Will Be Largest Fair Held

Final Preparations Now Under Way

The Manchester Fair Board held its last meeting before the Community Fair on Tuesday evening. Reports were given by the various committees working to make final preparations for what promises to be the largest fair in Manchester's history.

Owen Cathey, working with Mrs. Claude Gage and Vernon Downing on the premium book committee, announced that the 1,200 premium books which were ordered from the Manchester Enterprise are being distributed as quickly as possible. It was decided to distribute the books to all rural mail box holders in the Manchester area.

Officers of the Fair Board, Bob Merithew, president; Donald Weed, vice-president; Robert Crandall, secretary; and Stanton G. Roesch, treasurer, expressed pleasure at the way the various departments are working to complete arrangements.

Concessions and space on the grounds are being handled by Vernon Downing assisted by D. C. Weed, Stanton Roesch and Densel Fuller. Working on publicity with Bob Merithew are Crandall and Weed. Mrs. Minnie Merithew heads the merchants exhibit. She is assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Burch and Mrs. Roena Wurster. There is still space for merchants to contract for space displays.

Impment-Dealers exhibit is being handled by Densel Fuller and Kenneth Kouba. Mrs. Joan Crandall, Mrs. Claude Gage and Mrs. Walter Vogt have charge of the Home Economics exhibit. Which is a reminder that in the home economic room are some sixty quarts of tomatoes which the home economic girls have been canning for chili to be sold at the home economic stand at the fair.

Along with the home economic division there will be a cooking school to be held Friday morning from 9:45 in the auditorium with the G. E. school conducted by personnel from the Consumers Power Co. in conjunction with the L. V. Kirk Electrical Store here.

The Happyland Shows will be here again this year and there will be five rides included. One important factor which the fair board wishes to make clear is that there will be guards at all times—night and day—at the community fair. Men and boys exhibiting animals will be allowed to remain with their animals at night if they care to. However, only exhibitors will be allowed this privilege.

According to Supt. Downing the entire faculty will be expected to take an active part in guard duty.

Pat Roesch is taking care of arrangements for quick distribution of awards to exhibitors. Envelops containing prize money will be ready immediately after judging of exhibits at the desk in the Merchants Tent. Everyone winning prizes is asked by Mr. Merithew to report immediately at his office—Merchants' Tent on the fair ground.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

State political policies and campaign material is being molded behind the scenes by both Democratic and Republican State Central Committees. But little has been said for the press.

At a Democratic party conference at Mackinac Island "whole hearted support" was pledged to President Truman for re-election—who has not yet declared himself in the race—the biggest outward political display in recent weeks.

At that same conference Vice President Barkley waxed eloquent. Said the Veep: "Acheson has been hounded by men unwillingness, at 74, to run again. Arthur Summerfield, Republican national committeeman from Michigan, was very angry. At the Democratic conference, Gov. Williams had referred to him as a representative of "special interest". Summerfield called the Mackinac Island conference a "hoorah for Truman-Moody-Williams affair" and added the Democrats "don't care about the mink, stinks and pinks in Washington which have turned our national government into a farce".

Did you know—Michigan with 4.23 percent of the nation's population paid 8.24 percent of total U. S. tax payments? Combined efforts of Michigan, California, Illinois, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania constitute one half of the nation's tax income?

An iron and steel shortage has been predicted "before many months" by Arthur J. Fushman, chairman of the Detroit Scrap Mobilization Committee.

At the end of the fiscal year (June 30, 1951) Michigan was $41,100,000 in the red. June 30, 1950, the deficit was $23,311,231. The last fiscal year was the fourth in which expenditures from the general fund exceeded revenues. In 1948 there was a surplus of $33,000,000 in the general fund. Operating expenses for 1950-51 were about $175,300,000 compared to $443,200,000 the previous year. Most of the increase was in payments benefitting local units of government. Controller Robert F. Stradman said.

The Conservation Department wants red pine and white spruce cones to replenish state nursery seeds. "District foresters will pay $5 a bushel for red pine and $6 a bushel for spruce. Cones must be ripe.

Adulteration of sausage and hamburger in Michigan is increasing alarmingly, according to the State Department of Agriculture. Twelve packers have been taken to court; 13 cases pending yet. Packers are inserting too much fat, milk, cereals and vegetable flours—a result of meat shortages and climbing prices.

A large—and pertinent—piece of Michigan's moveable highway will be in operation by the time deer hunting season opens. The S. S. Vacationland will begin operating at the Straits. The combination ferry and ice breaker will be 100 feet long and will carry 150 cars. Cost $1,650,000.

Michigan Christmas trees are exempt from price control. After they are cut they come under the classification of greens for decorative purposes—non freezable.

This year continues as an average polo year—if such a thing is possible. From 100-125 new cases are reported each week in the state.

The Michigan Education association has complained that "irresponsible" attacks are being made on the school system by various national "front groups" with assorted selfish motives. MEA says they are trying to discredit the schools, reduce financial support and curtail programs. No names or groups were mentioned.

Some 100 farmers in Livingston county have organized to post their property against any hunting whatsoever in protest against deer hunting with rifles. They even have ordered no hunting signs. There was talk of patrolling their lands.

Out of Washington: A new car shortage is likely soon.

Out of Detroit: A small increase in production noted—no foreseeable shortage yet.

The cost of striking? In Lansing 2,675 workers in two strikes (Kold-Hold Manufacturing company and Reo Motors, Inc.) lost $190,000 a week in salaries.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

This is an appealing picture as you see it here—but imagine it in full color! That would make it the brightest spot in the family album.

What You Should Know About Color

I've found lately that many snapshot shooters are missing the big thrill of making color pictures just because they don't know that there is film available for use in their cameras.

A friend of mine has a folding camera to which he has been devoted for years and which has given him many albums filled with excellent pictures. So I expressed considerable surprise when I heard him say that he thought the time had come for him to get another camera. His explanation was that he wants one with which he can take color pictures. He didn't know that he could buy roll film for his camera that will give him wonderful color prints. This film, which makes regular size snapshots, is now available in all the standard roll film sizes.

Of course, if he had said he wanted to make the popular 2 x 2 color slides for projecting, wonderfully enlarged, he would have needed a miniature type camera that uses either 828 or 35mm. film.

Another unfortunately prevalent idea is that color pictures are difficult to make. In general, the photographer who consistently makes good black-and-white pictures will get equally good results when his camera is loaded with color film. A story-telling picture is just that, whether it is in monochrome or color. The rules of composition and arrangement hold good for both.

The only point at which color film needs more careful attention is when it comes to exposure. Black-and-white film gives you greater latitude. Modern photographic processes can do much to compensate for a wrong guess on exposure, but there isn't much that can be done along these lines with your color film. However, you won't have any difficulty if you follow the instructions with the film or use one of the little inexpensive guides that will give the answer to any exposure problem you're likely to meet.

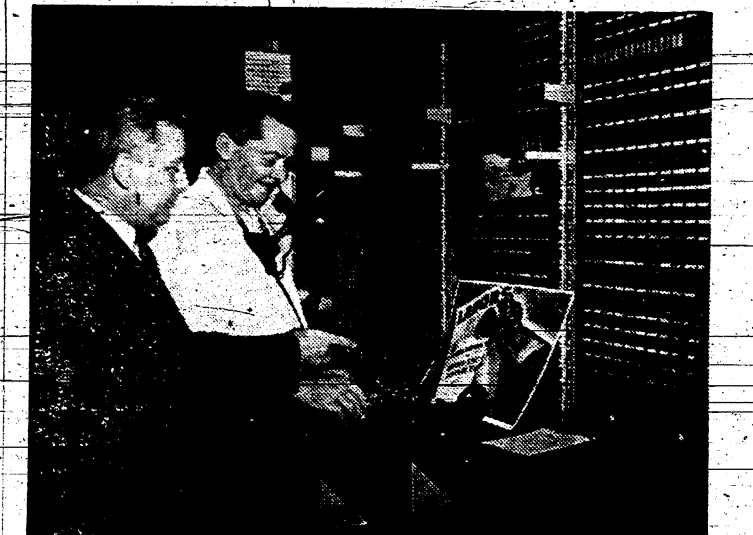

Color pictures are easy to make and you can make one kind or another with practically any camera, including your ever-faithful box. If you have any doubts about yours, check with your photographic dealer. He'll be glad to tell you how you can enjoy color photography.

From Your Congressman

A Weekly Report From Congressman George Meader

What happens when the traditional American success formula of building upon hard work and conservative practices encounters today's bureaucratic regulation is particularly well illustrated in an instance involving a small Michigan industrial plant.

Two brothers five years ago began this industrial corporation in a small way. They limited their salaries to modest amounts and put their profits back into the company for expansion and improvements. In those five years this company has increased its employment to 24 times the original roster; it has acquired a new plant eight times the size of the original one; its assets have quadrupled; its gross sales are more than six times greater.

The brothers depleted their personal savings' accounts in starting the business. They say their salaries are out of proportion to company earnings and to their complete responsibility as owner-operators.

This Spring, with the company on a stable profitable basis, the brothers decided to increase their salaries to a point commensurate with their multiple duties. Promptly they discovered that they are barred from doing so under the wage salary freeze.

They felt that they could obtain the rewards for their initiative, enterprise and industry by presenting the problem to the Salary Stabilization Board for fair consideration on the merits of the question, but they were not familiar with the procedure required.

In June I was requested to advise them. Inquiry to the Salary Stabilization Board brought the information that they need only to request of the board a ruling authorizing a specific increase in their salaries, basing the request upon a factual statement detailing the equities of the situation. A spokesman for the board expressed the opinion that on the basis of the situation as it was outlined to him there should be no difficulty in obtaining a prompt and favorable decision. The brothers promptly supplied the Salary Stabilization Board with a history of their operation, their duties and responsibilities and their salaries. On July 31, however, I learned that no response had been received from the Salary Stabilization Board on the application.

From July 31 to August 9, my staff sought an explanation from the board. Finally the information was supplied that the spokesman who had answered the original inquiry had been too optimistic, and was no longer in that division. The second spokesman explained that nothing could be done about the application because the Salary Stabilization Board still was acting under wage-stabilization regulations and had no regulation which would provide the necessary yardstick by which to judge salary adjustments for owner-executives.

He added that there may be a provision later on for the processing of such applications, but could not indicate when it may be, and asserted that the Salary Stabilization organization must first acquire additional staff to analyze and pass on such cases.

I then sought to learn from Joseph D. Cooper, executive director of the Salary Stabilization Board, when the necessary regulation for the judging of this type of salary adjustments may be established. Despite daily attempts, it was not until August 16 that my staff was able to make contact by telephone with Mr. Cooper. His explanation was that the board is concentrating first upon regulations which will affect persons considered to be most in need of salary adjustments, that some interim criteria had been established, but that none had been set up to cover owner-executives (because we consider they probably are already pretty well taken care of).

Because the Salary Stabilization officials appeared to be viewing my inquiry primarily as involving only the specific case of the two brothers, a letter was dispatched to Mr. Cooper on August 20, explaining that my major concern involved the lack of a standard by which any case of this nature could be judged.

Under the date of August 30,

Mr. Cooper replied as follows: "The problem which this petition poses is one of many on which the Salary Stabilization Board is endeavoring to formulate a policy at the earliest possible moment. I cannot give you a definite date at this time as to when the formulation of this policy will permit us to rule (on this case), but you may be assured that the matter is receiving our earliest consideration and that a ruling will be forthcoming as soon as the necessary policy has been formulated."

Salaries have been frozen by executive order since January 25, 1951. Seven months later, the only answer available to at least one class of individuals caught in this freeze is that it still is not possible to say when a policy may be available for consideration of any inequities.

It seems hardly credible that the excuse could be a lack of Government personnel for the establishment and execution of policy. The August 30 report of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures shows that the civilian payroll in the Executive Branch of the Government for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1951, was $7,719,076,000, an increase of 17 percent over the preceding fiscal year. It further shows an increase in total civilian Government employment of 17,198 during July, bringing the total figure to 2,500,889 and indicating a 1952 payroll which will approach or exceed 10 billion dollars. This report further cites the Economic Stabilization Agency, of which Salary Stabilization is a part, as one of those in which the principal employment increases have occurred.

Eyesight Difference
Persons who have had the crystalline lens of the eye removed, because of cataract, can see by light of wavelengths shorter than those which normal eyes can detect. Violet light, with waves about 1770,000th of an inch in length, are the shortest most of us can see, though the retina—the sensitive "film" of the eye—is able to respond to shorter waves in the near ultraviolet region. These, however, are stopped by the crystalline lens. When the lens is removed these waves can reach the retina and the sensation produced is that of deep blue light.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Easy Makes His "Cat" Tread Lightly

Driving home on Three Ponds Road yesterday, I was flagged down by Easy Roberts' boy Skeeter. "Take it slow," he advised. "Dad's crossing this road with our tractor, just beyond the bend."

Around the curve I saw why Skeeter stopped me. Easy had laid two rows of old truck tires across the road, and was driving his new "Cat" tractor over them!

"Here trouble this way," Easy explains, "but it does keep those tank tracks from tearing up the asphalt when I have to cross over to our other fields. After all, the roads belong to all of us—and I guess I'd get mad if someone else chewed them up."

From where I sit, Easy is my kind of citizen. He doesn't just give democracy lip service. He honestly believes it's his duty to consider the other fellow's interests. Whether it's the right to use the public highways or the right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer, Easy's out to protect his neighbor's "right of way."

Senator Moody Speaks HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR DEFENSE BOND TODAY?

To the Editor: Grand Rapids, Jackson, Sunfield and Lansing, I saw as many of them as I could.

in a lighter vein than has been my wont on the subject of "A Day in the Senate".

I have no desire to poach on the "My Day" concession of one of our most distinguished co-professionals. But perhaps the best way to describe the job of being a senator is just to tell what one does.

A few days ago, I arrived back from Europe, after a seven day, 17 1/2 hours (by actual count) size-up of the situation relating to the Mutual Security (foreign aid) bill. One can find out a lot in a week, as any Senator who works at it knows, when talks with such widely variegated leaders as General Eisenhower and British Chancellor Gaitskell, Pope Pius XII and Marshall Tito, Generals "Al" Gruenther and "Laurie" Norstad and Ambassadors like Milton Katz, Jack McCloy and David Bruce provide a wide sweep of viewpoint and information.

Naturally I learned much on this trip worth reporting to the Senate.

That meant dictating a speech. That meant a heavy night workload for my staff, which is the last I've ever seen on the Hill. That led to a heavy job of reading copy, changing words, pointing up emphasis, after testing it out on Bob Ball, Detroit's top reporter, until he came with me as administrative assistant on Senator Paul Douglas, on Ed Cooper, another keen former newsmen now right-arm of Majority Leader McFarland and a couple of others.

The morning, except for interruptions, was taken up fixing the speech. But there were 57 callers in the office yesterday, most of them from Michigan. They came from Detroit, Dearborn, Manistigee, St. Ignace, Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Applegate, Michigan members of the Penetration Board, Lawrence Herwig of Escanaba, and Frank F. Roberts of Detroit, paid courtesy visits. Dick Neustadt, one of the President's administrative assistants, called to say that a message on the booby-trapped anti-inflation bill would be up within a few hours.

There were calls from two assistant secretaries of State, Edward Barrett and Jack McFall; from five newspapermen, Jim Haswell of the Detroit Free Press, Martin Hayden of the Detroit News, Eddie Ryan of the Washington Post, Ed Haakinson of AP, and Warren Duffy of U.P. The Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island called regarding my plans for attending the Democratic conference there.

Secretary Aileen Elliott's comment, "Room? You'll be lucky if you get four hours sleep in a chair."

The Senate met at 12 but the speech was not yet in final form. Shortly came one long buzz: roll call on the resolution to cut off trade with the Czechs until Bill Oatis is released. On that one, the Senate agreed, 81 to 0.

I was in 7 minutes to 2, but no time for lunch because Senator John Sparkman (Dem.) Alabama, had called the small business committee in, executive session at 2. Out at 2:50 heading back toward the floor, stopped by Col. Ben Crosby, one of the ablest men in the State or any department. He came in to say that a move was afoot to wipe out the public liaison division of the State Department, which provides facts on foreign policy for such organizations as the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and for inquiring individuals.

Found Senators Tom Underwood of Kentucky and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who are also interested in keeping channels of information to the public open. Sought the help of Majority Leader McFarland and Senator Pat McCarran (Dem.) Nevada. Got it. The Senate sustained us.

Heading toward lunch at 3:27, stopped by Bob Ball, who said Senator Maybank (Dem.) South Carolina, had called a rush meeting of the Banking and Currency Committee at 4 to hear Eric Johnston and Mike DiSalle discuss the President's anti-inflation measure.

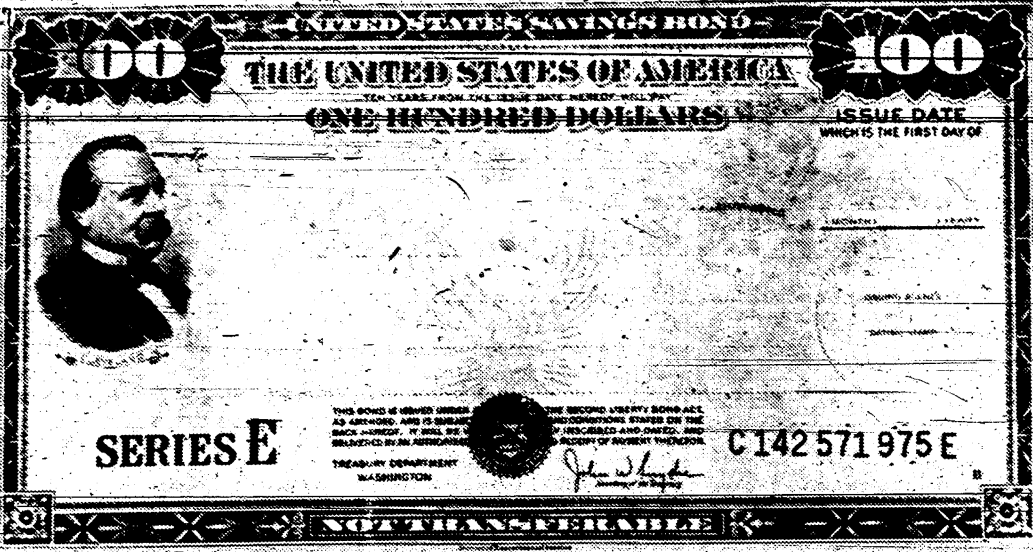

Back on the floor at 3:45 after a snack, found that some Republicans had introduced an amendment to the anti-inflation law repealing the Capehart and Herion-Dickson amendments to the anti-inflation law, and restoring slaughtering quotas, to check black markets. Some of our boys thought it just a trick. I think we should welcome them as new recruits to the anti-inflation drive. Take them at their word and pass a decent law.

On the floor, some of the very Senators who were instrumental in torpedoing adequate provisions in the previous bill now were charging that the President really wanted inflation, and that anyhow any direct attempt to hold prices from rising is "socialism". This got me into a brisk little exchange which made me late for the Banking Committee.

This meeting, with Johnston and DiSalle, where we decided to take up the inflation issue during the coming week, lasted until ten of 6, with a press conference following. After that, returned to the floor.

This was a mistake. The only Democrats in the room were the Vice-President, in the chair, and Majority Leader McFarland, Senator Malone (Rep.) Nevada, with one other Republican in Defense is everybody's job. Every individual must realize that the dollars he saves today in Defense Bonds are building power for the nation—not only economic power to back up our great defense effort, but a reservoir of purchasing power for future stability and prosperity when the present emergency is over. You can buy Defense Bonds on the partial payment plan where you work or through the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Defense Bonds are better than ever. Here's why: Series E Bonds mature 10 years after purchase. However, you can hold your matured Series E Bonds 15 years longer. Every $75 invested now equals $100 in 10 years and $133.53 in 25 years.

Bain, Bain, Go Away Rain is a handicap for the big circus. This is not only due to the fact that Jupiter Pluvius cuts down on attendance, but also because rain doubles and triples the immense work of setting up this town-sized traveling performance.

The canvas of one "big top" weighs 11 tons dry—and three times as much when wet.

It's Not True Claims of a record-breaking winter for 1950-51 are highly exaggerated. All the records for long, hard winters are still held by the years during the four glacial periods before about 30,000 B.C. Then "winter" lasted for centuries and the earth was covered with mountains and rivers of ice. All living things died and all land was barren of vegetation. Even continents and oceans appeared and disappeared.

Senator Moody . . .
 tently listening, was making a speech, which lasted for 90 minutes.
 McFarland said he had a long distance phone call to take at 6 o'clock. He instantly added, a rather empty honor at the moment. Since it involved sitting around on the "dog watch," I protested "work to do." He promised to be back. Shortly, he surprised me by coming back.
 Back in my office around 6:30, answered five newspaper phone calls on the inflation issue. Called Senator Maybank. Ball reminded me to finish final touches on speech before Democratic caucus at 7:15. But Gillis Long, investigator for the senate's business mobilization watchdog committee, of which Senator Sparkman made me chairman, came in for a conference on the black market in nickel. This made me late to the caucus. Returning to office at 10:35 p. m. to find long distance call from constituent who needed help quick on contract relationship with government agency. Listened for 20 minutes. Six minutes later, constituent's associate called from New York. Then constituent called back.

 At 11:43 p. m. started signing mail. Then, at 12:11 a. m. decided I'd better digest speech for press release. Ball, who works twice as hard as I do, said, "Nix, I'll do that. You have to do three radio transcripts first thing in the morning for your 21 Michigan stations, for WJR-Detroit. You have dates with reporter from Pageant magazine and with a man from the Michigan bean growers and CBS is bringing television equipment for comment on the price bill at 11. In the afternoon, you have to help battle this thing through for Crosby and the effort to cut the heart out of the Voice of America is up on the floor. And you have to write that column by 9 p. m. Go home."
 That, believe it or not, was my day.
 Blair Moody, U. S. Senator.

F-3 Express hustles milk over Michigan country roads, demonstrated its low running cost in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run.

"I move milk in a hurry for less than 2 1/2¢ a mile!"

C. W. GILMAN in the dairy business 20 years, operates three Ford Trucks. He says: "Ford Trucks save me money every mile. Ford Truck power gets me there faster too."

"I figure that my Ford Truck with its Power Pilot gas saver has helped cut my running costs by 7%," says C. W. Gilman.

Mr. Gilman says: "In 5,183 miles of the Run, with an average load of 1,594 lbs., I had no repairs, spent a total of $129.21 for gas, oil and maintenance. That's a running cost of only 2.49 cents a mile!"

The Tecumseh Dairy Ford was one of 5,500 trucks that took part in the nationwide, 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run. Daily running-cost records were kept.

The POWER PILOT is one of many reasons for Ford Truck economy. The Power Pilot gives you the most power from the least gas, under all conditions, on all jobs!

Kathy's Kitchen

Autumn calls us to enjoy a few more backyard meals. Autumn evenings tempt us out of the dining room; we know there aren't many more days of this season left for backyard or side porch eating.

Here are some barbecued quickies which are mighty good to eat and might quick to fix.

Oven Barbecued Luncheon Meat
Cut one can luncheon meat or a little fancier meal. With chopped ham into slices. Grill over glowing coals, or broil until golden brown, basting frequently with your favorite barbecue sauce. Place in split hamburger buns or between toasted enriched bread slices.

Barbecued Bologna Roll
Use three pound piece of bologna warmed to room temperature. Remove casing, halve crosswise, deeply score surfaces. Spread with plain or horse-radish flavored prepared mustard; dot with cloves. Put each half on two long skewers; grill over hot coals, turning and basting often with Jiffy Barbecue Sauce until brown and thoroughly heated.

Skillet Hashburgers
Chill can of corned beef hash; open ends; push hash out in one piece. Cut into four slices. Slowly brown well on both sides in hot fat in skillet. Serve plain. Or serve each slice on half a buttered, toasted hamburger bun, serve coleslaw or grilled tomato slices on other half. Or serve between toasted enriched bread slices with hot barbecue sauce.

Oven Baked Bacon for a Crowd
Place slightly overlapping bacon strips on rack in shallow pan; bake at 400 degrees F. 12 to 15 minutes, or until done. (No need to turn or drain.)

Here's a mouth waterer for a little fancier meal. With chicken, it's a party every time. You can either charcoal grill your chicken or broil it in the oven.

To Charcoal Grill

(1) Halve or quarter a 2 or 2 1/2 lb. ready to cook broiler-fryer. Or, if quick frozen, thaw as label directs. Or buy chicken parts, breasts, thighs, etc. (2) Break hip, knee and wing joints (some cooks remove wing tips, too), to keep bird flat during grilling. (3) Season with one of the grill sauces below. When coals are glowing, arrange bird, with cut side down, on grased grill, or in folding wire broiler. Grill slowly about 25 minutes, or until tender, turning with tongs and basting often with grill sauce. When bird is done, knife easily cuts into thick part of leg and no blood shows at bone.

To Range Broil

Heat broiler, with pan in place, 10 minutes or so. Fix chicken as in steps 1, 2, and 3. Place on pan with cut side up. Broil slowly, regulating heat or changing pan position, turning and basting often, until tender and brown. (30 to 45 minutes.)

Lemon-Barbecue Sauce
(Especially nice for chicken.)
1 peeled clove garlic; 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup salad or olive oil, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme. Mash garlic with salt in bowl, stir in remaining ingredients. Chill 24 hours. Makes about 3/4 cup.

Jiffy Barbecue Sauces
(For picnic franks, hamburgers, cube steaks, etc.)
1. In cup, combine 1/2 cup catchup, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 3 dashes tabasco, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Makes about 1/2 cup.
2. Saute until tender 1/2 cup minced onions in 1/4 cup butter, margarine or salad oil. Add 1 1/2 cups chili sauce, 1/2 cup bottled meat sauce. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

PLANNING YOUR MEALS

What's in your icebox? Nothing but leftovers, you say. Good! Let's get busy right now and use them up in some ingenious way that will tickle your family's palate.

With a little of this and a little of that, a touch of perkiness and a dependable automatic Caloric gas range, you can enjoy leftover foods in new and interesting ways with no trouble at all and you'll be helping to hold down your food budget, too. Here, for example, leftover peas and potatoes become part of a main dish that is really delicious:

Tuna Casserole
1/2 cup leftover peas
1 cup boiled potatoes, diced small
1 can tuna fish
1 can mushroom soup
1 cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
Salt, pepper
Bread crumbs

Place peas and potatoes in greased baking dish, add tuna mushroom soup, water, salt, pepper and garlic. Stir, cover with bread crumbs and bake in 350° oven 30 minutes.

Stuffed Peppers
Mix leftover lima beans with cup or more diced chicken, bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted butter. Moist with tomato sauce or steamed tomatoes. Stuff cooked peppers and bake in moderate oven 15 minutes.

Ham Melange
1 1/2 cups chopped leftover ham with any gravy or stock
2 sliced frankfurters
1 1/2 cups (or more) string beans
4 potatoes, sliced thin
1 clove garlic, minced
1 stalk celery, chopped
1 cup white sauce
Salt, pepper, pinch thyme
Zonions, sliced thin

Mix ingredients and place in greased baking dish or casserole. Bake in 350° oven for 40 minutes or more.
