D. C. Weed Resigns As School Principal

Ends 23-Year Career In Local School For Keego Harbor Post

Donald C. Weed has resigned his post at Manchester High where he was principal for the past 14 years and a teacher here for 23 years, to become principal of Keego Harbor high school. At Keego Harbor he will succeed Carl H. Bisfield. Report at the principal's leaving was expressed by F. M. Reck, president of the school board, who said Mr. Weed will be greatly missed, but that the board could not stand in his way to accept an advancement.

Mr. Weed has been very active in the Manchester Community Fair planning, a member of the Exchange Club, secretary of the Emanuel Evangelical Church Brotherhood, a member of the Jackson Camera Club and vice-president of the Youth Guidance Council.

Mrs. Weed, their son, Kenneth, 14, and daughter Audrey, a student at Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, will move with Mr. Weed to Keego Harbor.

Weed obtained his B. S. degree at Michigan State College in 1935 and his M. A. degree at the University of Michigan in 1946. Mr. Weed resigned to the Manchester School Board on Saturday morning and began his new duties at Keego Harbor on Monday.

There are 500 students in classes seven through twelve in the Keego Harbor school. Mr. Weed has twenty-two teachers under his direction and he does not do any teaching in his new position. These factors, along with a substantial salary increase were instrumental in Mr. Weed's decision to accept the principalship at the Keego Harbor school.

Former Manchester Resident Brought Here For Burial

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Emma L. Feldkamp of Ann Arbor at 1 p. m. at the Muehlig Chapel in Ann Arbor and at 3 p. m. on Monday at the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church here with the Rev. Karl H. A. Rest officiating. Burial took place at Oak Grove Cemetery here. Mrs. Feldkamp, 81, died at the home of a son Arthur G. Feldkamp of 824 Brown street, Ann Arbor.

She was born on December 30, 1870, in Freedom township, a daughter of Gerhard and Anna Maria Feldkamp Vogeding, and was married to Fried L. Feldkamp in Freedom township on August 29, 1893.

The couple made their home at Pleasant Lake for five years before moving to Stockbridge where Mr. Feldkamp died in 1907. Mrs. Feldkamp moved to Manchester where she resided until coming to Ann Arbor in 1923.

She was an active member of both the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church and Ladies Arbeiter Society of Manchester and belonged to the Ladys Aid Society of the Zion Lutheran Church of Ann Arbor.

Besides Arthur Feldkamp, survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Floyd Routsen and a son, Walter H. both of Ann Arbor; three brothers, Samuel of Manchester, John of Clinton and Frank of Crystal River, Florida; and two grandchildren.

Rev. Karl H. A. Rest officiated at the funeral and burial took place in Sharon Center Cemetery.

Local Delegates Go To County Democratic Meet

Frank Reck and James Hendley of Manchester township, Nina Arend and Fred Arend of Saline township, Elmer Mayer and Paul Feldkamp of Sharon township, Martin Hoelzer and Fred Arend of Bridgewater township, Alfred Kuhl and Arthur Sprague of Freedom township, and Harry M. Cole and Milton Pool of Lodi township were elected as delegates to the Democratic county convention held Wednesday night in the County Court House.

Delegates to the county convention were this year for the first time nominated by petition rather than by precinct caucuses in both the Democratic and Republican parties. The major business of the county convention was to elect delegates to the state convention to be held Saturday, August 16, in Lansing. The state convention will nominate the rest of the Democratic slate to appear on the November ballot. John P. Dawson, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second Congressional District, was the keynote speaker at the county convention.

The school study contended that this surplus made it possible to lower the tax allocation to the county and proportionately raise the allocation to the school districts. Marsh said that rather than an accumulated excess of $1,700,000, the actual fact is that an excess of $130,764 will exist at the end of 1952—provided the $263,229 balance anticipated in the current budget is not absorbed before the end of the year.

The supervisors report held that the school study in not taking into consideration any of the transferred funds "that maintain the county's most costly departments, such as direct relief, social welfare, county health and many other items that are not a part of the general fund obligations."

When these items are included, the report said, "the excess in 1949 of $319,578, becomes a debit of $81,623; the excess of $453,859 in 1950 becomes a debit of $201,278; and the excess of $383,169 in 1951 is reduced to an excess of $150,436."

Marsh said the school study, presented to the tax board by Lawrence F. Krueger, superintendent of Pittsfield School District No. 9, anticipated a county balance of $570,000 at the end of 1952.

It is hard to see how the school report can anticipate such a balance at the end of the year in a report made in July, Marsh told the Board.

Balance Could 'Quickly Disappear' "If the adopted budget for 1952 proves to be accurate, we can expect a balance of $263,229. This balance, as we all know, can very quickly disappear if any unfortunate conditions arise in direct relief, social welfare or health, such as a prolonged steel strike, general layoffs or epidemics."

But, Marsh said, the balance is not lost to the school district if it is not used by the county. In that case, it is used as a credit in next year's budget request.

The allocation board allowed the county to levy five mills of tax of $5 on each $1,000 of property valuation, and gave the major school districts the remaining 10 mills of the available 15.

This allocation has been protested, however, as unfair by Pittsfield District No. 9, Pittsfield No. 6 (Roberts School), and Superior No. 2 (Fractional (Dixboro)).

The State Tax Commission has not yet ruled on the appeals.

Board Denies School Men's Tax Charges

Report Refutes 'Serious' Claims Against County Budgeting Practices

The Board of Supervisors this morning refuted what it labelled "some very serious charges" made by school interests against the county's budgeting practices.

In a one-man report prepared by Supr. Robert H. Marsh of Ypsilanti, the Board denied charges by school men to the effect that the county has been banking large cash surpluses in each of the past four years.

Marsh said the school report presented earlier this year to the Washtenaw County Tax Allocation Commission, indicated that the county "has accumulated or disposed of without record" about $1,700,000 over that four-year period.

Asked Higher Allocation The school study contended that this surplus made it possible to lower the tax allocation to the county and proportionately raise the allocation to the school districts.

Marsh said that rather than an accumulated excess of $1,700,000, the actual fact is that an excess of $130,764 will exist at the end of 1952—provided the $263,229 balance anticipated in the current budget is not absorbed before the end of the year.

Fur Show To Be Held At St. Thomas School

The Southwest Deanery of Catholic Women are sponsoring a Fur Fashion Show on Tuesday evening, August 19, at 8:30 p. m. in St. Thomas Auditorium, Ann Arbor, presented by Richland Furs. A four-skin Kolinsky fur scarf will be awarded as a door prize. Refreshments will be served following the show.

On the committee are Mrs. E. J. Willis of Northville, Mrs. George Enoch of Ypsilanti, Miss Mary O'Hara of Ann Arbor and Miss Margaret Kelley of Blissfield. "The Romance of Furs" will present an educational as well as a glamorous showing of furs. The geographic importance of the fur industry is portrayed through native costumes, folk dances and comment preceding the modeling of furs from many lands.

To the tune of the bagpipes, the show opens with the Highland Fling performed by a dancer clad in the traditional Scottish plaid. From there the world tour includes a vista of fur sources on the European continent, through the vast expanse of Russian territory, and to the African coast where the tom-tom beat brings forth a dance of the jungle.

Climaxing the parade of nations is a tour of North America where the furs which have had an important bearing on the economic and historical development of our land.

In this array of furs will be Mutton Lamb, muskrat, Persian Lamb in grey, black and burgundy shades, rabbit at its best, broad-tail beaver, caracul, silver fox, Somali leopard and seals.

The public is invited and tickets will be available at the door.

Miss Way Feted At Shower

Mrs. Ivy Dintaman entertained a miscellaneous shower on Saturday evening for Miss Ann Way of Ann Arbor. The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Aller for members of the Silver Lake Community Club and friends.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Alvin Beuerle and Mrs. Theodore Blumenauer, who arranged the entertainment.

Oklahoma Ranch To Sponsor Street Dance At Show

Final preparations have been completed for the Fifth Annual "Rodeo and Western Horse Show" to be held at the Oklahoma Ranch Arena on Sunday, August 17th. The members of the Oklahoma Ranch Club have been busy in the last few weeks in planning and getting ready for this annual affair.

The backing chairs were improved, each pair colored to coordinate the rough stock and cattle that are necessary to put on this show. It takes about fifty head of stock to put on a rodeo of this kind, backing horses, calves for calf roping, bulls for riding, cattle for the cutting horse contest.

The cattle used will be Herefords with Brahman for bulk riding. This week the club is installing bleachers on the west side of the arena in the shade for the comfort of the spectators. The ladies of the club will furnish home cooked bar-b-que sandwiches, plenty of refreshments, including ice cream.

An added attraction this year will be the free street dance to be held in front of Mann & Sons Mill. Special music and a good square dance caller will be in attendance. Tom Goodridge, member of the club from Milan, will take care of this part of the program, together with some hill-billy music. You will be assured of a good time Saturday evening. Everybody is invited to come to Manchester on Saturday night. You are assured of plenty of good entertainment by this active organization over the coming weekend.

At a meeting of the school board of the newly reorganized Pleasant Lake School District Wednesday night sealed bids for the purchase of school bonds were opened. The bond issue is for the purpose of building the new consolidated Pleasant Lake school.

Five financial institutions submitted bids for the $125,000 worth of bonds that will mature over a twenty year period. Watling-Lerchen & Co. of Ann Arbor offered to buy for 2.288% of a total cost of $29,217.04; The State Savings Bank of Ann Arbor, 2.365% or $30,449.71; Harriman-Ripley & Co. of Chicago, 2.438% or $31,118.50; Union Savings Bank of Manchester, 2.5% or $31,947.93; and Shannon & Co. of Detroit, 2.5424% or $32,420.28. The dollar figures represent the total interest charges, or cost to the school district, on the bonds. The percentage figures are the percent of interest.

The board, composed of Roy Bihlmeier, president; Nathan Aller, treasurer; Alton Holman, secretary; and Harold Steinaway and Lowell Rehm, trustees, discussed the bids and then unanimously passed a motion to accept the bid of Watling-Lerchen & Co., lowest bidder.

Walter Anicka of Ann Arbor is the architect designing the new school and final plans will be submitted in the very near future. As soon as the school board receives the plans they will ask for bids for the construction of the school.

The county convention of the Republican party was held on Tuesday evening at the Court House in Ann Arbor and 17 delegates and alternates named to the State Convention to be held in Grand Rapids Saturday, August 16.

Arthur Jenter and Mahlon Smith were named delegates to the Republican State Convention at Grand Rapids on August 16.

Congressman George Meader was the keynote speaker and gave a forceful discourse on the state of the government under Democratic rule for 20 years. A member of several important committees of investigations even before becoming a Congressman he spoke with authority and his revelations were startling.

He suggested that the numerous "emergencies" which call for almost dictatorial powers on the part of the President might be planned and it seems improbable that even muddling could have created such hopeless confusion as is prevalent today.

He rallied the party to recapture Washington and restore the government to the people as was the intent of the founders. His four-point program included restoring freedom and self-determination to the common people, being in government, sympathy with foreign problems and an appeal for the general good with elimination of class hatred, prejudice and class selfishness.

The resolutions committee submitted a strong endorsement for Owen (Pat) Cleary, state chairman, for the office of secretary of state and it was unanimously accepted.

John DeVine acted as temporary chairman and Mrs. Oyler of Ypsilanti as secretary. They were introduced by county chairman Weines. George Sallade introduced Congressman Meader.

Following the convention there will be a Republican Rally on September 6, at "The Oaks" on Portage Lake road and a dance on September 27 in Salem township.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers entertained in honor of their son James Michael's third birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Adams and son Bobby Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hlavka and son Richard, Jr.

Closed On Friday After A Most Successful Year

The Manchester Summer Playground ended another successful season last Friday with attendance marks up in almost all activities. The Junior Playground had a total attendance of 1552 as compared with last year's 1230. The total enrollment reached 118 as compared with 102 in 1951. Attendance on the Senior Playground was up slightly with an average of nearly 32 present on each half day of playground. The swimming attendance got off to a record start with 89 attending the first day. The attendance continued high for the first three weeks and then an epidemic of colds, rain and cool weather cut the attendance considerably below last year's mark. Over twenty children passed their swimming tests and received Red Cross certificates in a program under the instruction of Larry Soidan, Manchester High School coach.

The Junior Playground ended its season with a picnic on Friday with the mothers of the children as guests. Games were played, and awards were given for attendance. Seven children received prizes for perfect attendance this year, as compared with one last year. The seven were JoAnn Koernke, Sandra Kaernke, Jimmy Sloat, Jimmie Short, Marilyn Short, Marilyn Huber and Sally Scully. Carol Sue England, Guy Gilbert, and Bruce Oates received awards also with one absence each. After a picnic lunch, the children enjoyed a treasure hunt with ice cream bars as the "treasure." They were 85 present for the closing day picnic.

The special events day, which was one of the favorite days, was very successful with a doll show pot show, hat show, dress-up day, bike day, and a field and track day which had Mrs. Elwood Pniowski, Mrs. Schwab, Betty Fink, and Elizabeth Oates as judges were. First prize for the race for children 6 years old and under went to Rommy Panches; second prize was won by Tommy Uphaus, and Dennis Steele was awarded third prize. Chuck Dunny won first prize for the race for the older children with his brothers Tommy and Larry Dunny winning second and third prizes, respectively.

The skipping race was won by Chuck Dunny with Tommy Dunny second and Janet Shown third. Janet Shown won first prize in the walking race. Patsy Binkowski came in second, and Martha Leeman was third.

In the hopscotch contest, Bruce Oates won the first prize for children 7 years old and under, and Suzy England won first place for the older children. Second place for the smaller children went to Karen Gilbert with Sandra Koernke third. Marilyn Huber was in second place for the older children with Martha Leeman third.

In a hard-fought croquet game Larry Dunny won first prize. Marilyn Walsh came in second, and Tommy Dunny was third.

In the jump rope contest Janet Shown won first prize jumping over 100 times without a miss. Cheryl Brown and Patsy Binkowski came in a close second and third, respectively.

Hike day, which was a close favorite, was always well attended with a high of 62 on one hike. The children hiked to the village park, the Redford Grossman home, the Riverside Greenhouse, the Ford picnic, the Ralph England home, and one rainy day to the athletic field for their picnic and a softball game.

Helpful for the playground season have been Mrs. Marvin Oates, Mrs. Frank Reck, Mrs. Paul Kappler, Mrs. Nelson Short, Mrs. John Pippenger, Mrs. Earl Aiber, Mrs. Fred Atkinson, Mrs. H. B. Altenbeint, Mrs. William Schaffer, Mrs. Eugene Weidenschneider, Mrs. Harold Alexander, Mrs. Roland Grossman, Mrs. Karl Rest, Mrs. Lorenza Steele, Mrs. Larry Soidan, Mrs. Tom Watson, Mrs. Frank Lowery, Jr., Mrs. Duane Braun, Mrs. Henry Eames, Mrs. Robert Crandall, Mrs. Dan Boutell, Mrs. LeRoy Dresselhouse, Mrs. Alfred Strang, Mrs. William Eckles, Mrs. Charles Milder, Mrs. Paul Schwab, Mrs. Elwood Pniowski, Mrs. Willard Mann, and Eunice Nichols, Sarah Reck, Janice Klager, Dorene Dunny, Patty Fuller, Josephine Cox, Janet Braun, Irene Landwehr, Mary Jane Gieske, Margaret Braun, Norma Kehoe, Elizabeth Oates, Mary Walz, Christie Allen, Jeanne Evinizier, Barbara Cox, Joan Koebbe, Mary Leeman, Betty Fink, Mary Jane Wallace, and JoAnn VanDeGinstre.

The Main Street

Probably the big news along Main Street this week is the news that D. C. Weed has resigned as principal of the local school. His sense of justice and fair play made him respected by the people of the community.

No one blames Mr. Weed for accepting the much better position at Keego Harbor or would stand in his way for advancement—what is our loss is their gain.

One of the things for which we shall remember Mr. Weed was his ability to stand up for the things in which he believed.

Not only will he be missed at the school, but also at the Community Fair—a project in which Mr. Weed has taken a very active part for many years. This year as well as last year he worked diligently on the Manchester Fair Premium Book.

And speaking of the Fair Premium Book reminds us that Mr. Kulenkamp, president of the Fair Board is anxious to have everyone interested in the Community Fair present at the next Fair Board meeting—department heads and workers of all kinds. If you are interested in the Fair—come to the meeting whether you have a special invitation or not. This will probably be the most important meeting before the Fair. The date (CONTINUED ON PAGE 8)

RESEARCH PAYS OFF

There's been a lot of talk about farmer-hunter relations in Michigan and there's going to be a lot more. In the heavily populated southern and southeastern parts of the state the pheasant army is growing bigger every year. The main target is the pheasant and most of the good pheasant-hunting territory is privately owned by hard-working farmers who aren't too fond of trespassers.

More Wildlife Per Acre

If the farmer's interested—and many of them are—the Conservation Department can show him how to improve his property easily and most inexpensively so that it will support the maximum amount of game without affecting his crop production. At the Rose Lake Wildlife Experiment Station an intensive study of game populations and good game cover has been going on for several years. The station is built around a typical farm land. More than 600 acres is actually under cultivation, so this is a research problem that's entirely practical.

Application of Plan

Let's suppose you're an average Michigan farmer. Your farm includes some perfectly flat acreage, a few gullies or drainage ditches here and there, fence rows, and maybe a woodlot or two. Any game on your farm must find protective cover in the weed growth along the ditches or fence rows, or in the woodlot. The Rose Lake Station can show you, with proof in practice, that the simple planting of rapidly growing multi-flora rose along the fence rows will produce excellent habitat for pheasant and rabbits the year 'round. The multiflora hedge will beautify your farm, too.

Other types of bushy vegetation can be recommended for ditch edges and gullies. Such planting not only helps game but holds the soil together and helps erosion. The wooded section of the farm can be improved, too. A certain amount of cutting is essential—and with the proper treatment you'll not only have more abundant wildlife but the woodlot will give you more valuable timber, too.

Attitude Toward Hunters

With more game on your farm you'll be inclined to allow the well-behaved hunter to hunt over your property—and you can be mighty sure that, with the adequate cover you've helped nature provide, there's no danger of killing off all of your wildlife. Plenty of seed stock will always remain—another point that's been proven conclusively at the Rose Lake project where hunting is permitted under a so-many-guns-per-acre regulation.

If you farmers are interested in a plan to improve your farm to encourage more wildlife population, drop a line to the Game Division in our Conservation Department at Lansing. They're not selling anything. They're giving it away for the everlasting benefit of Michigan Outdoors!

THANK YOU TO THE VOTERS OF THE SECOND DISTRICT: I am very grateful for your support in the primary election last week. The excellent turnout indicates to me a re-awakening of an intense interest in the people in national affairs and a determination to recapture Washington from grafters and power-hungry bureaucrats. The American people deserve better government than this administration has been giving them. They are turning to the Republican Party for leadership. 1952 is a crucial year in American history. Auto Insurance Rates Up Again

New automobile liability insurance rates for Michigan were announced today by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters...

The revisions apply to rates for basic limits coverage, which means protection up to $5,000 for bodily injury for one person...

The rate changes are not uniform throughout the state but vary by territory, depending upon the loss record of each such territory...

William Leslie, general manager of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, made the following statement in explanation of revised rates:

"The rate increases are made necessary by mounting accident frequency and increasing claim costs..."

Auto liability experience is the result of the economic inflationary spiraling, the effects of which are continuing to inflate the cost of automobile liability claims...

"Automobile accidents continue to increase. According to reports from the Michigan State Police, 50,058 men, women and children were killed or injured in Michigan during 1951 as compared with 47,339 during 1950..."

"Out of all this there emerges one fact that should have a very sobering effect on all motorists and their driving habits. It is simply that automobile liability insurance rates don't have to rise if the motorists themselves don't want them to..."

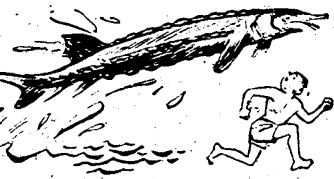

"The insurance companies don't like to have to seek higher rates. They would prefer it if they could keep rates down..."

Weather Minor Cause Of Accidents

You can't blame it on the weather. In 84 percent of the 32,500 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year, the weather was clear or cloudy...

According to "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, which is just off the press, rain was the condition reported most frequently under unfavorable weather conditions.

Unfavorable weather conditions were reported more frequently for all accidents (including property damage only) than for fatal accidents. Rainy, snowy or foggy weather was reported for 21 percent of all accidents and clear or cloudy weather for 79 percent.

law, the VA would pay all training costs directly to the school, and in addition would pay a veteran an allowance for subsistence if he were entitled to it. Under the Korean GI Bill, a single payment is made to the veteran.

Also the World War II act contained a provision requiring a veteran to show that his flight training would not be used for avocational or recreational purposes. The Korean act includes no such requirement for flight training.

Although the Korean GI Bill is now in effect, the law states that no payments may be made for any period prior to August 20.

Fascinating Fashions

Ginny Simms, lovely co-star of CBS's "Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Ginny Simms Show" is an enthusiastic tennis fan.

A sleeveless tennis dress with sewed-down band around the neck, continuing down to the hem line, and with several pleats to allow for plenty of action is an outfit any tennis player would be proud to wear.

On if your best sport is loafing, you'll love the mix-or-match denim play clothes. For instance, suggests Ginny, faded blue denim pedal pushers—tapered to the knee like treader pants—plus a bra top to make the most of the sun, and then, for covering up, a bright red denim jacket with a stand-up collar and the latest-style dropped shoulders is an adaptable play outfit.

With a pair of pedal pushers, shorts or slacks, as the basis, you can add T-shirts, halteres, chemises to make dual-purpose vacation ensembles, right for any activity.

Summer separates—for your favorite sport, whether it's golf, tennis or just loafing on the sidelines—are making headlines. Doing double duty, play clothes become dancing clothes by night.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS. Much talk is aired in this political year about ways and means to pierce the iron-Curtain abroad. But congressmen are finding it a tough job to pierce the Petroleum Curtain at home. Senators are demanding the Federal Trade Commission release to the public the report it has prepared on the formation of a worldwide oil monopoly by five American and two British oil concerns. C. W. The only reason given is by Willard Thorpe, assistant secretary of state, quoted as saying release of the report "would not contribute to the achievement of the foreign policy aims of the U. Shooting carp, dogfish and garpike with bow and arrow (or spear) becomes legal on some 200 designated southern inland lakes and rivers starting July 15 for a month. less from risks such as weather, insects and plant disease. The program that the farmer pays for this all-risk protection represents a small increase in operating costs in order to protect the money and labor invested in crop production against loss. It bridges the gap in the farmer's operation that opens wide when crop disaster strikes and which can not only wipe out the expected profit from the crop but invest-ment as well.

It provides protection of course any good farmer wants a bumper crop. No one wants to collect on insurance, but no good businessman wants to risk either his profit from previous years or borrowed capital against disasters which he cannot stop or avoid if they come his way.

Myron's Fish Story

Myron Gallagher, former publisher of The Enterprise was down to see us the other day and left with us one of the biggest fish stories we have heard. Myron was fishing near his home in Houghton lake a short time ago and claims his biggest days catch but had to come home empty handed, why?

Myron had a fish net attached to the side of his boat and trailing in the water, it was in this net that he was storing the fish he caught. He kept throwing them in right and left. Along toward mid-afternoon he thought he would take a look and glory in his good day's pleasure. Up came the net, no fish.

Myron says the net was rotten and the fish would just go right on the bottom when he put them in. No proof Myron.

Physical Defects Cause Accidents

There was something wrong physically with one out of every five drivers involved in the 32,500 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year, according to the National Safety Council.

In "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook which is just off the press, three-fifths of these defects were listed as fatigue and sleeping while driving.

One out of every nine pedestrians killed by motor vehicles had some physical defect. Defective eyesight was reported in more than one-fourth of these cases, defective hearing in one-tenth, and illness or other bodily defects in the remaining three-fifths.

County Road Work Proceeding Fast

County road maintenance operations are proceeding at a faster pace than last year, according to Howard G. Miner, County Road Commission manager.

Seven miles of sealcoating have been completed on three county roads. This same operation last year was not finished until after Labor Day.

The roads are Saline-Ann Arbor road, the Wagner road to Saline; the Saline-Milan road from Stony Creek road to Milan; and Willis road from Stony Creek road, two miles east.

Protect That Window!

HERE IS a simple way to protect the glass window on your coal bin against breakage when a delivery is made. Most such windows are hung with strap hinges. File off the large heads of the hinge pins and knock the pins out with a punch or nail, according to advice given by Family Handyman. Replace the pins with common nails, as illustrated. The exchange of the pins for the nails will enable you to remove the window before the coal delivery is made. Later, of course, it may easily be replaced.

APPEAL TO GUESTS WITH 'MYSTERY' OF ICE CREAM BAKED IN THE OVEN

There is nothing more glamorous than a Baked Alaska!

People are always delighted by the mystery of an ice cream dessert that is baked in the oven. The General Electric Consumers Institute suggests that you add an extra dash of "fanciness" by making individual Baked Alaska Sundae's the next time you have guests for dinner.

Baked Alaska Sundaes

Tested in the G.E. Consumers Institute

4 fresh or frozen round sponge (2 1/2 inches in diameter) 4 teaspoons coarsely chopped nuts 1/4 cup thick prepared chocolate syrup or chocolate sauce

4 small scoops firm vanilla ice cream (about 1/2 cup each) 2 egg whites 1 speck of salt 1/4 cup sugar

Cover ice cream and shortcake with an even layer of meringue

Leave shortcakes in carton or place on piece of firm cardboard. Place 1 teaspoon nuts and 1 tablespoon chocolate syrup in hollow of each shortcake. Place 1 firmly packed scoop of ice cream on syrup in each shortcake, being sure ice cream is 1/2 inch away from edge of cake. Place in food freezer and leave until ice cream is very firm. Place egg whites and salt in small mixer bowl. Using 2 beaters, beat at a high speed (Speed 12) until stiff. Gradually add sugar, continuing to beat at a high speed (Speed 12) until stiff and glossy.

Remove shortcakes from food freezer and place on cookie sheet. Working quickly with spatula, completely cover both shortcake and ice cream with meringue. Spread evenly. Bake in oven 400° F for 7-8 minutes or until browned. Transfer to serving dishes immediately and serve. Makes 4 servings.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

More Chewing - Less Tooth Decay

Teen-agers who give their teeth added "exercise" by chewing on hard, fibrous foods are only half as likely to develop new cavities as those eating diets in which these substances are lacking. These conclusions are drawn from an 18-month study of 266 boys at Children's Village, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. Collaborating in the work were Dr. H. H. Neuman and Dr. N. A. DiSalvo, both of Columbia University and Dr. Wm. Lefkowitz, of the Dental Department of Montefiore Hospital, New York. The experiment was prompted by Dr. Neuman's observations in widely-separated parts of the world that diets requiring vigorous chewing are often associated with a low rate of tooth decay. In the study, 102 boys daily received 6-inch sections of sugar cane, a tough fibrous plant, which they chewed under supervision. The other 164 were divided into two control groups: One drank sugar cane juice in amounts equivalent to that contained in a section of the cane. The second got neither cane nor juice. The results showed that the first group—"the chewers"—had only half the increase in decayed, missing and filled teeth as either of the other two. As a consequence of their tests, the research directors have adopted a working theory that lack of resistance to tooth decay may be the result of structural changes in the teeth which, in turn, result from too little hard mechanical exercise.

State-Wide August Safety Campaign

The State Highway Department, in cooperation with the State Safety Commission, will carry on a state-wide safety program aimed at reducing traffic accidents which are the result of unlawful and dangerous passing. The campaign will continue through the month of August. Two slogans: "Don't Cross the Yellow Line" for drivers using the highways, and "Keep in Line—Don't Cut In" for drivers using city streets, will be featured in the campaign. Passing on hills and curves is one of the most dangerous things a motorist can do. The State Highway Department has painted yellow lines on hills and curves where the visibility is reduced to a point where it is dangerous to pass. These yellow lines are provided as a safety service to motorists. Since they are placed by careful engineering survey they are in accordance with the law and it is not only dangerous, but unlawful to cross the yellow line.

DON'T CROSS THE YELLOW LINE

The closing date for entries in the Home Arts Department for the 1952 Michigan State Fair has been extended to Friday, August 22. The State Fair opens August 20 and continues through September 7. The closing date as announced in the premium book was August 15. Mrs. Polly Livers, director of the Home Arts Department, has asked for the extension to improve cataloging and to accommodate the flood of entries always received at Fair time approaches. No longer in Home Arts is flower arrangement a monopoly of the women since the State Fair has received entries from several of the male element. "Teen-Agers" will stage a Junior Home Economics Dress Revue at the Music Shell Saturday, August 30, at 8:00 p. m. Of course, the State Fair competition is for amateurs only. An entry fee of one dollar entitles the exhibitor to show a single entry in each of 20 classes in the Home Arts department. Any article which has won a prize in a previous State Fair is not eligible. Articles, other than quilts, tablecloths, afghans, and bedspreads, must have been completed since January 1, 1952. These more intricate items must have been completed since January 1, 1951. Needlecraft and other handicraft exhibits must be delivered to the State Fair no later than August 22.

Reckless Drivers
It is estimated that drivers under 25 cause five times as many accidents as drivers in the 45 to 60 age groups.

Lived Longest
John Adams, who died at 90, lived longer than any other U.S. president.

Packard Road Traffic Tolls For County Thoroughfares

Clinton Rd., just south of stadium Blvd., is Washnetaw County's busiest thoroughfare. During one 24-hour period, 10,030 vehicles passed over the road, according to traffic counters of the Washnetaw County Road Commission.

Second on the busy list was Holmes Rd. at Ford Rd. with 6,100 vehicles.

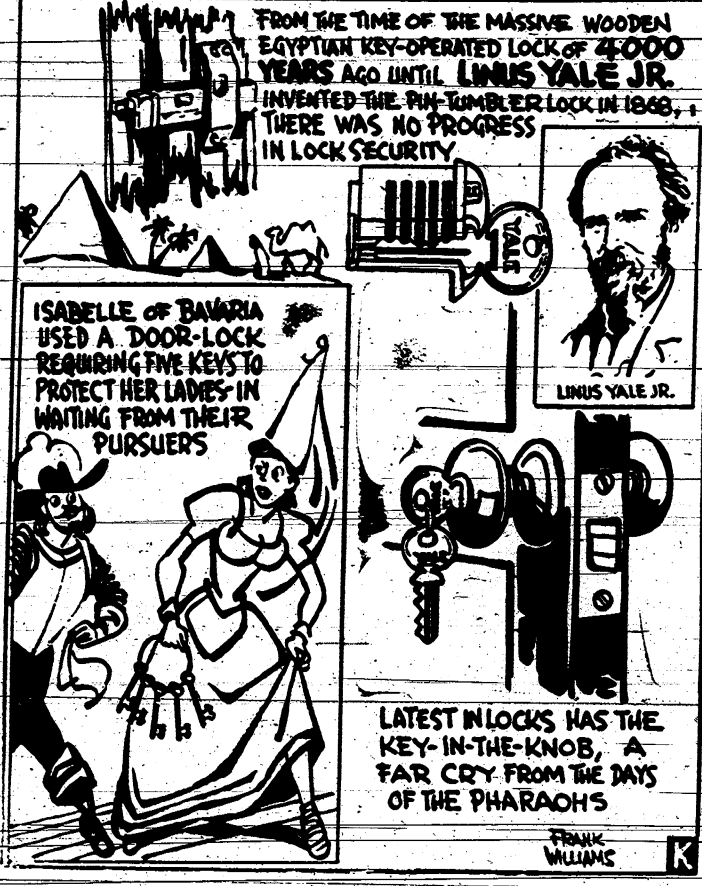

These listings do not include U. S. highways or city streets.

At this time, department engineers are tabulating county road data on the traffic counters to get a 1952 traffic percentage increase over that of 1932, 1940 and 1949 on specific roads. So far this study has not been completed. However, useful data has already been obtained from the traffic counters.

Obscured Vision Causes 1 Out Of 8 Fatal Accidents

Obscured vision was a factor in one out of every eight of the fatal automobile accidents last year, according to the National Safety Council.

"Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook which is just off the press, shows that nearly half of the visual obstructions were rain, snow or sleet on the windshield. A fourth of the obstructions were trees, buildings and other things along the highway or adjacent to it. The remaining fourth resulted from parked and moving cars.

Glare from headlights or the sun was reported infrequently. Out of 10 states reporting interference with vision, 11 reported no drivers blinded by headlights and three 11 states had more than 9,000 drivers who were involved in fatal accidents.
