Gov. Williams Reports To The People

Last week's nightmarish riot at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson will be long remembered as the worst prison riot in Michigan's history.

Despite the tremendous amount of port-protection to the prison facilities, we are thankful that the surrender was accomplished without the blood bath which was eminent.

All through the anxious hours of negotiation and vigil actions were dictated by an overwhelming concern for the lives of the prisoners who were held hostage by the desperate convicts in Cell Block 10.

Actually, this does not tie the hands of the state in dealing with those who violated state laws during the riot.

It is the position of all of us that the agreement reached shall be carried out in good faith with fairness for all concerned.

I have asked the officials assured by the vote cast for the Secretary of State.

Overcoming my reluctance to subject the people of Michigan to an August primary election, I signed a bill which sets this year's primary election for August 5.

This bill will ensure more than ample time for our service men and women to participate in this fall's elections. At present no time in which applications can be filed for our absentee ballot and permits certain relatives of our citizens in Michigan to exercise their right to apply in their behalf.

Inside The Capitol F. M. Aizer, Jr.

We have reduced our staff by sixteen employees and in the next few weeks will reduce by seven more. As the Department of State is primarily a revenue producing agency and one which provides numerous necessary services to the public there is a risk point which would cause us to curtail and extremely dangerous to curtail these staff reductions. We are thinking first to the danger point during the past two years we have followed a "belt tightening" process in spite of an ever increasing budget. In the example, in 1947 with an average of 668 permanent employees we handled 2,067,471 auto license transactions, 438,000 license transfers and processed and issued 961,261 automobile titles and title transfers. In 1951 with 624 employees we handled 2,062,968 auto licenses, 438,000 license transfers and processed and issued 1,450,497 automobile titles or title transfers for a total of 4,552,555 motor vehicle transactions. So while the staff has increased 40 percent in the five year period it is being handled by seven percent fewer employees. Consequently the need for further reduction by the elimination of employees is most drastic.

Early in March I learned the State's stringent fiscal position and anticipated the freezing of operating budgets regardless of salary increases authorized by the Legislature. I instructed my staff wherever it was humanly possible to leave subordinates vacancies unfilled. This has resulted in the need for further reduction to date and will provide the additional reduction of seven positions.

Naturally we must restrict services, and enforcement. However, it is my hope that the good will of employees who will cooperate to the utmost in this economy move and will be all in their power to continue the Department of State as an efficiently operated division of Michigan's government.

Dearbornites Pick Eisenhower, 3 to 1

Independent voters in Dearborn gave Eisenhower to Taft by a three to one majority, a newspaper poll of the Dearborn area's 14,000 fourth later city has disclosed.

Secret ballots were mailed to one out of every ten registered voters in Dearborn on Monday, May 5, devised by its editor, Roy Lancaster. The test pre-convention sentiment for Presidential candidates. Findings were published in Lancaster's edition of the semi-weekly paper.

Only 53.2 percent of the independent voters' ballots cast in its favor. General Eisenhower easily outdistanced his principal opponent for the Republican nomination, Senator Robert Taft, who got 17.7 percent of the vote. The balance of the independent vote (29 percent) went to Democratic nominee candidate, Senator Estes Kefauver.

"Significantly, 43 percent of this group said that they would vote Republican only if Eisenhower is the nominee," the Guide pointed out in a page one story.

Among participants in the poll who identified themselves as Republicans, Senator Taft took a slight lead over General Eisenhower. Taft's vote was 53.3 percent and Eisenhower 48.7 percent. All of the Taft supporters said they would vote for Eisenhower if he won the GOP nomination, but 8 percent of Eisenhower's backers said they would vote Democratic if Taft were nominated.

While 84 percent of the Democrats polled indicated they favored Senator Kefauver as their party's

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Walter... candidate, 24 percent indicated they would switch their allegiance and vote Republican if General Eisenhower is nominated.

Of the respondents to the Guide poll, 32 percent were listed as independents, 35.6 percent as Republicans and 31.7 percent as Democrats.

Commenting editorially on the poll, Mr. Lancaster emphasized that as an independent newspaper the Guide has "taken no position in regard to presidential candidates" and was presenting the results of the survey for what they are worth in terms of interest to our readers.

"One thing that stands out of the poll," he wrote, "is the paper's fairly of General Eisenhower among the independent voters—the group the Republicans must reach if their hope to secure the preferential vote cast by the independents for Eisenhower and Kefauver would apparently indicate a desire on the part of these vot-

An explanation of Sunday nights flying saucer appearances was given by Professor Walter J. Govey of the University School of Architecture and Design. He said the saucer was a big, bright and colorful meteor which burned before it hit the horizon. He said he saw it about ten p. m. while standing in front of the New York Central Depot and described the whole flight as lasting about five seconds.

He said the meteor came into the earth's atmosphere from the northeast and set off sparks that gave it a halo effect. The spectacle was reported by several persons. We have been interested in following items concerning this because among those who saw it was Allan Brenden of Manchester.

Following the track meet at the local school on Friday will be a football game between Manchester and Pinckney here at 3:30 p. m. Short's Electric Store, located next to the Enterprise, has a new phone number 2807. We received information too late to change the phone number given in the ad in the directory of this paper.

The office has received a letter from the YMCA at Jackson that the Jackson YMCA Learn-To-Swim school will be opened to boys outside the city of Jackson for the first time and will include boys from this area—in the ages of 8 to 15 years. More "Shots" Needed For Tetanus

During the recent immunization clinics sponsored by the County Medical Society and held in the Manchester Schools, 126 children were vaccinated against smallpox, 184 children were inoculated against diphtheria and tetanus (lockjaw). The County Health Department wishes to remind parents that those children who received a tetanus inoculation for the first time, need two more for full protection from "lockjaw." One "shot" should be given from the family physician one month after the clinic inoculation, the other two months after the clinic inoculation. The single injection given at the clinics will restore protection in all children who have not had a tetanus immunization course or a booster tetanus dose within the past six years.

THE FARMER'S SPRING BEGINS IN THE FALL—FOR IT IS IN AUTUMN THAT HE SOWS HIS WINTER GRAIN AND PLANS HIS OTHER CROPS FOR SPRING PLANTING. IN FALL AND WINTER HE ARRANGES FOR SEED, FERTILIZER AND NEW EQUIPMENT, AND GETS HIS MACHINERY IN SHAPE FOR WORK IN THE FIELD WHEN THE SOIL IS READY.

JUST AS THE FARMER GEARS HIS PLANS TO THE SEASON, THRIFTY PEOPLE GEAR THEIR PLANS TO THE CHANGING NEEDS OF A LIFETIME. WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THEIR EARNINGS, THEY TRY TO WORK OUT A PATTERN OF SPENDING AND SAVING THAT WILL PROVIDE, THROUGH SAVINGS AND LIFE INSURANCE, FOR THE FUTURE—AS WELL AS MEETING THE NEEDS OF TODAY.

Not One of Michigan's Snakes Has Deadly Bite, Wayne Biologist Says

A hunting trip in Michigan can omit that bottle of snake-bite remedy in its baggage.
 According to Dr. Charles W. Cressler, chairman of the Wayne University biology department, in Detroit, no one in the state has ever been known to die from the poison of the bite of a local snake.
 "Contrary to popular belief, many Michigan snakes thought to be venomous are completely harmless," states Dr. Cressler. "The only poisonous type in the state is the massasauga, or swamp rattler. Its bite may give a person a few bad hours but has not been known to cause death in Michigan."
 Death-dealing rattlers are, of course, found in other parts of the United States, and fear of them is widespread.
 "People not only mistake Michigan's non-deadly rattler for the deadly type, but they also mistake the common water snake for the water moccasin; and the copperhead, whose bite causes the harmless specimens has resulted."
 The bite of a harmless snake is easily distinguished from that of a poisonous specimen, Dr. Cressler says, as a wound made by the former is shallow, while the latter is deep and jagged.
 "People do not know the bite of a snake is not as painful as they think it is," he says. "In fact, it is usually less painful than a bee sting."
 Mr. and Mrs. Paul White and Mrs. Jimmie and Guy attended the builders show in Detroit on Saturday.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dettling of Dexter were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Kidd.

HOUSEWIVES LEARN REWEAVING ART
 An easy answer to the age-old question of how to repair the family's clothing when it has been torn, ripped, burned or moth-eaten, is the new reweaving process designed for home use by the Fabric Company of Chicago, shown in above picture. The art of reweaving has traditionally been taught only on an apprenticeship system, requiring years of instruction. The new Fabric process is based on simple equipment that can be hand operated, even by the handicapped. Detailed instructions enable housewives to learn reweaving in a few weeks' time either by a profitable hobby or to repair the family's fabrics when necessary. Full information available on request from the company, 284 S. Prairie Avenue, Chicago 19, Illinois.

Jackon Raceway Opens May 2nd

When Jackon Raceway opens its 32 night spring meeting on May 2, Michigan's harness racing enthusiasts are in for a number of pleasant surprises. The Jackon, Michigan, half-mile track opens the state's 1952 racing season and expects to break many records. Jackon Raceway last year proved that a track under the Detroit area could prosper. After two "rough" years financially, Jackon in 1951 finally succeeded in hitting "Pay Dirt". The mutual handle ended up with a 60 percent increase over the 1950 total. Leon A. Slavin, president of Jackon Trotting Association, then began to map out improvements for the track.
 First of the major improvements in store for Jackon patrons is a new $225,000 track. The new track is the Australian type, general use as racetracks in England, Wales, Scotland, France, South Africa, several South American countries, Tasmania, New Zealand, Australia, India and the West Indies.

In a closely related activity, the National 4-H Dress Revue program, more than 220,000 girls modeled garments—ranging from school outfits to formal gowns—they had made as their type and most expressive of their personality.

Both the 4-H Clothing Achievement and Dress Revue programs are being conducted in this and every other State for 1952, under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service. In the programs, girls learn to plan, make and care for garments suitable for work, school and social occasions, as well as to dress appropriately, becoming lively and healthfully in keeping with a well-planned family budget. In 'Clothing Achievement' special emphasis is given to techniques of clothing construction, tailoring and fitting. Through Dress revues, members develop grace, poise, good posture and habits of good grooming by modeling garments of their own creation.

County winners in each program will be rewarded with medals of honor, and State champions will receive an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November, provided by the respective donors. In Clothing Achievement, Spool-Cotton Co. also provides a national award of a $300 college scholarship to each of 12 winners selected from State champions. Simplicity Pattern Co. also presents each State winner in 4-H Dress Revue with a national award of a leather-cased scissors set.

Michigan Office of Civil Defense Offers Suggestions

Three technical manuals, which should prove most useful to Civil Defense agencies in Michigan communities affected by floods along the Great Lakes shoreline, are now available in limited supply. Designed to aid State and local health departments in emergency operations resulting from natural disasters involving fly, mosquito and rodent control, the booklets were prepared by and can be obtained from the Communicable Disease Center, United States Public Health Service, 50 Seventh Street, N. E., Atlanta 5, Georgia.

An emergency control center for Civil Defense activities has been established in DETROIT within the Grand Boulevard area. The center is equipped with extensive telephone facilities and is also tied in with the separate police and fire telephone systems. It also has short wave radio transmitting and receiving equipment. Three additional control centers, one in the northwest section, one in the north Woodward area, and one on the east side are expected to be set up later in the year.

A suggestion that galvanized steel ash or garbage cans be used for storing emergency supplies recently appeared in a GRAND RAPIDS newspaper. Made of rust-resistant metal and equipped with covers, the cans offer a safe storage for canned foods, bottled water, clothing and other items which would be needed by a family should disaster strike.

A one-day Civil Defense and Safety Institute... sponsored by the Michigan Office of Civil Defense, the Department of Public Instruction, the Michigan State Police, American Red Cross and the Federal Civil Defense Administration... will be held at the Northern Michigan College of Education, MARQUETTE, on April 28. Purpose of the Institute is to promote Civil Defense and Safety instruction in the schools. Dr. John C. Townner, Director of the FCDA Staff College at College Park, Maryland, will represent the Federal agency.

A opinion survey... made by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan, ANN ARBOR... indicates that approximately one adult in five in the United States still believes that one atomic bomb can kill almost everyone up to five miles, and some think the bombs can kill up to fifty miles. Thirty-five percent believe radioactivity will kill as many

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

High Water Havoc
High water is playing havoc with fish and wildlife throughout Michigan. The constantly rising, underground water table is causing lakes, rivers and streams to maintain extraordinarily high levels which may be expected to continue far into the summer, and the effect on fish, game and you, Mr. Sportsman, is far-reaching!

Fishing Holes Move
Your favorite trout pools may have moved a few hundred feet—or they may have disappeared altogether. Spring freshets don't have too much effect on the contour of river bottoms, but when flood stages continue for any length of time, as they're doing now in Michigan, there'll be some changes made! Silf, sand and gravel move like straws in a hurricane when high water hits. The old fishing holes you've known for years fall up. New channels are cut, especially near a bend in the stream. Bank erosion takes place, destroying those hot-weather hiding places for trout. And, worst of all, in trout streams, some of the larvae of flies, clinging to stones along the bottom and waiting to hatch later in the season may be washed away and destroyed. This obviously can have a profound effect on fish food.

Spawning Habits Changed
Persistent high water in lakes will bring about drastic changes in spawning areas for pike, bass, bluegills and many other species. Pike, in particular, will spawn in drainage ditches and swamp lands tributary to lakes—areas that might have been high and dry a year ago. This year's record-breaking smelt run made it possible to dip practically anywhere along the shores of the Great Lakes because the silvery little fellows found countless new spawning grounds in hundreds of brand new drainage outlets created by flood waters. One Saturday night recently it was said that on U.S. 23 between Omer and Tawas—a stretch of a good 20 miles—cars were parked in a continuous line on both sides of the highway, while their owners caught smelt along the entire Lake Huron shore. Almost 10,000 people dipped in the Tawas area alone on a single night! The take-home payoff for dippers will reach an all-time record this spring.

Feeding Grounds Move
Look for bass, wall-eyes and bluegills in different parts of the lake this year. While weed-beds remain at the same old stand, minnows will move closer to the new, flood-created shore for the protection of short, thick grassy beds. In the late evening and early morning hours this will be the happy hunting ground for their enemies. And there, Mr. and Mrs. Michigan Fisherman, you'll find the big ones that get away, but never too far to talk about forevermore!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 6:45 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

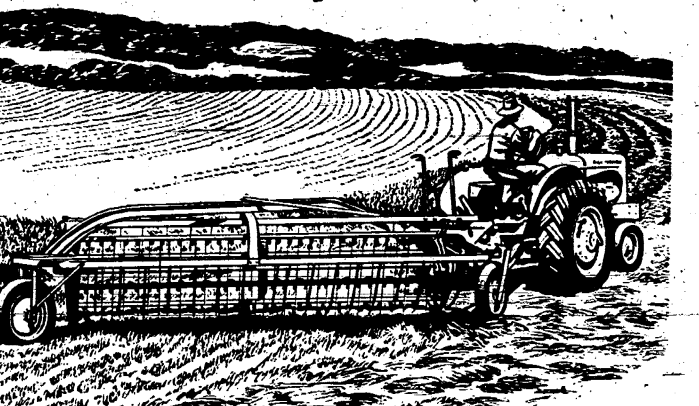

persons as concussion and fire. Actually the high death rates extend no more than one and a half miles without shelter. Shelters are perfectly safe from radioactivity at a half mile from a bomb blast.

CELEBRATION THIS YEAR

DUTY — HELD AS A RIGHT TO MAINTAIN AND A PRIVILEGE TO OBSERVE.

COUNTRY — THE LAND AND THE PEOPLE TO WHOM THE YOUNG MEN OF WEST POINT OWE THEIR ALLEGIANCE.

HONOR — TO A CODE OF COURAGE AND HIGH IDEALS.

THIS DEVOTION TO DUTY, HONOR AND COUNTRY HAS PRODUCED MANY GREAT SOLDIERS AND GREAT MEN — AND THERE IS NO FINER INSPIRATION FOR CITIZENS OF UNSELFISH SERVICE TO OUR DEMOCRACY.
