The Main Street

Talking with Don Sutton at the "Wurster" Insurance we learned that Manchester hunters were insured to the tune of $400,000 while they were hunting in the north woods. He also added that the new license plates are now available.

Among those back with good luck on their hunting trips were Allen Clark and William Miner who each bagged a doe near Marion. Allen's father had shot a buck earlier in the season when he and his son were hunting near Lincoln. Eldon Lamb shot a buck near Mio.

Carl Richter shot a buck which when dressed weighed 130 pounds. This was his first buck for him on his first hunting trip with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fuller of Chelsea, while hunting at Sanrise Lake near LeRoy on Saturday at the Kenneth Livingston cabin.

Lawrence DeVerna bagged a buck while he and his wife were hunting near Lincoln. He also had a second deer hunting trip north during the week end. The time he returned with a fine buck—performance wins.

Fishing licenses for 1953 will go on sale December 13 this year for the first time. The annual license valid for 13 months according to a report from the Conservation Department. The change was made by legislature earlier this year and is designed to lessen the pressure of business on hunters during the busy year-end season.

Johnny Walz is expected home Thursday from Chautauque, Okla. Iowa where he went to attend a tour of the Oliver tractor factory. He left Sunday afternoon as representative from this district where he won a dealers demonstrating contest for this Oliver block 2.

The Manchester fire department was called to the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Walter about 6:30 Wednesday night, Nov. 26, when Mrs. Walter's little daughter, Janet, discovered smoke coming out of the siding in back of chimney. Being extremely windy the Walters were uncertain as to the cause, which was caused by a crack in the chimney. No serious damage resulted.

The Clinton fire department was called to the farm home of Floyd Jacob Monday afternoon near seven acres when fire did nearly two thousand dollars damage to the roof and interior of the farm house. Cause of the fire could not be determined.

Also on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving the Manchester fire department was called out to the Elmer Below farm when a chimney burned out. Because of the cold and the department was called.

Manchester was hit by its first serious snowfall of the season Monday night, bringing joy to the children of the village and something else to motorists. The total fall to Tuesday morning was about 2.4 inches.

The first heavy fall of the season brought the town's work crews out Wednesday to clear Main street up to the curb. And the snow plows, salt-and sand have become a familiar part of the winter scenery. Cloudy weather prevailed on Wednesday.

Public Warned About Firm's Dried Egg Yolk

The public has been warned to discontinue using Swift's canned dried egg yolk, a food for babies and small children. The Federal Food and Drug Administration issued the warning yesterday. It said salmonella-type organisms have been found in some of the cans. This germ, the statement said, may cause gastric and intestinal upsets which can be serious in infants. The agency said its warning of "potential danger" followed a survey which determined that several children whose diets included the egg yolk, had suffered salmonella infection. All recovered after medical care. None of the illnesses were directly attributed to the egg yolk, the statement said, but Swift & Co. believed it was in the public interest to remove the product temporarily from the market. No other foods of Swift's are involved.
