Hindustani, the native tongue. In the evening Mrs. Gotsch gave a narrative of daily events in the life of the Indians, throwing much light on what seems to Christian people as crude and unsanitary methods of living—and dying. She stated that the people of India are today in dire straits as the result of failure of the rice crop last year, and many have perished from hunger. Rice has cost twice as much as at any other famine period. Even though there be a crop this year, which will be harvested at about this time, the people have had no money to buy clothing and many are destitute. Rev. Iron spoke in German and the meeting was further assisted by Rev. Lueckhoff and Rev. Krueger of Freedom and Rev. Boehm of Francisco. The collection for the day was perhaps the largest ever taken for a like purpose, amounting to 504.81.

SUES FOR LOSS OF HAND

Village Lad Seeks to Recover Damages for Loss of Hand at the Handle Factory.

While playing at the handle factory a year or more ago, little Harold Haarer thrust his hand through a hole in the side of the building through which dust was blown from the sanders, and coming in contact with the fan his hand was injured so it had to be amputated. It was a regrettable accident and sympathy was expressed for the little fellow, but we do not know that the proprietors were censured. Children were warned to keep away from such places.

A suit has now been brought in the circuit court for $10,000 damages against the handle factory and in filing notice of appearance and plea they characterize the lad as a "voluntary meddler."

HALLOWE'EN WAS SANE

Boys Refrained From Destruction of Property—Harmless Pranks Not Complained About.

The boys were out Halloween playing the usual pranks, soaping windows, misplacing wagons, etc., and occasionally overturning something. They must have labored hard in hauling the big road roller up on Exchange place and a corn binder on Jefferson Street. Some of our disease were considerably annoyed and put to some trouble in hunting up some articles the boys carried away, but no great damage was done anybody.

Several parties of young girls disguised themselves and appeared on the streets as witches which caused considerable merriment. A few Jack lanterns were slyly placed in windows of residences and of course frightened (?) the families.

Mrs. Magdalena Lehman and daughters entertained the following company on Sunday: Henry Lehman and family and John Lehman and son Roland of Grass Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mahrie and daughter Leona of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pfeiffer and family of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schumacher and family of Manchester.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The railroads have been taking off trains again, claiming it is done because of lack of coal. If any bunch of the public utilities have made a mess of the war propaganda it is the railroads. The unbusinesslike move made only injures their business. The building of good roads is bound to increase auto traffic to the injury of railroads, at any rate so far as local traffic is concerned. Trucks are hauling a light of all kinds auto business away. Perhaps this might have come anyway, but we believe that the uncertainty of running of trains has much to do with it.

Those neither absent nor tardy for the month of October in the Spafard district: Mabel M. Rudisiler, teacher; Mrs. Marc Maurer; Erwin Paul, Cassius and Bessie Nortley; George, Amanda, Martha and Lillian Buss. Those receiving 100 in spelling for the month were Marie Maurer, Erwin Paul, Millard Uphaus, George Buss and Gertrude Wolff. Visitors at the school during the month were Commissioner Erwin Essery, Raymond Eddy, Alice Schauble, Marian Dresselhouse, Clara Beutler, Mrs. H. Paul, and Mrs. C. Beck. A new fagpole has been erected on the school grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow J. Howard were in town Monday evening en route to Detroit to purchase stock for his barbers' supply house. Harlow drives to all towns surrounding Jackson selling to barbers various supplies needed in their business. The trade has grown so that Mrs. Howard is devoting part of her time each day to work in their office. While in Detroit they intended to also visit her brother, Adolph Fausel, and wife. Adolph is employed in one of the large men's furnishing houses of the city.
