The range, it appears, has only six peaks above 27,000 feet high and an aviator fiying at about 23,000 or 24,000 feet should have no difficulty in crossing if the highest peaks were avoided, while if he chose certain of the gerges an altitude of some 19,000 feet would suffice. The greatest of the many obstacles to be encountered is the mountain sickness, which occurs in the highest attitudes through deficiency of oxygen. The gradual climber, going afoot, is less handicapped in this respect than the aviator rising suddenly from sea level in his machine. On the other hand, the pedestrian has more fatigue to under go, and this practically equalizes matters.—New York Herald.

DODGE BROTHERS ANNOUNCE IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS

Dodge Brothers have not simply brought out a complete new line of motor cars. They have done something infinitely wiser and better' than that. They have brought new beauty, new riding ease and new mechanical perfection to the product on which their reputation as builders has been founded.

They have built a better and a more desirable line of motor cars—yet basically and fundamentally the identity of their product remains the same.

The same sturdy engine is under the hood; the same dependable chassis, improved in numberless details, underlies the body. But the rear springs—now underslung-have been materially lengthened. The wheelbase, too, is longer, and the combined result is 1 notable improv riding qualities.

Bodies of all types have been designed to give improved appearance, and greater comfort. Lower, longer, with deeper seats and more new cars are low-swung and graceful—the interiors are comfortable and roomy. New head lamps and fenders, especially designed by Dodge Brothers to conform with the general lines of the car—a long straight hood and cowl'effect-longer and wider running boards—un-

Combining these features with important mechanical ous and technical to enumerate here, it is not extravagant to predict a reception in automotive annals.
