EIGHTY-SEVENTH YEAR NUMBER 23

MANCHESTER, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

THURSDAY, FEB. 11, 1954 FIVE CENTS PER COPY $2.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

March of Dimes Reaches New Peak

During the month-long March of Dimes Drive which was held in the Manchester area a total of $1,356.09 was collected. This is well over $300 more than was collected for the year of 1953, according to Manchester chairman, Mrs. Kerr.

The local Mothers' March totaled some $386.41. A highlight of this drive came when Edward Pniwski of 205 Washington Street joined the March when his wife, originally scheduled to canvass her neighborhood became ill. He volunteered to act in her place. Pniwski is a well known softball player in this area.

Manchester area rural schools contributed a total of $206.89. This amount included a drive sponsored by the junior class of Manchester High School which netted $27.45 and dime cards distributed to the pupils. Canisters placed in the local business houses brought in a total of $211.02. Organizations contributed $161 and the dime card collection amounted to $390.77 to make up the balance of Manchester's total for the drive.

In Sharon Township the Mothers' March was conducted by Mrs. Raymond Jacob, sr. and $115.89 was realized. In Bridgewater township Mrs. John Norcross and Mrs. Gene Welch were co-chairmen and collected $254.39 for that drive; Freedom township with Mrs. Harold Lambarth chairman reported $328.99 as collected and in Saline township Mrs. Fred Arend chairman reported $307.27 as the total for the township.

Manchester township did not join the Mothers' March in a separate drive as did the other townships. Mrs. Carl Rehberg, who is chairman of the rural solicitation in Washtenaw County reported that to date $3,277.04 has been collected.

The unofficial Washtenaw County goal of $75,000 has not been reached with the time extended to bring in late returns it is hoped that total returns which at present is some five thousand dollars short may be realized.

Main Street

Because of circumstances beyond the control of the Enterprise office here, several important news items, along with coming events and Main Street were omitted last week. Articles which we feel might still be of interest are being printed this week.

Mrs. Barbara Miller of Scran-ton, Pennsylvania, is replacing Mrs. Charles Mills as teacher at the Davidster school.

We have been asked by March of Dimes chairman, Mrs. R. C. Kerr, to thank everyone who gave time or money to help in making the current polio drive the largest in Manchester's history. Without everyone's help, the grand total of $1,356.09 could never have been reached. Last year the total collected was $977.71.

A couple of weeks ago Mrs. William Frey, sr., began teaching the second grade at the Napoleon schools. We were interested to learn that there are some 900 children attending the school—with 90 children enrolled as second graders.

No doubt the last family in this area to be celebrating Christmas this year is the Clarence Voegeding family. On Tuesday of last week they held their beated holiday party—complete with gifts and a Christmas tree. They had waited patiently for their son, Lynn Voegeding, to arrive to be with them for the festive occasion. Cpl. Voegeding arrived Monday of last week at Willow Run Airport after receiving his discharge from Fort Sheridan, Ill. He spent 15 months overseas, while putting in two years of service in the army. Others at the holiday dinner were the Willis Uphaus family and the Wilbur Maurers.

Sometimes misery likes company and because we are often in the dog house we couldn't resist passing this one along to our readers. The other day the James Faheys received a letter from the police department at Muskegon asking that they pay a two dollar fine for a meter violation at Muskegon early this year. The department assured them that no further action would be taken if they didn't attempt to evade payment. They Faheys wrote a reply but they didn't send $2.00. They have not been in Muskegon in years.

Mrs. William Jedele

Mrs. Wm. Jedele of Clinton passed away in her sleep Tuesday morning. She was the sister of Mrs. Godtfred Jedele and Mrs. Martha Weinlander.

Mrs. Jedele was 75 years old and was the former Tillie Feldkamp, daughter of Henry and Caroline Feldkamp of Freedom Township. The funeral will be Friday at 2:00 p. m. at the Proctor Funeral Home in Clinton. Burial is to be at Riverside Cemetery in Clinton.

Membership Drive For Washtenaw County Infirmary Now On

The annual drive to increase the number of individual and group memberships in the Washtenaw County Hospital and Infirmary Auxiliary is now being conducted throughout the county.

Since its organization in October, 1949, the Auxiliary has grown to nearly 700 members and the goal for this year's drive is 1000 members. The purpose of the Auxiliary is to improve the physical and recreational welfare of the patients and residents of the Infirmary, which is located on Washtenaw Road.

During the past year, the Auxiliary has purchased folding wheel chairs and walkers, furnished draperies and curtains throughout the building, purchased furniture for the lounge room, provided electric, illuminated clocks for hospital wards, arranged monthly birthday parties and entertainment for special occasions, provided newspaper and magazine subscriptions and offered a personal shopping service twice a month.

Mrs. Howard Reindel, Packard St., Membership Chairman, said that members are not obligated to volunteer their time unless they choose to do so. Individual memberships are $1 and group memberships $2. These may be mailed to the treasurer, Mrs. Samuel F. Schneider of 1015 Ferdon Road. Other officers are Mrs. Ralph Belknap, Plymouth Road, president; Mrs. Laurence C. Stuart, Fuller Road, 1st vice president; Miss Dorothy Goss, Glacier Way, 2nd vice president; Mrs. David Osler, Glacier Way, recording secretary; Mrs. Leonard Young, Maple Ridge Road, corresponding secretary.

Mr. Robert Reynolds, Supervisor of the Washtenaw County Hospital and Infirmary, says, "The residents have expressed their appreciation of the interesting and beneficial program which the Auxiliary is conducting for them. The welfare of the residents being the concern of both the Auxiliary and myself, we have been able to accomplish many improvements which would not have been possible otherwise."

Lillian Buss Injured On Playground

Lucille Buss, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buss fell on the ice on the playground at the local school and cut her knee. Six stitches were required to close the wound.

The electors of the Manchester School District voted overwhelmingly in favor of a new school building in Saturday's special election. 673 votes were cast on proposition 1 which called for raising the limitation on taxes that may be assessed. Of these, eight votes were void; 412 voted for raising the millage and 253 voted against it.

Proposition 2 called for borrowing the sum of $465,000 to build a new school, make necessary improvements to the old building to make it into an elementary building and for purchasing a thirteen acre site on which tax payers could vote on this issue. 632 votes were cast—7 voted for it and 241 against.

It was estimated that there are between 13 and 14 thousand voters in the enlarged school district. According to Luther Klager, the president of the Manchester school board, there was a good representation from all areas—including a five mile radius of between 80 and 100 square miles.

A school board meeting is planned for Thursday of this week. It is the desire of the school board that the 23 man study-committee which represents all of the area in the Manchester school district, will continue to work with the board as they have in the past. Mr. Klager, speaking for the school board, said that without their help and advice Manchester school board could not have accomplished so much in so short a time. He said that complete team work and cooperation in understanding the needs of the school on the part of everyone is responsible for the progress to date and he hopes this cooperation will continue.

It is expected that within three weeks Fred Thrum of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone (Lansing school attorneys) will have the issues ready for the bonding houses to bid on. Letting the bonds out takes about four weeks. So, Mr. Klager figures that perhaps along the last of April or first of May ground will be broken for the new school on a site one block north and east of the present high school athletic field. This will include a gymnasium to seat 900 persons.

Mr. Klager expressed special thanks to Dan Boutell, chairman of the 23 man citizen's committee and to School Superintendent Fred Atkinson for their outstanding work and untiring efforts as well as the press for bringing to the people of Manchester a complete picture of the work of the school board and those working with them.

BOWLING

Businessmen's Bowling League

The top league positions remained the same in the Businessmen's Bowling League this week as Mary's Tavern team maintained their 1 point margin over Shrot's Electric Service when both teams took 3 points from their opposition. Mary's Tavern downed Klager's Hatcheries when Frank Lowery, Jr., 547 series, Fritz Warster, 502 series, and Morgan Kern, 501 series, came through with good gains while Richard Weir for Kalger's had a 509 series. Short's Electric grabbed their 3 points from Spike's Mobil Service although the last game was decided by 1 pin in Short's favor. Herb Bersuder for Short's had a 522 series which was the only 500 series in this match. A B C Service stayed in 2nd place by taking 3 out of 4 points from Carl Schaible's Ford team. The A B C's team was led by Roy Marx, 542 series, Clarence Fielder 528 series, and Elwin Benedict 509 series.

Kappler's Contractors moved in to 4th place by swamping Mann's Millers for 3 1/2 points. The last game ended in a tie which accounted for one-half point for each team. The tie could have been broken by the last Mann bowler but he missed a single pin and the teams settled for a tie game. Kappler's were helped to their win by Homer Kappler, 524 series, and Don Rhees 505 series.

Jan and Jim's Grill team moved out of their cellar position by getting 3 points from Widmayer Sales and Service team. In this match not one of the bowlers cracked the 500 series mark, but some of the Grill team improved their averages.

Double A Products slipped into the cellar by getting only one-half point in their battle with K & W Farm Supply who got 3 1/2 points. In this match the second game ended in the same number of pins knocked down so this accounted for another tie game of the evening. Jerry Bower of the Farm Supply team had a 556 series, which was the highest series of the night. It must have been a tough night for the bowlers as only two fellows could get a 200 game or better. They were Jerry Bower 243 and Frank Lowery, Jr. 211.

The high league marks remained the same. Mary's Tavern topped the league with 58 points. Homer Kappler led onto the high individual game mark, 252, and the high individual series, 632. Kappler's Contractors still have the high team series mark of 2727 and Mary's Tavern holds the high team game mark of 1002.

Table with 2 columns: Team and Total Pts. Mary's Tavern 58, Short's Electric Service 57, A. B. C. Service 53, Kappler's Contractors 52, Spike's Mobil Service 49 1/2, Klager's Hatcheries 48, Carl M. Schaible, Inc. 44, K. & W. Farm Supply 44, Mann's Millers 42 1/2, Widmayer Sales & Serv. 32, Jan. & Jim's Grill 25, Double A Products 23.

Lady Bowlers

—by D. Sutton

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Manchester Drug 173, Schaffer Lumber Co. 146, Carl Schaible, Inc. 128, Uphaus Drug 128, Lannom's Variety 812, Manches. Bakery 614, Hamilton's Mkt. 614, Widmayer's Hdw. 515.

The pins scattered far and wide when the girls got together Tuesday, Feb. 2nd. The league standing remained unchanged but individually some of our number scorched the alleys! Maybe the new varnish job on the lanes had something to do with it!

Jean England, Birdella Flood, and Edna Knauss had 500, 511 and 510 series respectively. Edna and Birdella also scored in another department by getting games over 200. Edna rolled a 202 game in which she collected 7 consecutive strikes and Birdella had a 201 game in which she had 5 consecutive strikes! How do they do it? Five other ladies had games above the 165 mark. They were: Jean England 182, 137; Marie Widmayer 172; Ica Schaffer 178; Joyce Schaffer 178; Vera Schaible 183.

Schaffer Lumber Co. still holds the record for the high team 3 games with 2199 while Manchester Drug's Jean England and the Lumber Co.'s Joyce Schaffer are still tied for the third high individual single game honors as 207. However, two new records were set when Bakery's Birdella Flood established the high individual 3 game score of 511 and Carl M. Schaible's Inc., racked up a high team single game of 788.

Jean England of the Manchester Drug squad starred again by getting a turkey as did Doris Bersuder of Widmayer Hardware and Furniture.

The girls from the Uphaus Drug team surprised everyone, including themselves, when they took 4 points in one evening from Widmayer's Hardware and Furniture, but their arch rivals, Manchester Drug, was busy beating the socks off the Manchester Bakery team. Schaffer's took another 4 points away from the "Hapless Hamilton Market" team and Schaible's took 3 from Lannom's Variety.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

SNOWSHOES STILL PLENTIFUL

"Snowshoes"—as the native Michiganders call the variant hare—are still in good supply in the northern part of our lower peninsula—and hunters are harvesting a usual amount of the animals thru these winter months, according to reports. A large rabbit, the snowshoe is ordinarily hunted with beagles or other small hounds specially trained to the task. And to the true lover of rabbit hunting more than half the fun of the chase is the music that echoes across the swamp once the short-legged hounds hit a "hot" bunny trail.

With good hounds in the woods, a hunter may have to move very little, for the dogs run the quarry in wide circles, winding up right back where they started!

Called "Turncoat of the Snow"

Nature's protection for this popular Michigan game animal consists of a change of color in late November and early December. The ordinarily brown coat begins to streak with grey late in the fall. Then, by early December the color changes rapidly to an almost pure white, to blend with the snow. Alas, December does not always mean snow within their range, and with bare ground to outline their white body, the "snowshoe" fares badly indeed against the hunters' guns.

Change is Actually A Moulit

Many people believe that the fur of the snowshoe actually changes color with the advancing season. This is not correct. The change is due, not to a hair color, but to a moult, the brown hair being shed and a white coat grown in the fall, while the reverse takes place in the spring.

Population Changes

Unpredictable cycles in population take place with this type of hare. There is thought to be some sort of cycle in this variation—as there is with many other species, but it has not yet been definitely established.

The same is true of the common cottontail rabbit which frequents all of Michigan, although it is most common in the south.

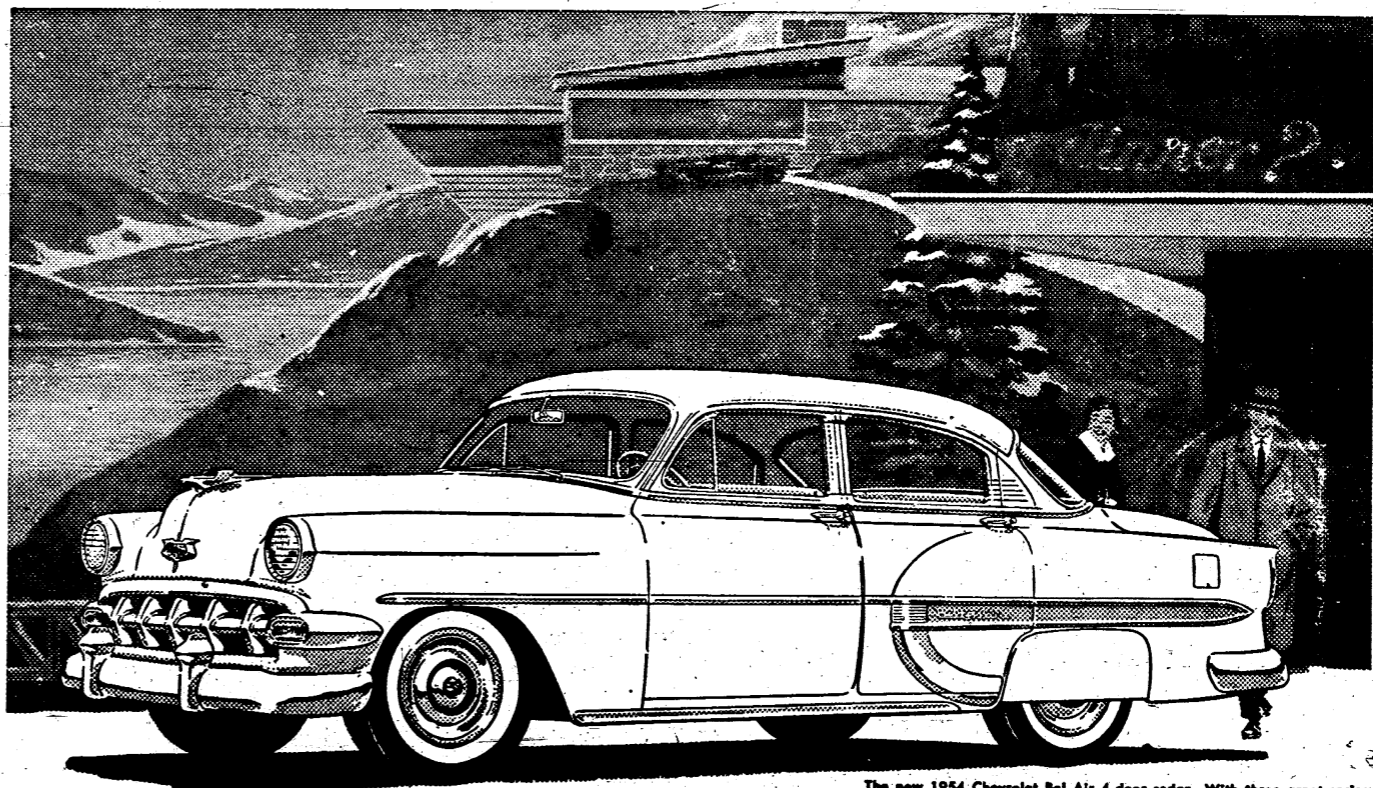

Regardless of these population changes, hunting pressure seems to have little or nothing to do with the consistent rise and fall of the rabbit and hare family. More than a half million may be shot annually without apparent effect on the following year's hunting success, so the bounding bunny will continue to be a prime target in Michigan Outdoors for years to come!

Automobile Club Studies Speed Laws

Automobile Club of Michigan has given much study and thought to the question of reasonable and proper speed laws for Michigan highways. We have come to the conclusion that fixed maximum and minimum statewide speed limits are not desirable and would not reduce accidents.

We feel that Michigan has the ideal speed law combination now, with: (1) A reasonable and proper speed on open highways, where one is limited to safe speed at the time and place he's driving. (2) Where dangerous conditions exist, with winding or narrow roads, or population densities, there are "speed control" zones, and speed is cut down.

Study convinces us that "speed too fast for conditions" is indeed a major factor in a number of highway accidents. As speed potential of modern automobiles increases with each new model, speed will become a potentially greater killer each year.

But a uniform speed limit for all traffic on all classes and conditions of highways throughout Michigan would not solve basic accident problems, and might, in fact, tend to cause more accidents.

We believe that the greatest deterrent to "speed too fast for conditions" would be more state policemen patrolling Michigan's highways in marked police cars. Certainly it does not make sense to add laws to our books when present areas where speed is restricted for definite reasons are not now properly patrolled, due to shortage of State Police manpower.

We oppose fixed maximum speed limits throughout Michigan for several reasons:

A road built 25 or 30 years ago, and not designed for the high speeds of today's vehicles, should not be put in the same category with modern roads which have wider pavements, longer sight distances, banked curves and divided lanes. A uniform state-wide limit would encourage dangerously high speeds for conditions in some areas. At the same time, it would be too low for convenience, and maximum utility of highways in other locations.

The largest area of Michigan where a blanket maximum speed could apply, north of a line drawn between Muskegon and Bay counties, has the fewest traffic deaths. Most counties in this area have from none to 10 traffic deaths yearly. And in these northern counties, a blanket maximum speed would prevent motorists from getting maximum safe usage of the highways. It is in these counties where long stretches of open, traffic-free highway occur, and here one can drive rapidly without endangering his or anyone else's life unduly.

It is the opinion of traffic engineers that motorists tend to travel at, or near, posted speed limits. The best explanation of this tendency is that motorists assume that a posted speed limit is a safe speed under almost any condition, since it was determined by the State. On the other hand, without posted speed limits to guide them, motorists adjust their speed to conditions and individual degree of driving skill.

This has been proved by traffic engineers of the Chicago Motor Club, who made several comparison studies of rates of speed on highways with posted speed limits and those who made several comparison studies of rates of speed on highways with posted speed limits and those governed only by "reasonable and proper" limitations.

One of several tests was made on two sections of U. S. 41. One section, in southern Wisconsin, was controlled by the statewide uniform speed limit of 65 miles per hour during the day and 55 miles per hour at night; the other in northern Illinois, did not have a posted speed limit. Checks were made in each section under excellent driving conditions. Both locations of the four-lane divided highway were similar on all counts.

The average speed of the traffic checked on U. S. 41 in Wisconsin was 60 miles per hour. The average speed of the traffic checked on U. S. 41 in Illinois was 51 miles per hour.

Speed checks elsewhere bolster evidence obtained on U. S. 41: Motorists tend to travel at or near posted speed limits; when speed is left to their own judgment, they travel slower.

We believe there is a need for maximum speed limits at many hazardous locations. Certain speed limits are necessary for safe movement of vehicles. We have always approved of the "Speed Control Zones" set up jointly by Michigan's State Police and Highway Department in high-accident areas. It is equally obvious that in areas of population concentration, particularly within cities, there must be speed limits to protect both motorists and pedestrians.

According to present Michigan law, speed is restricted on the open road outside of municipalities to what is "reasonable and proper" for conditions at the time and place where the motorist is driving. Under this prima facie limit, consideration is given by law to circumstances surrounding a speeding case. Posted speed limits may even be too high under given icy, slippery or foggy conditions. It is right that anyone driving too fast for such conditions, regardless of posted speed laws, be arrested. But we think it is unwise and unfair to advocate a law under which conviction is positive without regard to the circumstances which may prevail.

We think that a minimum speed limit would be unfair and dangerous for many drivers. While it is certain that the slow-poke motorist causes accidents at times, he might cause more accidents if required to drive faster than his judgment tells him it is safe for him to drive. On certain highways, possibly on four-lane divided expressways, where some kind of "slower" parallel road existed, it might be fair and wise to impose a minimum speed limit. But to impose a blanket minimum speed would just cause more accidents. An individual must be his own judge of how slow he should go.

Many well-meaning agencies readily jump to the conclusion that by reducing speed limits, accident rates will be reduced. We have been unable to substantiate this logical-sounding conclusion. One of the main reasons why the effect of vehicular speeds on accident rates cannot be accurately established is the fact that there is a lack of reliable information. Police officers who investigate accidents frequently use such ambiguous terms as "excessive speed," "too fast for conditions," and "exceeding posted speed limit."

But we can be guided by experience of other states, some of which have fixed and some open limit speeds. Here are the accident rates for six midwestern states for 1950, 1951, and 1952:

	1952	1951	1950
Iowa	5.2	6.2	6.2
Speed Limit Reasonable
Kentucky	10.0	10.1	10.4
Speed Limit 60 mph-50 mph
Illinois	7.3	7.1	7.5
Speed Limit Reasonable
Michigan	7.3	7.2	7.5
Wisconsin	7.5	7.1	7.8
Speed Limit 65 mph-55 mph
Indiana	8.0	8.3	8.1
Speed limit Daytime-Night

In October, 1953, Indiana passed a 65 mph maximum law. The above chart shows that although the State of Kentucky had the lowest fixed speed limit of any of the states listed, it had the highest death rate. It is apparent that a fixed speed limit does not necessarily mean a lower accident rate. There are many other factors which cause accidents besides speed.

Final conclusions: 1. It is the belief of the Automobile Club of Michigan that blanket fixed maximum or minimum speed limits should not be established throughout Michigan. 2. Drivers who travel at excessive and dangerous speeds are a small minority of all drivers. 3. A reasonable and prudent prima facie speed limit recognizes variations in driving conditions. 4. Unenforceable legislation should not be passed, particularly when it in itself is not necessarily a deterrent. And speed limits which don't make sense in rural areas will lead to disregard of law. 5. A fixed speed limit encourages some drivers to drive faster than they are capable of doing. If a driver who customarily drives 50 miles per hour observes a sign which states that the speed limit is 60 miles per hour for daytime driving, he is tempted to step up his rate of speed, on the theory that he must be the only one driving too slowly. People generally want to do what others do. 6. Unsafe driving, which includes driving too fast for conditions, can best be curbed, with accompanying decline in accidents, by increasing the size of Michigan's police force. This would permit more marked state police patrol cars to be on the highways at all times. 7. We urge increased emphasis on speed studies on all Michigan's highways by competent traffic engineers, along with analysis of high accident areas, and imposition of more "Speed Control Zones," with plenty of road signs, and plenty of publicity and plenty of enforcement — where speed is actually determined to be excessive and dangerous. We join the American Automobile Association in condemning the practice of fixing speed limits by local authorities, where they are set on a "rule of thumb" basis. Speed zones should be based only on traffic engineering surveys and studies of normal vehicle speeds along various sections of streets and highways.

Correct your faults by observing those found in others. Naturally spanking doesn't help much in this soft-handed age. Society has a habit of throwing people overboard to get them out of the swim.

Service With a Smile

That's the type of service you get at Mr. Pool's store. His expanded service facilities are now able to not only service the Ann Arbor, Saline area, but also take in the Milan, Manchester area—and you folks in Milan know how good his service is.

Mr. Pool says that his Saline sale on television and appliances is going to end the last of February. So you haven't too long to take advantage of those big savings. Why not drop in or phone about those bargains—and, if there is a toll charge, Mr. Pool will pay it.

Internal Revenue

Taxpayers visiting the local Internal Revenue Service office at 401 E. Liberty for help with their federal income tax returns should bring all necessary data and records with them, Mr. A. M. Menninger, District Director, said today.

Mr. Menninger explained that Internal Revenue agents, when asked to help prepare a return, must have all data and records pertaining to the taxpayer's 1953 income exemptions, and deductible expenses.

"It is especially important that the taxpayers also bring all tax withholding statements they receive from employers," the official said.

"Our agents will render as much service to each taxpayer as time and personnel limitations permit," he assured the public. "But taxpayers can do their part by filling out as much of the tax return as they can and bringing with them full and accurate data and all withholding statements."

Mr. Menninger stated that the aim of the taxpayer assistance program is "to help the taxpayers to help themselves." He added: "Of course, we cannot give a blanket invitation to all taxpayers to have their returns prepared by our personnel."

He advised taxpayers who seek some assistance at the Internal Revenue office to bring mathematically correct data. If some expenses are part business and part personal in nature, the taxpayer may deduct the business portion on Schedule C of Form 1040, but he may not deduct the personal portion of those expenses in Schedule C. Some personal expenses are, however, deductible on page 3 of the return, Mr. Menninger said.

Taxpayers whose income consists entirely of wages often do not have any allowable business deductions, he said, in which case they are limited to deductible personal expenses only.

The tax official listed the principal kinds of personal expenses which may be deducted, as follows:

Contributions to recognized religious and charitable organizations. Medical expenses of the taxpayer and his dependents, which are deductible in full if the taxpayer is 65 or over, and otherwise are deductible to the extent that they exceed 5 per cent of his adjusted gross income, subject in all cases to maximum limitations.

GOOD NEWS FOR Homemakers

FEBRUARY is a festive month with several holidays that call for special "fixings" in the kitchen. Because pork is reasonable in price and readily available, you'll find pork chops are a good choice for your Valentine dinner. Give them a party touch by simmering them in flavorful red tomato soup with slices of onion for taste accent. Colorwise and tastewise, they fit the holiday.

For best eating pork should always be cooked until it is no longer "in the pink." Cut a slit near the bone if you're not sure it's finished. If the meat has lost its rosy color, it's ready to eat.

You'll find Pow Wow Pork Chops will put your young Indians on the path to the dinner table. And the savory aroma of these saucy chops cannot compare with the delight experienced with the first bite. They're juicy, tender, and terrific.

Pow Wow Pork Chops
6 pork chops (1-inch thick) 6 slices onion (1/4 cup) 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed tomato soup
Dash black pepper
Brown chops well on both sides; sprinkle with pepper. Pour soup over top; place an onion slice (and a green pepper ring, if desired) on each chop. Cover and simmer about 1 hour or until chops are tender; stir occasionally.

State and local taxes and automobile license fees, but not federal taxes.

Interest paid on personal indebtedness.

Nonbusiness losses due to casualties such as accidents, fire, storm, and shipwreck, or due to theft.

Alimony payments made periodically and reported as taxable income by the person receiving them.

The tax official pointed out that instead of itemizing their personal deductions, taxpayers may accept a standard deduction which is usually equal to 10 per cent of one's income. Mr. Menninger said that about 45 million of the 53 million taxpayers who filed last year found it to their advantage to accept the standard deduction.

"It not only reduces the tax liability of many taxpayers," he said, "but it makes filing a tax return much simpler."

Michigan Resident Honored By DAV

Earl T. Miller of East Detroit, Mich., has been named recipient of the Disabled American Veterans' Citizen Salute of the Month—outstanding assistance to disabled veterans. Miller, 50, a taxicab owner, has provided without charge a meeting hall for the East Detroit Chapter of the DAV for a number of years and has continuously contributed to the chapter service program. The DAV award is one of a series by an organization which each month honors nationally a person who has furthered the cause of disabled veterans in his or her community.

"A communist wants a labor dispute settled like he wants a hole in his head. Either one would help America, so he's ag'in it!"

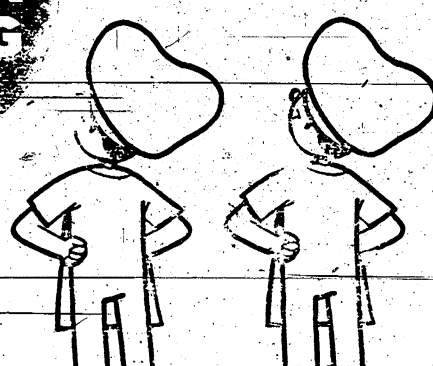

The modern bituminous coal mine is an underground mass production factory, where coal is extracted and moved in great bulk by electrically driven machinery.

The TVA Kingston Power plant, under construction on the Clinch River between Knoxville and Chattanooga, Tenn., when fully operative will require 14,000 tons of coal daily, or the equivalent of 250 railroad coal cars.

Taking a leaf from America's coal mines, a major passenger airline's maintenance operations have "borrowed" the traditional miner's safety lamp to provide light when and where they need it—in wheel wells, the interior of aircraft engines, wing and fuselage compartments—in short, where overhead drop lamps or flashlights are awkward to use or provide insufficient light.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wish I'd Said That

You know Miss Perkins. Well, she's been driving her own car around our town for a little more than 20 years.

The other day she had a bit of trouble parking down on Main Street. Didn't quite make it the first try, so she pulled out to start over when a fellow waiting to pass started tooting his horn impatiently.

On the second try, she was still having a little difficulty and so this smart aleck hollered, "Lady, do you know how to drive?" "Yes, young man," Miss Perkins answered, "I do. But I don't have time to teach you now."

From where I sit, it's not always easy to have a good answer ready when you need it. But when somebody insists that I vote for his candidate, for instance, or choose tea instead of a temperate glass of beer with dinner, I know the answer. It's all a matter of personal preference... and none of us like "backseat driving" from anybody.

Manchester F. F. A. Attend Farmers Week

Reported by Jack Furgason
On Thursday, February 4 the Manchester Future Farmers attended the Farmers Week at East Lansing. It was an interesting day for the 33 boys from here who attended accompanied by some of their fathers. Speeches, demonstrations, and discussions on many fields of farming rounded out the program. Gordon Schultz, Jerry Troz and Jerry Ekin appeared on Howard Heath's WFAG program which was broadcast at noon.

Listed are some of the major points of interest:
The Agricultural Engineering building added a lot of variety with its displays on conservation, farm machinery, electrical devices, refrigeration, welding and building materials.

At the Veterinarian building "The operation for hardware disease" was demonstrated when they operated on a cow and took out a piece of hardware.
The Farm Crops Department had a panel discussion on grass silage and other interesting topics relating to the field.

The Livestock Pavilion was another of the major attractions here they had many prize Angus, Shorthorn and Hereford fat cattle which they judged and sold at public auction. Many swine were also judged and auctioned off. Many conservation materials, police administration materials, farm tools, machinery and livestock were exhibited under Macklin Stadium.

Many found the sheep barns, swine barns, dairy barns, and artificial breeders barn contained interesting sights.

This was a day that the boys had been looking forward to for sometime and it is hoped that they will have a chance to return next year. At the present time they are busy at school preparing for the District F. E. A. contest in parliamentary procedure, public speaking and demonstrations which are to be held at the high school on Feb. 16.

March 4-5 Set For Dairy Meets

Plans for two of the top dairy meetings of the year for Washtenaw County have recently been completed. As most dairymen know, Dairy Herd Improvement Association work and Artificial Breeding Association work go hand in hand. DHIA herds are improved by Artificial Breeding and in turn A. B. A. bulls are proved through DHIA records. Both are sponsored by Michigan State College extension Service.

One of the best speakers available from M. S. C. Extension Service will speak at both annual meetings on March 4 and 5th. Those farmers who have heard Mr. George E. Parsons speak will want to hear him again at these meetings. On March 4 at the Chelsea Municipal building, Mr. Parsons will use charts to demonstrate how U. S. D. A. and H. I. R. proofs are made and how the proofs can be influenced by different factors.

On March 5 at Pittsfield Grange Hall, Mr. Parsons will show colored slides taken during his trip to Europe in 1950. These pictures, pertaining to German agriculture have been shown in other parts of the state but never in this area. All farmers who saw Mr. A. C. Baltyer's picture on dairying in northeastern Europe will want to see these.

If there are enough applications for DHIA work sent in to Don Johnson, County Agricultural agent, the Washtenaw-Chelsea unit will apply for a second tier. For information call Mr. Johnson at the Court House. Word has just been received that Milking Shorthorn Service will be available at M. A. B. C. this month.

Valentine Party Held By League

The Young People's League of the Emanuel Church held its monthly meeting Thursday evening, with a Valentine party at the parish hall.

Mary and Tom Lannom were in charge of devotions, Kenneth Kemmer and Barry Grossman planned the recreation and Roy Blaser, Mary Leeman and Joyce Marshall and Carl Buss were on the refreshment committee.

Make Sewing Machines In South

New Singer slant-needle sewing machines undergo final tests before shipment from the South's first sewing machine factory at Anderson, South Carolina. The machine being made, a new type known as the slant-needle is almost entirely aluminum and weighs less than 16 pounds, half the weight of conventional cast iron machines. Slanting of the needle bar gives the home sewstress a better view of what she sews. The girls are Rachel Whitefield, Ruth Singleton and Sylvene Fowler. Manufacture of Singer machines continues also at Elizabethport, New Jersey, and Bridgeport, Conn.

HEALTH HORIZONS

The Laxative Problem

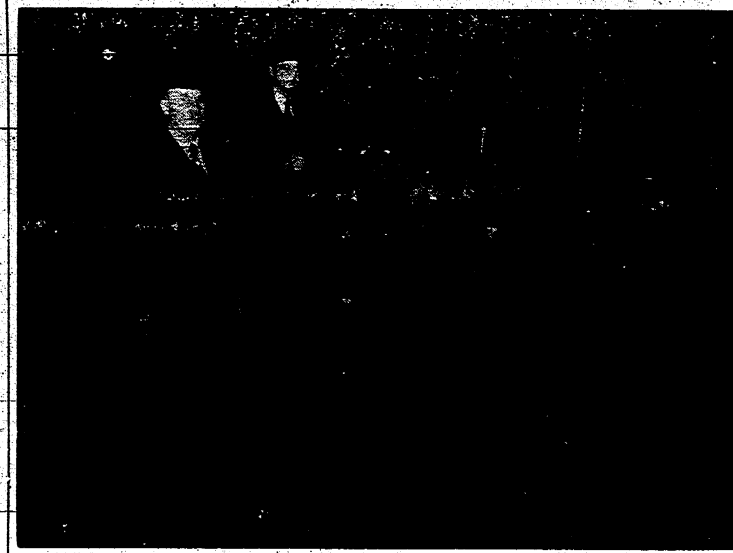

HEALTH HORIZONS

The good a laxative does for you today may turn out to be something bad for you tomorrow. Careless sweeping out of the bowel may seriously disturb the functioning of the human body. It may create a condition in which normal bowel movement can not occur for three or more days. The use of purges and cathartics is as old as the recorded history of man. Unfortunately, the practice of taking laxatives indiscriminately for the sake of taking laxatives continues common in many American homes today. This habit continues despite vast advances in modern medical treatment.

Medical research studies of recent years, for example, have established definitely that it is most important to refrain from the indiscriminate use of laxatives. The notion that a weekly purge is beneficial to body economy is one not shared by most members of the medical profession.

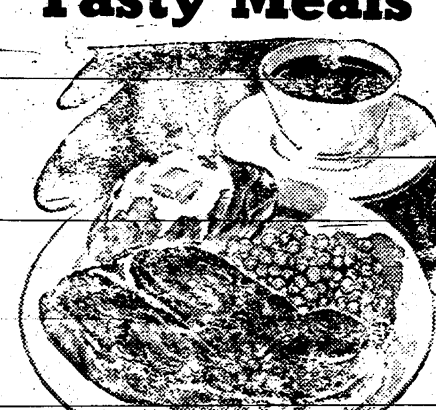

The problem of constipation is an individual one. It is different for every individual. Today most physicians believe each individual must establish what is for him a normal bowel movement pattern. First doctors recommend dietary supplements designed to restore the patient to normal bowel functioning. When these fail, however, they will prescribe a laxative which will restore normal movement without undue body stress and strain.

A laxative which has found favor with many physicians to accomplish this goal is Taxol. This laxative has long been prescribed successfully by the medical profession. Taxol meets the demands of modern medicine. It is prescribed by an ever increasing number of physicians. Why? Because its effectiveness, its palatability and its wide range of safe dosage make it suitable for all ages under practically all conditions when a laxative is indicated.

F. O. Wiedman and Clarence H. Braun, Saline, Mich. are pictured with the new Ford xx 3-4 plow Diesel Tractor which was introduced officially to Michigan Ford Tractor Dealers recently in Detroit. A new tractor with plenty of economical power for heavy farm work, will be introduced in this area Saturday, February 13, 1954 at the Wiedman Tractor Sales, Saline.

Dodge Announces Contest To Mark 40th Anniversary

To draw attention to its 40th anniversary as a manufacturer of automobiles, Dodge has announced plans to launch a nationwide contest, which will offer grand-prize winners two-weeks vacations with double their pay and other major awards.

Elmer J. Steeb, 117 W. Michigan Avenue, said the contest will run from February 8 until midnight March 29.

A grand-prize winner every day for the 40 days the contest will run will have a new 1954 Dodge placed at his or her disposal, including gas and oil, for the "two-weeks away with double pay" period.

In addition to double-pay, grand prize winners will have all their transportation, meals and hotel accommodations paid by Dodge and be given an extra $500 in cash to save or spend as they please. The two-week vacation is for two people, with the double pay being based on the one whose salary or wage is the higher. Additional prizes totaling $10,000 will be awarded to other than grand-prize winners.

Contestants will be eligible for the contest, Mr. Steeb said, by visiting their nearest Dodge dealer. The dealer will furnish them with an entry blank upon which they will be asked to complete in 20 words or less this sentence: "I would like to take my vacation in a 1954 Dodge because..." The entry blank may be completed and left at the dealership, or taken home by the contestant for completion and then mailed to the contest's headquarters.

Mr. Steeb stressed you do not have to own or buy a new Dodge to enter. He will gladly demonstrate the 1954 Dodge to anyone.

Designed especially for the beauty-loving and the practical-minded homemaker, this "silent hostess" coffee table is an asset to any home or apartment. Simplicity of line is contrasted with a dramatic use of wood and wood-grained formica surfaces. As a labor-saving piece, the sliding top panels reveal two compartments: one holds the beverage sturdy and the other is lined with cork for storing additional refreshments. Space-saving, this coffee table also plays "mother hen" to four sturdy tables which can be used for seating or serving. No need for coasters on these, either. They're formica topped.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

This picture will make a perfect Valentine for a young man to send his favorite grown-ups—even if the snapshot didn't turn out quite as planned.

Know Your Hospital

Mrs. Donald Martin, publicity chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of Beyer Memorial Hospital, this week presented the second in a series of eight weekly public information radio broadcasts entitled "Know Your Hospital." The series is sponsored by the Auxiliary through the cooperation of radio station WHRV.

Mrs. Martin discussed the subject of hospital costs, explaining that there are two basic reasons why the prices of hospital service have increased in recent years. They are:

1.—Hospitals today offer a much different service than they did even a decade ago. Medical and hospital science have made it possible for patients to receive more complete care with doctors utilizing advanced techniques. As examples, she pointed out that about a quarter of the drugs in our hospitals were unknown 15 years ago, and the big, time-consuming surgical procedures taken for granted today just couldn't be done then.

2.—At the same time, she explained, "hospitals are people, and the services they offer are the products of human hands, human minds and human hearts." And because few hospitals can operate with less than two employees per patient, their wages and salaries consume nearly three-fourths of the hospital dollar. "Naturally," she added, "their income has had to keep pace with the upward trend of prices."

Mrs. Martin emphasized the fact that the ability of a patient to pay never determines whether or not hospital service is available to him.

Pointing out that hospital bills can be spread out by insurance plans, she said that "we Americans spend more money for such items as sports, cosmetics, beverages and tobacco than we do for health, yet the prices of these commodities have increased just as much or more than health care."

Driver Injured In Mishap

Too Late for Last Week) Eugene C. Smith, 21, of Manchester, suffered leg bruises when his car skidded while rounding a curve while traveling south on the Manchester-Clinton road near Allen Road Monday about 2:15 p. m. He was treated by a Tecumseh physician. State police from the Clinton post investigated.

Stoker coals are those of appropriate qualities in specially prepared and screened sizes which suit the automatic stoker feeders for furnaces.

Births

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schwab a nine pound one-ounce son, at the Saline Hospital on Sunday, January 31.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Bergman of Ann Arbor a daughter, Karine Denise, at the University Hospital on Friday, January 29th. She is Rev. Adolph Bergman's first grandchild.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Kensler, Jr., of Charlotte a son, Stephen John, on Thursday, January 21, at the Charlotte Hospital. Mrs. Erwin Kensler, Sr., of Manchester has returned home after spending some time at Charlotte helping care for her son's family while Mrs. Irwin Kensler was in the hospital.

Electric power companies in the U.S. consumed about 113 million tons of coal in 1953, and predictions for 1954 are that even this record will be broken.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Fletchall and son Martin Dale, of Ann Arbor were Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Beardsley. Rev. Fletchall was guest speaker at Rowes Corners E. U. B. Church Sunday.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Merriman at a family dinner were their daughter Suzanne of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. William Merriman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huber and son.

Use a Snapshot to Say "Be My Valentine"

THERE'S no occasion on which we send greeting cards that is more personal and frankly sentimental than Valentine's Day.

While Valentines have changed during the years, to a degree, there hasn't been a very marked change. They follow a general pattern and without a doubt the youngsters in your house will want the Valentines they send their little friends to be just like those exchanged by the other children.

But how about the Valentines they send to their favorite grown-ups? That's an excellent time to use a snapshot to say "Be My Valentine." While doting grandparents, fond aunts and uncles will be delighted with anything your small fry sends, they will treasure one that bears the sender's picture.

There are any number of ways you could make such cards. One would be to take a picture of the youngster with his head stuck through a hole in a large cardboard heart. The message and signature could be written or printed right on the heart, and then you'd have the whole Valentine in a single picture. You could have your photofinisher print as many as the list requires and you'd be all set for mailing. It's a good idea to have them done on double weight paper for extra stiffness. Probably the photofinisher can even provide an envelope of the right size.

Another Valentine card possibility would be snapping of a close-up picture of the youngster against a plain background. You could place this picture in a folder of bright paper, with a heart-shaped cut out for the picture to show through. Or you could trim the snapshot to the shape of a heart and mount it in any way you wish.

REPAIR JOB NEEDED!

The SNAPSHOT-GUILD

Give your best and most important pictures enlarged so that they will assume proper importance when placed in your album, and at the same time add interest to the appearance of the book.

Variety Will Add Spice to Your Album

VARIETY, so 'tis said, is the spice of life—and it is also the dash of spice that will add interest to your snapshot album. And we aren't talking about variety in the subject matter of your pictures. We are talking about variety in the way you place them in your album.

Put up an album that is filled with pictures mounted in neat rows on page after page. Every time you turn a page, you seem to have the same appearance. But we're sure that it isn't true. Some of our snapshots are bound to be more important than others.

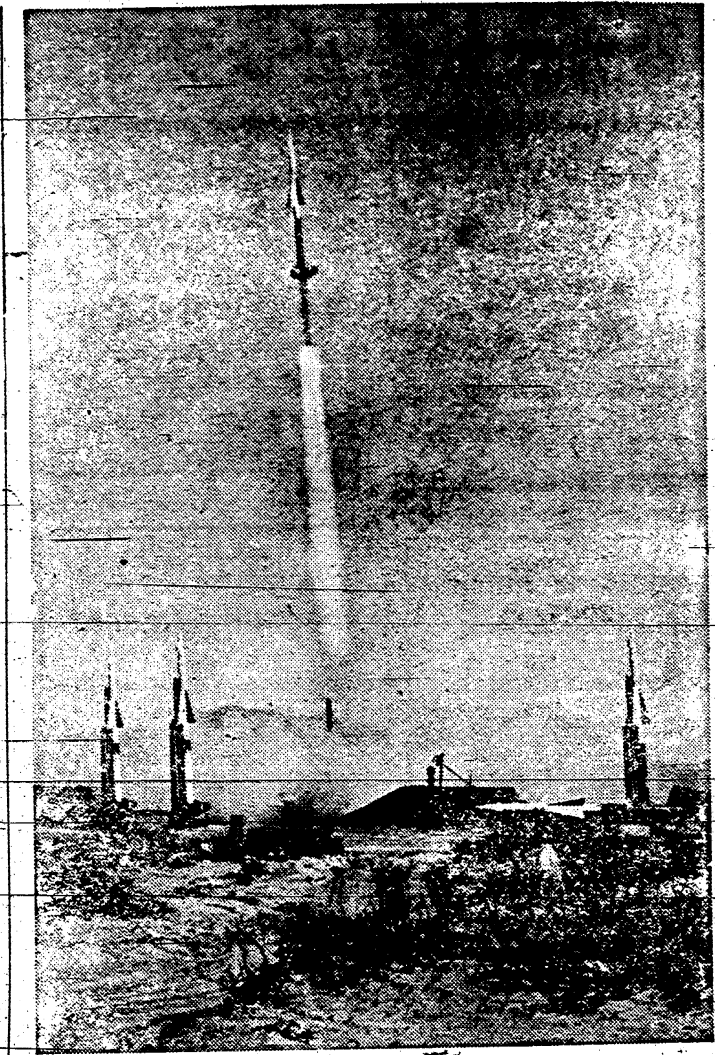

After thinking how such album pages should be put together, you'll find that it's not in the same way most of us do our albums, we'd tire of them very quickly. They have to lay out their picture pages in a fashion that appeals to the eye. They strive to have not just each picture, but the page as a whole be interesting.

A brief study of some of these pages will give you ideas you can tap for your own album. Note how the pictures are arranged on the page. Note how the important photos are enlarged and given lots of space.

Enlargements of your favorite and most important pictures are easily within the average picture-taking budget. Your photofinisher will do a nice job of enlarging your best negatives and you'll be surprised at how little it costs. One of the tricks you can borrow from the magazine layout people is that of overlapping pictures, having one run into the other. You can easily do things like that in your own snapshot album—you don't even have to cut the prints. Just slip the corner of one under the corner of another.

You can trim your snapshots into odd shapes. You won't want to do too many of them that way, but just enough to add a dash of interest to the book. You can even feature the "star" of your family, or of a special occasion in a star-shaped picture.

When you are making up your album, remember that, as in looking at magazines, you always see two pages at one time. Keep that in mind and lay the two facing pages out at the same time so that you can be sure they'll look well together. —John Van Guilder

Rocketing toward its target here is NIKE, the Army's newest anti-aircraft weapon developed by the Bell System to defend America. Controlled electronically, the weapon can be "set" to speed toward a moving target, intercept it and destroy it. SMALL BUSINESS

B. C. WILSON HARDER

There's something about Iowa atmosphere and traditions that prompts its folks to stand up and be counted with no double talk.

Latest evidence of this fact is the action the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company of Iowa, in hiring not one, but three leading detective agencies to learn how discount houses are getting their merchandise to sell below Fair Trade prices.

This story ranks with the most important in the state who bit the bullet in 1953 discount houses sold approximately $125,000 worth of Sheaffer products.

Yet the old, established Iowa company whose policies have built a dealership corps of 38,000, is willing to spend far more money to stop bootlegging of their products.

Here is the issue.

Most manufacturers, even when their brands are not Fair Traded establish fair retail prices. In some appliance lines franchises are revoked for selling below these prices.

The reason is simple. Regardless of quality controls exercised in any factory, there is bound to be defects in a certain percentage of the gross output. Manufacturers depend upon dealers to take care of any defective merchandise. Therefore, a retail price is set which returns the dealer a fair profit and reimburses him for the cost of any service he must extend.

But all over the nation discount houses keep springing up, selling standard brands at a discount. The buyers are given no protection, no service, and often not even true representation of the model they are buying. In addition, discount houses often pitch their tent, disrupt the market, then steal away, leaving the public holding the bag.

When established dealers are hurt by this unfair competition, many manufacturers verbally deplore the situation and fall back on a defense like this: "We don't sell them, and we don't know how they get our merchandise. We'd like to stop them, so if you hear how they are getting it, you let us know and we'll try and do something."

Some manufacturers following this double talk practice, have been accused of violating anti-trust laws, so no doubt they have been well-tutored in the art of lip service by the government officials who should have proceeded against them.

But out in Iowa folks don't put much store in double talk.

So the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company not only takes the stand that it wants to protect legitimate dealers and the public, it is going even further and spending substantial sums of money to investigate and obtain the evidence needed to stop unfair practices with their brand, even though it will mean a loss of volume to them.

Naturally, some of the "wise guys" who are engaged in carrying water on both shoulders will try to deprecate the Sheaffer action as a publicity build up to impress dealers.

But there are still many people who subscribe to the old tenet, "By their deeds shall ye know them." And the Sheaffer people have done far more than sympathetic tongue-clucking. They have adopted traditional American policy of taking action.
