

LENAWEE COUNTY

Jonas Sprague, aged 36, died Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Berlin, three miles northwest of Tipton.

Mrs. Cora Wheeler Haschley died at Adrian Saturday evening, Sept. 22nd, aged 73 years, leaving a husband, three daughters and one son.

Mrs. Ogden Cole, who was born in Rollin and lived there many years, but was later a resident of Seattle, Wash., died there Sept. 22, aged 78 years.

The attendance at the County fair last week was not sufficiently large to make any money for the fair. The weather was cold most of the time, besides being rainy.

As a result of their winning the three highest standings in the stock judging contest held at the Lenawee County Fair, Saturday, Harold Kiersey of Adrian, Clara Force of Sand Creek, and Clarence Beal of Manitow Beach will have their transportation paid to the International Livestock Exposition to be held at Chicago from Dec. 1 to 8.

We heartily agree with the statement made that Michigan should take legal steps to prevent the city of Chicago from continued use of water from the Great Lakes for its drainage canal. Every year more and more water is being used by that city and the level of the lakes has been lowered until not only the shipping interests are endangered, but the fruit growers of Michigan are complaining. Immediate action should be taken before it is too late. It is reported that a company has been organized to build boats which will use the drainage canal for transportation of goods between Chicago and New Orleans. Once started, such a scheme will call for a great additional amount of water to operate the locks and provide water-power for various industries along the route. Get busy, we say, before it is too late.

WILD ANIMALS OF STATE STUDIED

Observation of Wild Life of State Leads to Conclusions Regarding State Game Preserves.

Dr. Lee R. Dice curator of mammals of the Michigan university museum and his party who had been in Charlevoix, Ousee and Grand Traverse and Montmorency counties the past summer, making an extensive survey to determine the kind, number and habits of the mammals of that section, have returned home.

Miss Dorcas Lemon, who devoted her time principally to the study of parasitic protozoa, and Scott Warthin, Jr., and Joselyn Van Tyne, as assistants, comprised the party.

Information concerning the natural haunts of the various animals, the different types of habitats in which they lived, and how abundant the mammals were was closely observed. Mr. Dice brought back 450 specimens, but says that there are but few sections of native hardwood left in the state, that these are scattered, and when these disappear it will mean that the forms of animals which live there also will disappear.

Michigan is backward in arranging game refuges for the wild animals of the state, and unless something is done within the near future, it is predicted that many of the types of animals which are now abundant in Emmet county there is a game refuge of 8,000 acres where many types of animals are kept.

In contrast to this state, it was shown how California had taken steps to save native haunts of animals. Both state and federal forests are available, and in 1922 California had 1,792,000 acres given over to game refuges. In addition to the refuges there are national parks, state game preserves and federal bird preserves, giving a total of 2,834,261 acres which are protected for birds and animals.

We do not know what provision the Michigan conservation commission has made, if any, for the retention of many acres of tamarac forest, swamp and lakes comprising the Cedar Hill State Park at Wampler lake, but when the site was being projected it was claimed that it was an ideal place for a state game preserve.

The Enterprise heartily supports any movement that will protect the wild animals and birds that have made their homes here.

If more farmers had attended the "barnyard" meetings and listened to talks given by men from the Agricultural College we believe it would have been a great benefit to them. The work done by the boys' and girls' clubs under the direction of well skilled men has brought good results, as has been shown at the recent state and county fairs. In conversation with a prominent farmer and stock-raiser a few days ago we were told something that convinces us that the farmer has a son who has been given the care of the stock and he has been taking instruction and working along lines suggested by the college men. In looking over some stock exhibited, the father remarked that he would like to buy a certain animal which looked good to him. "I wouldn't," replied the boy. "Why not?" he was asked. "The boy replied that the animal lacked this and that point needed to make it desirable, which he readily showed, and which were conceded by the father. The boy had been to the Chicago Livestock Exposition and had heard all these points discussed.

INDIAN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Organization for Promotion of Universal Peace Existed Among Indians Back in Stone Age.

New York state Indians in the Stone Age had a constitutional league of nations for the promotion of universal peace which was based on and dominated by woman's suffrage and in which the initiative, referendum and recall were employed, so J. N. B. Hewitt, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, who has just returned from an investigation among the Iroquois of New York and Canada, declared here, says the New York Evening Post.

Chiefdoms among the confederated Mohawk, Onondaga, Oneida, Cayuga and Seneca tribes had equal rights and titles with the male chiefs, who were nominated by women's votes, his most recent researches into the governmental plan of these five nations reveal.

The scope of the league formed among these Indians in the Sixteenth century, Mr. Hewitt said, was not limited to the five Iroquois tribes, but they proposed to bring under their form of government all known tribes of men. The league was based on peace, righteousness, justice, power and health. Laws were provided to stop family feuds and regulations for the promotion of mental hygiene were laid down.

Hilawata was one of the league chiefs selected by the women and subjected to recall by them, he said. Mr. Hewitt found that the automobile, the phonograph and other modern products are rapidly causing the Indians to forget many of their former laws and customs.

LIFE ON THE OTHER WORLDS

Astronomers Less Optimistic Regarding Existence of Life Than the Enthusiast.

Discussing planetary life, so far as it bears on the planetary system of the sun, we may state the average astronomical opinion; it is far less optimistic for the diffusion of life than is the opinion of the enthusiast.

(1.) Venus, so far as we can see, more nearly fulfills the conditions than any planet other than the earth. Its mass and orbit are certainly favorable, its distance, rotation, and chemical constitution, are probably not unfavorable, though we cannot penetrate its dense covering of clouds and seek out the mysteries of its surface.

(2.) Low forms of life may exist on the planet Mars, where the thin atmosphere does permit our telescope explorations. High forms of life at the present time are, however, generally deemed improbable, and beings comparable with man and other terrestrial mammals are considered utterly impossible.

(3.) The other planets of the solar system are now quite unsuited to protoplasmic life—Harrow, Shapley, director of Harvard College Observatory, in Harper's.

Couldn't Wait Longer. An old lady was on a visit to her married daughter. One day there was company, and little Theodore, the hope of the house, was doing his best to amuse his mother's visitors. Presently he left the room, to return soon afterward with a zinc bucket. This he planted right in front of his grandmother, while the others sat wondering what was about to happen.

"Grandma," said little Theodore, "will you kick it?"

"Bless the child," said the surprised old lady, "why do you wish me to do that, darling?"

"Because," replied the young hopeful, "I heard pa say we should be awfully rich when pa kicked the bucket!"

His Bossy. All good farmers like their cows, but Lewis Owen either carried matters to extremes or else must have had an especially likeable cow. This is the way they tell the story down in Crawford county, Indiana, where Mr. Owen, a Kentuckian, recently bought a farm.

One of his neighbors was James H. Clay, also a Kentuckian, and from him Owen bought a cow, but the cow didn't want to leave her family pasture. She liked the Clay farm, she was contented there. So they traded farms and Owen moved over with the cow. Everyone is said to be satisfied, especially Bossy.

Yes, Why? "Do you think I shall live until I'm 90, doctor?"

"How old are you now?"

"Forty."

"Do you drink, gamble, smoke, or have you any vices of any kind?"

"No, I don't drink, I never gamble, I don't smoke; in fact, I haven't any vices."

"Well, good heavens, why do you want to live another 50 years?"

The Test. Villager (standing at his gate holding a dog on a leash, to passing neighbor)—"Won't you step in and chat a moment, Monsieur Paul?"

Neighbor—"You're sure your dog won't bite me?"

Villager—"That's just what I want to find out. I only got him this morning—Pettit Parisien, Paris."

Impending Catastrophe. It was in the midst of a nose dive, and Reginald, who was making his first flight, tugged frantically at the pilot's sleeve.

"We better get away from here," he shrieked; "the earth's swelling up like a balloon and it's liable to burst any minute."

MANCHESTER BEATEN BY CLOSE SHAVE--3-2

Umpire's Decision in Doubtful Case Gives Tecumseh Victory—Last Game Here Next Sunday.

Baseball fans witnessed a red hot game between Tecumseh and Manchester at Tecumseh, Sunday afternoon. Added to the active strife between the two teams for this position in the Southern Michigan League, the decision of Umpire Guy that a batsman was hit by the ball warmed things up some, and incidentally cost Manchester the game, the score being 3 to 2.

Any way the contest was so keen that no player but one had base on this ninth inning. Following is the box score: Tecumseh—ab r h o a 3 Sisson, 2b 3 1 2 4 1 0 Randall, 1b 3 1 1 7 0 1 Bricker, lf 3 0 0 2 0 0 Drake, ss 4 0 1 1 2 0 Hieder, 3b 3 0 0 2 4 0 Hanning, cf 3 0 0 2 0 0 Blessing, rf 3 0 0 0 0 0 Crittenden, rf 1 0 0 0 0 0 Traut, c 3 0 0 8 0 0 Howe, p 3 1 1 1 3 0

Manchester—ab r h o a 1 Haarer, cf 5 0 1 0 0 0 Vogt, 1b 3 0 0 11 0 1 Moore, 2b 5 0 1 3 2 1 Roifer, rf 5 1 1 1 1 0 Kiebler, 3b 2 1 2 1 1 0 Reed, ss 4 0 1 0 3 0 Dwyer, c 3 0 0 7 1 0 Riedel, lf 3 0 0 0 0 0 Marx, p 4 0 0 1 3 0

Score by innings: R H E Tecumseh—0000102—3 5 1 Manchester—0000200—2 6 3

Two-base hits—Haarer; sacrifice hit—Buckner; left on bases—Tecumseh 5, Manchester 11; bases on balls—off Marx 1, off Howe 5; struck out—by Marx 6, by Howe 8; passed balls—Treat 1, Dwyer 1; hit by a pitched ball—Marx 2, Howe 1. Umpire Guy, Milan.

The closing game of the season here comes next Sunday when Tecumseh once more will meet the local nine. As both teams are right after that little old third place in the series' standing, it is sure to be some contest—the hottest contest on the Manchester diamond this year. Beings—the local boys and fans are smarting just a wee bit over the defeat by a close margin last Sunday and will be "on their toes" from the first call of "play ball" until the last score is in. This game will undoubtedly draw the record attendance at the local field this season.

Other scores in the league last Sunday were: R H E

Milan—12004000—7 9 0 Clinton—00003001—4 10 2

R H E Palmyra—00001010—2 5 3 Ann Arbor—00000000—0 4 0

Standings of the clubs is as follows:

The government sold the Gorgas steam plant, a part of the property at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, that Henry Ford offered to purchase, and which has been in controversy so long. As we understand it, the Alabama Power Co. owned the land on which the power plant is located, and they pay the government $2,472,487.25 for the plant that cost to build $4,750,000.

TRANSFUSE OWN BLOOD TO 2

Eastern Physicians Save the Lives of Two Patients by Novel Operations.

Lives of two patients who would otherwise have succumbed from internal hemorrhage were saved by draining off their own blood and reinjecting it, in a rare operation, made at the New Haven hospital, according to a dispatch to the New York World.

One of the remarkable transfusion operations was performed on a woman by the staff in obstetrics. The other was by the surgical staff, upon a man apparently mortally injured in an automobile accident.

The woman, according to the announcement, suffered from a severe abdominal hemorrhage from which patients rarely recover. Quick work was required by the obstetrical staff. The hospital blood expert was summoned the blood drawn from the abdominal cavity, the wounded vessels tied and the blood almost immediately filtered and re-injected into the dying woman's veins. The effect was almost instantaneous.

An hour afterward the male victim of the automobile accident was brought to the hospital in an ambulance with a punctured liver, resulting in abdominal hemorrhage. An operation was decided upon. The wound in the liver was mended by the use of rubber, a familiar operation.

The blood was then drawn from the abdominal cavity and re-injected to the man's veins after filtration. In both cases the citrate method was used, that is, citrate was added to the blood to prevent coagulation.

DISEASE TERRORS PASSING

Theory Advanced That Germ Species May Die Out as Did Mammoths and Dinosaurs.

Is it not likely, speaking as a layman and without medical-erudition, that germ species originate, grow to maturity, then pass on to senility and die out, like so many families of creatures have done on this earth? The last Methylusels of certain diseases may now be moving on to oblivion. Did not the mammoths and the dinosaurs rise, flourish and disappear? Then why not the microscopic terrors that menace mankind?

Yellow fever is passing beyond the horizon. It is waving its last saffron farewell to us. Soon it will be history only, its battles with humanity, its massacres, as remote as those of Semiramis or the Babylonian kings. Finding no place to lay its fatal finger, it will give up the ghost.

Typhoid, dislodged from its last country well and village drains, has become a fugitive, pursued by health boards who bombard it with serums and germicides. It is in full flight. It cannot pass anywhere to organize the smallest epidemic. The seed of it will perish from the earth.

Why Worry. "Serenity of mind is the most valuable asset of the present age," declared Senator Lodge of Massachusetts recently. "It is the only way to keep young, the only way to preserve health and, while we laugh at the maid Sarah, we really should envy her."

"Sarah had just resigned her position to get married and when her mistress learned that she was shortly to go to Canada and make her home there, she asked:

"But Sarah, aren't you rather nervous about going into a strange country like that?"

"No, madam," answered the girl. "That's my husband's lookout. I belong to him, and if anything happens to me it'll be his loss, not mine."

Jacob Briegel is confined to his home by illness.

PIG LITTERS REACH GOAL OF TON WEIGHT

Four Entries in Unique State Swine Contest Qualify for Top Honors Totalling 2,000 Lbs.

Four single litters of pigs, all born in Michigan only last spring, have reached in six months the surprising total weight of a ton, and have thus qualified for top honors in the Michigan Ton Litter Club, started last spring and supervised by extension men from the animal husbandry department at the Michigan Agricultural College.

These four are the first to reach the 2,000-pound goal set by the club, but others are expected to reach the required total before the contest closes, the middle of November. Litters in the contest were farrowed last spring, and have been weighed and checked under direction of college specialists in charge of the contest.

Three different breeds and one "crossbred" lot are represented in the four litters already checked in. Nine Poland-China pigs in one litter weighed in at a total of 2,060 pounds. Ten Duroc Jerseys totaled 2,341 pounds; eleven Chester Whites reached 2,278 pounds; and a litter of twelve Poland-China and Duroc Jersey crossbreds topped the contest so far with a total litter weight of 2,636 pounds. This gives the pigs in these litters an average weight of about 220 pounds each.

"It is not hard," says V. A. Freeman of the M. A. C. animal husbandry staff, manager of the ton litter contest, "to raise a few pigs which will weigh 220 pounds at six months of age, but it takes good breeding, feeding and management to have one all of them or more pigs and have that they average above 220 pounds at that age."

SAVE THE FISH AND GAME.

Frequently we hear people say that unless the government or the state does something soon, there will be no hunting nor fishing in this once one of the greatest haunts for lovers of the rod and gun.

What a foolish remark! Every person, old or young, ought to know that both government and state have always had laws governing both hunting and fishing, and have been constantly laboring to not only protect animals, birds and fish, but have spent thousands of dollars yearly to supply the woods, fields, lakes and streams with game and fish so that residents and visitors in Michigan may enjoy the benefits thereof.

One cause of the depletion of the game and fish is the wanton and careless destruction of game and fish. We know that many are aware of this, aware of the transgression of our laws, but they do not wish to make complaint to an officer, or give him a friendly tip. They do not wish to offend a friend or visitor by so doing, and perhaps neglect to say to that person "Don't do it, it is against the law."

Then how can we expect to put a stop to the continued destruction of game and fish?

The use of automobiles has greatly increased the number of non-residents who visit our state for the sport of hunting and fishing. A farmer hears the report of a gun in his woods and fields at "early sun-up" and hastens out to learn who is there, or who has been there, and posted with "no hunting" signs. He finds a party of foreigners, perhaps, who have driven all night in order to be on the hunting ground ahead of some other hunters. We have never heard of one of those offenders being handed over to the officers. They are let off on payment of a small fee or on promise to leave at once and never come back. If you want the game or fish, do your part toward protecting it.

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Theodore Pfitzenmaier, living on Ann Arbor rural route No. 4, was given a 10-day lodgment in the county jail, Thursday, for driving a car while intoxicated.

Fruit exhibitors at the County fair last Thursday formed the Washtenaw county horticultural society, with 30 members. Thos. Applegate of Milan is temporary president.

Dr. D. McLachlan of Mooreville, surrounded by a large company of relatives, celebrated his 75th birthday on the 16th. He has been practicing medicine there about 50 years.

H. B. Earhart of Ann Arbor has made a donation of $25,000 to the Methodist Episcopal conference for enlargement of Bronson hospital at Kalamazoo, a church institution, provided the conference raises $50,000 additional.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Clarkson and their sons William and Eugene, Jr. of Ann Arbor have gone to Geneva, N. Y., where Eugene, Jr. will attend Hobart college during coming year. Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson and William will proceed to Lake Mohank, N. Y., where they are to spend two weeks.

The officers of the County fair need not be the only ones disappointed because last week happened to be a rainy one. Hundreds of people who had planned to attend the fair were likewise disappointed. Exhibitors at the fair and every body connected with the great show were disappointed.

Notwithstanding the disappointments on account of bad weather, there was some excitement in front of the grandstand at the Washtenaw County Fair when A. Osmun of Waterford, driving Pansy, ran into one of his competitors. Osmun was thrown from his sulky and dragged about 100 feet, but escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The Chelsea school building was entered Saturday or Sunday by someone who threw books upon the floor, broke book cases, threw ink upon the walls and did other destructive acts. The decorations were recently completed at considerable cost and are now ruined by ink stains. Something of this character occurred last year and the culprits were detected and suspended from school.

Jurors for the October term of circuit court are: Nathan Hornung, Emil Hoppe, Chas. W. Vogel, Philo Gaspin, Jay G. Taylor, Legend Stusser, H. P. Randall, Ann Arbor city; Wm. Tuomey, Ann Arbor township; Herman Wackenhut, Bridgewater; James Rivett, Dexter; Henry Kothe, Freedom; George Koegerter, Lima; Walter Armbruster, Lodi; Herbert Young, Lyndon; John Schill, Lester Bros. Manchester; John W. Tate, Northfield; Clarence Hutzel, Pittsfield; Philip Sweet, Salem; Arthur Lutz, Saline; Edward Hack, Selo; Roy Raymond, Sharon; O. A. Huson, Superior; John B. Cole, Sylvan; Robert Donovan, Webster; James G. House, Dexter; Henry Kothe, Jos. McGraw, Epsilanti city, and Mrs. Garth Beckington, Ypsilanti township.

They keep talking Henry Ford for president, but Henry himself said that he would be a candidate, if nominated. We believe a majority of the people have a very good opinion of him. He has proven his ability as a captain of industry and he might be competent to fill the presidential chair with as much intelligence as many who have tried it, perhaps better; but right down in our heart we have a great desire for him to keep on finding employment for people who have to work for a living, and in making them understand that consistent application and efficiency earn more money than mere muscle.

John Kensler was down town Tuesday in a wheel chair propelled by one of his daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blythe spent Sunday in Toledo.

The great "cost of road building" in the upper peninsula is an account of the high wages. Ford pays 50 cents an hour and men will not work on the roads for less. It is about the same everywhere. Ford sets the price of labor.

Neither the government nor the dominant political party should advise the farmer to reduce the acreage of wheat production to force the price up by a shortage. It is in the grasp of the government to make it profitable for the farmer to raise more wheat.

Governor Greenback announces that prisoners who have been working at road building are to be well satisfied to return to their homes and guard their jobs against the terms of their parole. He also said that the prisoners are doing more work than free labor.

The effort to rid Grand river of German carp progresses slowly. They fed the carp corn at first to induce them to eat it and then they could be easily captured, but there was too expensive an experiment as now trying apple pomes, and it is said that the fish came to the surface for this grubbing at it with a smacking sound.

Complaints come from subscribers of the Enterprise last week. We have for weeks copied to them, but cannot manage to get the paper to them. We are anxious to supply any missing papers when we have papers to do so, but sometimes we are out before we get the word.

BIRD ENTOMBED BY MARTINS

Sparrow That Had Grabbed Martin's Nest Is Made the Victim of Dire Revenge.

An English ornithologist, G. Garrett, makes a specialty of observing the manners and methods followed by birds. He recently recalled the story of a sparrow which, finding a newly built martin's nest, possessed in the absence of the owner, The martin, seeing the saucer, called for help, and soon a thousand martins came, at full speed, to attack the sparrow; but the latter was a hardy creature. After a quarter of an hour's conflict all the martins disappeared. The sparrow thought he had got the better, and the spectators judged that the martins had abandoned their undertaking.

Not in the least! They immediately returned to the charge, each at them having procured a little of the tempered earth with which they make their nests. They sat on the sparrow and soon a thousand martins came, at full speed, to attack the sparrow; but the latter was a hardy creature. After a quarter of an hour's conflict all the martins disappeared. The sparrow thought he had got the better, and the spectators judged that the martins had abandoned their undertaking.

The Split Infinitive. One of the signs of a so-called grammarian is the use of the split infinitive which has done so much to aggrandise the reputation of his own writers. This Italianism was studied by parents here, meanwhile attending missionary meetings at Emanuel's Church.

M. A. C. TO CONTINUE DAIRY ALFALFA WORK

New Counties Listed for Intensive Campaigns During the Coming Season.

East Lansing, Sept. 26.—Intensive local campaigns in the interest of better farming, known as "dairy and alfalfa drives" will be carried out in several counties of the state during the coming winter by the extension division of the Michigan Agricultural College.

Many counties have been covered by these drives during the past two years, and the results of the work in generally improved farming practices in the districts reached have been so satisfactory that the college authorities have just announced a continuation of the campaigns.

During the course of these tours which usually take two weeks, every farmer in the county has the chance to see at least one of the demonstration teams and to hear the college specialists discuss the subjects without having to go more than two or three miles. This is accomplished by having as many as 50 local or so-called "barn-yard" meetings in sections scattered all over the country.

Formation of cow testing and better sire associations and increased alfalfa acreages are direct results which have followed the intensive campaigns already held; while a better understanding of the value of alfalfa as a Michigan forage crop, and of improved dairy practices in general, is said to result from the campaign meetings.

Radio Wave Fourteen Miles Long.

Long wave lengths are used to cover great distance, such as transatlantic communication, chiefly because absorption of energy is much less on long wave lengths than on short ones. The big station near Bordeaux, France, sets a wave of ether in vibration that is 23,000 meters in length, or approximately fourteen miles from crest to crest. When broadcast Central on Long Island flashes a message 4,000 miles across the sea to Germany, the wave length used is about twelve miles long. Station NBS at Annapolis, broadcasting time signals from 3:55 to 4 a. m. daily, has a wave length equivalent to about ten and a half miles. Poz, Nauen, Germany, radiates a wave approximately eight miles long.

Save His Money.

An Irishman boarded a car the other day, but after a word with the conductor made for the door again. An inspector who happened to be on the car said to him: "Surely you don't want to get off again so soon, and besides, you haven't paid your fare."

"Oh, I want to go to Southern street," said the Irishman, "an' the conductor says there ain't no such place."

"Well, there isn't," answered the inspector.

"Then, faith, an' pwahat's the good of going there, then?"

One More Look.

On our return to the locker room a young woman with one shoe and stockings on was distractedly going from locker to locker and finally appeared to us.

"Has any one an extra stocking in her locker?"

"Not in mine," we answered after searching our lockers in turn.

Imagine my embarrassment when I found the missing stocking in my bag. —Chicago Tribune.

Whaling Business Falls Off.

Whaling was conducted on a very small scale during the last year, the whaling fleet only operating for a period of three months, during which 237 great mammals were captured. This is far below the catch during the years when whale oil was fetching a reasonable price, the maximum reached in the best season being 990.

PRESIDENT BURTON TALKS TO STUDENTS

Speaks Forcefully on Duties of Attendants at U. of M., and What Behavior Is Expected.

In an address to the students of the university, at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Tuesday night, President Burton put things squarely up to the student body.

"This university we want only men who are what they ought to be," he said. "I know they ought to be," said Dr. Burton, shaking his fist at the large assembly before him. "If we could get a small number to do that which they ought they would be sufficient to change the whole university."

"This is a changing world and its influences reflect themselves in student life. Respect and reverence are no longer common. Authority, even when it is being used for the good of all, is often overlooked. But those who have broken into college when they have no real right to be here. Our first job of the year, however, will be to assist the spineless members of our group to put their time to better advantage in other locations."

He hinted at what happened last year, which was disapproved by the public, and it may be said that such misdemeanors will not be countenanced this year.

He said: "We need criticism from those who do not approve of things as they are, and we need encouragement from you when things please."

"Don't have a fear of being different, we don't want you all alike, except that you all use every power you possess to develop yourselves to the fullest degree."

"Students as well as others in the world, can be divided into three classes: Negative—those who are never noticed; neutral—those who always agree with the person to whom they are speaking; positive—those who think and have the courage to say it. The positive man has courage greater than that shown by the man who crossed the Atlantic alone in a 10-ton ship. That feat required only physical courage; what we want to develop here is the courage of character which will make you stand alone above your fellows."

Whaling Business Falls Off.

Whaling was conducted on a very small scale during the last year, the whaling fleet only operating for a period of three months, during which 237 great mammals were captured. This is far below the catch during the years when whale oil was fetching a reasonable price, the maximum reached in the best season being 990.

Next Sunday Evangelical services conducted by the Link Evangelistic Party, with scriptural preaching, gospel-music and sacred solos and duets, will begin at Row's Corners church, and it will probably be greeted by a full house. This is Rev. Marsh's first introduction of a spiritual awakening by aid of evangelists. A few years ago Rev. Schleicher held a revival which awakened considerable interest and was quite successful. The meetings will be continued three weeks.

Does that mean anything to you? It does if you're a wideawake farmer who knows about

FERTILIZERS!

It means double the strength of the ordinary 1-8-3 kinds; that means less to use, less to handle, less to pay freight on—consequently and so the farmer profits. Come in and investigate. You can't afford to use anything but the best fertilizers.

Dear Reader:

A new story starts in the Enterprise this week: "Three Men and a Maid." It's full of fun and action, and we believe will please the majority.

We urge you to read the serial stories, as they cost us good money and we are anxious for the largest number to get enjoyment and benefit from them.

If it happens that you are not now a subscriber to the Enterprise, allow us to suggest that this is a good time to get on our list.

Respectfully,

The Enterprise
