For the first time since 1932, the Republicans have elected a President of the United States. General Dwight D. Eisenhower won the election in a landslide that is mounting all the time as the returns are being tallied.

At the time this paper went to press Eisenhower had a popular vote of 25,809,287 against Stevenson's 20,981,728, and was leading in electoral votes with 442 in 39 states against Stevenson's 89 electoral votes in nine states.

It became apparent that Eisenhower would win in a landslide at 12:00 last night, and shortly before 2 P. M. this morning, Stevenson conceded the victory.

Eisenhower even made inroads into the usually Solid South by capturing Florida, Virginia, and See page 2 for a biographical feature on the new President and Vice-President.

Texas with Tennessee still in doubt. He carried Stevenson's home state of Illinois, and also carried the key states of New York, California, Ohio, Indiana and New Jersey. It also appears that he will sweep the farm belt and the far west.

In his acceptance speech, Eisenhower said: "We can't do the job ahead of us except as a United People. Let us unite for the better future of our children and grand-children."

The telegram Stevenson sent to Eisenhower read: "The people have made their choice, and I congratulate you. That you may be the servant and guardian of peace and make the day of victory a door of hope is my earnest prayer. Best wishes."

When making his speech conceding victory Stevenson said that he felt like a small boy who had stubbed his toe. That he felt that it was too old to cry, but that it hurt too much to laugh.

The Girl Scout Troop 2 and Boy Scouts of Troop 26 enjoyed a hayride on Tuesday evening. This was made possible through the generosity of Kenneth Kouba of the K. & W. Farm Supply Store who supplied a new tractor for the affair and the scouts also thank John Buss for his assistance.

Mrs. Roland Guenther Honored At Party

Mrs. Roland Guenther was pleasantly surprised on her birthday by thirty relatives and friends from Milan, Whitmore Lake, Ann Arbor and Dearborn who came to help her celebrate the occasion. She was presented with several lovely gifts.

Safety Patrol Committee Has First Meeting

The Safety Patrol Committee appointed by the PTA at their last meeting consisting of Mrs. Allen Schaffer, Mrs. Elwood Pniwski and Marvin Oates met with Supt. Fred Atkinson Thursday evening, October 30th. Jules Van de Ginste, a former Grosse Pointe policeman, was also present.

After considerable discussion certain crossings were designated as those to have safety patrols. These, however, are subject to change after the program is in operation.

Rufus Gillam has been asked to assist in the training of the school children who will participate in this program. The AAA has volunteered an educational film which will be used during the training program. They will also furnish the necessary equipment used by the patrols.

At the present time patrol boys are being used on the school grounds to facilitate the loading and unloading of buses.

Representative Charles Potter was assured of the Senate seat of Democrat Blair Moody on the basis of returns, nearly complete Thursday night.

Potter had gained a lead of about 45,000 votes over his rival for both the short and long Senate term.

Meanwhile, Governor G. Menen Williams picked up a slim 6,000-vote lead over his Republican opponent, Fred Alger. This race turned out to be a striking parallel to the 1950 race, for the overmanship, when Williams defeated Harry F. Kelly.

Predictions among political observers are that a recount in the governor's race will be a certainty since the vote is so close. It is pointed out that a recount is not in a case of this kind demanded upon the basis of fraud, but to make certain that no errors in tabulating have changed the result.

The remainder of the Republican candidates for state office have cleared-out majorities and that assures that the State government will still be predominantly Republican, regardless of the outcome of the race for governor.

The vote on reapportionment of the legislature and senate seems to indicate a victory for the agricultural counties. The CIO and Democratic Party proposal No. 2, basing the reapportionment strictly on population lines, was losing 910,460 votes, to 534,272. Proposal No. 3, the balanced plan which was designed to redistribute the state not only by population but area as well, was winning out 820,772 to 562,784.

Dwight was accompanied by his parents to New York. The Eisenhausers planned to return home Thursday. Mr. Eisenhower is a local grocer.

Young Dwight was born during the landing in Normandy in World War II and at his nurse's urging his parents named him after the then supreme commander of the Allied armies.

Dexter Defeats Manchester 21-14

The Dutchmen lost the league trophy Friday night when they were defeated by Dexter 21 to 14.

The game went scoreless through the first quarter and part of the second quarter until Bruce Torshee scored when he picked up the ball and took it over after Tom Snyder kicked the ball into Bill Aiken long passed to Torshee for the extra point.

Later in the quarter Tom Snyder covered Bob Longs fumble behind the goal line for a touch down Aiken converted.

Long scored again in the quarter from the 2 yard line. Long passed to Torshee for the extra point and Dexter led 14 to 7 at half.

The third quarter went scoreless but in the fourth Jerry Trolz went over from the two yard line, Aiken converted and the score was tied 14 to 14.

Jim Miles ran 35 yards for a score. Bob Long ran for the extra point and Dexter won 21 to 14.

Manchester schools and Miss Emma Kulenkamp's house-to-house team of eight solicitors "Ring the Bell" this week. With a total of $2771.84 accounted for in the first two weeks of the Drive, the $4,000 fund is more than two-thirds raised. Another week should put Manchester's Red Feather Drive over the top.

The school students gift of $66.59 topped last years by more than $14.00. It is the money children and teen-agers give from their own allowances and earnings toward a fund which is founded on the principles of civic education.

Miss Kulenkamp's team, one of the four house-to-house teams in the village completed their soliciting by November 4th and brought in a record total of $206.75. For this splendid and prompt accounting Mrs. Jake Layer, Mrs. Robert Armentrout, Mrs. George Knouse, Mrs. Eugene Bentschneider, Mrs. Allen Benedict, Mrs. Paul Ernst and Mrs. Alvin Clark are commended along with their captain, Miss Emma Kulenkamp.

The rural team of twenty-three solicitors has reported $477.00 to Mrs. Joseph Schwab so far. This is well over two-thirds of their quota of $685.00. One more week should see a record in this division which is working exceptionally well considering the distances necessary to cover the area.

The second week's estimate of pledges and collections is as follows: House-to-house, $518.50; rural, $477.00; school, $66.59; special gifts, $861.00; Ford (employees only), $698.75; Double A (incomplete), $150.00; Total $2771.84.

Let's have a final accounting by November 11, except for organizations that have not had an official meeting so far during the Drive.

Because of the extremely dry weather this fall hunters and everyone else should take every precaution in avoiding fires which could easily cause extensive damage.

On Sunday afternoon the fire department was called to extinguish a fire in a hollow trunk of a big elm tree on the edge of a swamp on the farm of A. D. English. Because the location was somewhat sheltered from wind the fire was easily controlled by the local department.

Cpl Veryl Treat has been discharged from Fort Custer on Oct. 23 after about two years of service. He had spent one year and four months in Korea. He is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Treat and plans to accept work at the Clinton Woolen Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Voegeding have received a letter from their son, Pfc. Lynn Voegeding, stating that he has arrived at Leghorn, Italy, and at that time was expecting to leave on a twenty-four hour train trip to Austria.

We were interested to learn that Randy Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Peters, won the trophy cup offered by the Fisk Photo Studio of Marshall. The studio had representatives here taking pictures of children at the Legion hall.

Emanuel Anniversary Services Attended By Great Numbers

ANNIVERSARY SPEAKER

Rev. H. S. von Rague

According to the count taken by the Church Council there were five hundred and forty-four people in attendance at the morning service.

At the evening service the Rev. Victor P. Frohne, president of the Michigan-Indiana Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, brought the message to an attentive audience.

Thursday evening, November 6, a fellowship program will be held in the parish hall of Emanuel. Rev. Victor Schoen of Cincinnati, Ohio, will be the speaker. Many people in the community will remember him as a boy living in Manchester when his father, the late Rev. A. A. Schoen was pastor of Emanuel.

There will be other special numbers on the program. Joyce Kemner will play an accordion, Kenneth Kemner will play a clarinet, and Mary Lannom will sing. There will also be some community singing. After the program there will be a social hour with refreshments in the dining room.

MEET THE WINNERS

Eisenhower and Nixon: The New High Command

Few men in American history have stepped from one of the highest military posts to the highest civil post their country could offer them. Still fewer start out in politics right at the top. And, too, few men lead an army of 5,000,000 men to victory in a great and bloody world war.

Such is the man who, Tuesday, was elected by the American voters as their 34th President, Dwight David Eisenhower.

Eisenhower stands five feet ten inches tall and usually weighs in at about 190 pounds. On October 14, he was 62 years old.

The original Eisenhowers arrived in America in the early part of the 18th century and settled as part of a community of Mennonites in Pennsylvania. In 1878 came the great trek to Kansas. The Eisenhowers settled in Abilene where David and Ida Eisenhower were married.

Dwight David was the third oldest of six sons born to David and Ida. The fourth oldest, Roy, a pharmacist, died in 1942. Arthur, the oldest, is a Kansas City banker. Edgar is senior partner in the Tacoma, Washington, law firm of Eisenhower, Hunter and Ramsdell. Earl is an electrical engineer, and Milton, the youngest and second best known of the lot, is president of Pennsylvania state university.

Originally, Eisenhower was christened David Dwight but his mother turned it around because she disliked hearing him called "Dave". She did not reckon with the nickname "Ike" which all of the Eisenhower brothers bore at one time or another and which stuck to her-third born.

Many reasons have been mentioned for his choice of a military

America, Eisenhower was a temporary brigadier general and chief of staff of the Third Army. By the following April of 1942 he was a temporary major general and was serving as chief of the Division of War Plans in Washington.

Two months later, General Marshall, who was then chief of staff, asked Eisenhower to command the new European theater of operations.

Thus, Eisenhower suddenly appeared on the stage as one of the central characters when his name wasn't even on the program. No one had heard of him. And, too, some people wished that, as the symbol of the American contribution to winning the war, Eisenhower were a little more Pattonesque.

The story of World War II as Eisenhower saw it has been told by many people already, including himself. Little more can be said. The whole story already has been written of the North African and Italian campaigns, D-Day—H Hour, the battle for France, the St. Lo break-through and the Battle of the Bulge, the crossing of the Rhine, the last campaign in Germany and the final capitulation of the Axis powers.

Eisenhower handled what was probably the biggest job any military man ever had and did it well. In 35 months he changed from an almost unknown general to an international leader.

Following the war, Eisenhower became chief of staff for a short while and then left the army to become president of Columbia university.

When the 1948 election came along, "draft Eisenhower" movements sprang up all over the country. But the general said no. Then the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces came into being and needed a commander. Eisenhower was asked to take the post and accepted.

Hardly had he started in this new job when the 1952 election rolled around and again there was talk of drafting him for president. Eisenhower said he could not take the nomination in the absence of a "clear cut call to duty". When the primaries were over he had his clear cut call, and in July won the Republican nomination.

Now the election is over and he is about to take on the biggest job of his career—the presidency of the United States.

His running mate, Sen. Richard Milhous Nixon, was born in Yorba Linda, California, in 1913 and later moved with his parents to Whittier, where he graduated from Whittier college and won a scholarship to Duke university. Upon receiving his law degree, he returned to Whittier to practice. It was shortly after this that he met his wife-to-be, Patricia Ryan, when they were both acting in a play given by a community theater. They have two small daughters.

During the war he served with the Navy, spending the better part of four years in the South Pacific. At the end of the war he left the Navy as a lieutenant commander and elected to go into politics. He beat the incumbent Democrat in the 12th congressional district of California and won the seat in the house of representatives.

There he was active in prosecuting Alger Hiss and was on the house un-American activities committee when it was investigating Gerhard Eisler and Eugene Dennis. He also took part in the committee's Hollywood inquiries. He was coauthor of the Mundt-Nixon bill for the registration of Communists. In 1950 he was elected to the senate.

Then came the 1952 Republican party convention where, to his own surprise, he was nominated for the vice-presidency.

When the election returns had been counted, Nixon found that he had been elected to the second highest office in the land—vice-president of the United States—only six years after his entry into politics.

These are your president and vice-president for the next four years.

VICE-PRESIDENT NIXON

career. It is possible that even Eisenhower himself is not sure. He may have been motivated by nothing more than the fact that he would receive a college education, which neither he nor his father could afford, at government expense and, at the same time, see some of the world outside the naturally confining sphere of Abilene. What put the idea in his head originally was being told by a friend of the latter's intention of going to Annapolis. Eisenhower liked the idea and began to study for the entrance examination. When the examinations were graded he stood second on the list and was, therefore, eligible for either Annapolis or West Point. But, in the meantime, he had passed his 20th birthday and was no longer eligible for the naval academy. Through Senator Bristow of Kansas, he obtained his appointment to the United States military academy.

In West Point, as in his previous school work, he was less interested in academic work than in sports. However, his scholastic average for the four years put him in the top third of his class. He also had the makings of a star football player until a knee injury disqualified him for football forever.

On June 12, 1915, he was graduated and commissioned a second lieutenant.

Eisenhower's first assignment was in San Antonio, Texas, where the following October, he met Mamie Geneva Gaud. They were married the following July of 1916.

The Eisenhower's first son, Paul, died when he was three, but a second son, John D., was born and he was the only child to survive. When Paul's funeral examination was held at West Point, John had the highest score ever made by a Kansas applicant.

Although he very much wanted to see overseas during World War I, Eisenhower never got outside the United States. Instead, he was put in command of a tank training school—an unusual assignment since the school had no tanks.

Following the war, he settled down to the monotony of peacetime army life.

Eisenhower had many varied tours of duty but none of them colorful, at least from his viewpoint. He spent two and a half years in the Panama Canal zone with Brig. Gen. "Fox" Connor. He met such men as the flamboyant George S. Patton. The thing that was to lift him out of monotonous anonymity was his assignment, in February, 1933, as assistant to the then chief of staff, Gen. Douglas MacArthur. When MacArthur went to the Philippines as special advisor, Eisenhower went along.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Amblod over to Bob's Restaurant Tuesday for lunch and noticed a new sign "Left Ham Sandwich, 40¢... Right Ham Sandwich, 30¢."

"Why the sign, Bob?" I asked. "Don't tell me you believe hogs scratch more with their right leg than with their left—so's the left ham is more tender?"

"No," he says. "I don't take any stock in it. But, some people have ordered those 'left' sandwiches. When I explain to them that there's nothing to that fable, that the sign is just a business-getter, and I've only one price, they enjoy a regular, old-fashioned, plain ham sandwich all the more!"

From where I sit, stories like "right" hams being tougher than "left" ones are with us because some people get ideas into their head and hang onto them for dear life. It's like those who think an adult like myself hasn't the right to a glass of beer with my supper. I say let's keep our opinions free from being "sandwiched-in" by misinformation.

serious damage resulted. We were pleased to learn that Roger Pratt was able to return to school again this week after being out for the past seven weeks because of a double fracture of the right leg. Apparently he is not too handicapped by the use of his crutches.

Over Pleasant Lake way the consolidated school is progressing satisfactorily and workers have started the work above ground.

Last Friday's Halloween party for the children of the Manchester area was well attended. Perhaps at this time it might be well for some group to make known their plans for the Christmas party for the children. It is not too early to start making plans. In the past, we understand, a few business men have taken a serious interest in working out the details of these events. Through some misunderstanding, no one group worked out the details for the party last Friday, but with the willing help of the business men and a few others the party continued as in other years. Any suggestions which anyone might have are welcome and the local paper will be only too glad to bring them to the attention of the folks of the community.

BOWLING

This week there were three matches that ended even, two points for each team. They were ABC Service, Mary's Tavern; Mann's, Koebbe's Welders; and Klager's Hatcheries, Short's Electric. In the ABC, Mary's struggle, Dewey Hartbeck's 537 and Roy Marx's 511 series were leaders for ABC and Mary's bowlers weren't bowling big series, but consistent. Mann's tried to sink Koebbe's Welders, but it just couldn't be done even though Koebbe's two good bowlers, Koebbe and Walton, were absent. Klager's Hatcheries with Ronnie Jenter throwing a 553 series couldn't outdistance Short's Electric.

The big contest of the night saw Kappler's Contractors and Walt Schaible's clash. Speck Kapplers 579 and Russell Middlemiss 538 series couldn't quite offset Homer Kappler's 557 and Lyle Widmayer's 500 series with a lot of help from the other bowlers on the team. Walt's team took three points from the Contractors. K & W Farm Supply took Double A Products for three points with the anchor men on each team having a good night—Gerald Bower 567 for K & W and Mike Wolfe 521 for Double A. Don's Dairy Bar out-fought Carl Schaible's team for three points with Don Ross' 508 series for Don's and Duane Roller's 506 series for Schaible's being top men in that contest.

Bowlers who bowled a 200 game or better were Gerald Bower 232, Homer Kapper 221, Rollie Grossman 215; Speck Kappler 211, Nelson Short 211 and Russell Middlemiss 200.

ABC Service still has the season's highest series 2611 and the season's highest game 955. Mary's Tavern is a close second with a 2600 series and a 951 game for team events. In individual events Lawrence "Speck" Kappler is leading with a 664 series and a 254 game. In second place is Dewey Hartbeck with a 633 series and Hugh Sutton with a 244 game.

American Govt. Class Holds Mock Election

The senior class of Manchester High School and their teacher, Mrs. Hulda M. Martin, have spent a number of weeks of their American Government course in studying the organization of parties, the conventions and the order of business they follow for the election on national, state & local levels. They have obtained facts and formed opinions from radio and television programs, daily newspapers, periodicals and campaign materials sent through the mail, etc., which have been used as supplementary material with their textbook. Once a week they receive their current events paper, The American Observer, which has presented the views of both candidates of the two major parties on most of the important issues of their campaign. Several debates and round table discussions were held in class on some of these issues. They noted how various industries have capitalized on the coming election such as campaign jewelry, menus and recipes, wearing apparel, music, etc.

Mrs. Martin, who has worked on election boards in various capacities, helped them make their election procedure as realistic as possible. Instructional Ballots were obtained from Waldo C. On election day the American government class and Mrs. Martin went to the polls to see how voting is really done which will help the students of this class to prepare themselves for future voting citizens.
