Ypsi Annexation Proposal Killed
The Board of Supervisors Monday killed any chance that the wholesale Ypsilanti township annexation will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot.
By a heavy vote, the Board passed a motion by Henry Hicks, Ypsilanti township supervisor, to table consideration of the annexation proposal until the Board's Oct. 10 meeting.
The move means that, even if approved at that time, the annexation issue could not generally be placed on the general election ballot Nov. 7.
State law requires that at least 40 days elapse between the Board of Supervisors' approval of such a petition and the election at which the proposal is voted upon. To place the proposal on the ballot,
therefore, would have required
Board action by Sept. 27.

Thursday, September 28 at Bathlehem Evangelical Church, Ann Arbor, to hear Mrs. Lenah Macdonald, Parent Education and Child Development Specialist from M.C.C. talk on "Older Folks in The World Today."
People have always grown old,
so we may well ask, why this sudden interest in older age? In the first place we are becoming aware that our population is aging rapidly that more of us today are in the older age group than ever before. Later years of life should not be thought of as wasted years or a time of uselessness. But rather we want to consider how these years can be made more productive and satisfying a time which has its fair share of rewards. The lesson
"Older Folks in The World Today" is designed to stimulate our thinking in this direction.
But conversations at Michigan State College advise leaving crop residues on the surface of the land as much as possible over winter. Straw stubble soil, and even weeds offer good winter protection for the land.

Cattle Feeding Has Reached New High

This is the first of a series of three articles on the best cattle feeding situation by Don H. Stark, extension livestock marketing specialist at Michigan State College. The others, which will follow, will deal with the feed situation and planning feeding operations.

Cattle feeding is at an all-time high and is likely to continue at present or increased levels through fall and winter and 1951.

Thirty-four percent more cattle were on feed July 1 than last year, but many are scheduled for later marketing this fall. Livestock production is on the increase and meat production during the last two years has kept pace with the growth in population. Emphasis placed on grassland farming the past year will have a tendency to increase livestock numbers.

The annual consumption of feed has changed very little from last year season for season. Shipments of stocker and feeder cattle into the eight corn belt states during the first six months of 1950 were 29 percent larger than in corresponding months of 1949. The number of calves going to the country was 19 percent higher than in 1949, indicating that cattlemen are trying to keep their inventories down and make their profit on cheap gains, not margins.

The war situation may cause some cattlemen to feed stocker and feeder cattle rather than sell and invest in higher replacement cattle. War conditions also bring in a certain amount of risk and speculation with heavier cattle. In normal times these cattle would go to the packer for slaughter. This should take away some upward pressure on feeder cattle prices. However, the demand for meat may cause the packer to dip into the feeder alley for many of his cattle. This could cause feeder prices to follow or even exceed fat cattle prices.

Grass on western ranges has been good this year. Many ranch men may do more fat cattle feeding this year which would decrease the number of cattle coming to market.

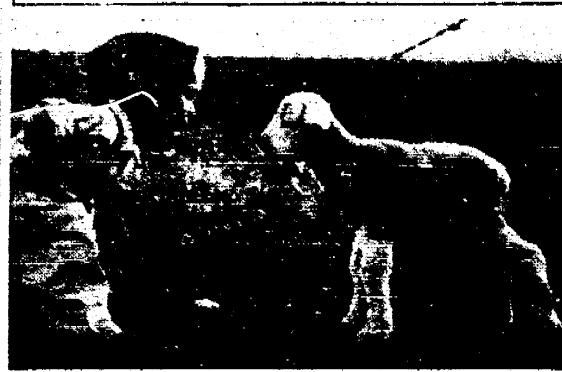

Hillsdale Fair September 24-30

The Hillsdale County Centennial Fair will be held September 24-30 inclusive, this being the 100th anniversary year of operation. As usual, the opening day, Sunday, September 24, will feature a religious program sponsored by the Hillsdale County Ministerial Association, with an address by R. G. LeTourneau, one of America's outstanding religious laymen. This year for the first time in the history of the fair a Monday night program will be held in front of the grandstand—no admission charge at the gate. The Grand Growing Contest will be judged immediately followed by "Review of the Century" grandstand performance. This review will be staged each night of the fair. Tuesday will be Free School Children's Day with a special feature at 1:30 p. m.—an elaborate public wedding depicting the costumes and customs of hundreds years ago. Wednesday has been designated as "Hillsdale County City Mayors and Village Presidents' Day," featuring a parade of bands and floats in front of the grandstand following the evening performance. Thursday is "Governor's Day" and "Everybody's Homecoming Day." Visitors Friday will witness a caravan of antique automobiles with models as early as 1900, all operated under their own power. Saturday as usual will be free. Shoppers at Hillsdale County Fair Centennial Queen will be chosen. Special attention this year has been given to the 4-H Club exhibits and classes also have been added for the Future Farmers of America. Horses for races have been entered from Monday through Saturday and three races a day will be held Tuesday through Saturday. The Worlds Champion Horse-Racing Contest will take place Tuesday through Saturday. High school bands will play attendance every day for your enjoyment. The Women's Program promises to be the best ever held since the inception of this organization 34 years ago. Through the cooperation of Dr. Merle R. French and Hillsdale County Health Department the grounds and buildings have all been sprayed with DDT. Meet your friends at the most popular fair on earth.

Plan New Standard For Cream Marketing

More rigid requirements for the production and handling of cream offered for sale to be used in butter manufacture will become effective in Michigan on January 1, 1951. Don Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State College reports that the proposal for an industry test as a measure of quality was made at a recent meeting by representatives of the Michigan Creamery Owners Association, bureau of dairymen of the State Department of Agriculture, and the MSC dairy department. In conjunction with the present standards in the Michigan state law for standard cream, the voluntary standard was adopted as a test of one percent acid. It was considered that excessively sour cream indicates decomposition and would not make safe butter. Murray advises that producers to meet this acidity standard it will be necessary to cool cream immediately after separation and to store at a temperature below 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

The mother who made this picture says, "I was so glad I had my camera handy when I saw my son having fun with the lamb."

"If Your Daddy Could See You Now . . ."

THE words in the title of today's column could only be spoken by a mother . . . and it is to the mothers who frequently say that that I am writing. These words are spoken daily by thousands of mothers in innumerable tones of approval, reproval, or disapproval as they watch their young boys act up while father is away. I'm afraid the moral of my story is obvious of course. Daddy eyes are visible in the tab or baby book usually in an important study of his toes—Mother keeps the camera handy. A mother's picture-taking opportunities are such as to make professional photographers envious. Every time her home and family she is surrounded, 24 hours a day, with proper subjects, and situations they must scheme and speed to create. In some homes, the camera is kept tucked away in the desk drawer.

When purchasing a new refrigerator remember that the minimum cubic feet for each additional person is two. The minimum size is easily outgrown and often it would be better to buy a larger one in the first place. The difference in initial price often pays for itself in a short time. Ask your Michigan State College home economist.

Stark states that everyone is invited to attend this meeting—all farmers, meat packers and retailers, and any others interested in the subject.

Tailored to resemble a more fashionable nightgown, it is a comfortable and perfect solution for the girl who dreads the pajamas, but favors more tailored wear than a regular nightgown.

Set Livestock and Meat Day in October

Several hundred livestock producers, packers and retailers from all over Michigan are expected to attend a joint Livestock and Meat Day meeting October 1 at Michigan State College. Don Stark, M. S. C. livestock marketing specialist reports that the idea of having the three phases of the meat industry—production and marketing—meet together has met with enthusiastic approval of each group. The conference objective is to look at new techniques in livestock marketing and trends in the merchandising field. The Livestock program will feature talks with emphasis on selling on the meat basis while at the same time giving consumers the kind of most products they want. Stark said. Specific aims will be to show that proposed new grades are practical, to learn how the packers look at livestock, and to learn how consumers buy meat. Key speakers will explain problems and relationships of each phase of the industry from farm to consumer. One of the program highlights is expected to be the participation of some growers from throughout the state in a demonstration of the new hog grades designed to recognize the meat type hog. The proposed grades

ONE UP ON NATURE - During the war Bell Laboratories scientists found a way to grow synthetic crystals better in some ways than natural quartz. A "seed" crystal is produced by evaporating chemical salts, then rotated in a chemical solution which causes deposits to build it up to many times its original size. Crystals vibrate at exact frequencies, separate the many telephone messages traveling over a long distance line.

BETTER AND BETTER - In the 74 years since the telephone was invented, there have been more than 18,000 additional inventions—an average of more than 240 a year—that have contributed to its development. Many recent ones are playing a part in Michigan Bell's big service improvement program in rural areas.

TIME DOES TELL - Here's an easy way to figure what your telephone is worth to you. On a typical working day, count up the telephone calls you make . . . to the farm implement dealer, lumber mill, veterinary, feed store, repair shop, friends. Think of the hours it would take to visit all of these people—hours of lost work around the farm. And when you consider that one call may save a life, what you pay for telephone service is mighty small compared to the value you receive.
