VOLUME SEVENTYNINE

$1.50 a Year in Advance

MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY APRIL 18, 1946

$1.50 a Year in Advance

NUMBER THIRTY

PRES. WUERTHNER'S THIRD INAUGURAL ADDRESS

A number of sewers were built and water connections installed, and a franchise given to the Consumers Power Co. to install that vital gas, which we are looking forward to in the near future.

Mill has been blacktopped with the promise of completion from Bridgewater to Saline this summer.

A petition from citizens to place light bulbs on the Consumers Power representative here and with the addition of more single units we installed larger watt units throughout the village.

We have several petitions for sewers which are up for consideration awaiting a decision on the sewage disposal plant which has been under consideration for the past year. We have an offer from the Ford Motor Company of two acres for a site at $200.00 per acre but we are now in the position to state how soon this will be done.

There has been some criticism because we are entering the ordinance covering peddling from house to house. A Jackson firm has been buying their 475,000 year for peddling milk and I cannot see why others should be exempt.

Our City dump has been the headache of the year. A vigorous protest called me to the dump just before I came to this meeting and threats have been made to have the dump closed unless we carry out plans passed by the Council to have an attendant present.

For several meetings we have had discussions about a new Fire Truck. We have asked the Township Board of Bridgewater, Freedom, Sharon and Manchester to be present, but they state they are unable to invest any of their township money other than to pay $500 for each unit in my judgment, I am opposed to spending $5000 of our taxpayers money until a better plan can be worked out. Our present equipment is sufficient for our village needs and that of the members of the local department.

Our village council and your president have always been willing to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in various projects for the betterment of the village. At the last meeting of that body a question was proposed, and some very interesting ideas discussed. The questions asked at that time pertaining to the Village will be considered by the council at its next date. Some of these questions have been presented in my recommendations to this body last year and again for the present year.

I have suggested that the boys scouts have the responsibility of raising and lowering the flag on all national holidays. I was invited by Superintendent P. W. Schiller to attend a meeting and discuss the matter to the boys which I did and nearly every one volunteered to do so.

These are my recommendations for the coming year:

Building new sidewalks and repaving the old. Removing refuse from main streets and streets. A committee to investigate a community hospital to be built per laws at Carr Park. Clean Up Days Thursday and Friday for a day and improvements at Carr Park including planting of trees, etc. A committee to promote bus service. Reorganization of traffic and police departments. Clearing of the river banks, removal of trees and removal of dead trees from river. Provision of ball playing in our parks. Provision of service riding on sidewalks. City dump to be inclosed and man hired to separate the garbage. Sewers to be built and water intakes to all village applications have been made.

We hope to hard surface all of the side streets in the Village and will begin the job to improve them for such treatment.

Primary school course to include 200 covers in the day and are building pipes for water and sewage service.

With civic attitude I pray this term be the most successful of my three terms.

Your president, Carl F. Wuerthner

The double net skirt ended in a short train. The finger tip length veil fell from cap fastened with pearls. She carried a white Bible topped by gardenias with white satin streamers scolding with white blossoms. Mr. Francis M. Hurley, of Syracuse, New York, acted as her cousin's matron of honor. She wore a white dress with a satin bodice and net skirt and her white net Dutch hat was trimmed with seed pearl clusters. She carried a blue net fan trimmed with daffodils and tied in blue. Before the ceremony Miss Jacqueline Knause sang "Blessed" accompanied the organ by Mrs. Royal Davditer who also played the traditional wedding marches. The brides table was decorated with a three tiered wedding cake and candies and bowls of sweet peas. The couple left for a weeks honeymoon at 508 E. Main St after April 22.

CONTROL BEATS WITH INDIVIDUAL STATES. The prevention of such petty graft is not a federal government problem, but it is a job for the states.

By going in business on their own account, unions have much to gain. For example: Nearly all labor organizations uphold principle upon which they disagree with orthodox business executives.

There are published in the United States more than 8,000 country weekly newspapers. Those papers are read in more than 100,000,000 homes.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

RUSSIA IS LIKE U. S.
WASHINGTON.—Reminiscence of a Reporter—it's been a long time since the sixth Pan-American conference in Havana, 1928; but that conference has certain similarities with what's brewing in New York today. Calvin Coolidge made a special trip to Cuba, the first time in years a President set foot on foreign soil. Charles Evans Hughes, ex-secretary of state, dominated the U. S. delegation. Frank B. Rowley, his successor as secretary of state, also fretted and fumed in the background.

Reason for the desire to impress the brethren: Worry... Worry over American troops on Nicaraguan soil... Worry over American troops on Haitian soil... Worry about the right of American troops to intervene in various countries such as Mexico to protect U. S. oil.

Charles Evans Hughes, sedate, bewicklered, impressive, buttonholing Latin delegates. He made a great picture, doing a beautiful job of organizing a bloc of pro-U. S. nations... Cuba, Panama were to us as Poland and Yugoslavia are to Russia today... Hughes' objective? To prevent a discussion of intervention in other words, the U. S. A. reserved the right to lead troops on foreign soil without being hailed before the public of Pan-Americanism.

Hughes was out. Our intervention in Haiti, Nicaragua, were successfully barred from the agenda. We didn't have to stage a walk-out as the Russians did at New York.

Biggest Test: Whether the U. S. A. would consent to arbitrate disputes with its Latin neighbors... Hughes had instructions to duck even this. The state department didn't even want to discuss the matter. It was a tough fight to bar all discussion of arbitration, but Hughes won out even as this.

TROOPS IN NICARAGUA
PAN-AMERICAN ARBITRATION CONFERENCE, Washington, 1928. U. S. public opinion, usually ahead of the government, by this time had begun to change... There had always been resentment against leading troops in Nicaragua. The Pulliters—plus other liberal newspapers poured a torrent of abuse on the state department. Even conservative papers were skeptical... Charles Evans Hughes was rabid over the coal for opposing even the discussion of arbitration at Havana... Like Russia, we still demand the veto, but unlike Russia the American people didn't support them. They were way ahead of it.

RUSSIA AND IRAN
NEW YORK, 1946.—Today, Russia, fuming against the United Nations, is in the same boat as the U. S. A. before the Pan-American union. Instead of Nicaragua, it's Iran... But there is one essential difference. In 20 years, the U. S. A. moved far ahead in international morality—due to the power of public opinion. The American people, its press and pulpit, were continually pushing their government... The opposite is true of Russia. The Russian people know little about Iran, little about the UNO conference, lays to take what their government gives them. A Bares and Stripes quite of Red army soldiers showed that most of them thought Churchill was an American.

We have to make allowances for Russia because in a sense she is a new nation—sensitive and suspicious.

COLUMBIAN ICES
Probably it was pure accident, but Harold Ickes begins his new career as newspaper columnist on the same day he is needed most in his old job as coal administrator. And, good columnist that he is bound to be, probably most people would prefer Ickes at the helm in this coal dispute rather than wielding a pen three times a week.

As a columnist, Ickes should tell the inside story of how he outsmarted John L. Lewis during the last coal strike and made him call it off.

During Lewis' illegal walkout over organizing former last fall, Ickes pulled his trump card. The government-owned big and little inch pipelines no longer were needed to carry oil to the East coast; so Ickes threatened to convert them to natural gas.

With this trump card, plus the fact that the miners themselves didn't want to strike, Ickes bulldozed Lewis into calling the strike off.

UNRA MERRY-GO-ROUND
After Mayor LaGuardia was appointed to take Governor Lehman's place, delegates of hungry nations at the Atlantic City UNRA conference wisecracked: "We asked for 500,000 tons of wheat and you gave us a 'little fower'." With UNRA outsparring the many fine qualities of Fiorelli, some felt that food problems would not be solved by food from the Midwest.

The LaGuardia appointment was right out of the Midwest music. The Little Flower is now at work.

WARSAW, CITY OF RUINS... Life goes on in a city of complete ruins. Children in Warsaw, Poland, are playing games in front of the ruins of the city.

Warsaw is the "ghost city of Europe." The mystery is why the few remain in Warsaw.

MAY RULE AGAIN... As a result of the recent Greek election, King George II, now in exile in England, may be returned. He first reigned in 1922, but fled the country the next year due to a uprising. He was restored to his throne again in 1935 but forced into exile in 1941 when the Germans overran his country.

WAC Lies Five Hours in Snow With Broken Leg
VALLEY FORGE, Pa.—WAC Lt. Bertie S. Roberts, 27, of Columbia, Ga., smilingly related a night-club designer's nightmare and a pinwheel maker's lost week.

BOOYER DISCUSSES FOOD... Herbert Hoover, center, former president of the United States, who is currently making a tour of Europe to study the food problem, is shown following his arrival in Czechoslovakia with Lawrence Sheehy, left, U. S. ambassador, and President Hoover, right, of Czechoslovakia. Hoover has reported an urgent need for food in most countries of Europe if open revolt and starvation is to be averted.

CONTENDER WORKS OUT... Billy Conn, who needs world's champion heavyweight Joe Louis at Yankee stadium on June 19, punches the bag at his camp at Greenwood Lake, New Jersey. A $2,500,000 gate is expected.

EGGS GETTING LARGER... This S. C. White Leghorn hen is certainly in a class by herself. Held by owner, Mrs. William Burham, Albany, N. Y., she looks over her 14-ounce egg, 8 inches long, 9 inches in circumference.

FINING UNDER THE PINES... The said that in the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, so Jimmy Murray, Johnson City, N. Y., not wanting to be an exception to the rule, whippers sweet nothings to his lady fair, Kathy Callahan. They're all wrapped up in the mysticities of puppy love as they hold a trust under the pines. Many an older could take a lesson from this young fair couple.

PARIS CELEBRATES AGAIN... For the first time since the war Paris burst forth with all its pent up gaiety in a colorful carnival that brought forth its brightest costumes and floats. The holiday spirit penetrated downward into the younger brackets, too, and here we see three children of the many who marched through the streets of Paris in masquerade, the hardships of war a thing of the past.

COMPTON HONORED... Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, who was awarded the highest award in war department can bestow on a civilian.

Atom-Test Atoll Found by Russian

Another Red Cave First Account of Bikini.

HONOLULU.—It was a Russian, in 1923, who discovered Bikini atoll, site of atomic bomb tests.

Another Russian provided the first recorded account of this obscure but vast sheltered lagoon in the Central Pacific.

Otto von Kotzebue of the Imperial Russian navy, found the atoll one October day 121 years ago on his second voyage across the Pacific.

The brass ring in this month's Carousel ride with Blueprints goes to a Kansas man who has produced a read bangswag.

It looks like a butter dish with ventilation arrangement, a super mousetrap with roof, a derby hat with windows.

It is made of aluminum and is suspended on cables from a steel support. At noon, December 19, 1952, we were close inshore. Could see 12 islands lying in a northeast direction.

We being about the center, stood for a channel three miles in width between two islands. Believed to be Rukoji pass, through which the target fleet may pass.

It takes a hop of living to meet a place seen home, as Edgar Guest said. And Edgar never lived in a home like this group. He bars between the island and shoals inside are more sudden than they have seen heretofore, with several deep channels into the lagoon.

They are a very dense race of people, if those in the canoe were a fair specimen.

A window runs all around the house. No matter where you sit you get a choice of views. Life in a house like this must make you feel like a cross between a penguin and a chicken under glass.

In such a home you are really a chocolate éclair with ears and a cream puff with plumbing troubles.

Viewed from a distance the place looks like half a watermelon with curtains over the wormholes.

In it there is the spirit of a Saturday night dream, a night-club designer's nightmare and a pinwheel maker's lost week.

We are ordering one for summer occupancy. But we will shoot the first neighbor who sticks his head into our living room and yells "Fifty dollars a night!"

Spring Signs
Grass sprig here I know—the third sign is the tree. The turtle dove is singing low. Finally, she heard voices shortly after midnight and called to a search party of six men.

"One man took off his boots and put them on me. I still have an aching foot today. They crowded around and tried to make me feel comfortable and kept saying nice things like, 'What courage, what courage!'"

It is a simple proof. The squirrels romp my roof; I saw an oriole today; The birds here near my door—And everywhere the people say, "Looks like another war!"

The blizzard soon will be along. The waterfalls are foaming white. The trout are seen to break. I heard a nightingale last night. (Joe Stalin's on the make). Along the wall, the chipmunks run. We soon will have back beer. (Our army has a rocket gun To pierce the stratosphere!).

Have you heard about the UNO delegate who was distributed in a New York hotel and phoned down, "I demand a little peace here!"

There may be a good reason why a nation ever lends any money to Uncle Sam, but there can't be any who now ever lend him a cigar.

Use for Old Street Cars
The papers are declaring much space to the "discovery" that old street cars can be converted into pretty comfortable dwellings. Discovery my eye! Years ago we were a surface-car tenant, a two-car garage dweller, but to be exact Two were built down to the beach of a Connetquot shore resort and a small building room built between them, with a porch added front and rear. Each car was used as a bedroom. We occupied a set-up with a bunch of boys back home. There was only one drawback, Jim Finnegan used to get in after midnight and enjoy ringing up fares.

SHORT STORY

The Once Over

By Phil Phillips

Sweet Round-House
These delmas for living in the world of tomorrow keep coming. Every day some fellow who must have studied architecture while riding in Mardi Gras parades springs something newer and screwier in housing.

The brass ring in this month's Carousel ride with Blueprints goes to a Kansas man who has produced a read bangswag.

It looks like a butter dish with ventilation arrangement, a super mousetrap with roof, a derby hat with windows.

It is made of aluminum and is suspended on cables from a steel support. At noon, December 19, 1952, we were close inshore. Could see 12 islands lying in a northeast direction.

We being about the center, stood for a channel three miles in width between two islands. Believed to be Rukoji pass, through which the target fleet may pass.

It takes a hop of living to meet a place seen home, as Edgar Guest said. And Edgar never lived in a home like this group. He bars between the island and shoals inside are more sudden than they have seen heretofore, with several deep channels into the lagoon.

They are a very dense race of people, if those in the canoe were a fair specimen.

A window runs all around the house. No matter where you sit you get a choice of views. Life in a house like this must make you feel like a cross between a penguin and a chicken under glass.

In such a home you are really a chocolate éclair with ears and a cream puff with plumbing troubles.

Viewed from a distance the place looks like half a watermelon with curtains over the wormholes.

In it there is the spirit of a Saturday night dream, a night-club designer's nightmare and a pinwheel maker's lost week.

We are ordering one for summer occupancy. But we will shoot the first neighbor who sticks his head into our living room and yells "Fifty dollars a night!"

Nice but Neat
WHETHER you share your bedroom with another member of the family or enjoy its privacy, you want to make it the most attractive and cozy room in the house.

Bedrooms and dressing rooms can truly reflect their owner's personality, and in fact, they offer more opportunity to show your skill with the needle than the other rooms.

Pink and blue are old standards in color schemes for the bedroom, but the trend now is to introduce just a little bit of sophistication even when these colors are used.

Instead of pink, you may want to use a frolic shade and add touches of chartreuse or lime as a color complement. If your choice is blue, then perhaps a deep blue with touches of deep, bright red would make the most striking contrast.

After your color scheme is decided, then is the time to look into available materials to see what is available, then take a trip to the attic to see what you can dig out. The chances are you will find there will be a discarded set of good quality material to see what it is. It may be an old tablecloth that can be converted into something extremely practical.

If you are fortunate enough to have a dressing table in your room, then bear in mind that it is the focal point of the room. In making the skirt for it, remember that good draping and a full skirt are the keys to its being truly successful.

The style of the dressing table skirt depends upon your own individual taste. If you go in for tailored things, then you will dis-material should go all the way around and open in front, with enough overlapping in front, of course, to prevent the skirt from falling.

As you pin the material to the table, allow for tucks and pin them in, using a ruler or measuring tape to see that they are evenly spaced.

For the feminine dressing table skirt, the two-piece skirt is made in the flounce at the bottom. This, of course, may be done after the skirt is cut, but do so to it that you have enough material to all the way around the skirt.

For ease in making the skirt, and also as a help in laundering or cleaning, use a double-breasted top bolero over a brown crepe top dress. The bolero is made in the same way as the skirt, but with the skirt's waistline at the neck.

The ever popular bolero will appear in a double-breasted top bolero with a double-breasted top bolero over a brown crepe top dress. The bolero is made in the same way as the skirt, but with the skirt's waistline at the neck.

Every section of the planet is represented in our incredible overgrown hamlet. Among the foreign colonies that thrive here are the Hindus, Persians, Mexicans and Koreans. The Hindus and Persians are for the most part proper and dignified.

The mosque in Brooklyn attracts devout Moslems. Most of the Mohammedans in our town are Turks.

The Estonians periodically hold music festivals, at which many of the men and women appear in the most recent and elaborate of costumes and a good time is had by all.

An imposing edifice known as the Norwegian Seaman's Church is maintained chiefly for Norwegian sailors. It has always had its pastor selected by church and governmental authorities in Norway.

The East Side Armenian shops—holes-in-the-wall—feature copper, coffee, silver, brass, ornate Victorian lamps and mantle clocks and an occasional porcelain shepherdess. Prices are high, but the goods are sold here as well as the shoddest machine-made articles.

After Czechoslovakia became an independent nation in 1918 many Slovaks from downtown moved up to the Czech quarter, and the two groups have combined into one. Their mutual language is their native tongue and traditions has prompted them to maintain separate schools where (after public school hours) the children can be taught their native speech and history. One of the city's most colorful spectacles is the annual Decoration Day (Czechoslovak parade) in native costume.

The Latin-American colony on Saturday nights is alive with excitement. Dance floors are throbbing with rumba rhythms. Watch these little people weave their ball-bearing tempos during the tantalizing art.

Famed Chinatown is packed with more happy orientals than you can find in Asia. Here are unique shops where Chinese Buddhists worship. Shops hawk exotic herbs at fantastic fees. And if you listen closely, you can pick up the jive talk and sweet patter of the almond-eyed jitters.

At the foot of Washington Street you will appreciate New York's cosmopolitan rep. This is the Syrian Quarter where newswriters feature Arabic dailies.

Turks, Armenians and Greeks also make their homes here. Shops glitter with vivid Syrian silks of brilliant hues. Coffee houses and confectioneries of the Levantines add a picturesque touch. Occasionally, you can be startled by the sight of an old man in a fez.

Little Italy's rollicking betas are among the town's wackiest. The streets are strung with lights, and happiness gets a workout. The people sing and dance and toss inhibitions to the winds.
