The Spitballs, managed by Tom Lannom captured the Junior Softball League crown on Tuesday night when they defeated the Demons in a slugfest 15-10.

The two teams had ended the regular season play with identical records of five wins and one loss, thus setting the stage for the play-off under the lights on Tuesday night.

The Spitballs got off to an early lead when they scored five runs in the first inning on successive singles by Lannom, Gonyer and Buss; a double by Dreesch and a triple by Grossman, but the Demons came back with six in the last half of the inning when Adams hit a grand slam home run.

The spitballs tied it up in the second with one run then scored three in the third, one in the fourth, three in the sixth, and two in the seventh. The Demons rally in the seventh fell short when Pniowski grounded out with the bases loaded.

Grossman led the Spitballs in hitting with two singles, a double and a triple. Lannom also got 4 hits in 5 trips to the plate and Buss got two singles and a home run. Adams home run was the big blow for the losers.

Carl Buss pitched for the Spitballs and got the win while Bill Bunney was credited with the loss for the Demons.

About 250 friends gathered at the high school auditorium Sunday afternoon to pay their respects to Miss Nellie Ackerman who has completed forty years as teacher at the Manchester Public Schools. Former superintendent of schools here, O. E. Dunkel, now superintendent at Farmington, was the principal speaker. He noted in particular the important role Miss Ackerman has played in the village by teaching her students the value of citizenship. Miss Ackerman has taught mostly third and fourth grades. Now she is elementary principal and teaches fourth grade.

She graduated from Manchester High School in 1907 and attended Ypsilanti Normal College from which she holds a Bachelor of Science degree. Conservatively Miss Ackerman estimates that more than 1,600 pupils filed in and out of her room as they studied the three R's. Before coming to Manchester she taught in the Schlarf district and three years in the Sharon Hollow districts—thus making a total of 41 years—and the plans to teach here again in the fall.

Also on the program was Evard Ayres, principal of the Walled Lake schools, and a former Manchester principal. He expressed congratulations from himself and other teachers who returned here for the occasion. Among those present were three members of her first grade class here, Mrs. Lillian Paul of Dearborn, Mrs. Lillian Klager and Walt Schaub and two from her first fourth grade, Mrs. Walter Schaub and Mrs. Wado Marx. Miss Ackerman noted that there were only eleven teachers when she first began to teach here as compared to more than twenty here now.

Former pupils and friends were here from Lansing, Dearborn, Ann Arbor, Walled Lake, Jackson, Tecumseh, South Haven, Dexter and Clinton. Mrs. W. L. Prescott had charge of the guest book. A purse of money was presented to Miss Ackerman by Mrs. Wesley Proctor of Clinton on behalf of the former students. Others among the affair were Mrs. Russell Smith, Miss Linda Reck and Arthur Cathey. Mrs. Marvin Oates was in charge of refreshments assisted by Mrs. James Pratt, Mrs. Earl Koebke and Mrs. Roland Grossman, who joined.

At the conclusion of the celebration Miss Ackerman was presented with a purse containing a sizeable gift of money by Mrs. Wesley Proctor on behalf of the group.

On the school board which employs Miss Ackerman are two of her former pupils, Walt Schaub and Laurin Leeson, and a fellow teacher, R. C. Sator, is also among those who learned the three R's under her careful guidance.

In 1940 Miss Ackerman was given the award for outstanding citizenship in the community by the Washtenaw County American Legion. In September Miss Ackerman will start her 41st year of service in the elementary school here.

The cows are having all the street room they want. This is terribly hot weather. Nothing short of an iceberg could cool us off. Three teams are engaged in drawing saw for the new paper mill of Reynolds & Unterkuhrer. The Manchester Brass Band will not give street concerts unless the people will build a stand for them to play upon. A handsome little book—The Manchester Directory—will be issued by us in September. Do not fail to subscribe and advertise. The Hillsdale County Fair is to be held on the 11th, 12th and 13th of September. Well, What Do You Know?

Do you believe in a bunch of old tales about lightning—about how it's attracted by cats or the warmth of cattle... how it never strikes in the same place twice... or how it's liable to turn milk sour? Lots of people often do—but they're wrong. Dad Hawkins inspired this column today. He's really studied up on lightning since his own cow barn was struck that time. "Trouble is, most of us don't know half enough about the subject," Dad says. "And about half of what we do know is false!"

SHARPEN THAT SHOOTING EYE

Bird hunters looking forward to more shooting with our longer seasons next fall will do well to sharpen their shooting eyes this summer. Most sportmen's clubs have facilities for trap or skeet shooting—and regardless of how good a shot you think you are, a few practice rounds, especially at skeet, won't hurt a bit!

Don't Try Too Hard!

Most shooters actually try too hard. And when the effort is too great it's impossible to relax. Nerves and muscles can't coordinate when they're tight. In skeet shooting—and trap, too—you'll learn to bring that gun up with an ease and rhythm that gives you freedom of movement, with no cramped or awkward feeling. The stock will nestle in your shoulder with that feeling of a perfect fit. Your cheek will lie along the stock just right, with the eye automatically aligned with the sights.

In the hunting field you just don't get enough shooting to feel completely relaxed and natural with the gun at your shoulder. And for the first couple of days you'll probably be flinching when that gun goes off—although you may not realize it. Another common fault in the field comes from raising the head to get a better view of your flying bird while the gun is at the shoulder. This will throw off your aim every time, and causes a surprising number of misses you can't account for.

Practice Makes Perfect

These things can't be perfected without some practice, either at trap or skeet. So, if you want to bring home limit bags of Michigan game birds next fall take steps now to use the nearest practice facilities. Skeet will be most helpful, especially to the partridge hunter faced with a fast flying target in heavy cover. Nobody can ever predict the direction of flight on a partridge. It may be straight-away, straight at you, or at absolute right angles and going a mile a minute. You may have less than 2 seconds to aim and fire. That's where skeet simulates the sport, teaching you the proper lead to allow for various angles.

But best of all, skeet or trap makes shooting as easy and natural as pointing your finger. So don't wait until the bird season opens next fall. Get old Betsy out right now, and insure more satisfying sport in Michigan Outdoors come October 1st.

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

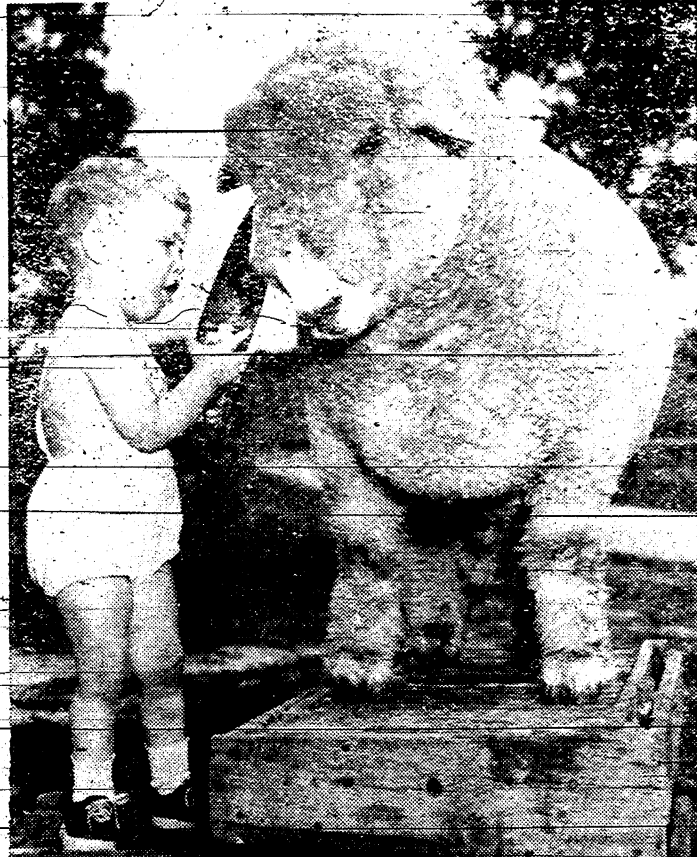

Study your sceneries in the view finder until you are sure you have the picture you want.

Some of the Nicest Scenery Is Home-Grown

WHERE do you find scenery? I'll bet that if you went around asking people that question you'd find that the answers had one thing in common. Chances are good that practically every one of them would reply in terms of something that is distant and that is large in scale and scope. The point I want to make is that most of us just never think of the scenic views around home—the things that we see as we drive along a country road, the pleasant little landscapes. Yet, these things offer material for the most charming snapshots. A friend of mine who practically makes a hobby of collecting pictures like this, has the nicest of his enlarged and uses them very effectively as part of the decorative scheme in the hallway of his home.

The little scenes are really much easier to take, of course, than the vast sceneries. There's room in the camera's view finder for the whole scene, and you aren't as likely to be disappointed. When you are picturing a vast scene, you can usually get in only a portion of the view you enjoyed in total. To illustrate today's column I chose a pleasant little country scene that happens to be a favorite of mine. It has many very good points. First of all, let's suppose that you visited this farm during this summer. For you then, this snapshot has definite recall value. A glance at it refreshes your memory and is likely to start off a whole chain of remembrances of things that happened and things you did. The curve of the road very effectively leads the eye into the center of interest—the grouping of farm buildings. The sweep of the fence makes the effect even stronger. And the figures walking along the road add a secondary note of interest and give an idea of the distances involved. There's scenery all around us. You don't need to wait until you go traveling to make pleasant scenic snapshots. —John Van Guilder

He's Going to the State Fair

Little Mike Hess of Clarkston is getting Lakefield Farms' prize Oxford Ram ready for the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 29 through Sept. 7. The ram was the Grand Champion of the 1951 State Fair. The two year old seems to take his shearing job seriously.

An original play by Frank Gabrielson, who scripts CBS-TV's "Mama" is hitting the boards in summer stock this summer with an all-star cast. The play, which is based on "Mama," the popular television comedy drama about a Norwegian American family back in 1910, is titled "All About M a m a," and nearly the entire cast of the video series will participate in it. Peggy Wood, star of "Mama" heads the cast, which will include such well-known figures out of the video drama as "Papa" (Judith Leiser), "Katrin" (Rosemary Rice), "Dagmar" (Robin Morgan), "Nels" (Dickie Van Patten), "Aunt Jenny," and many others. Lilia Skala and Kenny Delmar will also play in "All About Mama," which opens in the famous summer stock theatre in Ogunquit, Maine, and plays a second engagement in Dennis, Mass.

Very busy, indeed, are the summer months this year for Roy Rogers and Dale Evans. The pair, who star together on NBC on both radio and television—and in private life are husband and wife, have been making television films at a fast rate. They are preparing for the fall, when their engagement as the stars of the world-famous Madison Square Garden Rodeo will make it necessary for them to have a backlog of films for their television program. All in all, for the year ending this fall, Roy and Dale will have made a total of forty-five original television movies.

A visitor with an interesting tale to tell was guest this past week on WCB's Margaret Arlen Program in N. Y. . . . She is Jane Todd, whose program is heard regularly over KCBS in San Francisco, and who just won the grand prize in the "Wendy Warren and the News Women's Commentator Contest." She related her award-winning inspirational story on Miss Arlen's program. It concerned a Chinese-American housewife, Mrs. Limm, who succeeded where men had failed with the same business, simply by applying the common sense methods a housewife uses in organizing her home to the running of a business—and with the proceeds from her lucrative shrimp-fishing business, is putting her children through school.

AIR-DEBATA: Lovely Ginny Simms, co-star of CBS's "Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Ginny Simms Show," was married last week to Robert Calhoun, who is an oilman, at a simple wedding ceremony performed at the Flamingo Hotel by Justice of the Peace John A. Down, Jr.

Ice Cream Makes This Pie

By Betty Barclay

ICE cream or pie, which do you prefer? "Both!" would be the right answer with a recipe like Honey Crunch Sundae Pie. Perfect for the summer appetite, it's also outstanding for its ease of preparation. No hot oven and only a few minutes of cooking is needed for this glamorous dessert. The crust, a combination of candy-coated puffed wheat with honey and coconut, holds generous scoops of vanilla ice cream. Then, for the crowning glory—a topping of rich chocolate sauce! Any wonder this recipe is up and coming on the hit parade of summer desserts?

Honey Crunch Sundae Pie
1 1/2 cups Post's Krinkles or Post's Sugar Crisp; 1/4 cup honey; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon butter; 1/2 cup shredded coconut, toasted; 1 quart vanilla ice cream; Chocolate Sauce.
Place cereal in greased bowl and set aside. Combine honey, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Place over medium heat and cook until a small amount of syrup forms a firm ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 245° F.). Add butter. Pour syrup over cereal in bowl, stirring lightly to coat. Add toasted coconut, combining quickly. Press mixture gently on bottom and sides of well greased 9-inch pie pan. Chill. Fill with vanilla ice cream and serve with chocolate sauce.

MENU Newsreel

The Versatile Power Saw

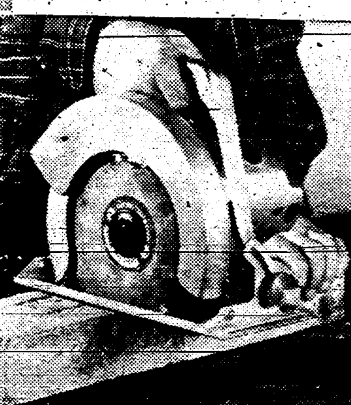

BECAUSE a portable power saw is so versatile, it is a handy tool to own if you are building or remodeling. Standard uses include cutting framing timbers, sheathing, plaster-board, ceiling tile.

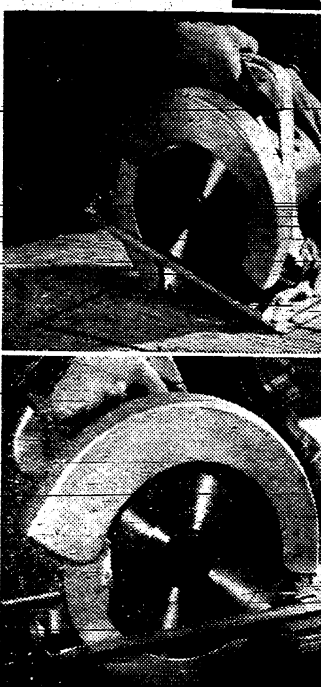

CUTTING a groove in concrete for installation of oil lines, left, takes only a few minutes with a power saw. An abrasive disk is used for this. Goggles should be worn.

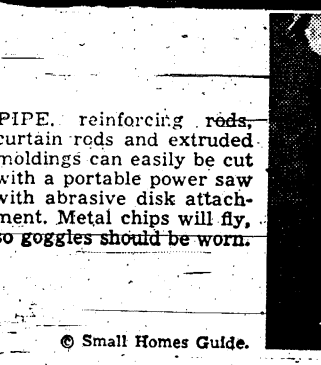

THE LOW-COST abrasive disk is attached to the portable power saw for cutting fire brick, too. Result is a straight edge with a minimum of waste.

WHEN a pocket cut is made in plywood or in a wood floor that is being repaired, a combination blade is used. It is standard equipment on most saws.

A FINE TOOTH blade is used for cutting plastic-coated plywood for countertops, walls. Some types should be cut face down to reduce chipping.

PIPE, reinforcing rods, curtain rods and extruded moldings can easily be cut with a portable power saw with abrasive disk attachment. Metal chips will fly, so goggles should be worn.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Despite the humid heat of summertime Washington, a chill wind blows off the Potomac into OPS, the Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office Plenty Screw. In closing up business for the session, Congress handed the Office Plenty Screw a $13 million cut in its budget. $103 million was requested. More than half of the 17,000 people employed, and it is to be noted the word "employee" is in the process of being replaced by "workman" in the process of dismissal, it is announced. But apparently none of the geniuses that have sparked the Office Plenty Screw to the heights of fiscal business will walk the plank. A curious situation, but with a cut in funds of 40%, approximately 55% of the OPS employees will be dismissed. Simple arithmetic indicates dismissals will be among the lower paid clerical workers, leaving intact in seats of upholstered leather chairs, the high paid brains of the Office Plenty Screw. U. S. taxpayers will still pay plenty to keep over-stuffed chairs in top OPS offices filled. Consider 95,000 American families with three children and annual incomes of $5,000 each. Each of those families has income for deductions of $632 per year. Thus all income tax paid by 95,000 families will just pay for the Office Plenty Screw. In the meantime, MSA, Marshall Plan successors continues to shovel out American taxes at an unprecedented rate. In three consecutive days, covered by MSA Bulletin Nos. 123, 124 and 125, a total of $22,872,000 was given away, or an average of $7,624,000 per day, about the daily average so far this year. Every day a whole year's income tax from 12,000 families with three children and incomes of $5,600 are given away. The excuse given is defense. Yet just one item was $500,000 worth of high priced coffee given to Greece. The blue print of the job needed from 1947-1952, was to prevent that high blue print was fairly well revealed in Chicago. The democratic party is committed to continuation of the pay-away programs, and the GOP platform also calls for the continuation of the pay-away which covers such items as coffee and tobacco. Here is the crux of the entire situation. A large share of the billions, given away are in the form of manufactured goods, produced by just a handful of huge U. S. corporations. Their "sales" abroad are paid for by every independent businessman and salaried person in the nation. So far the only prominent voice heard condemning this waste of U. S. taxes is that of Herbert Hoover. Little, if any, heed is paid to his warnings, in either party. Thus it becomes apparent that if the American people are to get out of the mire of waste and inflation, they must pull themselves up by the bootstraps. It does not appear that the leaders of either political party are going to tackle the job.

Knowledge is Power

- 1. DO WIVES EXPECT TOO MUCH OF THEIR HUSBANDS?
- 2. ARE PRIZE CONTESTS ON THE UP-AND-UP?
- 3. WHICH HOBBIES ARE BEST FOR RETIRED PERSONS?

(1) Jane Whitbread and Vivian Cadden don't think so. They have some advice for the confused husband in their book, "The Intelligent Man's Guide to Women." The wife, they suggest, wants you to make conversation with her, tell her what happened at the office and let her in on what you are thinking about. She doesn't expect you to peel potatoes, but she would like you to take over the children when you get home. Then, once in a while she would like to get away from the house and the kids. (2) They have to be. The way Zenn Kaufman and Lester Cone, Jr., recite the routine of professional prize contest judges, it's highly unlikely that a contest will be a phony. In the first place, their book, "Successful Prize Contests," states, there's a federal law which requires that contest entries actually be opened, read, and evaluated. The winning entry cannot be picked from a hat (the way some were in past years). Most big contest sponsors employ professional-contest judges. They know how foolish the sponsor will look if the prize goes to an extremely poor entry. Then too, a postoffice inspector may walk into the sponsor's office any time and ask embarrassing questions about his judging methods. (3) "Be sure," advises Dr. George H. Prentiss, "that your chosen activity suits your physical condition as it is now and as it seems likely to be for the next several years." In his book "Should I Retire?" he checks off some of the hobbies which retired persons enjoy. "Remember," he cautions, "to choose an activity which you can give up at any time without serious loss." Drawing, painting, writing, composing music, choir or quartet singing—all can be developed into rewarding retirement activities. "Church work offers the widest range, the most absorbing interest, and the greatest comfort. Some people with little faith can cultivate what they have and find it profitable." Articles in the August Catholic Digest provided information for this feature.

"I Prayed Constantly For God's Help"

by Loretta Young, Hollywood Star

WHEN I WAS 16 years old I had been a motion picture star for two years. I grew up in motion pictures, having appeared in my first picture at the age of four. At 16, therefore, I was well accustomed to the elaborate rewards of the industry. So accustomed that they seemed normal—not colossal.

One of my prerogatives, I thought, was to follow my desires with uncomplicated forthrightness. To wish was to do—to want was to have. I hadn't discovered that wisdom and impulse are not synonymous.

I hadn't, as a matter of fact, discovered wisdom at all. I floated along—taking blessings for granted, privileges as my due, praise as a matter of course. And I was greedy for all of them.

ONE DAY a priest spoke the words that started my adult education. But at the time he spoke, I crisply challenged his words, "quite confident of my wisdom." It is my good fortune that, being a wise man, he did not treat me as a motion picture star, but as a sixteen-year-old, racing blindly along a blinding road.

He said to me, "Loretta, you know that God didn't give you this talent for your pleasure, or for your ego. Don't you know that He gave you this talent to develop it, and use it, for His greater glory?"

"All your gifts—talent, opportunity, attractiveness—carry with them an extra responsibility. You may not be careless of the position you have as a gift from God. Whether you like it or not, you are an example to others."

"Don't forget that, Loretta. And remember that you dare not be a BAD example."

I WAS SUDDENLY a bewildered young girl. Resentful, intolerant of the unwelcome obligation, but intuitively aware of the inevitability of accepting it. And I did accept it!

With the perspective its acceptance gave me, I appraised my life for what it was—a singularly fortunate life. I thank God for the resultant permanent appreciation of His gifts, for the permanent awareness of the good I could do in life.

LORETTA YOUNG

From that day my understanding of the priest's words was clear—my course was clear too. I have tried to work as a lay apostle; to use the medium of my profession for the fullest influence upon people—all people—the good and the bad.

I HAVE NOT tried to travel under the direction of my judgment alone. I have constantly prayed for God's help in my personal as well as my professional life.

The high school bands will provide one of the highlights of the finest entertainment programs ever put together for a Michigan State Fair. Ten of the nation's top recording artists will appear in the Coliseum, including Les Paul and Mary Ford, Guy Lombardo, Ella Fitzgerald, Al Martino, Georgia Gibbs, Gene Krupa's trio and others.

There will be seven days of contest rodeo before the grandstand starting Sunday, August 31, directed by Colonel Cliff Gatewood of Flying X Ranch of Montana. Two groups of thrill drivers also will appear, the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers and the Irish Horan's Hell Drivers. There will be two AAA sanctioned automobile races. A 100-mile big car race and a 150-mile race for midget cars.

choker, just to mention a few ideas. Martha Stewart, vivacious co-star of NBC-TV's "Those Two," has avidly collected costume jewelry for years and has passed on some of her pet jewelry tricks. "I try never to mix metals... that is, stick to either gold, silver or copper... and I avoid wearing pearls and rhinestones at the same time," Martha explains. For a simple dark cotton, a single gold clip in a delicate leaf design clasped at the corner of a square neckline or at the base of a V-cut neckline... with earrings to match is in good taste and lends an interesting note.

"Of course, pearls... single strand, two, three, or multi-strand, or the popular choker style... compliment most outfits and are always correct for any occasion. Don't forget bracelets. They are more the vogue this summer than ever. Try wearing several bracelets together, remembering not to mix kinds of metal. Begin with a heavy link bracelet with a lucky piece attached to the clasp. Then add a small pearl bracelet... and dainty, perfect-cultured pearls are not too exorbitant... maybe two bracelets, if the size of the pearls and the links are not too large. A couple of plain gold or silver bracelets... with a delicate design or trim worked into the metal... completes the group of bracelets so chic with bare-arm fashions. "And," Martha adds, "it's so much fun to vary the grouping and add to your growing collection. Bracelets make a wonderful gift, too, and may be inexpensive or real treasures according to the occasion."

Foundation for Blind Observes Centennial of Braille's Death

The passing of Louis Braille, originator of the raised dot reading and writing system which bears his name, 100 years ago, is now being observed around the world. M. Robert Barnett, the Executive Director of the American Foundation for the Blind, pointed out that since only 20 per cent of the 260,000 blind persons in the United States know braille, it is important to promote the teaching of this system in every possible manner.

Helen Keller, outstanding user of Braille's system, once wrote "Braille is the key to books in many languages. We who are without sight celebrate the achievement of one who poured the sweetness of tangible printed words into the bitter waters of our affliction."

As part of the international observance of the centennial of Louis Braille's death, the American Foundation for the Blind and its affiliate, the American Foundation for Overseas Blind, have jointly issued a special commemorative seal to be widely circulated. The seals will be distributed in sheets of 50 each by organizations and groups which show a deep interest in the fortunes of blind people.

Intended not primarily to raise money, but to foster public awareness of the increased opportunities afforded to the blind through the development of modern teaching methods based on the use of braille, Mr. Barnett advised that individual contributions received through the distribution of these seals will be earmarked for braille printing presses and other equipment for workshops and schools here and abroad.

TODAY'S meditation

The Upper Room THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

The Golden Rule in Action Thursday, August 7

We may reap the harvest of our sowing, but we must sow first. We must not only sow, but we must also reap. We must not only sow, but we must also reap. We must not only sow, but we must also reap.

The bread is not to be gathered from the fields, but from the vineyard. The gleanings were for the poor, the widows, the fatherless. Gratitude to God for His guidance was to be expressed in this thoughtfulness for their fellow men.

A woman who had lost her husband said to her friend: "For a long time I felt life was not worth living. Then I determined to do something each day to make someone else happy."

Prayer Pour into our hearts O God, the grace of charity and loving kindness toward all men. In faithful, humble service may we find the peace which passes all understanding and which comes from Thee. In our Savior's name. Amen.

HAMBURGERS RISE to deluxe rating when they have a rich tomato sauce. To prepare them, shape 4 patties from a mixture of 1 pound ground beef, 1 small onion chopped, 1 egg, 1/2 cup soft bread cubes, and salt and pepper. Cook till done in shortening in a skillet. Put hamburgers on a platter. Then pour 1 cup 1/2 cups of condensed tomato soup into the skillet, stir to brown rounded bits of meat. When sauce is hot, pour over patties.

'ATISKET, A TASKET' To pack the picnic basket and get ready to celebrate the month of July, a dish you'll be glad to have in the basket is pork and beans mixed with browned chunks of frankfurters. You can prepare the beans over the campfire. First break 2 or 3 sliced frankfurters and some chopped onion in shortening in a skillet. Then stir in a can of beans (1 pound size) plus 1/2 cup tomato ketchup and 1 1/2 teaspoons mustard. Simmer about 15 minutes to blend the flavors. One can of beans makes enough for 3 people. Count on extra active appetites.

COOL AS A CUCUMBER is the way you'll feel when you keep meals completely simple in the summertime. And they'll be big-hit meals with your family if you star such favorites as soups and salads. Give them brimming bowls of chicken noodle soup; and for salad have a luscious combination of tuna, chopped celery and stuffed olives on lettuce. A fittingly fine dessert to go with this menu is luscious red raspberries poured over plain cake squares (made with a mix), top with vanilla ice cream.
