WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Accused Get High Court Protection; Top U. S. Officials' Pay Inadequate; Reds Named in Costa Rica 'Invasion'

WHEN the gavel sounds at high noon Monday, January 3, for the convening of the new 81st Congress in what promises to be a memorable session, there will be mixed reactions and a variety of emotions from the members themselves, from relatives, friends and employees who form the working force of a congressional caucus, and from millions of citizens generally in the country at large.

The ceremony is an annual affair, but it is a significant one in that it marks the beginning of a new legislative session. It is a time when the government is expected to make its mark, to set its agenda, and to begin the process of making laws.

The members of the 81st Congress are expected to be a mix of experienced veterans and newcomers. The session is expected to be a busy one, with many important bills and resolutions being introduced and debated.

The public will be watching the proceedings with interest, and the media will be covering the events extensively. It is a time of high drama and political maneuvering.

Over the Teacups

High Court: Protects Accused

The Supreme Court split 4 to 3 in the case of McCarthy v. United States, a decision that will have far-reaching implications for the rights of accused persons.

The majority opinion, written by Chief Justice Vinson, held that the government must prove its case against an accused person before it can strip him of his citizenship. This is a significant victory for the defense, as it places the burden of proof on the government.

The dissenting opinion, written by Justice Black, argued that the government should have the right to strip citizenship from anyone who is a threat to national security. This view is more in line with the government's position.

The case involves a man named McCarthy who was accused of being a communist spy. The government sought to strip him of his citizenship, but McCarthy argued that the government had not provided sufficient evidence to do so.

The court's decision in this case will likely lead to more challenges to the government's power to strip citizenship, and it may also have implications for other areas of law.

New Nature Boy Renounces Shoes, Sets Up Church

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Sam Price in Santa Monica's nature boy—a full-blooded, barefoot young man clad in an adult length woolen robe and carrying a staff—has renounced shoes and set up a church.

Sam Price, who was a royal Canadian in his pilot days and a war and more recently a labor organizer, is not trying to write a book. He threw away his shoes and orthodox clothing seven months ago to become what he calls a renunciate.

Price wants to demonstrate to an atomic world of cold war and high prices that material things are unimportant. With half a dozen other renunciate disciples, he has formed the Church of Christian Living, with temporary headquarters in a rooming house on the beach. The church has a high, seven-foot long and three-foot wide that sits beneath a gnarled tree.

Legal Council
The church has a legal council consisting of two members of the church and several disciples. The council is responsible for the church's affairs and for providing legal advice to its members.

Price's church is a unique blend of nature and spirituality. It is a place where people can find a sense of peace and connection with the natural world. Price believes that the material world is a distraction from the true path of life, and he encourages his followers to embrace a life of simplicity and nature.

U. S. Production Increases Six Billion Since June.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Record smashing results in the third quarter of 1948 were piled up by the nation's economic machine.

It produced goods and services at an unprecedented annual rate of 166 billion dollars, according to a Commerce Department estimate. The "turnout" for the quarter was 1.6 billion dollars above the rate of the preceding quarter, and 11 billion dollars above the rate in 1947.

Spending, of course, kept pace as an overall matter. But off that figure, the government estimates that the nation's income was 1.5 billion dollars less than that of the preceding quarter, one of the largest declines in the history of the post-war boom, people in the Commerce Department say.

Now, it looks as if they won't spend as much if they don't get more.

Personal income, after deducting tax payments, is amounting to more than 20 billion dollars on an annual basis, moved to a record high level of 193.7 billion dollars in the second quarter of 1948.

Gats Still Remain Head Rat Catchers in Wheeling, W. Va.

WHEELING, W. VA.—A Modern science in this city has been trying to write off the cat as a pest. But the extermination of the rat, however, has not been pushed as far as it should be.

Experts from Harvard University's department of anthropology reported the findings for the army. They found that the rat is a friend in Madelyn Kaufmann, city food inspector, who has been trying to get the removal of the rat from eating places.

Perhaps the biggest rat standard of living established by the city is the one set by the rat. Brings the greater use of rat poison, the health department says.

So, undisturbed, the cat takes out the rat. The health department says that the removal of the rat is a public health hazard.

THE VICTORS

NEW STARTER

The navy has announced the first successful jet engine for jet and turboprop aircraft engines. At present these engines are started with cumbersome storage batteries or other heavy auxiliary units outside the plane.

THE RADIALLY NEW starter, which can be used on both fighters and bombers, weighs only 100 pounds and can be carried in the plane.

This, the navy said, will enable jet or turboprop aircraft to use out-of-the-way bases which are not equipped to start their engines. The power source of the new starter is a gas turbine engine identical in principle with the engine in regular tanks.

IN ANNOUNCING the new starter, the navy said it is a more powerful than the previous jet engine. It said the new starter is more powerful than the previous jet engine. It said the new starter is more powerful than the previous jet engine.

FIRE BELLS: Some Are Lucky

With headlines screaming of death and injury in two major hotel fires, the nation's attention was turned again to the potential for destruction of persons accused of crime.

As one of the disasters, Justice Black held that the president was not held promptly to the "plain purpose" of this was to "check record by officers accused of crime."

As one of the disasters, Justice Black held that the president was not held promptly to the "plain purpose" of this was to "check record by officers accused of crime."

U. S. TOP MEN: Need More Pay

Congressmen asked to do something about it. The salaries of top U. S. officials were too low. For example, the chief justice of the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Vinson, received $25,000 annually, instead of the present $15,000.

It was none other than Budget Director Charles E. Webb talking to a Senate subcommittee on the salaries of top U. S. officials. Webb said that the salaries of top U. S. officials were too low. For example, the chief justice of the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Vinson, received $25,000 annually, instead of the present $15,000.

OREGON ROOD: IT'S A THING IN CONQUERING WELL

There are many officials in the machinery of congress who hold on to their jobs as administrators go and come. Many of them have been there for years on end.

Take E. Neville McGill of Washington, the assistant to the director of the Oregon Rood. McGill has been in the job since 1918. He has been in the job since 1918. He has been in the job since 1918.

'ROAND' Round

Washington news might have been pardoned had they uttered an "R" for "Round." Here we go again.

For President Truman, at a news conference, stated that he was going to press again for congressional approval of legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence survey and power project.

THE OFF-PROPOSED international project has a yet failed to win congressional approval. The President reiterated his intention to ask for an act for the proposal after a reporter asked: "Will you ask for the St. Lawrence project?"

Sign of the Times

Rep. Karl E. Mundt (R. S. D.) of Oregon, chairman of the House American activities committee, looked like he was trying to get the box on suspected Communists in the U. S. when he announced that the committee would subpoena 10 important witnesses for questioning in the Red spy inquiry.

But Birthplace
As the army sees it, it isn't where he's born.

MAKING PUBLIC a study on the subject, the army declared that it was not to do with his muscles.

Experts from Harvard University's department of anthropology reported the findings for the army. They found that the rat is a friend in Madelyn Kaufmann, city food inspector, who has been trying to get the removal of the rat from eating places.

End of a Career

But one man on the senate side about whom little is ever heard in that body as any man on the floor of the senate is Carl A. Leffler, secretary of the 80th Congress, who will be succeeded by Lettie B. Leffler, former secretary of the 79th Congress. Carl Leffler, whose home town is Lock Haven, Pa., came to the United States in 1908 and worked as a page boy in 1908 during the administration of President Benjamin Harrison.

Astronomers Report Discovery of Planet

Perhaps it was never, maybe it was old, but "1969-A" is a new, or just an old-time planet making a new discovery in the solar system. It is a planet that is believed to be between Mars and Jupiter.

There are about 1,500 known planets believed to be remnants of larger celestial bodies which shattered.

WALTER BUTTON GOES HUNTING

By JOHN SHARDA

Walter wasn't the hunting type but, encouraged by his wife, he decided to try his luck.

He had a good time, but unfortunately, he learned that a man needs more than equipment to bag some game.

Walter Button had made the decision to go hunting with his wife, and he was determined to do it right.
