SOME SERIOUS THOUGHTS FOR THANKSGIVING

If a social "doctor" were to examine our thinking and then announce his findings, the "verdict" might be: "Incessant and persistent pessimism."

Here's one. The Michigan home front is mentally and physically weary, tired and languid. After years of high pitched nervous strain to win the war, big months and months of continued suspense and worry, we suddenly wake up one morning to find ourselves, again in the middle of peace, and unexpectedly so.

Peace! Here is the very thing which we sought for days, weeks, months and years. Peace at last! What happens immediately we want to forget about war and all its consequences in our daily living. It's a natural and inevitable reaction, this yearning for normalcy. But the emotional letdown is terrific.

A friend of ours who is secretary of a state association with offices in Lansing, reports he is genuinely concerned over the "state of mind" which appears to exist among its members. These men, professionally trained, are intelligent people. "I had a meeting the other day with a committee to work out plans for a coming convention program," he began. "Leaders discussed what they would like to have. The general attitude, as voiced in the meeting, was that our people want to forget the war. They are fed up with brasserie and military personalities. They don't like to war horses either, particularly those who are over-merchandising their patriotic services. They don't want to hear about the problems in Europe, Japan, or elsewhere. They want old-fashioned entertainment, lots of laughs. They want old-fashioned talks about their own business. Why? Wake up, mister—the war is over!"

A Michigan Congressman recently confided to a friend that pressure from the folks back home, who want their sons brought back at once from Europe or the Pacific, is simply tremendous.

"You have no idea," he said, "the volume of mail I have been getting from fathers and mothers who are begging me to get their boys home."

"We accept as valid his observation that the post-war public today is 'hell bent for a return to normalcy'—a return to what we believe is a largely an emotion next in changing from war to all letdown—part of our readjustment."

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, home last week from Europe, voiced an appeal for international cooperation and for finishing the job. "I believe in international cooperation. We must seek out those who are our friends, who think as we do and live as we do, and find every possible way to eliminate the grimness of tragedy there is."

"I have noticed that many people—newspapers, radio commentators and others—have been saying that we have not succeeded in understanding soldiers for the job they are now doing (occupational duty to restore order, police the aggressors, encourage democratic living) as well as they had been incoherent for weeks and months."

Eisenhower was quoted by reporters as blaming this state on the clamor of Americans to get the fighting men home. "We all want them home," the general said. "We have a big job ahead—a tremendous job."

To which we might pose this question: Have we really won the war yet? Must World War II be consigned, later on some year, by World War III?

What happened after the last war—World War I? Let's glance at our history. For a year or two after the Armistice in 1918 (just 27 years ago) prices were high and business was good. Returns of soldiers tended to build up an excess of available labor. With war orders cut off and European countries too poor to pay cash for their usual purchases, agriculture and many industries accumulated a large supply of unmarketable goods.

Employers were faced with a rather familiar situation. The worker's demand for higher wages in order to maintain his war-time "take home" income and the economic necessity of raising prices to cover added production costs.

The year 1919—which would correspond to the fall and winter of 1945 in the spring and summer of 1946—was one of the most turbulent in America's labor annals. Reductio in working hours was followed by an epidemic of strikes involving more than 2,600 strikes.

SOME HIT AND SOME MISS

It's been a long, long time since the boys' hosting has appeared in the Enterprise. We've been anxious to learn that quite a number of our readers have missed it. We'll try to make it more regular in the future.

Chelsea game with Chelsea closed the football season for M. H. A. team the standpoint of the number of games won the record was set by Manchester.

What game time came last Friday, four of the regulars were present. They thought they were obtaining inspiration in order to play an exceptional game, but the kind they obtained didn't help their ability.

Let us note that they chattered in supervision of persons other than the coach. The attitude of some of the spectators at this game was far from being an inspiration in good sportsmanship to the players and students.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

BARUCH FRENDS REVEALED
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Statesman Bernard Baruch revealed some interesting figures on inflation recently in an office-record session with 14 younger congressmen at his Sheorham hotel apartment. Baruch's prediction was that the nation was bell-bent for inflation—and soon.

Personal increases in wages, profits and the cost of living have been uneven, Baruch said, with wages lagging behind. For that reason he no longer favored his previous idea of a freeze on both prices and wages. On only one point, said the older statesman, is that we can weather the next six to nine months without running into serious inflation. If we do that, our chances of a strong recovery from the war boom are good.

"The large post-war demand for products which we will see during the next six months, is a very serious threat," said Baruch, stressing the importance of holding prices down.

He attacked his opponents by saying that he is completely opposed to the reduction of any industry at this time. "Not only does the government lose considerable revenue, but it has an unwholesome thing for the general economy," argued Baruch.

Rep. J. P. Wadsworth of Illinois asked what Baruch thought of the statement by General Motors' president C. E. Wilson that if wages are raised 10 per cent, prices must go up 30 per cent. Baruch talked at some length on the general question of the big price, but gave no direct answer. Finally, Wadsworth repeated his question.

"I'm afraid I can't agree with Mr. Wilson," Baruch said.

WAGE HOPING INCREASES: Baruch said it is true that industry cost give a 30 per cent wage increase without having to raise prices more than about 10 per cent. Wadsworth persisted.

"You are approximately right," Baruch agreed. "I believe the figure you may have heard is actually 10 per cent."

Baruch also told his guests that he felt we were making a mistake in spreading managerial compensation. "With the need in the present situation," he said, "it seems to me it would be better to spread it more widely. In order that we not weaken ourselves at this critical moment, it is important that we spread it as widely as possible."

He agreed also with an idea proposed by one of his guests, Estes Kefauver of Chattanooga, to have cabinet members and other high officials appear on the floor of congress where they can be questioned by congressmen. Such a procedure would make for much greater cooperation between the executive and legislative departments, Baruch said.

Present in addition to Wadsworth and Kefauver were Representatives Albert Gore and Percy Priest of Tennessee, John Sparkman of Alabama, Mike Mansfield of Montana, Henry Jackson of Washington, Jerry Voorhis and Chet Holifield of California, Bob Sikes of Florida, Jim McNamara of Oklahoma, Ben Haysmon of Georgia, and James Whelan and Arthur Winstead of Mississippi.

CHURCHILL IN DEFEAT
Winston Churchill recently told friends how he felt after his defeat in the British election. The first few days after his defeat were terrible, Churchill confessed. The next morning he arose and fretted because there were no diplomatic cables to read. Through the war, his first morning chore was to read the top-secret military and diplomatic cables from all over the empire; and he paced up and down intermittently for days, fretting because there were no cables coming in and because, though he felt things were going wrong, there was no one to whom he could send cables to straighten things out.

"Finally I went down to the south of France," Churchill confessed. "They treated me well there. I pointed several pictures and they fed me some wonderful food. But still I couldn't get over this idea of no cables coming in and no one going out. Each morning I fretted when I read the papers. But finally one morning I felt better. It suddenly dawned on me that I wasn't prime minister any more and it wasn't my worry, and I've felt better ever since."

Note — Churchill's health is such and so. His doctor has ordered him to cut down on his food and drinking.

Save your car your truck yourself

Farm folks know you can't trust winter weather. You have to be prepared for blizzards at any time. Highways that are clear today may be dangerous sidewalks tomorrow with fresh fallen snow hiding treacherous patches of ice. That's why WEED TIRE CHAINS are found on millions of farm cars and trucks.

This would be a bad winter in which to lose the use of your car or truck through a skid crash, for new vehicles are still scarce. So are new tires and good repairs. Better look after your tire chains right away. For when your wheels spin in snow or on ice, the best quickly damages your tires.

Repair serviceable used chains and, if you need new ones, tell your WEED CHAIN dealer at once.

Satin-Brocade Suit
What with the many gala events planned for a brilliant winter social season, there is a steadily increasing demand for festive hair ornaments, that reflect the elegance that fashion demands. The handsome feather fantasies shown in the new collections are very "great lady" looking. Women of fashion are wearing ostrich tips, ostrich plume, simulated birds with dramatic trailing tail feathers in exotic colors and other varied feather clusters. These all have comb or clip anchors. The new headbands are just as gorgeous as jewels and sequin embroidery can make them. These include a soft, fluffy, butterfly and flowers worked in a solid all-over patterning. Topping everything there will always be enough thinking or call it what it will, sequin flowers in black or multi-color. Fur trims are very attractive and new looking.

Subtle Neutral Tones Are Favored for Day Wear
In the better dress collections, the emphasis is on subtle neutral tones for daytime dresses and sweaters. The favorite soft tones are subdued grays and blues. MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST
Coastal tribes had reported vast inland seas; Champlain founded Quebec, 1608.
In 1612 Champlain had sent Etienne Brule to live among Huron at Lake Simcoe.
While enroute to Huron he discovered Lake Huron at French River mouth.
Brule's journey from Quebec was difficult. In 1615 Brule crossed Lake Ontario.

WHEN THE EMPLOYER makes a contract between himself and the legally constituted authority representing those who work for him, he is bound by the terms of the contract.
IN A STATEMENT to his employees one of the large producing corporations said wages were paid out of profits. That is not a fact, and it is a wrong impression. Wages are a part of the cost of production, as are materials, taxes, management, power, light, heat, interest on investment, and other items without which the concern could not operate.

OVERNIGHT GUEST BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE STORY BEGAN EARLY. Adam Bruce, first operator, on a trip to his old home...

CHAPTER IV Cumberland nodded. "How kind" he had been, Doc?

They came to the house they saw an old man, with eyes twisted slightly upward at the corners...

"Well, Mat, maybe you'd better see the Joe," Cumberland urged his mouth with his hand...

"The welcome in my. I hope I may see it," Cumberland said. "But here's the matter..."

"That's the best I can do," Cumberland said. "Some one's bound to do it..."

"Young Adam spoke. "I think you'd do well to let Topsy run this. Mat," he urged...

Cumberland nodded. "We could do it that way," he agreed. "Topsy, what do you say? Will you take it on?"

"The Inspector looked toward Mrs. Topsy, standing by the fire. "We're on a sort of honeymoon," he reflected...

"I know," Cumberland assented heavily. "It's his way to go. And he reflected: 'Joe won't like your being in it; but he'll have to stand it. If you take it, you can boss the whole job.'"

"So Topsy agreed and made his dispositions. He sent Quill to awaken Amasa Dewain and enlist his cooperation. Adam and Doctor Medford improvised a stretcher for the removal of the body. Mat Cumberland asked: "Anything I can be doing to-night?"

"Topsy shook his head. "Have Quill stay at Amasa's and keep his eyes open," he decided. "Adam will come back and spend the night here in case anyone comes around. Doctor Medford can do the autopsy at the farm tomorrow morning. You and I will get a good night's sleep, and I'll meet you there around nine o'clock. That's about all."

And a little later, the Inspector and Mrs. Topsy said good night. But once they were out of doors, she grasped his arm with fingers like steel. She whispered: "I know him."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

The spiral—higher wages, higher prices—finally precipitated a buyer's strike. Employers were too glad to close their doors because of dwindling orders. Result: A depression from 1920 to 1922. Then seven years of so-called prosperity. In 1929, the big crash. Remember? It was only 16 years ago, just 16 years ago.

Thanksgiving Day in Michigan. Unrest everywhere. Industrial strikes apparently inevitable. Just as they were in 1919. People tired of the war, yearning for the "good old days."

And yet, underneath these surface manifestations, there is a genuine "thankfulness" in our hearts. Michigan was spared the destruction and death which visited nearly every part of Europe. No bombs fell here. Thank God for that.

Today, east and west, north and south, are now Finland's fields where poppies will grow. New crosses row by row. Back home, gold stars at windows.

Peace—have we really won it yet? Is our job finished? Let us not forget—let us not forget.

SCHULTZ Electric Milk Cooler

... I'm worth more to my boss now that he's installed a SCHULTZ Electric Milk Cooler

Because Schultz Electric Coolers quickly cool my milk—make keep it cool. They insure my boss, the full milk and the health of my cow. They produce. Schultz Coolers also halt bacteria growth and make the milk more salable.

The Schultz principle is that of floating ice and the cooling without the need of a circulating pump of any kind. The coils automatically manufacture the ice on the smooth inside surface of the cabinet walls. This allows the ice to release and float on top of the water where it is needed.

Schultz coolers effectively reduce labor costs; keep the rights milk cooler 48°; they save 40% of the water; and would's call my Schultz Cooler for $1,500.00 if I could get another.

Available in sizes to cool from 2 to 12 cases at one time. Buy the cooler to fit the job—the milk house. Can be very easily installed in the average milk house. Easy payment plan can be arranged. See us today for further facts and prices.
