Brothers Meet After 51 Years

Demons Lead Junior Softball League

The Demons chalked up two victories in recent Junior Softball League encounters to take an early lead in the league standings. They defeated Tommy Lannom's Spitballs 17 to 6 on Friday as Tom Adams got his first win for the Demons, and Tom Lannom took the loss. Billy Hainstock led the winners in hitting with three hits and two walks in five trips to the plate. Tom Lannom led his team with a single and a triple in four tries.

The Demons remained undefeated on Tuesday as they walloped the Bulldogs 27 to 5 in a

William Pfauss Arrives July 4th

For more than half a century three Pfauss brothers have not seen one another. They met for the first time in 51 years on July 4th at the home of Oscar Pfauss of Ann Arbor. Edward Pfauss 66, Manchester farmer, who lives at 13595 Bethel church road and Oscar Pfaus, 57, of 612 Felch street, Ann Arbor saw their brother, William, 68, for the first time after a span of 51 years. William Pfauss, now 68, left the family home at the age of 17 in 1901 when Edward was 15 and Oscar was five after the death of their mother.

William, who retired in 1949

after 34 years as a freight check clerk in Minneapolis, Minn., with the Northern Pacific Railway came to Washtenaw County unannounced to see his brothers. They didn't recognize one another at first—after the long lapse of time but it wasn't long until they were comparing notes of 51 years ago.

There are four brothers. The fourth, Charles, 64, is even more a mystery to Edward and Oscar than William had been. None of the three has seen Charles in the last 25 years. William heard from Charles about 11 years ago. At that time, Charles was working as a private detective in Chicago. They are not even certain that he is alive. William is at present visiting at the farm of his brother Edward in Manchester township which the latter has operated for the past 42 years. Oscar, a foreman at the Cook Spring plant of the Barnes Gibson & Raymond Co. at Ann Arbor and his wife were guests of the Ed. Pfauss family at a dinner and memory session. William, whose wife has passed away, has not decided how long he will remain but expects to be on his way in about two weeks for Minnesota—knowing what his two brothers look like—something he hasn't known for over half a century. The Pfauss brothers father died in 1934 at the home of Oscar in Ann Arbor. He had traveled around and kept in touch with the sons through the years.

Valley Farms Has Closed Picnic Area

The swimming and picnicking facilities of Saline Valley Farms has been closed to all persons except those holding special permits issued by the farm.

The move was brought about because of the safety situation in handling such large numbers of people. There is no lifeguard on duty and with crowds in swimming on hot days there is great danger of drowning and of unsanitary conditions.

The resulting automobile traffic has become quite a hazard to the many young children who live on and who visit the farm.

It was in consideration of these factors that has forced the farm management to take these necessary steps.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steinaway a son, Gale Arthur on Wednesday, June 25th at the Herrick Memorial Hospital at Tecumseh. Gale Arthur weighed 7 pounds four ounces at birth. Mrs. Steinaway and infant son returned home Tuesday July 1.

The Main Street

We had a little visitor in the office this week—two year old Frances Mary Eckles, daughter of the Clark Eckles. Frances Mary has just recovered from a tonsillotomy at the Herrick Memorial hospital in Tecumseh. The little girl, who we understand was a model patient, was released the day after the operation.

Every once in awhile someone reports an unusual visitor—so it was with Don Sutton who was telling us that they had a funny little fellow perched up in one of the trees in their yard—a young coon, which Don judged to be about six weeks old perched in the tree 'til it was rescued by Bill Craft and several youngsters who took it out in the county and turned it loose.

LeRoy Breitenwischer of RFD 1 is having a new porch built on the front entrance of his house. The construction is of brick and concrete.

Luther Klager is home again after attending the National Conference for the hatcheries in the United States which was held at Dallas, Texas. Others from Michigan who attended were Jacob Goerling of Zeeland, Howard Zindell of Michigan State College and Art Hannah.

Talking with R. C. Sortor he told us that there will be no band concert here on July 16 because he is scheduled to play in the concert at the U. of M. on the Mall, on that date. The line-up of summer concerts for the summer will be July 23, 30th and August 6th and 13th at the Village Park at 8:15 p. m. Mr. Sortor says that the band is improving satisfactorily, but that there are quite a few faces missing at the practices which are continuing every Monday evening.

Harold Alexander was telling us the other day that the Boy Scouts Troop 26 of Manchester will man the Manchester observation post here at a practice air raid spotting on July 9-10 from 6 to 8 p. m. and make direct reports to Grand Rapids Filter Center. Chief Observer Kenneth Weed and the troop will again be on hand July 17 when they are planning a 24 hour a day sky watch which will last for one week. Supervisor Alexander says that he is being ably assisted by Scoutmaster Paul Kappler. We are glad that the Scouts are interested enough in our welfare to be willing to devote their time to this worthwhile cause of being prepared for any emergency.

Because a large number of telephone numbers have been changed in and around Manchester we would appreciate it if those having their telephone numbers changed at this time would notify us as to the new number and we will print this list as a convenience to our readers.

The Manchester Fire Department was called out Monday to the Gordon Bowers home on M-11 west of Manchester when a fire burned out of control in the backyard near a building housing corn cobs. Donald Bowers, 12 year old son of the G Bowers, was burning paper in a container when the wind whisked some of the burning paper out and it lit on the dry grass starting the blaze. Fire Chief Schied was called and with the aid of Mrs. Bowers and a nearby neighbor managed to put out the flames before the department arrived.

New Picnic Table Sites

The Washtenaw County Road Commission has placed ten new picnic table sites along the county highway. Although the county has had a few such tables in scattered parts of the county previously, this is the first attempt on a larger scale to provide roadside eating spots. Commission Manager Howard G. Minier explained. County road crews have installed new tables and benches and trash containers on small prepared lots at these places: Pleasant Lake road at Steimbach and Chelsea—Manchester roads (one each); Stony Creek road at Whittaker road (two); Pontiac road at Joy Road (two); Werker road at Lindley road; Dexter-Chelsea road west of Fletcher road; Clinton-Manchester road at Allen road; and Six Mile road at Dixboro.

Golf Tournament Planned

A handicap Golf Tournament will be held September 6th through September 14 at Clarks Lake Golf Course. This will be medal play with handicap. A handicap of 36 holes each must be turned in before September 1 to Ted Roberts or to the Clarks Lake Golf course. Further information may be obtained by calling 4043 or contacting Ted Roberts. A trophy will be presented to the winner by Roller's Jewelry store. Everyone is welcome and urged to attend, according to Roberts this means everyone—hackers and pros. Handicap will be based on 75 per cent of the gross score.

Merriman Gets Important State Fair Committee Assignment

Unit Of WOSL To Be Established In This Area

Miss Ida O. Poe will be hostess to a tea on Sunday, July 20, from three until five at her home, 1003 Berkshire road, Ann Arbor. She will be assisted by Mrs. Lenore Ackridge of Dexter and Mrs. Hugh Gaston. The purpose is to form a unit of the Women's Overseas Service League in this area. All women who are eligible are cordially invited to attend.

Any women is eligible for membership who has served with the armed forces overseas and can show ample proof of honorable and satisfactory service. The purpose is to keep alive and develop the spirit that prompted overseas service; to maintain the ties of comradeship born of that service and to assist and further any patriotic work; to work for the welfare of the armed services; to assist in any way the men and women who were wounded or incapacitated in the service of their country and to foster and promote friendship between the United States and all other nations of the world.

John Gauss is improving slowly at his home. He was injured recently when tripped by a dog.

The toll of one dead and thirteen injured since the start of the long Fourth of July holiday weekend was considered low in the face of the record flow of traffic through Washtenaw County. It was a tragedy then that the one fatality was from Manchester.

Victim of the single fatal accident was Elmer T. Walsh 52, of this village who died of head injuries Sunday at the Herrick Memorial Hospital in Tecumseh. State Police at Clinton said that Walsh was riding in a car driven by Shade Creech, 33, also of Manchester, when it overturned on the Manchester-Chelsea road just north of town at the intersection of Lumming road about 1:00 a. m. July 4th. Troopers Harold Morrison and Russell Lane investigated and quoted Shade as saying that the car left the highway when he was blinded by the lights of an on-coming car. Police said tire marks showed the vehicle left the road before it turned over several times. Creech was not hurt in the crash.

A Chelsea man and a youth narrowly escaped serious injury when their car overturned in a ditch shortly after midnight Sunday on the Clinton-Manchester road at M-11, two miles east of Manchester.

The victims were Waldo B. Steinaway of 2751 McKinley road, Chelsea, aged 22, and Lawrence Risner, 16, of 2690 McKinley Rd. Both were taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor and later released. According to a police report the accident occurred when the brakes failed. When checked by police they found the master cylinder defective. Both occupants were thrown clear of the vehicle.

Mrs. Lowell Parr was taken to Tecumseh hospital on Tuesday after being hit by a falling flat rack at their farm on Wallace Rd.

George Merriman of Manchester, veteran member of the Michigan State Fair Board of Managers, is playing an active role in this year's State Fair to be held August 29 through September 7 at Detroit.

Merriman is serving as chairman of the Commercial and Industrial Exhibits Committee. He is also a member of the entertainment, the agriculture and livestock, the concessions and the free space committees.

Both he and ames M. Hare, new general manager, are helping reorganize State Fair policies in an effort to give a still greater emphasis to the agricultural and rural areas of Michigan without sacrificing the industrial and urban interests.

In this direction Hare has announced a number of "firsts" for this year's State Fair. The Coliseum will be entirely cleared of entertainment on September 2, 3 and 4 for livestock judging and events. On September 3 the livestock auction will be held in the evening, for the first time, to enable more buyers to attend.

There will be nightly livestock parades in the Coliseum and the six horse hitch as well as the mounted police drills will be shown inside the Coliseum this year. The premium books, listing $110,000 in prizes, now are being mailed out, the earliest in years. Entries will close August 15.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Very complete vacation picture record might start with a routine planning shot like this one.

Vacations Need Never End

WE'RE always happy when the vacation season rolls around. No matter whether yours is for days or weeks, you look forward to it and enjoy making plans. The vacation itself—the places you go, things you see, people you meet—is a wonderful change from every day life. But the vacation days do come to an end—and we find ourselves back in the old routine.

But we don't have to let the high points of the vacation fade from memory as the days go by. If we take pictures as we go, we can relive the happy days at will, relive each exciting moment, and recall pleasant companions whenever we wish. And we can share the trip with friends and relatives through the medium of our pictures.

Of course, you can buy postcard pictures of the places you visit, but they are pictures for everyone. The snapshots that you take make the scene belong to you. They say that you were there. They recall what you saw and what parts of it you liked best.

2. Members must be at least 14 years of age to be picked for county team (However, we encourage younger members to attend for the experience; and practice is well worth the time and effort).

3. Members cannot compete after having won the highest award in any state judging contest or enrolled in college.

4. Members must judge all classes to be eligible for the team.

5. Must give reasons on two classes. (selected by Judge). Last year the top five members were awarded a trip to the International Dairy Exposition in Indianapolis, Indiana. This same trip may be awarded again this year.

We will need the assistance of about 10 leaders. Your assistance will be greatly appreciated. Plan on attending now. Remember the date: Friday, July 11 at 9:00 a.m. Remember to bring your own lunch.

TODAY'S Meditation

Praying Men of the Old Testament Thursday, July 10

Behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house. And I heard him speaking unto me. (Ezekiel 43:5, 6.) Road Ezekiel 43:1-6 or Revelation 21:1-7.

Sitting on the floor at home, a four year old girl was playing with her tea set and listening to someone speaking over the radio. Soon she heard him say, "You can't play with God!" The child stopped playing and said: "Why, Mama, isn't that silly? He says you can't play with God. But you can! He is always plying with me. Look, I'm lending Him right now that new tea set Auntie gave me!"

This would be a wonderful for us if we could say to ourselves, in childlike faith: God is my Father. God in Jesus is my Companion. He is my loving Friend. When we are willing, He will fill the house of our lives with His glory.

Do we believe that God will talk and work and play with us today? Have we a difficult lesson before us, a task that is too heavy, a social engagement which may prove very profitless if we are not careful? Then let us pray that God will fulfill His promise to us, as He did to Moses, and as He does to a child: "Certainly I will be with thee."

Prayer
Heavenly Father, we would behold Thy glory and hear Thee speaking to us. Help us, O Father, to be persons upon whom Thou canst depend because of our deep love for Thee, made possible through Christ our Lord. We pray in His name. Amen.

Thought for the Day
Today I will humble myself before God and listen while He speaks to me.
Ernest T. Wall (New York)

Donald R. Johnson, County Agent, To Attend School

Donald R. Johnson, your county agricultural agent, will go back to school in early July to brush up on latest developments and research in agriculture. Members of the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension staff will conduct the meeting from July 7 through July 11 on the East Lansing campus.

Along with about 80 other county agricultural agents, Mr. Johnson will have an intensive week of catching-up. Field trips and talks Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station researchers will take up most of the time. Also on the program will be a discussion of administrative principles and instruction in the use of visual aids and television as teaching methods.

The agricultural agents will live and meet in Shaw-Hall on the campus, Mr. Johnson said.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Nervy Can a "Tenant" Get?

"Harry the Hermit" dropped in to see Judge Cunningham the other day and started complaining about that dilapidated house he lives in over near Greenwood Lake.

"Who's my landlord?" Harry wanted to know. "Whoever you pay rent to," says the Judge. "Don't pay any rent," says Harry. "Moved into that house twelve years ago and nobody ever came to collect."

"Well," says the Judge, looking mystified, "what do you have to complain about?" "Plenty," replies Harry. "Rain's pouring in my living room and if someone doesn't fix that roof, I'm moving out!"

Now Harry was only having a little joke, but from where I sit I've seen people act just about as nervy as this sometimes—seriously. Like those who enjoy all the rights Americans have worked for, and yet would take away some of those freedoms from others—for example, our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. I say these "leaks of intolerance" have no place in the "home of liberty."

Septic Tank Caution Given

Miles A. Nelson, head of the state agriculture department enforcement bureau, has issued his annual warning against overcharges by septic tank cleaners.

The bureau, he said, has already received complaints of exorbitant charges ranging up to $80 and $100. The normal charge runs about $20 he said.

The septic tank cleaners charge on the basis of volume or weight of the material removed from the tank. If there is any misrepresentation of the measurement, Nelson said, the operator is in violation of state law.

Aberdeen-Angus Field Day

Sunday, July 13, will be a big day for breeders and farmers interested in beef cattle. The annual Michigan Aberdeen-Angus Field Day and Picnic will be held at the Grand River Stock Farm, located on U.S. 16 between Williamston and Webberville.

No other state may boast of more Aberdeen-Angus cattle from the nation's popular blood lines. Award winners at many strongly contested shows have ear-marked Michigan as a breeding ground of popular, highly acceptable Angus cattle.

It would be difficult to select a more desirable central location where so many fine Angus cattle are found on one farm.

In addition to the cattle at Grand River, Raona Farms and Michigan State College will bring in animals for the day for exhibition, demonstration and judging.

Featured in the morning program, beginning at 10:30, will be an inspection of the herd bulls and a tour of the pastures and paddocks to see the breeding cows and young cattle. This will be handled by Alex Lyons, Manager and Dr. J. J. Hendren, Owner of Grand River Stock Farms.

The afternoon program, following a picnic lunch, will feature such educational events as type demonstration, judging contests, foot trimming and showing demonstrations.

Appearing in the afternoon program will be Dr. J. J. Hendren, Owner of Grand River Stock Farms; John Kendall, President, Aberdeen-Angus Association; Lyle V. Springer, Exec. Assit., American Aberdeen-Angus Association; Bob Barger, of Albion, Mich.; Dr. R. H. Nelson of Michigan State College; Col. Paul Good, Van Wert, Ohio; and Robert Williams, Secretary of Michigan Aberdeen-Angus Association.

Those attending this Field Day will have a chance to try their skill at livestock judging. There will be a contest for the ladies as well as for the men and a junior division.

Those attending this Field Day will see some of Michigan's leading breeding and show cattle. The information you will accumulate will make this day one of real interest and profit.

Economy Tips For Your Vacation Motoring

The vacation motorist can cut down his fuel bill appreciably, according to G. R. Jones, general sales manager of Oldsmobile Division, if he will avoid several harmful driving habits. He also should not neglect maintenance checkups and take into account a variety of natural obstacles. The sales executive state that Oldsmobile engineers prepared the information on gasoline economy in the interests of millions of motorists who expect to make long trips this summer.

"There's gasoline economy awaiting the driver who avoids

Modern Doors Are Flush

IN THE "gingerbread" style of the early century, doors with ornate panels were considered "just the thing." Modern living has changed this. Today's homemakers prefer their doors without dust-catching panels; they want smooth surfaces that are kept clean without effort.

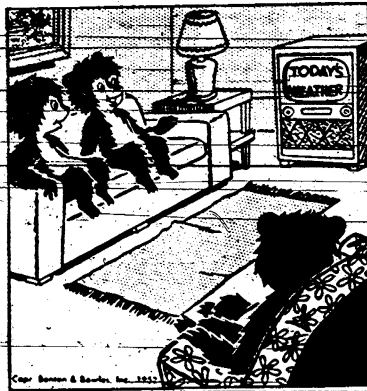

Leading builders and architects generally specify flush panel doors. Their unbroken expanses are pleasing in appearance and easy to maintain. Such doors also are reasonable in cost. In line with the trend to paint doors interesting colors, flush panel doors are particularly suited for such decoration.

Manufacturers, in many instances, are facing their doors with a smooth-surfaced panel known as Masonite Duolux. Their product is being used in various housing projects, among them the new Levittown, Pa., which is under construction for U. S. Steel Corporation employees at Fairless Works. Here, the 16,000 homes which eventually will house 70,000 persons, all have flush panel doors faced with Masonite Duolux.

"cannon ball" starts... excessive speed, prolonged idling of the engine and abrupt variations in highway speed," said Jones. "Tests show that abnormal use of fast acceleration to pass cars on the highway requires approximately one-fifth more gasoline. A speed of 70 miles an hour requires 54 percent more fuel than a speed of 30 miles an hour."

"A driver who travels in jerky style is always requiring extra fuel to regain the pace he lost because of emergency stops or abrupt slow-downs."

Many maintenance items have an important bearing on fuel economy, Jones stated. Checkups should be made on schedule, whether the proper time falls during the vacation trip or prior to starting out. He listed desirable maintenance checkups as ignition timing, carburetor adjustment, cylinder compression, air filter cleanliness, manifold heat valve, brake adjustment, tire pressure, Hydramatic throttle linkage adjustment, cooling system thermostat and engine and chassis lubrication.

"Fuel economy is also affected by natural obstacles," Jones explained. "The wise motorist will recognize that for driving in mountain country, added horsepower is required to carry car, passengers, and luggage up grades. Tests show that a two passenger load in hilly travel calls for approximately 35 percent more fuel than when the car is driven on the level. A five-passenger load takes almost 50 percent more fuel in hill driving. Strong wind resistance has been shown to cut fuel economy by 1 1/2 miles per gallon, when compared with travel on the same highway in the opposite direction."

According to the Oldsmobile sales chief, the driver of a modern automobile can have economy "if he wants it." But the vacation driver must keep in mind that no engine can give both economy and exceptional power output at the same time.

"That would be like eating your cake and having it, too," Jones said.
