Funeral Services Held For Father Of Mrs. A. Clark

Mrs. Alger Clark was called to the home of her father, Albert Umphrey at Elgin, Ontario, Canada, because of the serious illness of her father. Mr. Umphrey passed away Sunday at his home at the age of 89 years.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Opal Clark of Manchester and Mrs. Pearl Lewis at his home.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Methodist church at Elgin.

Altar Society Met With Mrs. O. M. Way

The St. Mary's Altar Society met at the home of Mrs. O. M. Way for their regular meeting with 35 present. Serving on the sick committee for next month are Mrs. Robert Funches and Mrs. George Swank.

All of this cryptic stuff is a preview of the election. Here, as in facts readily bear out.

Old-time Democrats, such as those who followed the "sleeping dogs" should not be disturbed so soon; others think that the dogs are far from being in innocent slumber, that they already have Republican legislators up a tree, and so the party might better face the music and get rolling on the matter.

The new party boss was August Scholte, president of the CIO state committee and chairman of the union's Political Action Committee. It was the astute Scholte who presented a slate of candidates to be nominated for the spring election.

Opposed to his slate collection of "old-line" Democrats for state highway commissioner was William H. Harvie of Birmingham, a former engineer for the state highway department. Because of the candidate's capabilities and the well-run campaign directed by C. W. Lucas, secretary for former Governor Van Wageningen, the Harvie bandwagon was winning smooth. That is—until Scholte took over.

The CIO choice for highway commissioner was John H. McCarty, Mr. Harvie's former independent of public instruction. E. Burr Sherwood of Stambaugh.

The convention was also unorthodox politically in the fact that the state chairman, John R. Franco, was completely ignored. Hicks Griffiths, law partner of Governor Williams, was chosen chairman.

The CIO tried to upset the re-election candidacy of Justice Edward E. Sharpe of Bay City because of Sharpe's record of court decisions, said to have been "reactionary." John E. Legatz, former Muskegon prosecutor, was favored for the Supreme court post. But at the spring election, apparently worried that the CIO might be going too far, finally united on George E. Bushnell of Highland Park, was unopposed.

Since the record shows that the Michigan CIO dictated most of the choices, the question before Republican strategists is something like this: Should the GOP make the CIO the spring election issue? Should Michigan let one labor organization "take over" selection of a party ticket? Here might be the potential ingredients of another "protest" vote, much to the liking of those citizens who wish casting their ballot in reverse.

But to stir up the CIO, hush-hush other Republican leaders would only invite an organized march of union members to the polls. That runs counter to traditional GOP strategy of concentrating on the rural vote. If this logic were heeded, then the spring campaign would be rationalized by issues of highway and educational needs.

However, the Democratic convention attendance—one of the largest in history—does not indicate that the Michigan CIO is going to be disinterested in the spring election outcome. The government program to take big business' is certain to be kept quietly on the legislative shelf until after election. No issue there.

If the Michigan CIO can demonstrate its interest with the rank and file of Michigan voters by winning the spring election, then perhaps a pattern can be evolved whereby the Democratic party will become the "workers' party" in everything but its name. There you have it. What will

Bell Rates Lowered In Some Rural Areas

The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized a reduction or elimination of long distance telephone charges for thousands of telephone users in former rural areas that are now substantial residential developments in more than 100 exchanges of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, including Manchester.

The Commission approved Michigan Bell's program to extend or modify its long distance operating areas in the affected exchanges by authorizing "base-rate area" extensions or modifications of "locality area" charges. In effect, the company is authorized to offer better types of service at attractive rates to customers in the new developed residential areas.

A phase of the order provides for the ultimate elimination of rural service in the affected areas in favor of urban service now provided within the communities themselves.

The order emphasized, however, that such a change must await the availability of service which may take as long as two years at some exchanges. Until that time rural service will be furnished on a temporary basis.

Company officials said the order will permit more efficient planning in connection with future expansion of facilities.

The order establishes a new "base-rate" locality area here, according to N. J. Franken, manager for the company.

In the area, exchange line mileage charges will be reduced for those services. No change will be made in present rates paid by rural-line users in the affected territory, Franken said.

There are 46 telephone users in the new locality area. It covers the area of 1-1/2 square miles surrounding Pleasant Lake about 5 miles northeast of Manchester.

MICHIGAN THIRD IN VACATION POPULARITY

Michigan was in the "Big Three" in the nation's tourist industry in 1948, according to a survey conducted by a national magazine. New York had the largest number of vacationers, California was second and Michigan third. Illinois and Florida were tied for sixth place, according to the survey.

The survey revealed that Michigan and New York tied for second place in 1948, with California moving out in front. Furlong points out, however, that the survey was not a gain in vacation business for Michigan this year. The tie for second place is a result of a predicted drop in New York's standing. California, on the other hand, is expected to enjoy a sizeable increase in the number of visitors.

Great Variety In Quality Of Silk On Market Now

How much does the label "pure dye silk" mean when the dress you thought so beautiful spots with every drop of water?

This label means that the fabric is made of all pure silk, but not necessarily that the colors are fast explains Jane Warden, MSC textiles instructor.

Less expensive silks may not be colorfast. Some of the colors run when just a little water is spilled on them or when they are dry cleaned. With the price of pure dye silks ranging from $1.50 to $9 per yard it is obvious that there is also a wide range in quality.

In the very high priced printed silks part of the price is the result of extensive prints designed by well-known designers. The other part is the result of good quality fabric.

Some of the less expensive silks are printed and attract the customer's eye but many of them are very light weight. They lack body and will not hang well when worn.

Another point to remember about the "pure dye silk" label is that it guarantees only that the silk has not been weighted more than 10 per cent with chemicals. Manufacturers put salts of tin in the dye bath to add to the weight of the silk. However, there are not many weighted silks on the market at the present time.

Some of the less expensive silks are printed and attract the customer's eye but many of them are very light weight. They lack body and will not hang well when worn.

store the frostbitten area to normal temperature gradually. Hot water and other sources of heat should not be used. Signs of frostbite are loss of feeling and a gray appearance. Both are results of disappearance of blood from the area. When circulation in the area cannot be restored readily a physician should be consulted at once.

Frostbite most frequently occurs when extreme temperature is accompanied by high winds. The wind helps to remove the heat from unprotected parts of your body. Susceptible when, after being extremely cold, there is loss of feeling, the Department said.

Cribbed Corn Can Be Dried

Farmers with corn in the crib are beginning to have a few questions in their minds. Some of the corn is quite high in moisture content and warmer weather will bring the problems of handling the corn.

W. H. Sheldon, agricultural engineer at MSC, says that wet corn will keep indefinitely while frozen. The problem is what to do with the wet corn that is still in the crib when warmer weather returns.

One solution is to feed it out before the weather warms up. However, large quantities are so hard in some cases and cannot be used rapidly.

Experiments in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, and Iowa have shown that heated air can be used to dry wet corn. Blowing unheated air through the crib with a hay drier fan will not take out very much water but it will keep the corn as cool as the air and greatly retard mold growth.

Mechanical drying, Sheldon advises, offers a number of advantages for farmers. Corn can be picked earlier when the days are longer and the weather is more comfortable. It allows less damage to corn pickers from frozen ground or muddy fields. Less corn is lost by early picking and corn will be dry enough for shelling and grinding much sooner.

County agricultural agents can give advice about mechanical drying and its adaptation to the various areas of Michigan.

New Grade Unit Planned for Manchester

Crowded Conditions Call For New Grade Rooms

The Manchester Enterprise

VOLUME EIGHTY-TWO MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1949 NO. 23

Nine Mills Required To Build New Grade Unit

Manchester needs classroom space. With a kindergarten of 45 and a first grade of 42, and a general increase of population in the area promising even larger classes in the future, Manchester's District Two is faced with a critical need for more classroom space.

With the rest of Washington county, Manchester is growing in population. The increase of population in the county is 32 percent since 1940.

The architect firm of Kasurin and Kasurin, experts in school design, have planned an economy building for Manchester, consisting of four rooms and a kindergarten. Each room will be one-third larger than present classrooms, better lighted, better heated and better ventilated. In the opinion of builders, this unit can be constructed for around $60,000. Decks and other equipment may cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 more.

Taxpayers of the district who have been consulted, believe that the district should build itself for $100,000, on the theory that it is better to have more money than to be compelled to conduct half day classes as has happened in other communities.

Fortunately, a number of enterprising school districts have shown how grade units can be built at reasonable cost in spite of high prices. Such buildings as were pictured in last week's Enterprise, and one another page in this week's issue, built of cinder block with flat roofs and without basements, employing all modern design features, can be constructed from $10,000 to $12,000 per room.

K & W WILL HOLD PTA Family Night

THIS SATURDAY Night Attracts Large Attendance

About 150 persons gathered at the Manchester high school on Monday evening to enjoy the potluck supper Family Night of the PTA.

Serving on the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Higgins, Mrs. Norman Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirk, Mrs. Roscoe Landon, Mrs. Robert Kohl and Mrs. King.

Professor William C. Morse of the University of Michigan, the speaker of the evening, stressed the fact that the methods of teaching are not important compared with the character of the teacher. He said that too much time is spent teaching facts and subjects which are soon forgotten instead of teaching the students how to meet situations and live among their fellow men. All these things depend on the character of the teacher. A child's first conception of the school is acquired at home. A child's character is first molded in the home.

It was interesting to note that one room school is not far different from a large grade school room where one teacher divides into groups of students and each requires special attention because of the varied ability of students to grasp the material. Although all are on the same lesson there are several or even six groups of students of different abilities and characteristics and the one teacher must cope with.

During the program the children were entertained by the Girl Scouts. Others appearing on the program were: Mary Jean English, who gave several readings; Leonard Stark sang accompanied by Mrs. Wesley Proctor.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Boss: Having followed with much interest the recent editions of your paper, we wish to commend you for your courage in publishing letters written to you. Be not dismayed by the fact that the letters are not all complimentary. It is our belief that any newspaper, no matter how small, should have, besides local news and advertisements, a good editorial staff. This editorial staff should be able to give the community a fair and balanced picture of the news. It should also keep the community informed of the accomplishments of its neighboring villages and when deeds warrant it point to them with pride.

We realize, however, that any one in your position cannot feel free to give his views on local affairs. We are, however, a considerable thought to the reactions of his advertisers. They, after all, are the bread and butter of the paper and must be treated with respect. We would issue their remarks about the lack of knowledge of the current generation. The teacher was kind enough not to read his name as the author of the epistle a mere ten years prior to that time.

(The rest of the story—You may not have been a hot shot in your youth.)

See LETTERS, Back Page.

Lauretta Paul New Director Of Pontiac Hospital

Miss Lauretta Paul, formerly of Manchester, is the new director of the Pontiac General Hospital. She was born in Manchester on January 16, 1902, the only girl in a family of four children. She attended Manchester High School and her college background is Albion College, the University of Detroit, the Detroit Institute of Technology and Duke University. She majored in accounting.

She studied further through correspondence courses and private tutoring. She was employed for 15 years in the treasurer's office of the Consumers Power Company's general office in Jackson. While there she belonged to many clubs and organizations. Her major affiliation was the Business and Professional Women's Club, which she represented on various state committees.

From the Consumers Power Company Miss Paul took a job as assistant comptroller with the Macklin Company in Jackson. She then joined the Price Waterhouse and Company, a nationwide firm of public accountants. She spent the next five years traveling about the United States, doing work on hospital and personnel surveys and systems along with auditing work. In May of 1947 she was employed as business manager of the Pontiac General Hospital.

Being a charter member of the "52 Club," a nationwide organization limited to 52 members, all hospital people, is Miss Paul's chosen affiliation.

Along with being Pontiac's hospital director, Miss Paul is a member of the American and Michigan Hospital Association, the American Society for Public Administration and the American Women's Administrative Association.

What Will Be Total Annual School Tax?

What will be the total school tax in the next few years, including both operating and bond retirement? This is a question that will be asked by many taxpayers.

Another story on this page shows that the maximum millage required for the bond issue should be about nine mills. This does not mean, however, that nine mills will be added to the present tax. In the present tax, there is a three mill building improvement fund that will come off. Very likely, our operating millage will remain about the same as last year, or perhaps a little less. Increased state aid, the new tax return, and other revenues will permit the school to run a somewhat larger school at the same tax rate as the present one.

No exact guarantee, of course, can be made. However, studies show that the operating levy in 1949-50 should be 19.47.

WHAT A NEW ROOM WOULD MEAN TO ME AS A STUDENT

- Kindergarten: "I think it would be better..."
- First Grade: "I think it would be all right..."
- Second Grade: "I think we would have more room..."
- Third Grade: "I think we would have more room to play in..."
- Fourth Grade: "I think people would have more room to make a larger circle..."
- Fifth & Sixth Grades: "I think we would have more room to put our tables out and not be so close together..."
- Seventh Grade: "I think we would have more room for the boys and their blocks..."
- Eighth Grade: "I think we would have more room to get the toys out..."
- Ninth Grade: "We would have more room around the desk..."
- Tenth Grade: "We would have more room to put the furniture in different places..."

*Four per cent interest used in this computation.

*Nine months interest. This amount, approximately, would be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds and therefore reduces the amount available for building purposes.

The authorizing resolution should provide for a levy of at least nine mills in 1949 and each year thereafter until a reserve of $10,000 has been accumulated in the Bond Retirement Fund. Assuming no decline in valuation and population, the reserve would be practically paid off the last two maturities and no levies would be required after 1960.

Recommended a voted increase of 14 mills for 20 years as security to the bond buyers.

Funeral Services Held For Father Of Mrs. A. Clark

Mrs. Alger Clark was called to the home of her father, Albert Umphrey at Elgin, Ontario, Canada, because of the serious illness of her father. Mr. Umphrey passed away Sunday at his home at the age of 89 years.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Opal Clark of Manchester and Mrs. Pearl Lewis at his home.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Methodist church at Elgin.

Altar Society Met With Mrs. O. M. Way

The St. Mary's Altar Society met at the home of Mrs. O. M. Way for their regular meeting with 35 present. Serving on the sick committee for next month are Mrs. Robert Funches and Mrs. George Swank.

All of this cryptic stuff is a part of the State Democratic convention at Grand Rapids.

Here candidates as facts readily bear out.

Old-time Democrats, such as those who followed the "sleeping dogs" should not be disturbed so soon; others think that the dogs are far from being in innocent slumber, that they already have Republican legislators up a tree, and so the party might better face the music and get rolling on the matter.

The new party boss was August Scholte, president of the CIO state committee and chairman of the union's Political Action Committee. It was the astute Scholte who presented a slate of candidates to be nominated for the spring election.

Opposed to his slate were "old-line" Democrats for state highway commissioner was William H. Harvie of Birmingham, a former engineer for the state highway department. Because of the candidate's capabilities and the well-run campaign directed by C. W. Lucas, secretary for former Governor Van Wageningen, the Harvie bandwagon was winning smooth. That is—until Scholte took over.

The CIO choice for highway commissioner was John H. McCarty, Mr. McCarty, for superintendent of public instruction, E. Burr Sherwood of Stambaugh.

The convention was also unorthodox politically in the fact that the state chairman, John R. Franco, was completely ignored. Hicks Griffiths, law partner of Governor Williams, was chosen chairman.

The CIO tried to upset the re-election candidacy of Justice Edward E. Sharpe of Bay City because of Sharpe's record of court decisions, said to have been "reactionary." John E. Legatz, former Muskegon prosecutor, was favored for the Supreme court post. But at the spring election, apparently worried that the CIO might be going too far, finally united on George E. Bushnell of Highland Park was unopposed.

Since the record shows that the Michigan CIO dictated most of the choices, the question before Republican strategists is something like this: Should the GOP make the CIO the spring election issue? Should Michigan let one labor organization "take over" selection of a party ticket? Here might be the potential ingredients of another "protest" vote, much to the liking of those citizens who wish casting their ballot in reverse.

But to stir up the CIO, hush-hush other Republican leaders would only invite an organized march of union members to the polls. That runs counter to traditional GOP strategy of concentrating on the rural vote. If this logic were heeded, then the spring campaign would be rationalized by issues of highway and educational needs.

However, the Democratic convention attendance—one of the largest in history—does not indicate that the Michigan CIO is going to be disinterested in the spring election outcome. The government program to take big business' is certain to be kept quietly on the legislative shelf until after election. No issue there.

If the Michigan CIO can demonstrate its interest with the rank and file of Michigan voters by winning the spring election, then perhaps a pattern can be evolved whereby the Democratic party will become the "workers' party" in everything but its name.

There you have it. What will

Bell Rates Lowered In Some Rural Areas

The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized a reduction or elimination of the long distance telephone charges for thousands of telephone users in former rural areas that are now substantial residential areas in more than 100 exchanges of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, including Manchester.

The Commission approved Michigan Bell's program to extend or modify its long distance operating areas in the affected exchanges by authorizing "base-rate area" extensions or modifications of "locality area" charges. In effect, the company is authorized to offer better types of service at attractive rates to customers in the new developed residential areas.

A phase of the order provides for the ultimate elimination of rural service in the affected areas in favor of urban service now provided within the communities themselves.

The order emphasized, however, that such a change must await the availability of service, which may take as long as two years at some exchanges. Until that time, rural service will be furnished on a temporary basis.

Company officials said the order will permit more efficient planning in connection with future expansion of facilities.

The order establishes a new "base-rate" locality area, here, according to the J. Franken, manager for the company.

In the area, exchange line mileage charges will be reduced for those services. He said.

No change will be made in present rates paid by rural-line users in the affected territory, Franken said.

There are 46 telephone users in the new locality area. It covers the area of 1-1/2 square miles surrounding Pleasant Lake about 5 miles northeast of Manchester.
