Leaving a miking machine on a cow for 10 or 15 minutes is not good management, Weaver says. It doesn't get any more milk: it wastes time and may injure the udder. Managed milking, where the machine is on for only three to five minutes, takes care of the milking much better and helps make for contented cows.

Leaders of two unions think its Leaders of unions representing rail-road engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste -a "make work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the fromt. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically probling else to do.

No Benefit To You No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be a strike. You may not be interested in this dis-pute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the dissel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid a feather-bed ... a make work grab that means less service to you. railroad employes—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in uncarned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets. tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as en diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous de-tails of railroading that contribute to im-proved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You We'd Like To Spend This Money On You But brazen feather-hedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against your interests—as well as those of the ruitroads. They are reference to "make work". With a part of the cost of the ruitroads. You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The mirroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to seemly money on better or the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them. ice for you.

Proud 25 the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of

Men Are a Laugh

By KATHLEEN NORRIS IT'S A WISE man, indeed, at whem the women of the family don't occasionally laugh. The other day I had a quiet laugh at ny favorite psychologist. He is ny favorite because his talk is usually so down-to-the ground sense. I've listened to him on the radio for some months and writer in his own line.

But the cuter day he went 'way off the track and I confess I enjoyed it. I've quoted him here twice, once as reminding us that our first great ally. God, is being pretty well neglected in international confer-ences these days and again when he gave some excellent simple advice about uprooting corrosive bates from our hearts. The talk that made me laugh in a quiet superior way was not on such grave subjects. It was about an annual family gathering of his own clan, apparently consisting of as many as 35 or 40 persons. as many as 35 or 40 persons.

But for the past few years the postoffice department has been spending so much money paying for new designs and issuing new stamps in new sizes, shapes and color schemes, that it really had to dig up some fresh dough. It is tickled silly with the new rates, as they will give it a lot of fun designing more new stamps.

The three-cent stamp on light mail still stands and postal cards and souvenir post cards will still be handled at a penny each. Why? They must be more trouble than any other mail.

which a gas main was laid. They were working for a pipe line contractor.

I was interested to note the time wasted by those workers, for it indicated, in a small way, what was happening to production in American industry, what portion of the time workers were paid for was non-productive. On that job of digging and filling in a trench there could be no "assembly line" where the stopping of one shovel would stop all the others. Each worker was accountable for his own production.

To determine the percentage of lost time, I watched the actions of some one individual worker for 60 minutes, covering, in that way a dozen or more of those work.

testing laboratories in about ten counties in Michigan is the result of increased interest by farmers and agricultural groups in soil testing in the last three years.

Kirk Lawton, soils scientist at MSC, says that this is one of the best moves farmers can make since soil tests are necessary for a good soil fertility program.

A good point to consider when buying sheep is the length of the jaws, say MSC sheep specialists.

If the jaws are of unequal length it's difficult for the sheep to make the best use of rough-age to produce meat and wool.

for a good soil fertility program.

The county soil testing laboratory provides a valuable service for the farmer or grower. The results of soil tests in the county laboratory are turned over to the county agricultural agent. He is often familiar with the particular farm area tested and can interpret the tests and make soil management recommendations.

The sponsorship of these laboratories has been undertaken by local agricultural groups including the county board of supervisors, farm organizations, the soil conservation district, and local business and civic groups. The soil science department at MSC assists in setting up the laboratory equipment and methods. Soil tests are generally made for acidity, available potassium. A slight charge is made to defray costs of labor, equipment and chemicals.

Lawton advises farmers who wish to learn more about a soil testing program to get in touch with their county agricultural agent.

MICHIGAN FARM

CALENDAR FOR FER.

February 12. Annual Wolverbe Futurity Show and Sale by

What farmers feed their dainry cattle often affects reproduction. This fact has been ahown by a number of tests at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment showed that the experiments showed that the feeding of wheat straw in place of hay resulted in reproductive failures. Calves were often born dead, weak, or blind. Cows fed good green timothy hay reproduced in a normal manner.

Hay furnished carotene which is changed to Vitamin A by the animals. The possibility of Vitamin A deficiency occurring among cows under farm conditions appears remote because large quantities of this vitamin are stored in the body during the pasture period, Huff-man reports.

Clasck the size to see whether it will fit the burner or oven for convenience and good use of heat. Straight sides on cooking utensils save heat and stove space. Rounded corners and smooth finishes make cleaning easier. Tight fitting lids are important.

Plans with flat bottoms will stand steady and level and if they have a dull finish they will absorb more heat. Handles should stay cool, be well-ball anced, securely fastened and fit your hand. Lids shouldn't warp or rust. Look for durable material and good construction.
