NUMBER ELEVEN

"IFS" REGARDING SIGLER PREVALENT

Two "ifs" are being linked to the ascending career of Kim Sigler in public service. Here they are: If a Republican is elected president in November, 1936, and if the president-elect appoints Michigan's senior senator Arthur H. Vandenberg to be secretary of the State, Sigler could be appointed by the Michigan governor in 1939 to fill Vandenberg's unexpired term.

Political speculation has always thrived at the state capital. Rumors during the four-year administration of Governor Harry F. Kelley had him elevated to the U. S. Senate and to the Michigan State Supreme Court. The same will be true about Governor Sigler. But politics is notoriously fickle, and much could happen between 1937 and 1940. In 1934 Kelly polled 1,200,000 votes for governor. In July, 1935, he chose not to run for re-election. Sigler's vote on November 3 was 1,000,878 with a majority of 380,000, the biggest margin of victory since 1925.

Currently, Sigler and the Republicans are riding the crest of popularity. But the hazards ahead are numerous. Nearly 50 per cent of the state representatives and state senators will be new and, hence, inexperienced in knowledge of state government. Sigler's so-called "new men" will have a new secretary of state, attorney general and auditor general. Hale Brake, state treasurer, becomes the victim in the political ring—with the exception of Dr. Eugene B. Elliot, state superintendent of public instruction, whose office has always been dissociated from party politics.

In another two years the Sigler administration will be before the bar of public opinion for an accreditation. In the meanwhile, the state tax collector, appointed by the acting budget director to be $700,000 the highest amount ever heard of in recent weeks. If new taxes are imposed as a solution for the constitutional car-marking of 75 per cent of the value for local governments, what will the voters say about it in November, 1937?

Gov. Constable's administration enacted the state sales tax. Inside of a few months the taxpayers had tagged the penalties as the "Comstock tax." Comstock was defeated for re-election. Because of the partnership at Lansing and the almost unprecedented financial crisis just averted, the 1937 general session of the state legislature promised to be one of the most interesting in years.

The big question is this: How is the State of Michigan going to avert the prospective $70,000,000 deficit? Here are some of the solutions proposed: A flat payroll tax, a flat tax on business gross receipts, removal of taxes on real estate and personal property and imposition of new taxes on cigarettes, beer and amusements.

If the legislature were to enact a three-mill property tax, such a levy would take priority within the 15-mill property tax limitation. In other words, so proponents argue, property owners in areas covered by a 15 mill limitation would pay the same property taxes as they do now. The constitutional limitation would prevent the adding of a state three-mill levy to the present 15-mill tax.

Least, Governor Vernon J. Brown advocates a three-mill tax which would finance the state's educational obligations, such as the University of Michigan, Michigan State College and all the others.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliot, state superintendent of public instruction, opposes a property tax increase, believing it would create a hardship in many communities. The state's educational building program is a good illustration of what legislators are p against. The 1935 legislature authorized a $2,000,000 for needed construction. A sum of $1,000,000 was appropriated, leaving the remainder to be provided in future sessions. However, costs are higher. For example, Michigan State College estimates that $1,000,000 will be needed to complete construction which the legislature has authorized in the amount of $500,000 and for which the legislature made an appropriation of $2,000,000. The same picture is true for the University of Michigan.

To meet work, M. S. C. has authorized a 15-hour week with 11 hours overtime wages. U. of M. has a 45-hour week with eight hours overtime wages. (Continued on page 5)

SAYS FARM PRICES SHOULD DECLINE

Farm commodity prices will be among the first to decline when the downward adjustment of the general price level occurs, Michigan State college farm economists predicted today.

Although this downward movement in prices will probably be of short duration, it likely will be followed by a period similar to that in the "twenties." Such a period will be one which is generally prosperous but during which time agriculture will have some serious problems. That is the opinion of Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, speaking for the farm economists.

The period of inflation, which still exists, has brought or will bring most farm product prices to an all-time high. The downward adjustment in the general price level seems likely for mid-year of 1937.

Federal farm price supports will cushion the downward adjustment. Corn, wheat, hogs, eggs, butterfat, milk, chickens, turkeys, dry beans, soybeans, flaxseed and potatoes are included in the support program. Absent from the list are sheep and lambs.

Hardin pointed out that as consumers' goods—such as automobiles, refrigerators and radios—become available in greater supply, the consumer will spend less on food and more on these commodities.

The per capita production and consumption of agricultural products is at a very high level. Prospects are for reduced foreign demand for agricultural products along with reduced expenditures by domestic consumers.

Good management will be needed for farmers to show a profit on farming in 1937. In the last five years farm receipts were high and although expenses likewise were high, it was easier to make money. Income is likely to drop in 1937, while most expenses will continue at or above the 1936 level. This means a considerable drop in net earnings.

Dairymen will continue one of the more profitable enterprises on Michigan farms in 1937. That is the prediction of Michigan State college dairy specialists and farm economists.

In forecasting the 1937 dairy outlook for Michigan, Clifford M. Hardin, farm economist, and A. C. Balizer and W. W. Snyder, extension dairy specialists, believe high demand for dairy products will continue.

Normal culling of dairy herds should prevail to advantage of high prices for beef, even though the demand for milk at a high price continues.

The downward trend in the number of milk cows in the United States is a major factor in determining the outlook. Four per cent fewer milk cows are in production now than a year ago, although production per cow is at a record level. Gains in production per cow, however, have not offset the drop in number.

Consumption of milk products remain very high. Although exports of dairy products are expected to be lower next year, the reduction is not likely to have any reactions on milk prices until around mid-year.

Michigan's drought causes a feed shortage in some areas. Dairy specialists recommended feeding of more hay to offset shortages of commercial protein concentrates.

Hermit Is Entire Population Of Isolated N. Y. Community

COLD RIVER CITY, N. Y.—With Noah John Roudau, 63-year-old hermit, as its only resident, Cold River City ranks as one of the nation's most novel one-man communities. Although it probably won't be found on any map, the community has been dubbed Cold River City by its gray-bearded occupant.

Foresters Speed Lumber To Fill National Shortage

BOISE, IDAHO—Idaho's towering forests are playing an important role in the all-out effort to alleviate the national lumber shortage. Speed is the keynote in the lumber industry, modern production methods expediting the process of converting virgin timber into sorely-needed houses.

Most amusing sight on the merry-go-round of the political campaign is the frantic scramble of the localities, the lobbyists and the legislators to get their names on the GOP. After 16 years of Democratic rule, the Republicans were so far down the social list they almost disappeared into the party's complex.

Staid Boston Has Novel High School

BOSTON.—In traditionally staid Boston, a high school where students may leave the building, smoke or occasionally call up their wives now doubtless. Perhaps the only innovation of its kind, the Boston School for Veterans has one academic year under its Sam Browne belt.

Chief hindrance-plunger for this plan is Brewster, who has had some confidential chats with labor spokesmen, has warned that unions may play ball, and has a plan for legislation to regulate the Wagner act is to be enacted.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

COLD RIVER CITY, N. Y.—With Noah John Roudau, 63-year-old hermit, as its only resident, Cold River City ranks as one of the nation's most novel one-man communities.

Perched on the edge of a 75-foot ravine "30 odd miles from nowhere" in the heart of the Adirondack mountains, Cold River City boasts modern conveniences, not even a kitchen stove.

Forestry rangers, who pass by every few weeks or so, are his best friends. Formerly Noah would truck the 30 miles to Saranac lake twice a year to do his marketing. Of late, however, the rangers have been trucking supplies for him.

Time means little to the aging hermit. He has no clock, and he takes a quiet at the sun. Roudau doesn't believe in clocks. "Busted up the last year," he said, "the clock was broken and I've never had it since."

There never has been a Mrs. Roudau. "Never," he says. "I've never married." "Then they sometimes want to see you with you."

Trucks have supplanted to a large extent the old timber drives and water transportation of the past in Idaho's forests, and other methods of logging have been developed.

Today the most commonly accepted method of drying lumber is kiln drying where cross ventilation takes out the excess moisture. Other methods sometimes used are chemical drying and high frequency electrical drying.

AN EVOLVING BILL OF RIGHTS FOR TEACHERS (Continued from last week) 5. The right to adequate compensation for the full year of 32 weeks. The average annual salary of public school teachers, principals, supervisors, and other instructional staff for the year 1944-45 was estimated at $1786 less than the figure used for licensing purposes in strikes that threatened the national economy.

The teaching profession includes an astonishing number of hundred who labor with high competence and missionary zeal regarding compensation. For that we are grateful and proud, but a million persons do not year after year give themselves to any calling without adequate salary. What really happens is that many of our best prospects for teaching are attracted by better paid jobs in industry. Witness the fact that in the three years preceding World War II the University of Michigan, a school of more than 10,000 students, recommended to the state a total of only eight teachers in chemistry and two in physics, whereas many times this number went from this university into industrial research. Society is unwittingly paying a devastating penalty when it employs persons who never should have been attracted to the profession because they are deeper than good teachers. Teachers should be paid on a twenty month basis with vacation each year allowed with pay.

Murder in Plain Sight

by GERALD BROWN

Duke McCale, private detective, is investigating the murder of Mrs. Veronica Bigelow, who was shot to death by her husband, Veronica, in the early morning hours of the morning. The police suspect that the murderer is one of the police officers who were on duty that night. McCale is determined to find the murderer before the police do.

CHAPTER X
In silence they climbed the rise of ground where the old World War building stood. It was rocky and the bottom of the hill was a barbed wire fence. He was looking for a place to hide. He saw a small building and went towards it.

"No, see, Duke," he said. "I touched bottom. Nothing there but a handful of leaves." McCale was puzzled. "Leaves at the bottom of that?" "None, see. Let's see." He snapped the button of his flashlight. He saw the shadow of a man in the light. He saw the shadow of a man in the light. He saw the shadow of a man in the light.

"Get out of here before I call the dog and have you taken to the pound," he said. "You're a little bit of a coward, aren't you?" "I'm not a coward," he said. "I'm just a man who is looking for a place to hide." "You're a little bit of a coward, aren't you?" "I'm not a coward," he said. "I'm just a man who is looking for a place to hide."

Shari Gets a Warning
Now get this straight. Any cop or judge or lawyer is going to know when you produce this. You should have taken more pains with it. You're a little bit of a coward, aren't you?" "I'm not a coward," he said. "I'm just a man who is looking for a place to hide."

A Parrot Shot Startles McCale
"Oh, my God! What a stink they will make over all over the place!" "I don't mean that," he said. "I mean that you're a little bit of a coward, aren't you?" "I'm not a coward," he said. "I'm just a man who is looking for a place to hide."

Woman's World

Avoid Last Minute Shopping; Sew Simple Gifts at Home

ONE charming neighbor of yours always says, "Isn't it funny how you think your Christmas list is complete and you find at the last minute you've neglected something. I've never seen it to fall." It's late, he said, breaking the silence. "You came to see me about something. It must be important for you to call at this hour. I have to hurry you, but if you're satisfied your curiosity, perhaps you'll tell me what this is all about."

Waist Molding
"I don't suppose any woman ever had enough pot holders, because they're so easy to make. You can really make attractive pot holders by using bits of colorful material, or even old cloth. Any neighbor or friend will be happy to receive a fresh pair of them."

Gas on Stomach
"Rub in Ben-Gay for prompt, soothing, gentle relief from chest-cold miasma. Your doctor knows about it. Ben-Gay contains up to 2 1/2 times more menthol than five other widely offered rubs. Mild and safe for children. Ask for Ben-Gay for Children."

Take it from TWO WHO TRIED
"I tried many other brands of pipe tobacco before I tried Prince Albert," says Jim Van Hook. "It's the brand for me. For pleasure, mild, cool, and rich tasting all the way through."

Quickie Gift Ideas
Rayon and cotton toweling make nice tray or luncheon sets. But don't stop at that. You can make one of your own. It's a good idea to dye the towel. It's a good idea to dye the towel. It's a good idea to dye the towel.

Stylish Christmas Party
"I don't mean that," he said. "I mean that you're a little bit of a coward, aren't you?" "I'm not a coward," he said. "I'm just a man who is looking for a place to hide."

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

At a session of said Court, held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 23rd day of November, 1946.

PRESENT: Hon. James R. Breakey, Jr., Circuit Judge

It appearing to the Court from the allegations contained in the Bill of Complaint filed in this cause and from the affidavit annexed thereto that the above named defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns, are necessary and proper parties to said cause, and that the said plaintiffs do not know and have been unable, after diligent search and inquiry, to ascertain the places of residence of the persons named as defendants herein and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, or any of them, and cannot ascertain in what state or country the said defendants or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns reside:

Therefore, on motion of James C. Hendley, attorney for the plaintiffs, it is ordered that the defendants and each and every one of them, to cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in case of their appearance that they cause their answer to the plaintiffs' Bill of Complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on the attorney for the plaintiffs within fifteen days after service on them of a copy of the Bill of Complaint and notice of this order, and that in default thereof said Bill of Complaint be taken as confessed by each and all of said defendants, and also that within forty days of this order the plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be published in the Manchester Enterprise, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said County of Washtenaw, and that said publication be continued once each week for six weeks in succession or that the plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be personally served on the said defendants and each of them at least twenty days before the time prescribed for their appearance or cause a copy of this order to be otherwise served as provided by law. (Signed) James R. Breakey, Jr., Circuit Judge (Signed) Lucella M. Smith

County Clerk NOTICE The above cause involves the title to the following described premises situated and being in the Village of Manchester, County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, and is brought to quiet the title of the plaintiffs, to-wit:

Commencing at the north-east corner of lot 9, block L, Thomas Morgan's Addition, thence south 12 degrees 30 minutes east 52 links to the angle point in the easterly line of said block L, thence north 83 degrees east 2.58 chains to center of Hubbard Road for a place of beginning thence south 83 degrees west 2.58 chains, thence south 1 degree east 6 rods, thence north 83 degrees east 2.77 chains to center of Hubbard Road, thence northerly to the place of beginning, being a part of the southwest quarter, section 1, town 4 south, range 3 east.
