GOOD WILL TRIUMPHANT UNDER TEST

As this message is being written, Dodge Brothers' daily, weekly and monthly production is at the highest point in its

The most casual sort of inquiry will satisfy you that this production is being absorbed as it is delivered.

Within sight and sound as we write, a great addition to Dodge Brothers" immense works is being rushed to com-

The interesting thing about this situation is, that it is not likely that a half a hundred people have ever bought a Dodge Brothers Motor Car just because they wanted a motor car.

Of the more than half a million who have bought it the overwhelming majority did so because of the name it bore.

It has always been treated, by the American people in particular, as an exception always set apart and singled out, and never judged by ordinary. standards.

It has always been thought of, and is still thought of, first and foremost, and all the time, only in terms of its goodness, and the results it gives.

All of this is wanderful, in one way, and quite natural and logical in another.

It all dates back to the day when John and Horace Dodge conceived and designed and finally built the car—after warning each other and their associates—not even to think of it in any other terms than the best obtainable value.

They began with a few almost absurdiy simple principles, bluntly expressed and rigidly executed, about decency and honor and integrity-such as most of us us wrote in our copy books at school.

They reduced these old copy book maxims to a splendid and scientific system. pouring more and more and still more value into the car, and then marshalling all the resources of modern massed manufacture to get their product into the hands of the people at an honorable and an honest cost. - .

These policies and principles have never been changed, and never will be changed by so much as a hair's breadth; and they have come to be recognized and accepted as Dodge Brothers principles

It has all happened as John and Horace Dodge planned it quite simply, naturally, and automatically, all over America and all over the world.

People do discriminate, as Dodge Brothers contended they would; people will find out when a motor car is well built and gives good service and good

Dodge Brothers' market today is where they planned to locate and establish it in the mind and the heart of every man and woman who admires good work

It will last, and it will keep on growing, as it has kept on growing for five years (faster than Dodge Brothers' works could keep pace with it), as long as the. number of those who believe that a manufacturer should build-to serve and not merely sell continues to increase.

All is well with Dodge Brothers today. because John and Horace Dodge builded well in the beginning, and because their business will continue to build well until
