Planning Begun For Recreation Program

Plans for the local recreation activities are progressing for the 1952 season according to the report of the Manchester Recreation Committee which met at the high school Monday night, March 31.

Charles Mills reported on the past year's activities indicating that swimming, softball for both girls and boys, tennis and ice skating had been the most satisfactory projects for the senior youth group. An attendance of over 1200 had been recorded for the teen-agers during the year with an average of 61 each day swimming was scheduled.

The junior playground report was given by Mrs. Mills, the 1951 director. The junior group has maintained a steady appeal for the past four years. The attendance of over 1100 last year proves the value of this specific activity. Last year's high lights for interest were hikes, clay modeling, doll house construction complete with furnishings, special shows each week and certain handicraft projects involving materials any child would have at home.

The regional study committee, Mrs. F. M. Beck, Joe Schwab, Marie Schneider and Mrs. John Pippenger, are continuing their survey of playground activities in neighboring villages. This study is being done with the intent of improving the local program and obtaining new ideas.

A sub-committee was appointed to check the equipment on hand and make recommendations for repair & replacement. Marvin Oates and Mrs. Paul Kappler will work with Mr. and Mrs. Mills on this detail.

A nominating committee for election of officers of the committee included Donald Weed, Reverend Rest and Mrs. John Pippenger. Reverend Weinert, chairman of the Recreation Committee, will welcome suggestions for the improvement of the years activities. Any local youth groups wishing to plan activities in conjunction with the program should contact the chairman before the next meeting which is scheduled for April 22, at eight o'clock at the high school.

New Plane Speeds Production

Allen Schaffer, pres. of Schaffer Lumber Co. has just purchased the above plane that will now make it possible to speed up the buying of his raw material and the merchandising of his finished product. See story (below).

Local Firm Acquires New Airplane

Allen W. Schaffer, president of Schaffer Lumber Co., recently flew to Wichita, Kansas to take delivery on a new Beechcraft Bonanza. This airplane replaces one the company purchased 4 years ago. During that period they flew the ship approximately 200,000 miles in the conduct of their retail lumber and general construction business.

The new airplane which is based at Manchester has a cruising speed of 185 miles per hour, and a range without refueling of 950 miles. Chicago, Cleveland, and Cincinnati are all within 1 hour's flying time from Manchester. It is also possible for the company to travel to Hurtsboro, Alabama where they have lumber connections and return in the same day.

The new ship has all of the latest radio equipment and is equipped for either day or night instrument flying. One of the latest instruments being an automatic pilot.

As the opening service in the observance of Holy Week, the choir of the Manchester Methodist church consisting of seventy voices will present "Man of Sorrows" by Van Denman Thompson on Palm Sunday, April 6, at the church at 8 p.m.

The composer was commissioned to write this work by the Loreh Publishing Company, with special emphasis on the need for a new setting for the message of Christ's approach to Calvary. The cantata has been arranged to appeal to both the singers and the audiences. It is expected that many Protestant churches both large and small will present the cantata during Holy Week.

At the offertory of the service the junior and senior choirs will combine to sing Charles Gounod's "Lovely Appar". The junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Pardee has been rehearsing for several weeks in preparation for this appearance.

Manchester Twshp. Included In Eight Year Road Plan

An eight-year township road improvement plan has been outlined for 12 western townships under the proposed $7,000,000 plus road improvement program that covers an eight-year period ending January 1, 1960.

For Manchester township: The Sharon Hollow, Herman and Watkins roads—M-11 to Mulvaney on Jackson County Line, grade, drainage structures, gravel base and apply bituminous aggregate surface for a five mile length with an estimated cost of $107,000 with the tentative completion date set for January 1, 1956. Also the Logan road 1.5 miles from Manchester to Sheridan road, grade, drainage structures, place sand sub-base and gravel base and blacktop with an estimated cost of $43,000 with the tentative completion date Jan. 1, 1960.

Bridgewater township—Sheridan 3.5 miles from U. S. 112 to Logan road, grade, drainage structures, place sand sub-base and gravel base and blacktop, $118,000 by 1960.

Saline township—Arkona, Goodrich and Hack roads, 2.75 miles from Jordan road to Lenawee County Line, thicken gravel base and blacktop, $25,000 (1956).

Freedom township—Fletcher Rd. 3.1 from Pleasant-Lake road to Lima Townline, $45,000 (1956).

Sharon township—Pleasant Lake road one mile from Chelsea-Manchester road to Kotho road, reconstruct, ditch, place sand sub-base and gravel base and blacktop, $15,000 (1954).

In the case of Sylvan township there is but one road project for the eight-year period—a three mile blacktop job for the Chelsea-Manchester road between US-12 to Sharon Townline scheduled for completion by the start of 1954. This is according to a report given by Washtenaw County Road Commission Manager Howard G. Menier. Funds for the program estimated at more than $7,000,000 must be obtained from federal and state governments and in some instances from the townships and counties affected. Included in the approximate construction expenditures for 1950-1951 was $3 of a mile on the Manchester-Chelsea road with a bituminous aggregate surface.

Is Candidate For Sheriff

Robert W. Winnick

Robert W. Winnick, 36, a former Sheriff's Department, command officer with ten year's police experience, announced his candidacy today for sheriff of Washtenaw county on the Republican ticket.

"Bob" was born on a farm in Huntingdon county, Penn., on September 17, 1915.

He attended grade schools in Huntingdon county and was graduated from Rock Hill High School in Orishonia, Penn., at the age of 17. While attending school he worked on the farms of relatives to supplement his family income.

Following his graduation from high school in 1933, Bob worked for a short time as a miner in a Pennsylvania mine, and was employed by a Texas construction firm in Pennsylvania prior to leaving his native state for Michigan in October, 1935.

Bob settled immediately in Washtenaw county and worked as a farm hand on a Scio township farm for about four years.

From 1939 to 1941, he was employed as a chauffeur and body-guard for a prominent Detroit attorney.

In October, 1941, Bob qualified for the Ann Arbor Police Department. (Continued on Page 8)

The Main Street

The Manchester fire department was called to the farm of Paul Feldkamp about 1:15 Sunday morning when the brooder house was discovered afire. The Feldkamps had started the heater in the brooder preparatory to getting their chicks on Monday. Cause of the fire could not be determined. Loss was covered by insurance.

Since the article appeared in last week's Enterprise concerning the possibility of sewing, typing or shorthand classes to be given in Manchester next fall as a part of an adult education program interest has been shown in a class in ceramics. Those interested in taking classes in any of the above mentioned subjects is asked to phone Mrs. Harold Strayer 4123 or Mrs. Harold Burch 2581 before Monday, April 7th.

A barbershop quartet show sponsored by the Temple club has been set for Friday, April 18, at the high school here at 8 p.m. A special feature of the show will be an old time quartet—consisting of Manchester talent.

At this time we do not have a report of the Red Cross drive conducted in the village or in the surrounding rural area except for one. Mrs. Raymond Jacob called our office to report that the Red Cross Drive for Sharon township is completed and the money has been turned in to the Ann Arbor office. A total of $208.45 was collected in the Sharon township drive.

A correction to an item which appeared in the paper at an earlier date. It should have read Henry Kulenkamp and his sister Mrs. John Proiz has moved to 309 South Macomb street.

We have received information that Mrs. John Bunney has resigned as office secretary at the Manchester high school and is being replaced by Mrs. Lawrence Soldan.

A check with local Red Cross Chairman Mrs. Alvin Clark indicated that Manchester is falling far below its quota in the local drive. Mrs. Clark says that to date only fifty percent of local clubs and organizations have made contributions.

GOV. WILLIAMS

REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE

LANSING—Michigan is apparently facing a serious flood situation, because of the rise in Great Lakes water levels.

High winds drove lake waters inland all along the shore of the Lower Peninsula last week, causing widespread damage. More than 100 families had to leave their homes in Monroe County.

The U.S. Lake Survey says lake levels are going to go higher, and that we can expect even more severe flood conditions in the coming Summer and Fall.

STATE MOVES: To cope with this situation, I formed an emergency state flood control council.

On this council we will have representatives of the Governor's office, the Waterways Commission, Water Resources Commission, National Guard, State Police, Highway Department, Social Welfare Department, Public Health Department, Civil Defense, and the Red Cross.

I have asked this emergency group to make immediate surveys of the damage areas and report back to me promptly what may be done to meet the situation.

LEGISLATION ASKED: I also sent a special message to the legislature asking prompt passage of a series of bills designed to help meet the Great Lakes flood problem.

These bills were drafted by a joint Legislative committee. They make it possible for local communities to work with the State Water Resources Commission in flood control programs. Unfortunately, the State Senate, after receiving my message, allowed the key bill in this program to die in committee.

But I am hopeful that some way will be found to revive it and give us the legislation we need to help these lake shore communities threatened with water damage.

TAXES: Considerable opposition developed in the Senate last week to some of the proposed new taxes under consideration by the Legislature.

One bill—a proposal for a new tax on public utilities—failed to pass by one vote, but probably is not permanently dead. Another bill, increasing present corporation taxes by ten million dollars, passed with a single vote margin.

The Senate is considering other proposals to withdraw liquor sales tax money from the schools, and to levy a new tax on Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital and medical insurance.

RACE TAXES: Two brand new tax measures were introduced. One, sponsored by Senator Charles Blondy and Senator Patrick Walsh of Detroit, would increase by $2,000,000 the State's revenues from race tracks.

I am surprised that the legislative committee which studied the tax problem overlooked this obvious source of new revenues.

Another new bill would impose a State income tax of 3 percent on all personal and corporate incomes over $10,000 a year. It is coupled with a proposal to remove, by Constitutional amendment, the present sales tax on food.

OTHER STATES: While the Legislature was discussing all these various tax proposals, we got some interesting figures on what has happened in other states.

You may have read things that led you to believe that Michigan is the only state of the Union which has experienced rising governmental costs. That isn't true and the record proves it isn't true.

We examined the budgets of California and New York. These are comparable to Michigan because they have an annual budget system like ours, they have experienced large population increases, and, like Michigan, they are big industrial-agricultural states.

We find that the costs of government have risen no more in Michigan, in the last five years, than in California and New York.

BUDGET FIGURES: Governor Warren of California and Governor Dewey of New York have found it necessary to increase their budgets as much as, or more than, I have.

Including the 1952-53 proposed budget, Governor Warren's costs have gone up 41 percent since the budget of 1948-49. In the same period, Governor Dewey's costs have increased 34 percent. By comparison, the budget I submitted to the Legislature in January called for an increase of 34 1/2 percent above 1948-49. Since then, Civil Service has granted a wage increase to state employees which has boosted the percentage to 37—still well under the California figure.

THE DIFFERENCE: In spite of cost increases equal to or greater than those experienced by Michigan, California and New York are, not presently having any serious financial trouble.

Here's why: both of these states have what our Legislature has refused to adopt—a corporation profits tax. And both governors, Governor Dewey of New York and Governor Warren of California, recommended and got INCREASES in their corporation profits taxes in the last several years. That's where they got the money to meet cost increases comparable to those we have experienced.

Inside The Capital

Blair Moody, U. S. Senator from Michigan

The time has come for President Truman and top Pentagon officials to rip away the iron curtain of super-caution which keeps from the American people many of the facts about 1952's terrible new weapons of war which we know are known to the Russians.

Under the labels "secret" and "top-secret", the chilling details of today's danger are kept locked away from the general public though we know, in the case of atomic weapons for example, that Klaus Fuchs, the spy, told the enemy long ago.

The result has been a declining sense of urgency, a dangerously disappointing rate of military production, and an extension of the "period of vulnerability" in which everything we hold dear is in the greatest jeopardy.

No one, of course, wants made public any information which could be of help to the Kremlin in its designs against our system and our freedom. There is, as there should be, a stringent law against release of such information except by an authorized source which, in some cases, is the President himself.

Knowledge is Strength

But whenever we can be sure the enemy knows the score, it should not be withheld from the American people. This is not merely a declaration of proper principle. It is a vital factor in defending our country. For if the people do not know the facts, they may not support measures which are indispensable to the defense of our country. And if they do not support them, it may prove to be the most costly blunder in all of world history.

For it is a fact worth remembering that one hydrogen bomb could destroy an estimated one million Americans, and Fuchs, as representative of the British government, sat in on the planning stage of our hydrogen bomb project that is now going forward.

From the combined military budget of approximately 60 billion dollars, of which some 52 billions is for U.S. military and 7.9 for helping our allies build our mutual security, there is waste that can be carved.

Less will be saved because the Senate failed to pass the McClellan Bill, setting up adequate nonpolitical staffing so Congress will really know what is in the budget, when it is reported out by the Committee on Government Operations last year. This measure is now on the calendar but can not be effectuated in time for the current budget.

How far Congress should cut into the bone and muscle of the program, as contrasted with the fat, however, is the most serious question facing the country. Either we are in real danger, acute danger, or we are not. If we are not, then this tremendous national effort and vast expenditure is an aberration which should be stopped.

Cannot Afford the Risk
If we could stop it, then we could slash Federal expenses to a fraction of present levels, cut taxes and devote the production now pouring into arms to the production and distribution of goods which would improve the living standards of the people.

But such a decision entails turning over our future to the good intentions, if any, of 14 men in the Kremlin. Anyone who would do that obviously ought to have his head examined. And if we are not to do that, but realize that our chance of avoiding a hydrogen-bomb conflict probably rests with how rapidly we build our strength relative to the Soviets, then the wisdom of building our strength at the swiftest possible rate is clear.

But to do this requires a great degree of national self-discipline. It involves rates of taxation and degrees of temporary economic controls which no one devoted to our free system likes or wants to continue a moment longer than necessary. And these in turn require understanding of the problem which begets a universal sense of urgency.

Deplorable Complacency
If members of the Senate could impart to their people the knowledge that they have of the nature of today's weapons—and they do not know all about it because there is no need for them—there would be little complacency in the country.

The Preparedness Committee, headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (Dem.), Texas, in criticizing the lag in production reported: "Underlying all these reasons was one common denominator, the lack of a sense of urgency. Every study, every investigation, convinced the committee of one basic fact: that armaments production is lagging not so much because mistakes have been made, but because there was not sufficient determination to surmount obstacles, to overcome difficulties, to achieve the improbable."

The Russians have a fighter plane, the MIG, that is as good as ours, in some respects better. They outnumber our supply five to one. Are we catching up? We are not. They will outproduce us in jets this year by 3 1/2 to 1, perhaps 5 to 1. This is not true in all categories. But it is true often enough so it would be national folly to presume that we alone can utilize the modern techniques of war.

Might As Well "Get In Key"

Last Tuesday Judge Cunningham wanted to go fishing. "Why aren't you working?" I asked.

Judge explained how his wife had gone on a trip, taken his keys by mistake—and now he couldn't get in the office. So we went fishing.

Next day, he wanted me to go again. I was surprised those keys hadn't shown up yet. "The little woman phoned to say she mailed them," the Judge explained. "They're now in the office, under the mail slot. I'd get 'em if I could just open that door." He grinned and picked up his fishing rod.

"Great little woman, the wife. You can always count on her. Let's go!"

From where I sit, we can see tolerance like the Judge shows for his wife's absent-mindedness... and she shows for his habit of lighting out for the fishing hole at every opportunity. He can't see why she likes tea, and she doesn't share his taste for a glass of beer. But they get along fine! Learning to respect other people's ways will "open the door" to happier living.

Naming of Counties in Michigan Reviewed by Wayne U. Historian

Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, who gave Indian names to many Michigan counties, is memorialized by Schoolcraft County (shaded) which is near six Upper Peninsula counties bearing Indian names. Five counties in the Lower Peninsula bear Irish names; seven others are named for prominent statesmen of President Jackson's era.

Names of many of Michigan's 83 counties can be traced, oddly enough, to one man, a scholar-explorer who, more than a century ago, married the daughter of a powerful Chippewa chieftain and became an authority on Indians.

Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, head of the Northwest Indian Affairs Bureau, learned much about Indian life and folklore from his part-Indian wife, and published several books about Indians. In 1840 he was commissioned to name the then-remaining untitled counties of Michigan, and to these he gave Indian names.

Dr. Sidney Glazer, Michigan historian who is on the staff of Wayne University in Detroit, has reviewed the derivation of county names throughout the state. He shows that Schoolcraft originally picked names for 28 of Michigan's counties, 27 of these being of Indian origin. Some of the names were dropped, however, when a feud developed between Schoolcraft and Charles O'Malley, then a member of the State Senate.

O'Malley's influence brought about a change in four county names to new titles derived from districts in Ireland. Antrim County was originally to be called Megisee; Wexford, Kautawaukiet; Clare, Kaykaakee; and Roscommon, Mikenauk.

John Ball brought a bird house that he had painted in his Cub Scout work. This makes three that can be put out so that the group may observe birds in their nest making.

New Health Facts by Nancy Ann Sowell

Mr. Portly: Why? Weighing Machine: Because overweight people are more liable to develop heart disease and other ailments. They die younger.

That weighing machine isn't joking! Mr. Portly's chances of living to a ripe old age just aren't as good as they would be if Portly enjoyed normal weight. Overweight people are much more prone to diabetes, high blood pressure, kidney trouble, and other maladies. That's proven authoritative medical knowledge.

These facts were graphically reported after extensive experience by one of the nation's largest insurance companies, and presented at the latest convention of the American Medical Association.

There are about 25 million overweight adults in the United States. Doctors agree, this is one of our most urgent national health problems, but they point out that overweight is one serious disease for which they know the cause (overeating) — and the cure (diet prescribed by a physician).

Now everybody knows that sticking to a reducing diet isn't easy. To help, Dr. Norman Jolliffe, nutrition chief of the New York City Health Department, says, try citrus juices.

Recently Dr. Jolliffe selected 42 overweight people of various ages, prescribed a reducing diet, and told them to drink a glass of orange or grapefruit juice about half an hour before lunch and dinner. The juice was intended to take the edge off their appetites, and it did. Not all stuck to their diet without a slip, but they did pretty well. Among them, they lost the overwhelming total of 603 pounds in four weeks!

This doesn't mean that every orange juice drinker will (at once) become thin. It does mean that orange juice, when taken at the proper time, along with a proper diet, can help in the struggle against obesity.

The truth about overweight: It's bad for your health and for your chances of living a long life. Your chances go up if your weight goes down. Overweight is caused primarily by eating too much. Essential for reducing is a high-protein, low-carbohydrate diet. Your doctor can prescribe one, and you can help him and yourself by taking fewer calories each day. Citrus juices before meals seem to make it easier.

Winners Announced In Church Essay And Poster Contest

Mrs. Alfred Kuhl, chairman of the Stewardship Essay and Poster Contest, announced the decision of the judges of the contest which closed in Emanuel on March 16. In group A, Jo Ann Koehnke was awarded first place and Dagna Kuhl, second. In Group B Thomas Lannom was awarded first place and Janet Braun, second. These four essays were forwarded to the Michigan-Indiana Synod contest and, if they win there, they will be forwarded to Philadelphia for the nation-wide contest. Others who entered essays and deserve honorable mention are: Charles Kemner, Ray Kemner and Betty Blaser in Group A and Marilyn Ahrens, Pauline Buss and Joyce Kemner in Group B.

Only two posters were entered in the local contest and they were in two different groups. Both posters were forwarded to the Michigan-Indiana Synod contest. They were on display one Sunday in the parish hall.

The judges for the contest were Mrs. LeRoy Humerdinger, Mrs. Harold Helbig and Gottlieb Jacob.

Cub Scouts To Be Entertained By Boy Scouts

On Friday evening, April 4, a special program has been planned for the Cub Scouts and their parents at which time the Boy Scouts and their Scoutmaster Paul Kappler will be hosts. The meeting will be held at the Emanuel church hall at 7:35 p. m.

All Cub Scouts and their parents are cordially invited but particular emphasis is being stressed that boys who have graduated from the Cubs and have not as yet joined the Boy Scouts be urged to attend the meeting. According to Roscoe Lannom, chairman of the local Scout committee, there is a large group of boys eligible for the Scoutmaster position who have not enrolled. Others working on the affair are Scoutmaster Paul Kappler, Cubmaster Erwin Huber and Carole Winkler and Howard Higgins, who have very recently been appointed to the Washtenaw Livingston Scout Council as field executives.

Welcome To Manchester Youngsters

Our apologies to three little guys! First we want to welcome the newest member to the staff of the Manchester Enterprise, Stephen Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Giesel, who was born on March 17, at the Saline hospital. Little Stephen weighed eight pounds, 10 1/2 oz. at birth. Incidentally, he is the son of the publisher of the Manchester Enterprise. Latest report is that both mother and son are doing fine at their home at the Saline Valley Farms.

Second, our greetings to Larry Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Benedict, another St. Patrick's Day baby who tipped the scales at 9 lbs., 5 oz. when he was born at the Tecumseh hospital on March 17. Mrs. Benedict and her young son are doing nicely at their home on City road.

Third—last but by no means least, a big welcome to Stephen John, Manchester's own Main St. youngster—Stephen John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton, owners of the Manchester Central Market, who was born on March 16th at St. Joseph Mercy hospital at Ann Arbor. Stephen broke the record for he weighed 11 lbs., 2 oz. at birth. Both mother and son are doing fine at their apartment above the store on Main street.

Yes, we are apologizing to the parents and their sons for not having the births in last week's paper. Obviously the editor would have wanted this news item in on time, for one birth concerned the publisher of our paper, the second was the editor's cousin and the third concerned one of our own merchants. We know now just how it seems to have our items left out of the paper—but as usual we can't find the bottleneck.

Immunization Clinic Here April 9

County-wide immunization clinics to protect children of Washtenaw county against diphtheria, tetanus and small pox is being conducted by the Washtenaw County Medical Society according to Dr. Bradley Harris, president of the society. This is the eighth year that the Medical Society has sponsored these clinics in cooperation with the County Health Department and the schools. Last year over 8,000 children were served in the clinics, 6,000 of them were vaccinated against smallpox and over 7,000 received protection against diphtheria and lockjaw, he added. "If the clinics are as successful this year and in succeeding years as they have been in the past," Dr. Harris said, "danger of an epidemic of either smallpox or diphtheria will continue to be greatly reduced." Tetanus booster shots were added, the doctor reported, as a part of the civil defense program.

On Wednesday, April 9, the clinic will be in Manchester. In the clinics, children who have not been vaccinated in the last five years will be offered vaccination for smallpox. Those who have not been immunized in the last three years for diphtheria and tetanus will receive booster doses for protection against these diseases. According to Dr. Harris, the physicians are contributing their time free of charge in these clinics rather than to have to treat any of them for either diphtheria, smallpox or tetanus. The services of the Health Department and the schools are tax supported. No charge is made at the clinics for the immunization or vaccinations made.

the "Extra Something" that pays you more

Only the ALL-CROP Harvester has air blast separation. Between cylinder and strawrack, shelled grain and straw are whirled upward in a high arcing blast of air. Kernels are thrown free from the lighter straw and chaff, separating much of the material even before it reaches the big ten-foot strawrack. This extra separating action saves more grain, beans and seeds — puts more in the bin and more in your pocket. It's another reason why a New ALL-CROP Harvester belongs first on your list for '52. ALL-CROP is an Allis-Chalmers trade-mark.
