Sale Of Bulbs Requires Certification And License

Those citizens of the State who are growing and selling hardy plant bulbs will be vitally interested in an opinion recently received by the Michigan Department of Agriculture from Attorney General Frank J. Millard, according to Mr. C. A. Boyer, Chief, Bureau of Plant Industry. The opinion interprets the legal definition of nursery stock to include all hardy plant bulbs such as those of narcissus, hyacinth, daffodil, tulip, etc., thus all of the provisions of the so-called nursery law, Act 189, P. A. 1931 as amended will apply to the sale and distribution of all hardy plant bulbs.

To sell such bulbs in Michigan they must first be inspected and certified before being offered for sale or given away, and the grower must have a plant growers license before selling the same. In fact, all persons and firms who buy and sell bulbs and are not licensed to sell perennial plants or nursery stock such as trees, shrubs, and woody vines must make application for a plant dealers license for each sales outlet at the cost of $2.00 annually. The fiscal year for nursery stock starts September 15 each year and growers of hardy plant bulbs should request inspection early and have license before the beginning of each fiscal year.

Those dealers or growers employing agents either as door to door salesmen or sales clerks must at the same time make application for agent's permits for those persons at the cost of $1.00 each.

Persons or firms in Michigan receiving hardy plant bulbs from foreign countries must notify Mr. Boyer of the arrival of such shipments so an inspection of the bulbs may be made while in the original shipping containers.

Library Board Has Meeting

At the April 30th meeting of the library board, officers were elected for the year, committees appointed and plans made to have the building painted in the near future.

The officers of the board for 1952-53 are F. W. Schiller, chairman; Mrs. Ray Kerr, vice chairman; Mrs. John Pippenger, secretary; Mrs. Franklin Reck, treasurer. Miss Donna Watkins and Mrs. Pippenger are on the book committee; Lauron Leeson and F. W. Schiller, building and maintenance and Mrs. Reck and Mrs. Kerr, public relations. Miss Jane Palmer is the librarian.

The interior of the library was refinished early this spring and it is hoped that the exterior will soon match the rest of the building in which the building is located. The building is in excellent shape and is used by a number of groups. There is a Cub Scout workshop in the basement and there are numerous committee and club meetings held at the library during the year. Such meetings should be arranged with Miss Palmer in advance to avoid overlapping of meetings.

The summer program is being planned and the details will be announced this month. The book committee assists Miss Palmer with this activity. It is again requested that the public note the hours when the library is open. Although it is easy to get in touch with Miss Palmer at anytime because she has her apartment at the library, there is no reason why she should serve the public except during library hours. Monday's hours are 12 to 1 and 2 to 5; Wednesdays, 12 to 1, 2 to 5 and 7 to 10. Friday's hours are 12 to 1 and 2 to 5; Saturday's, 10 to 1, 2 to 5 and 7 to 10.

GOV. WILLIAMS

REPORTS TO THE People

By G. Mennen Williams
Governor of Michigan

LANSING—It was unfortunate that the Legislature, upon returning to Lansing, last week, found itself unable to get into a legal session to act on any of the problems arising from the riot at Southern Michigan Prison.

The Legislature had adjourned to May 14. After most of the members had returned to the capitol on May 1, it was discovered that the chambers could not legally re-convene without consent of every member. Two Senators could not be located to give such consent.

I was able nevertheless, to address the two houses in an informal joint meeting and give them the facts on the prison riot as we know them now.

In my message I answered a number of questions which must have arisen in your minds, as well as in the minds of legislators.

STEAK AND ICE CREAM: One question was this: why did we promise these felons steak and ice cream for dinner if they surrendered and released the hostage guards?

I answered it this way: "We traded steak and ice cream for nine human lives."

Warden Frisbie used good psychology in offering the rebellious inmates a good meal if they would surrender and release the nine hostages unharmed.

In that cell block were many men out of sympathy with the riot leaders, men who had not eaten a meal in days. The prospect of a square meal was undoubtedly a factor in bringing about surrender of the convicts at the earliest moment, and saving the lives of the guards.

Pigs Will Be Pigs

CAUSES: There is no doubt that understaffing and overcrowding were contributing causes to this disaster at Jackson.

Appropriation cuts have reduced guard personnel at Jackson consistently for the last several years. In 1948, we had 460 guards inside the walls at Jackson. Two years later the number had fallen to 449. At the time of the riot there were only 412.

For the prison as a whole—inside and outside the walls—we had 572 custodial employees in 1948 and 536 on April 25, 1952. During the same period total population of the prison rose from 5,800 to 6,454.

NEW CUTS: I asked the Legislature to reconsider its appropriation for prisons for the coming fiscal year because these appropriations will force further cuts in guard forces.

The funds provided by the Legislature for the next fiscal year for the whole prison system are $226,000 under current levels. For salaries at Jackson prison alone, the Legislature has given us $151,000 less money for the next fiscal year than we have for the current fiscal year taking into account Civil Service increases.

This will mean a reduction of 75 positions in the prison system as a whole, including about 43 employees at Jackson, eight or ten at Marquette and at least five more at Ionia.

PRISON NEEDS: I told the legislators the warden at Jackson says he will need $460,000 additional money to staff the prison adequately during the next 14 months. Of this $25,000 is for overtime due guards and other employees who worked around the clock for the past two weeks. The rest is to employ 122 additional guards at Jackson.

The corrections commissioner reports he will need 75 more guards to staff Ionia and Marquette institutions adequately.

OVERCROWDING: I also asked the lawmakers to reconsider their refusal to allow $600,000 for a new building at Ionia to house youthful inmates.

This building would help to relieve the overcrowding at Jackson and to get young prisoners out of the influence of such men as "Crazy Jack" Hyatt and Earl Ward.

Jackson now has about 200 more prisoners than it has cells to lock them in. These cellless prisoners sleep on cots in the corridor of cell blocks.

This overcrowding is worse in view of the fact that a properly run prison should have about 10 percent of its cells vacant at all times. This is to permit classification of inmates, and segregation of the sex delinquents, mental cases and trouble-makers. When a prison is filled to overflowing this cannot be done.

YIELDED NOTHING: Another question was this: what did the state really agree to in the famous 11-point peace settlement which ended the mutiny?

The answer I gave the Legislature was this: The state yielded substantially nothing.

The "no reprisal" clause did not in any way prevent prosecution of the rioters for any violation of law. The attorney general is now proceeding to gather evidence for such prosecutions. With this I am in full accord. They must not be one of Michigan's "inside-the-walls" or "outside-the-walls" prisoners of Michigan.

PUNISHMENT: The agreement was to give the rioters the full benefit of the law. It did not mean that they were to be treated as "political prisoners" or "hostages."

The rioters were not to be treated as "political prisoners" or "hostages." They were to be treated as "prisoners of law."

Three of the mutiny ring leaders are already in solitary confinement in county jails for offenses committed since the mutiny ended.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

As a Matter of Fact...

Out of all the newspaper and magazine columns I read, the ones I enjoy most are those that pack in a whole lot of facts—unrelated facts, but each one an interesting bit of information in itself.

These columns go something like this: "Did you know that humpback whales are addicted to smoking? That bees have been bred with red, brown, and buff-color eyes? Did you know that lead can be converted to gold—at a cost of $1,000,000 an ounce? That a 555-pound fat girl went on a diet and lost 401 pounds in 12 months? That a chrysanthemum has been developed that smells like a violet?"

From where I sit, maybe I'm a kind of "Johnny-on-the-spot." My own columns always seem to revolve around one idea—a plea for us to make sure we respect the other fellow's rights—like the right to vote or your own choice or the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. It may not be in style, but I believe any one fact is worth repeating—and remembering!

Goodwill Industry Established In Detroit In 1921

More than 10,000 handicapped men and women have received employment or job training at Goodwill Industries during its existence of 31 years, with nearly $5,500,000 in wages paid them. Last year alone, 534 handicapped adults were helped and they received more than $221,000 in wages.

Goodwill Industries was established nationally 60 years ago in Boston. At the present time, over $10,000,000 is paid annually to handicapped workers by the 101 Goodwill Industries in the United States.

Detroit Goodwill Industries occupied its present headquarters at 6522 Brush street in November, 1949, giving it the most complete Goodwill workshop in the country. Present facilities will permit a trebling of the rehabilitation program and Goodwill hopes to realize that goal by 1956.

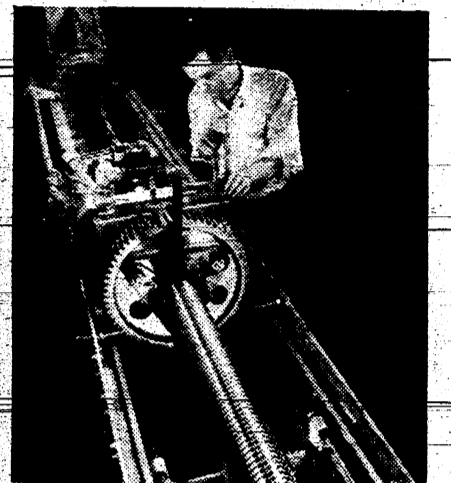

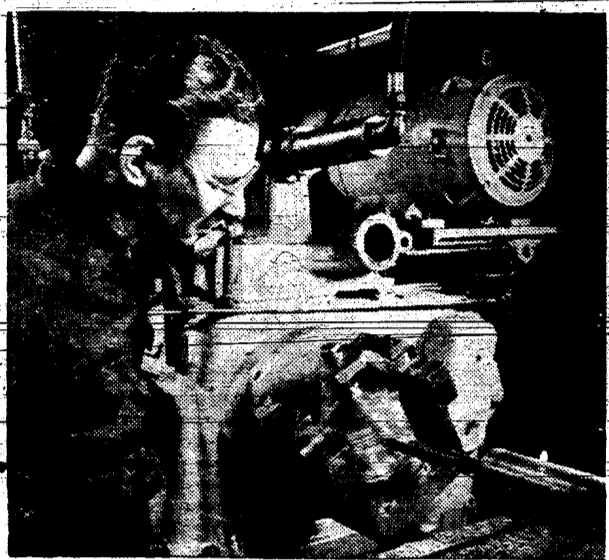

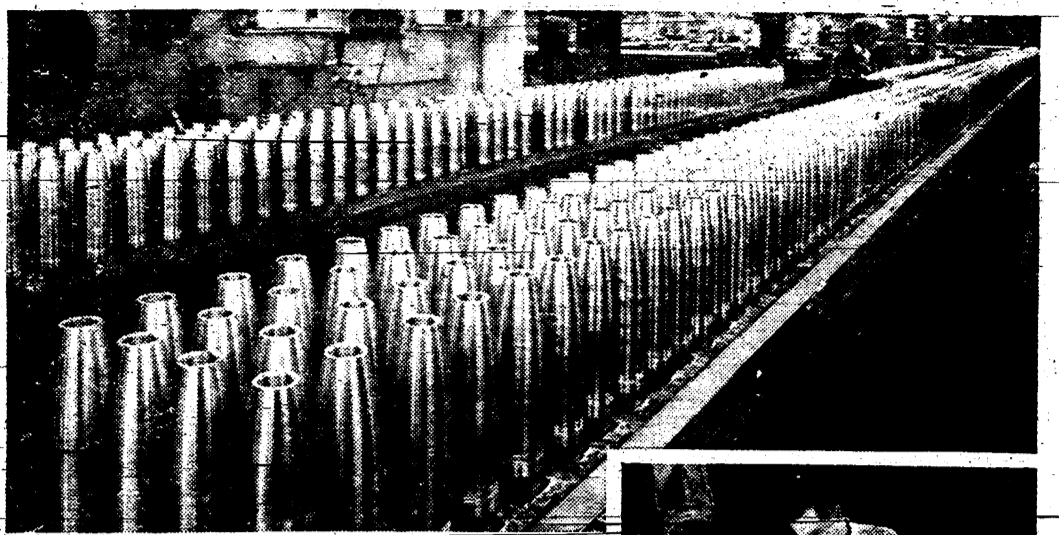

Goodwill is one of the few social agencies which maintains its program without an appeal for public funds with which to meet its operating expenses. It relies largely on contributions of household discards, although special contract assembly work has been undertaken most successfully during the past three years.

Articles of every description are welcome at Goodwill, including clothing of all kinds and sizes, hats, shoes, furniture, appliances, electrical goods, toys, dolls, sporting goods and industrial salvage. Eighteen Goodwill trucks are kept busy picking up every day the countless contributions and the Goodwill bags filled by 100,000 housewives every year.

Goodwill maintains three stores where reconditioned articles from the workshop are sold to the public—356 E. Congress, 6522 Brush street and 4716 West Warren Ave.

The public is invited to visit the Goodwill Workshops at 6522 Brush for a tour of the building. Facilities are available for groups to meet for luncheons or teas followed by a tour of the building. A lounge room is available for meetings of groups which visit the workshops.

than two and one-quarter million of the missiles to Ordnance depots, it was announced today by J. E. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and vice president of General Motors.

When Oldsmobile delivered the first 3.5 inch rockets to the Army in April, 1951, they were so short of this type ammunition that some were being flown overseas for use in the Army's new super-bazooka. Now a year later Oldsmobile is a volume producer of these lethal missiles and there also are a number of other suppliers.

Oldsmobile converted its former six-cylinder engine plant for rocket manufacture. The engine-making machinery was moved out early in 1951 and 230 other machines were installed. These included small presses and lathes from Oldsmobile's automotive operations production machines from World War II stored in government warehouses and some new machinery.

Within a few months Oldsmobile was turning out the rockets for the Ordnance Corps. Production is now stabilized at a high level and employment totals more than 800 working two shifts. Oldsmobile produces rockets of the live-head type for use in combat and rockets with practice heads for troop maneuvers and instruction in the

K. T. Keller Awarded Highest Masonic Medal

K. T. Keller, Chairman of the Board of Chrysler Corporation and Director of Guided Missiles for the Department of Defense, has been awarded the highest honorary decoration of the Masonic Order's Scottish Rite, the Gourgas Medal, for "notably distinguished service in the cause of Freemasonry, humanity and country."
Since its creation in 1938, the Gourgas Medal has been awarded to only three other Freemasons including the late King Gustav V of Sweden for "outstanding service in connection with the International Red Cross," President Harry S. Truman in recognition of his work during World War II as head of the Truman Committee, and Dr. Melvin M. Johnson, Sovereign Supreme Commander of the Masonic Order's Supreme Council, for his contributions in the field of mental hygiene and to Masonry.
Mr. Keller, who was crowned a 33rd Mason in 1942, is the first industrialist to be awarded the Gourgas Medal. He was honored not only for his well-known achievements in industry, but also for his outstanding service to the country in many capacities during both war and peace.

ACTED WISELY: I told the legislature I believe we acted wisely in choosing to end the mutiny by persuasion rather than to storm the cell block with the probable loss of the lives of the pine-hoarding guards.
 There is no doubt whatever that the psychopathic prisoners in Cell Block 15 would actually have killed the guards if we had chosen the other course. Out in Colorado a few years ago seven hostage guards were brutally slain in a similar situation.
 As things now stand, the mutiny has ended with a minimum of bloodshed. The hostages are all alive. As far as we know now, not a single prisoner escaped. Order and discipline have been restored.

Jackson Raceway Has Big Opening

Jackson Raceway ushered in Michigan's 1952 racing season Friday, May 2, on a high note that augurs well for the standardbred and thoroughbred sport in the Wolverine state this summer.
 For its fourth season of harness racing, the Jackson half-mile oval has completely remodeled its 7800-seat grandstand and constructed a new mutuels plant built around its installation of automatic totalisator equipment.
 Opening night drew a crowd of 5250 who wagered $85,909, only $258 less than the track's all-time high set on closing night last year and 50 percent greater than the $57,943 that went through the mutuels windows on opening night.

The International Pace was taken handily by the 4-year-old Dominion Boy owned by Mrs. Miriam H. Neely of Huntington Woods, Michigan, and driven by Mac MacQuarrie. Dominion Boy took the mile in 2:18 1/5.

Best pay-off of the night was the $1000, $800 and $440 by Lady Maude G. in the first race. She combined with Laurel Scott in the second race for a $6640 daily double return.

Two drivers escaped injury when they figured in accidents. Driver Ken Lighthill was pitched from the sulky by Yukon in the second race, the horse circling the track before being halted. Herman Foist had a close call when Diamond Pointer jumped at the start of the fifth race, losing a wheel from his sulky when he pitched into another entry. Foist was hurled to the track and with one leg still wedged in the sulky dragged several hundred feet down the track before the horse stopped.

Hollywood Stars Visit "Know Your America" Set

Members of the cast for "Know Your America" traveled to Jackson for the Michigan American Legion week-end professional production when famed Hollywood comedians Lou Costello and Bud Abbott, paid a visit to the show's "staging" location in Detroit. Heartily endorsing the production, both comedians thought it one of the finest American spectacles they had viewed in eighteen years of show business.
 Dale McIntyre will narrate the show. The ninety minute musical pageant will open its thirty-two-city tour at the Holland Tulip Festival May 16 and wind up in Detroit June 17.

Just Watch Your Garden Grow!

New thrills in home gardening, with visible results in less than two weeks, are due for the homemaker this season, thanks to a new completely soluble plant food that takes the guesswork out of gardening.
 Garden drudgery is banished as well by the new plant food, which is extremely convenient to use. You simply mix the contents of a small packet in two gallons of water, and apply to plants, garden, or lawn with hose, sprinkler, or watering can.
 Scientists at Battelle Memorial Institute, non-profit research organization, developed the new product, aptly named Nurish. Plants and lawns flourish as never before when fertilized with the new food, and there is no heavy package to carry around the yard. The concentrated food is odorless and stainless, won't harm skin or clothing, and a quart costs less than a penny.
 The liquid fertilizer takes advantage of the fact that plants take their nourishment by liquid, which is Nature's method. The new 20-20-20 formula—20 per cent each of nitrogen, potassium, and phosphorus—is augmented by essential micro-nutrients never before combined in plant food.

they finally parted without any violence being attempted.

The justice of the minister's attitude and the fairness and kindness in which he had acted finally won its way into the heart of the accused. The minister had made no compromise with truth to avoid suffering or even to prevent the threat of death.

Prayer

Our Father, we learn from the shadow of Christ's cross that if our lives are to be crowned with victory, they must first know the meaning of suffering. We do not seek pain, but help us not to shirk duty or responsibility regardless of the cost, even unto death. In the name of Him who died to conquer, Amen.

Thought For The Day

Whatever the cost, I will be true to Christ.

Early Opening Argued
 Up and down Michigan trout streams on the opening weekend fishermen argued: Had the early opening on inland lakes taken some of the pressure off the trout streams? Or did you hold with the school that contended trout fishermen could never be wowed away from the thrill of that long-awaited opening weekend?
 From our own survey the opening day parade looked just about as long and populous as ever, but that's not the real test. The next month will probably show slackening interest in trout because anglers will be diverted to lakes closer to home—at least that's the belief of our Conservation Department's fish division. And thus the terrific drain on Michigan trout will be somewhat relieved.

Costly Project
 It costs real money to hatch a trout, raise him to legal length, transport him from the hatcheries and release him in a stream that may be many miles away. The figure is said to be about 40¢ per fish. On a million-fish basis the bill is a little alarming—$400,000.
 Whatever fisheries experts think of the idea is neither here nor there. Sportsmen apparently demand it. Resort operators like it, too. So it's likely to continue for awhile. The day may come however, when the picture will change, and we'll go back to nature's way of maintaining fish populations.

New Rules Point Way
 Sometime in the not too far distant future many of our best trout streams may be restricted to fly-fishing only. The new regulations for 1952 point the way. With fly-fishing-only allowed in certain streams, and the limit cut to an adequate ten per day our elaborate and costly trout-planting program may gradually become unnecessary. The money saved may be spent more wisely on stream improvement necessitated by erosion resulting from over-zealous lumber operations. That's where man can help nature. But when it comes to helping nature maintain trout population by raising and releasing a million fish a year, man fails to meet the challenge in more ways than one. If you don't believe it, compare the flavor of a hatchery-raised trout and one of Mother Nature's children of the stream! You'll be surprised!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:15 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

I Would Be True
 Thursday, May 8
 If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf. (I Peter 4:16.) Read I Peter 4:12-19.
 A missionary discovered evidence of a serious nature against a certain church member. That very day the minister visited the offender. She haughtily denied any guilt.
 That same night the disturbed husband of the accused met the minister on a dark street. "I have come for blood," he said to him. "Tell me who made the accusation to you about my wife. Either you or he dies tonight." The minister, of course, refused to betray the confidence of his informants. But he was still interested in the welfare of this confused man and his family.
