on that line, one is barely outside the corporation when he gets a snift of another odor, one that the thrifty farmers are stirring up to fertilize their broad, level acres. By the looks of their comfortable homes and farm buildings you may conclude what use these farmers make of the immense crops they harvest every year—they are stock raisers.

Entering Tecumseh over the new boulevard reminds one of a prosperous city. Well, it is a live town, and why shouldn't it be with such hustlers as Joe Smith, Fred Rosacrans, Charlie Patterson, Wade Jones, the Coller boys and scores of other good fellows pushing it ahead. And that reminds us that it is unusually dry right there. Fred Wood said they were praying for rain. May they get an abundance.

Schoof and daughter Helen Fred reports his first experience on a golf course, he and the doctor being guests of Rey in an early morning game at the Plum Hollow club of which Roy is a member. Fred did not make any part of the course in the over-size shoes loaned by Roy. The doctor, who doesn't lay claim to being more than a novice at the game, couldn't blame a single "swish" to his shoes, and for 'ack of something else laid it to the extremely early hour. Rey made the same well under 100—but his companions called attention to the fact that he kept score. Following sight-seeding drives about the city a party of 14 gathered at Belle Ise for picinic dinner Sunday evening at which no excuses or explanations are made, as all did remarkably well. Geographical isolation makes the Railroads of Michigan a transportation system like that of no other state. Most of our traffic either originates or ends in Michigan.

Bridge the Great Lakes with car-ferries and tunnel under the mighty connecting rivers, though we may, such accomplishments merely better our service to you; we are Michigan Railroads more than transcontinental traffic lines. Our train schedule Michigan, not for New York and San Francisco

To a degree greater than any other state, Michigan's welfare, and the welfare of her Railroads, are therefore one and inseparable. You cannot fall back on trans-continental lines for emergency help; we must always rely on you for our chief support.

We can prosper only together.

Because of this mutual dependence, the twenty-four Railroads operating in Michigan have formed this Association with the purpose of strengthening the relations of the Railroads with the People of the State, by providing you with a clearing house for the exchange of ideas, relative to the transportation problems so vital to the prosperity of our Peninsular State.

We invite your suggestions toward bringing about a better understanding and closer cooperation between the Public and the Railroads. Communicate with this Association.

Henry Ford bought a locomotive of ancient pattern in the northern part of the state, brought it to Detroit and had it rigged so that boys might sit in the engineer's seat, pull the throttle and hear the choo-choo of steam as it went out of the stack. Once in a while when an imaginative obstacle is ahead the bell cord is pulled. Henry arranged it all for the amusement of boys who visit the State Fair, and he certainly struck a responsive cord in the heart of many boys, as there is a constant stream of youths going into the cab on one side and out on the other. ### A SCHOOL GIRL'S SUCCESS

Everything Depends upon her Health

Mrs. George E. Whitacre Tells of her Daughter's Breakdown and How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Healthy, Happy, Strong Girl

Every mother possesses information of vital importance to her young daughter, and the responsibility for her future is largely in her hands.

When a school girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she suffers the consequences of wet feet, pain, headaches, fainting spells, loss of sleep and appetite, and is irregular, her mother should have a thought for her physical condition and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has proved a reliable aid to nature for just such conditions in so many cases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable ompound is a splendid medicine for This Mother Writes:

Mahoningtown, Pa—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago. I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now she is a healthy.

Compound is a splendid medicine for young women just entering wonanhood. Mothers can depend upon it. It is prepared from roots and herbs, great power to tone up and strengthen the system, so it will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help-your daughter and yourself. This Mother Writes:
