Durable Wood Available The nation's ircated lumber indus-try, geared to wide scale production by war demands, is now ready to supply the postwar construction needs of American agriculture, es-timated by federal agencies as high as 2½ million homes and 7 million other buildings, including barns. Census figures of 1940 show that as a class, farm buildings are the oldest of any group in the country. Renovate Strawberries Renovate Strawberries The renovation of strawberry fields should hegin immediately should be removed with a hay rake and the sparse multh cut into the soil. Defore cultivating, apply a com-plote fortilizer at the rate of 500 to 800 pounds per acre. If the soil is, acid, apply lince. Rows should be open furrow is left, the roots will dry out ranifly.
