Local Churches Change Schedules

The Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church will be back on its fall schedule beginning September 9th. The full Sunday school with classes for all ages and departments will begin at 9:45 a. m. The church service will begin at 11:00 a. m. A new feature beginning September 9 will be the opening of a nursery during the regular hour of morning worship which will be conducted under the auspices of the Tabernacle Society. This will enable all mothers of young children to attend the church service, knowing their children will be taken care of by competent leaders in the parish hall, according to the pastor of the church, Rev. Karl H. A. Rest.

A new sound film "A Wonderful Life" will be shown at the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church in Freedom Township on Thursday, September 13, at 8 p. m. according to the pastor, Rev. T. W. Menzel. This is a film similar to a production shown here last year, "A Second Chance".

According to Pastor Rev. Alvin Brazee of the Iron Creek church, there will be a change in the schedule of services there beginning next Sunday. Morning worship will be at 10:30 a. m. followed by Bible school at 11:30 a. m. There will be Sunday evening services at 8 p. m. on the first, third and fifth Sunday evenings in each month, effective at once. Choir practice will be held Thursday evening at 8 p. m. and next Sunday will be observed as Communion Sunday at the 10:30 service. Sunday evening at 8 p. m. there will be a film shown at the church, "The Tragedy of America's Beloved Troubadour," which will be shown by Mrs. J. J. Thompson of Ann Arbor as a WCU representative. A Harvest homecoming is being planned at the Iron Creek church for Sunday, September 16, following the regular morning service. Rev. William Halladay of St. Cloud, Florida, will be a guest speaker at the church at that time.

Depth Perception Tested By Educators

Thirty Entered In Soap Box Derby

The Boy Scouts and the small fry of the village are more than busy assembling their carts for the Soap Box Derby. The date of the event has been postponed until Saturday, September 15.

The boys are still looking for wheels 14 inches or less in diameter and anyone having any stray wheels are asked to contact Paul Kappler. To date, some thirty boys have indicated their intentions to be in the Soap Box Derby on September 15.

Doldrums Catch Enterprise Office

Yes, the doldrums of summer have finally taken their toll on the Enterprise. Everyone seems to be resting up from the strenuous Labor Day weekend and resting up for the Fair, too. That's right, the Fair is only two weeks away; doesn't seem possible that it is this close.

There was an unfortunate lack of news and advertising this week. Then, too, with a day lost to both sources, ads and news, it was extremely difficult to get enough copy ready in order to get The Enterprise out at its usual time.

We regret this occurrence as much as you do, dear reader.

County OES To Meet Sept. 12

The meetings will be held at 2:30 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

Hold Your Fire!

A great many years ago it was said a Manchester citizen could stand at one end of town, fire a six shooter down Main Street, clean through to the opposite end of town and never hit anything, namely people.

Times have changed!

Although our so-called advances in civilization over the past fifty, or seventy-five years, have more or less done away with the "shootin' irons on Main Street" habit, a Twentieth Century threat has arisen which, if allowed to continue, may prove far more serious.

We're speaking, in this case, of a ruling by the Michigan Conservation Commission in opening the southern counties of this state to the use of high powered rifles in deer hunting.

Now we're not killjoys, but we feel that such activity is definitely out of place around this section of the state.

Every year, when the hordes of deer hunters converge on the northern part of the lower peninsula and the entire upper peninsula, end-of-season tallies produce a horrifying number of fatalities, and near-fatalities due to careless use of firearms. A large percentage of these fatalities are not among the deer hunters alone. They include individuals on farms or in the forest regions who are not necessarily engaged in the sport at the time some reckless, trigger happy idiot swings his gun around and fires in the direction of snapping twigs and rustling leaves. Very often the mighty hunter with buck fever doesn't hit a buck at all. Too often it's cattle, window panes, or—worst of all, humans.

At the risk of being called a poor sport (better a poor sport than a dead one) we label the decision of the Michigan Conservation Department as nothing less than ridiculous and evidence of poor thinking. It is surprising that a department which has done such a commendable job of increasing and preserving Michigan's natural beauty and resources should suddenly ignore its good reputation and decide to let high powered deer rifles endanger the populace of lower Michigan.

When we realize the loss of life and property incurred by high powered deer rifles in the sparsely settled upper regions of Michigan, we can only resort to one question: HOW MANY TIMES GREATER WILL THE LOSSES BE IN SOUTHERN MICHIGAN WHERE THE POPULATION IS MUCH GREATER?

According to manufacturers, rifle shells are dangerous up to one mile or more. Imagine then, the happy sportsman off on a relaxing day hunting deer within a mile or so of Manchester. Perhaps he hasn't been hunting too much lately (and in this war-busy world, nobody gets to hunt very often). His aim is poor and his nerves are not conducive to safe hunting. Off in the woods Farmer Jones' cow munches her cud peacefully, minding her own business. She ambles along, not far from our hunter friend. She steps on a fallen tree limb and causes it to snap thereby signing her death warrant. Mighty hunter jumps at the sound, whirls around and fires. Dead stock companies pay three dollars for cows with rigor mortis.

But if cows were the only victims of this plague, it might not be as serious. However, Farmer Jones also has a wife and kids, all of whom love life, but are just as much in danger as the four legged Elsie.

There is no payment for lost humans! The Michigan Conservation Commission meets tonight. If there is enough opposition to this ruling, they may change it to its original status of prohibiting deer hunting in southern Michigan. If they do not, there should be no let up on the part of local residents to do away with the act.

We urge our readers to sign the petition available in our office, against local deer hunting with high powered rifles. The matter is not one to be taken lightly, since there are deer in Washtenaw county.

Tragedy could strike close to home, once the season opens. You owe it to yourself and your neighbors to oppose the ruling as specified by the Conservation Commission.

Mrs. A. E. Patterson Entertains Birthdays Celebrated

Mrs. A. E. Patterson entertained thirty-eight employees of the Store Room Accounting Department of the Consumers Power Company at Jackson at a picnic at her home here Saturday afternoon. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Marjorie Murphey, who is leaving the company.

Birthdays Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bowler and three sons of Grosse Pointe Ann Arbor were Sunday guests of Bowler and three daughters of Ann Arbor were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowler. The occasion was celebrating the birthdays of both Mr. and Mrs. John Bowler.

Fair Premium Book Ready Now

The Community Fair Board is proud to announce that the first printed Premium Book is now ready for delivery. The book is a new departure for the local Fair. The book contains thirty-five pages outlining programs for each day, revised premium list and information for exhibitors and patrons.

Right now, the Merchants Tent Committee, composed of Mrs. R. C. Merithew, Mrs. Dorothy Burch and Mrs. Ed Wurster, are calling on every business man in this locality to take space in the Merchants Tent. The way the business men are responding we predict a real display. Wait-Schaible has taken two spaces. Confidentially, Wait tells me he will have something on "ice" in his booth. Better make this booth a must when you visit the Merchants Tent. Bob Kothe and his committee composed of Ray Tirk and Lyle Widmayer are all set for the auto display.

Another new feature this year is a food booth. The Fair Board thought it would be a nice thing to have an eating place sponsored by some local organization; so the WSCS of the Methodist church have arranged for a large tent where they will serve for the three days of the Fair—regular home cooked meals ending up the last day on Saturday with a chicken and biscuit dinner with all the trimmings. Home made pies and cakes will be for sale at all times. Let's everybody plan to eat chicken at the WSCS tent on Saturday.

All in all, the Fair Board feels that plans are well underway for the 1951 Fair. We believe that this year's fair will outclass all previous efforts.

Coming Events

The Soap Box Derby scheduled for September 8th, has been postponed until Saturday, September 15th.

Regular meeting of Masonic Lodge No. 148 will be held Monday, September 10, at 8 p. m. at the lodge hall.

Members of the Methodist church will hold a potluck dinner and reception for the new minister and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Young, at the church on Sunday, September 9, following the Pioneer Service. Meat and coffee will be furnished but all members are asked to bring their own table service, buttered rolls and a hot dish, salad or dessert to pass.

A farewell party was held at the Shore Farm Restaurant for fifteen men who will leave soon for service. Guests, all from Adrian, included Jerry Shull, Jake Gritymaker, Barbara Hilty, Charles Wellman, Norman Walper, Carol Gifford, Bobbie Dress, Dick Kindinger, Joanne Frye, Mary Alice White, as well as the three who will be leaving soon for service. Ford Local 891 To Hold Election

Ford Local 891 will hold a special election on September 14 to elect a new vice-president, Lorenzo Steele, Delbert Tallman, Virginia Kroske and Erwin Gauss are the candidates. Another post which is vacant is that of Sergeant at Arms with Clarence Knauss, Glenn Randall, Kenneth Frey, Frank Lowery, jr. and William Warner in the running.

The special election at this time is necessary because Charles Kane, who has served for several years as president has recently been named a foreman by the Ford Company. The vice president, Ted Roberts, has taken over the duties of president of Local 891. Election committee includes Charles Miller, Madge Cannon and Jean Wheeler.

Manchester Past Matrons Entertain

Mrs. Ruth Leeke, president of the Manchester Past Matrons' Club, opened her home for the club to entertain the Grass Lake Past Matrons on Wednesday, August 29.

The afternoon was spent playing canasta and prizes were awarded. Miss Marian Farrell and Mrs. Amelia Houck, both 50 year members of Manchester Chapter and Mrs. Dan Boutell, a Past Matron, were invited guests of the Manchester Chapter. Mrs. Arlene Reule of Ann Arbor was an out of town member present.

Those attending from Grass Lake were Mesdames Nellie Marks, Beulah Collier, Alice Williams, Madge Pease, Adelaide Craft, Emma Taylor—Norma Dameron, Mamic Melencamp, Mae Ruhee, Helen Meyers, Jane Melencamp, Nora Cane, Ruth Carter, Frances Rohrer and Ruth Hawkins.

The Call of the School Bell

September! With school doors opening again, it means to many mothers the beginning of months of planning and preparing lunch box meals—meals which must be well rounded to satisfy children's hearty appetites and provide them with the vitamins and minerals for busy days.

The Earl of Sandwich probably never dreamed of the popularity and wide use of his invention; however, today sandwiches are the basic food of almost every lunch box. With five days a week of planning, the homemaker must take her repertoire in order to introduce a variety of sandwich fillings.

Leftover roast is perfect for slicing, grinding or chopping for various fillings. For instance, chopped roast pork may be combined with chopped apple and seasoned with just a suggestion of ginger. This combination, as most others, is moistened with mayonnaise. Another nutrition-packed filling is made of ground-cooked liver with a bit of crisp bacon and minced onion. Baked beans, also from dinner, may be mashed with added bacon for a happy surprise in the lunch box.

Ready-to-serve Braunschweiger or frankfurters may be chopped and combined with hard-cooked egg, minced onion and prepared mustard. To be kept in mind for special occasions are double or triple deck sandwiches. One delicious triple combination is made up of a layer each of crisp bacon, jelly and cream cheese.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Biggs entertained at dinner on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phorn and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mash of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldkamp and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Beuerle attended the State Fair on Tuesday.
