AT VILLAGE CAUCUSES

Good Attendance Indicated Growth of Interest in Village Affairs This Year.

The prodigal use of oil on village streets last year, the unexpected expense in building the electric transmission line to Clinton, the purchase of fire apparatus with no funds in the treasury, the unlooked-for buying of expensive machinery at the electric light plant, the high rate of taxation and the present financial condition of the treasury seemingly have stirred our citizens to look about them and take more interest in business affairs of the village.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Ada Stringham was in Jackson Saturday on business. Will Chase came from Jackson to visit his parents Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Shutes of Jackson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brette.

GOOD WORDS FOR MANCHESTER.

Stranger Sees Features Often Not Appreciated by Villagers.

A person who has traveled extensively throughout the state and had been in Manchester, was asked what he thought of the place, and replied: "I think it a very beautiful and progressive town. I found it had a convenient, comfortable and clean rest room and was the only place where I found rocking chairs in the railroad waiting room."

GOOD WORDS FOR MANCHESTER.

We hope that Commissioner Cox of the county roads system will be able to get a favorable bid on construction of the road west of town to the Jackson county line, on Wednesday, March 9, as per advertisement in another column of the Enterprise. That road certainly needs immediate attention and should be built the coming season. There is plenty of gravel to be procured nearby and here are no hills to climb, so the team work will not be hard. Teams ought to be secured at somewhat less price than last year, and laborers also.

GAS PLANT EXPLODES

Myron Ingraham Nearly Killed Over-riding by Bursting of Machine at His Home, Sunday.

While attending to an auxiliary gas plant at his home, southwest of this village, about 5 o'clock Sunday evening, Myron Ingraham was accidentally injured by an explosion of the apparatus that he has been unconscious much of the time since and there are grave doubts of his recovery.

GOOD WORDS FOR MANCHESTER.

What caused the accident is not known. It is said he had no light about the machine and he has been unable to speak and offer an explanation. It is said he asked those who rushed to his rescue to turn him over, and has since been unable to talk. He was accompanied by one of his children, who stood by while the injured, Myron is reported as somewhat better today.

WE WILL MEASURE UP

It was said of George Washington that the office of President of the United States was "cut to his measure"—it fitted him better than any man of his time.

The life of each of us is cut to measure—it is up to us to recognize and live up to its full capabilities.

This institution is doing its best to fulfill the purpose for which it came into being—to assist the people of this community, through the wise management of finances, to attain their full share of success.

On Washington's Birthday this Institution was closed, to honor the memory of a great man who measured up to the work cut out for him.

FINALLY SCORED CROWS OFF

Device Employed by Los Angeles Man Was Somewhat More Effective Than Neighbor's Umbrella.

"Not long ago a friend of mine from Birmingham was sitting on my front porch when a flock of crows flew across one of my birds," said B. F. Power, and he remarked that it was the biggest lot he had seen for years and asked if they did not injure his flock. He replied that until I got onto a way to keep them out of my watermelon patch they ruined a lot of them pecking holes in one and then hopping for another.

"I tried various ways but without success," he said, "and finally I got a patch and ran just an ordinary piece of cotton around them about eight inches from ground and between the poles tied pieces of cotton to tap in the wind. It worked like a charm.

"An addition of mine used to say that he was a bird expert and he had a brace in the middle of the patch, and he said, 'one day a crowing bird behind it, he pecked over it and there sat a bunch of crows having a watermelon feast.'—Los Angeles Times.

No New-Fangled Notions

John came from down state to the city schools. He was placed in the seventh grade, and then his teacher's troubles began. His mother thought the course of study should be identical with the one which had been followed in the faraway red schoolhouse. She objected strenuously to physical culture and the study of the sciences as a waste of time.

And when some John's first day at manual training. The next day came an indignant note to the teacher from John's mother. It read: "Dear Miss B. I want you to quit having John waste his time at school. That music and physical culture exercise was bad enough, but now you begin to learn him to waltz. Please stop it immediately. Or I'll change him to another school. He inherits waltzing from his father, and his brains from me. I'm trying to educate him, not educate his inheritance."—Chicago News.

Superheated Steam

Two grades ago few would have admitted the possibility of permanent 15 regularly producing steam at temperatures of from 500 degrees to 650 degrees Fahrenheit within the restricted area of the ordinary locomotive boiler. Now thousands of locomotives use this superheated steam, and its use is increasing.

By heating steam 150 degrees Fahrenheit above the saturation temperature "wet steam" is produced. With this increase of temperature the steam is raised and the volume is increased. But the increase of volume is less important than the suppression of all condensation in the cylinder. If the superheat is sufficiently high, the steam being a bad conductor it then reduces loss by cooling the cylinders from 25 to 30 per cent, according to type and structure of the engine.

The business of the Nulyne Laboratories was established in 1901, and has developed from a modest beginning to its present large proportions. The company manufactures Private Formula Products, Dentifrices and other preparations and compounds for scientific, medicinal and domestic use.

Nulyne Laboratories originated and manufactures Chlorox Tooth Paste, which is extensively advertised, and which is being sold and distributed by more than 25,000 retail druggists throughout the United States.

Nulyne Laboratories has a manufacturing capacity of 5,000,000 tablets and 300,000 tubes of Chlorox Tooth Paste per day. The margin of profit in the manufacture of private formula products and Chlorox Tooth Paste is probably as great or greater, than any other line of manufactured commodities. The object of the present offering is to provide working capital, and to handle additional large contracts for private formula products.

The Charter of the Company provides that 50 per cent of the Company's net earnings, as reported to the Federal Government after deduction of taxes, shall be declared and paid in dividends each year. After 8 per cent has been declared on the Preferred and 8 per cent on the Common Stock, the Preferred and Common Stock share equally. (See provisions of Charter and Stock Certificates)

The above provisions, in view of the Company's established business and opportunity for profitable operation, make the issue, with its bonus of Common Stock, a most desirable investment.

Most wise investors are buying, right now, all the sound securities they can. They realize that the general market situation has brought about a condition where good, safe investments can be bought on a basis of high yield. If your available cash is low you may be able to take advantage of my time payment plan, or perhaps you may be able to take advantage of this unusual condition by re-investment. Look into your safety deposit box and see if there are not some securities that you could profitably exchange for higher return (and equally safe with the 50 per cent clause) investments.

Wm. Lindbert is busy having rail road ties from the Schyap wood yard taken to the railroad station. There are 4,000 in the lot and at 40 to a load he will be steadily working for some time. MOTHER SWAT FOR THE FLY

Supreme Court of Maine Adds Its Voice to Denunciation of Almost Universal Pest.

The dog having had his day before the Supreme court in Washington, we now find the "buggy, curious, thirsty" pest of the house, the fly, the vector of the Supreme court of Maine as a co-defendant. He finds our assailants. For his size he is the most malicious and detestable of beasts, and the mischief he does is incalculable. In this village we present the plaintiff in his own case. The text of one of the most execrating denunciations of the fly that have been penned, but will the fly care? Not a bit of it. "A fly is a common son in his despise," as an unlearned man once said. "Probably a fly was testing the patience of God as he wrote the best thing John Bulling ever said was 'The fly is a creature of the devil'." "AS A carrier of pestilential disease the fly is without a peer. The help of the fly is being divided into districts with the plan of holding conventions from time to time to stimulate interest and foster the fraternal spirit."

Wm. Lindbert is busy having rail road ties from the Schyap wood yard taken to the railroad station. There are 4,000 in the lot and at 40 to a load he will be steadily working for some time. Nothing has ever been found that quite takes the place of good old oak for the kind of work he is doing. He is not having his disarrangements. To be sure, the oak is a little higher in price, but after being treated with creosote they last much longer in former years. They are now used all over this country and hauling them long distances is found more satisfactory than trying to use ties locally available. Mr. Faigo of Toledo, who has bought much timber in this region from time to time, is getting out this message.
