Re B. Moore, chief chemist geologist of the department of the interior and helium gas expert, built the plant.

There are two reasons: first the legislature never has appropriated funds for highway maintenance in sufficient quantity to allow much diversion to beautification; second, it is the belief of Mr. Boehler that it is better to proceed slowly and plant heron, 50 years; bear, 50 years; rawith an eye to the future than to helium, according to Moore. The largest deposits of helium are found in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, he said.
